Caledonia Springs.

Joyful Tidings to Thousands.
The Elysium of the Invalid
Is again open
SULPHUR, SALINE and GAS.
The REJUVENATING WATERS so much sought for in years long past.

Invalids! Attention!
Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Digestive Organs, Dropsy, Diseases of the Skin, Affections of the Liver and Urinary Organs are positively cured by using the water for a few weeks.

Rheumatics! Read!
Hundreds of Rheumatics have been cured by the Sulphur Baths. Suffering is alleviated by the first, and cripples throw away their crutches after about half-a-dozen baths.

TESTIMONIALS.
"Montreal, 28th July, 1876.
"I hereby certify that I entertain a very favorable opinion of the Baths and Waters of the Caledonia Springs in many forms of disease, among which I would especially mention chronic Rheumatism, the sequelae of Gout, Neuralgia, some of the varieties of Cutaneous disease, Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, and in carefully selected cases, some of the diseases of the Kidney and Bladder.
(Signed) GEO. W. CAMPBELL, A.M., M.D.
Dean of the Medical Faculty, McGill College.
Dr. Wm. Robertson, of Montreal, wrote as follows, in 1839:—"But the disease above all in which the action of the water is most decided is Rheumatism. * * * I have known a few individuals who suffered much from improper use of mercury who were restored to health by the use of the waters.

ACCOMMODATIONS.
A magnificent new hotel, capable of accommodating 500 guests, will be opened on June 1st for the accommodation of visitors. The grounds have been improved and beautified, and every means for amusement and exercise provided. The trip thither by the Ottawa River is most enjoyable, and a railroad from the river to the Springs is in course of construction. Until the railroad is built, comfortable carriages will be in waiting at the wharf for the conveyance of visitors to the Springs. The distance of the Springs from Montreal and Ottawa respectively is 60 and 50 miles.
Mr. W. CHAMPNESS will open a good Livery Stable, providing good carriages, horses, saddles, &c. There is a good race-course on the property of the Company.
The PANACEAN WATERS of these Springs will yet make Caladonia the greatest resort in the world for health and pleasure seekers. Thousands of testimonials might be procured, but the reputation of the Springs renders it unnecessary to do so.

TERMS.
Transient Guests............$2.50 per day.

TELEGRAPHIC.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Steamer Faraday and the Cable.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The steamer Faraday has recovered the end of the eastern portion of the Direct Cable, and is now in telegraphic communication with London, but she has not yet succeeded in finding the western section of the cable, and reports that unfavorable weather retards the operations.

The Stock Market

LONDON, 3:30 p. m.—Consols 94 11-16; bullion withdrawn from the bank on balance to-day, £18,000.

The Catholic Synod.

DUBLIN, Aug. 31.—The Synod of Irish Archbishops and Bishops of the Catholic Church summonded by Cardinal Cullen, under the express authority of the Pope, met at Maynooth to-day. Cardinal Cullen presided with closed doors. It is understood the education question will be the principal subject of deliberation.

Another Failure.

LONDON, August 31.—Henry Druett & Co., of 188 Fenchurch street, have failed with liabilities estimated £400,000 sterling.

Collision.

VINEYARD HAVEN, August 21.—The steamer Eleanor from New York for Portland reports that about midnight last night off the Faulkland Islands she collided with the schooner Transit from Port Johnson with coal for Fall River, sinking her instantly. Captain Oliver Davis, of Port Jefferson, was drowned. The crew were saved and proceeded to Port Jefferson on the steamer.

Peace on the Austrian Frontier.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—5.30 a.m.—A Times special despatch from Buda Pesata says that information has been received through a most trustworthy source from the Basnian frontier that all of the insurgents who have not fled to the Austrian territory, have submitted to Pasha Bon Jauki. Basnia may be considered pacified.

FRANCE.

The Centennial Exhibition—French Manufactures to be Represented.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—In a speech delivered at a meeting of manufactures of the Department of Loire to-day, Viscount de Maux, Minister of Agriculture and Commerce, urged the French manufacturers to send the products of their industries to the American Centennial. He stated he had asked for special security for objects exhibited and for the right to affix the real prices thereto, exclusive of American custom duties. He expressed himself hopeful that a great extension of French commerce would be the result.

CHINA.

An Outrage Instigated by a Mandarin.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 31.—Mr. Henderson, Chief Engineer in the Maritime Customs Service and a lighthouse keeper on Chantung Promontory, with their Chinese employees, were attacked and beaten by the neighbouring villagers. It is alleged the outrage was instigated by a Mandarin.

SERVIA.

A Chance for Reconciliation.

BELGRADE, Aug. 31.—A Ministry has been formed and there is reason to believe that it is mainly composed of members of the young Servian party, which aims at Servian independence. The names will be announced to-night.

DALMATIA.

The Oriental Embroglio.

AMERICAN.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The captain of the steamer Tybee, from San Domingo August 4, says that reports from Havana of the insurection in Domingo are exaggerated. Some of the most ignorant of the population, in the interior, have become restless and were instigated by Spanish emissaries, been insubordinate and restive, but their conduct has not assumed the gravity of a rebellion or revolution. One of the wealthiest Spanish residents, who was found guilty of treasonable correspondence, was expelled the country, and it is stated he is responsible for the exaggerated reports which were telegraphed from San Domingo.

Found Dead.

ROCHESTER, N. Y Aug. 31.—An unknown man about 30 years of age was found dead near the Central Park in this city this morning, no money was found on his person. A check was found upon him calling for his trunk which was intercepted at Buffalo and was marked W. S. P.

The Bank of California—Not such a Bad State of Affairs After All.

A special from San Francisco says it is reported among leading bankers and others that an investigation by the Directors into the condition of the Bank of California, show that the assets of the bank reach $[illegible],000,000, while the liabilities are $[illegible],000, leaving a surplus dividend of $[illegible],000,000, which may possibly shrink to $5,000,000. It is also believed the bank will resume business within 60 days.

A Large Fire.

Baxter and Bells White Lead Works, with some sheds and stables on Jay street, Brooklyn, has been burned, loss $100,000.

The Lawrence Murder.

Captain Lawrence was buried yesterday his murderer has not yet been found. The vessel and cargo bound for Stonington are at Port Jefferson, L. I.

Gambling.

John Moore, a gambler, picked up a stranger last night and after playing cards till this morning they quarrelled, when the stranger mortally stabbed him.

The International Medical Congress.

Among the passengers for Europe by the Cunard steamer Scythia to-day were Drs. Adam, of Indiana, and Edward C. Harwood of this city, who were chosen by the United States Materia Medica Association, which met in Louisville, Ky., in May last, as delegates to the International Medical Congress to be held in Brussels on September 19th.

A Rifle Match.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Aug. 30th.—It is announced on good authority that on Sept. 13th the American Rifle Team will shoot at Hudson River range near this city.

The Bank of California.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—A large number of additional attachments have been granted to day against the property of the Bank of California.

The Western Union and Pacific Telegraph Companies

The Committees of the Western Union and Atlantic & Pacific Telegraphic Companies appointed for the purpose of agreeing on a consolidation of the interests of the two companies, had another meeting to-day, at which it is stated an understanding was arrived at, but everybody interested refused to disclose its terms. It will be submitted to-morrow to the Executive Committee of the Western Company for approval.

SAN FRANCISCO.

The Bank to Re-open.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—Senator Sharon stated last evening, with regard to the bank of California, "We are moving heaven and earth to re open; it is possible and not improbable that the bank will resume.

The Failures—Political Matters.

The financial situation developes no new features this A. M. The National Gold Bank and Trust Company, and Merchants Exchange Bank remain closed.

The election begins to-morrow, and engrosses a large share of public attention, which are heightened by the contradictory reports, which are believed to have a political significance, as to the condition of the Bank of California, and the prospects of its resuming.

A Revenue Seizure.

The United States revenue officers yesterday seized the liquor store of Charles Jost & Co., 323 Clay Street, with 15,000 gallons of spirits. As yet no reports of the discoveries has been made.

Frauds Discovered in re the Bank of California.

In connection with the recent rumours concerning the affairs of the Bank of California respecting the over issue of stock, disappearance of securities, and other fraudulent proceedings, this much is known positively, that from three to three and a half millions of assets of the bank have been recently abstracted without the knowledge of the directors. How this has been done is not known at present. It is stated about town that the Bank of California will positively resume business. The statement is diligently used here, and is in fact a political problem. A personal interview was held with one of the most prominent gentlemen of the Board Directors, who says directly that all such statements are premature, that an effort is being made to reorganize, by forming a guarantee fund to liquidate the affairs of the Bank, and afford means to resume business, and that responses of those approached are of an encouraging nature; but that nothing can yet be stated definity in answer to the question. Concerning the rumours of fraudulent mismanagement on the part of Ralston, the gentlemen replied: "All I can say about that is that Ralston appropriated funds of the Bank largely to his own use. On being asked if there appeared to be any evidence of intentional fraud on Ralston's part, he replied: "Mr. Ralston got into a scrape, and used the funds of the Bank to help himself out."

Serious Doings in Arizona.

A despatch from Tucson, Arizona, reports that a heavy merchant of that place named Carillo, was arrested on Thursday on a charge of furnishing arms to insurgents. He was given no trial, but ordered to pay $20,000, or to be shot on Sunday last. The Courier rode 300 miles to Tucson, raised the money, returned and ransomed Carillo, whose grave had already been dug. He arrived at Tucson to day. There is great excitement over the outrage, and the roads are lined with refugees fleeing from the impending revolution.

PROVIDENCE.

Committed for Trial.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 31.—In the Justices Court at Newport this morning, Jeremiah H. Crumpt was adjudged probably guilty of the murder of the waiter Lawder, and committed for trial at the Supreme Court next month.

NEW JERSEY.

A Market Smash Up.

PATTERSON, Aug. 31.—The Washington Market Company, in this city, has been enjoined by the Chancellor from doing any further business. A receiver is to be appointed. The liabilities are $250,000.

Hon. Mr. Geoffrion—C. C. Extension—Odd Fellows—Suspension—Fire—The Guibord Case—Chief Bertrams Funeral—Clydesdale Stallions—Meeting of the Jacques Cartier Bank Commissioners.

MONTREAL, Aug. 31.—A telegraph from the Hon. Mr Geoffrion's physicians announces that if he passes a quiet night this p.m., he may be considered out of danger.

Hon. A. B. Foster is in town in connection with the work of the Canada Central Extension.

The Odd Fellows' guests made the tour of the principal streets to-day. The band also played in front of Consul General Dart's office, on St. James street, in response to which that gentleman made a short speech complimenting the Odd Fellows on their fine appearance, and thanking them for the honour conferred upon them. This evening they employed themselves in visiting various points of interest about the city. The American band is possessed of some excellent instruments, Mr. Reeves, the leader, using a gold coronet of beautiful workmanship and which is said to have cost $1,000.

The Fire Commissioners have been investigating a suspicious case. Three fires have occurred in Melvin & Ridout's factory on Seigneur street since January and as a man man named Hall had written a letter to Melvin saying if he did not meet in the Mechanic's Hall at 2 p. m. a certain day he need not hope for mercy after that hour as it would not be in the writer's power to keep him from his deserts. Hall was examined and admitted writing the singular letter, as also the postal card to the Fire Commissioners blaming them for inaction, but denied intending to do Melvin any but legal injury and made serious charges against Melvin's honesty, adding he didn't fire the premises. At present the matter is at a stand still, though the whole case is one of a most remarkable character.

The Guibord case attracts much attention. No disturbance is now feared. Cure Rousselot, on being asked if he expected any, replied that he had done all he could to prevent trouble, and wished it to be announced that it was his particular desire that the friends of the Church should make no manifestations whatever on the occasion.

Deputations of firemen are expected from Toronto, Quebec, Three Rivers, St. Hyacinthe, Kingston, St. Jean Baptiste Village and St. Henri to attend the late Chief's funeral.

The steamship Ontario has brought out two Clydesdale stallions for Hon. James Douglass, of Toronto.

At a meeting of the Jacques Cartier Bank shareholders, held this afternoon, when the report of the Commissioners appointed to investigate the affairs of the bank was read, the balance to the debt side of profit and losses was $794,749. To the entire sum lacking they had added as being of doubtful character $402,033 loaned to D. McDonald & Co., and $183,995 to D. McDonald personally. These enormous sums had been overdrawn without any good security, owing to the favourable action being taken in regard to the Northern Colonization Railway Company's hopes that the sums would be paid the Bank in due time. One cause of the bank's suspension was placing unlimited confidence in the cashier, who was unworthy of it. The Commissioners could not exonerate the Directors from all blame, for they had shown a want of supervision much to be regretted. It was the conduct of the cashier, Cotte, which obliged the Bank to suspend. This officer had acted without the knowledge of the directors. His acts had been characterized by imprudence and by apparent ignorance of the proper manner of conducting business, which was almost incredible. He had allowed accounts to be overdrawn to enormous amounts. He had also made very heavy advances to the firm of Gauthier, Mayranoix & Co as far back as 1871. They were insolvent, and Cotte was aware of the fact from the statements which they submitted to him. Mr. Cotte had often been asked to render an account of the $54,986.14 of promissory notes which were missing, but to this day they had not received any reply from that gentleman. Finally he had confessed all. The reports submitted and presented to a meeting of the share holders since 1870, as well as the statements of accounts furnished monthly to the Government were false. As to the future the Commissioners believed the interests of the shareholders would be best secured by the continued independent existence of the bank and said that to this end a million dollars would be added to its subscribed capital. After some further discussion the meeting adjourned to commence the deliberations to-morrow morning.

PEMBROKE.

Canada Central Railway—Turning the First Sod on the Pembroke Branch.

PEMBROKE, Aug. 30th.—The first sod of the Pembroke Branch of the Canada Central Railway was turned here at four o'clock, by Mrs. Esther Supple, assisted by Col. Peter Valite, sen., and Wm. Moffat, Esq., Reeve of the town, Miss Moffat performing the ceremony of christening the road.

After the turning of the sod the assemblage adjourned to a large marquee erected for the purpose, and partook of a champagne lunch provided by the citizens.

A letter from Hon. A. B. Foster, manager of the company, regretting his inability to be present on the occasion, was read. The company was represented by Mr. Harris, chief engineer, and Mr. T. A. Knowlton, Mr. Foster's private secretary.

Over a thousand people were present and testified their satisfaction at the formal commencement of the road, and the assurances given in Mr. Foster's letter of its speedy completion were received with repeated and enthusiastic cheering.

The Town Council entertained the engineers and a number of leading citizens at a champagne spread in the Music Hall in the evening.

The Reeve occupied the chair, and amongst the guests were R. L. Harris, C.E.; C. S. Masson, C.E.; Mr. Knowlton, and Mr. J. L. Blackie, of Toronto. A most enjoyable evening was spent, the festivities lasting far into the night. The proceedings were much enlivened by the presence of the St. Patrick's brass band, which discoursed some very fine music before the performing of the ceremony and during the remainder of the evening.

RODNEY.

Horrible Crime.

RODNEY, Aug. 30.—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of a man named Eli Lalond, who lives about three miles west of here. It is alleged that Lalond has committed rape on his two daughters, aged 17 and 14. The crime was first committed about a year ago, when the eldest girl was outraged, and about two weeks ago the horrible crime was repeated, the youngest girl being the victim. The brutal father threatened to take their lives if they revealed his crime. The two girls swore to the facts as above stated before B. Thompson, J. P., on Saturday last, and the man was arrested and brought before a magistrate here this afternoon, who committed him for trial at the next Assize. The prisoner has been taken to the county gaol at St. Thomas.

TORONTO

Murder—Moffatt Bros.—Monck Dominion Election—Ontario Rifle Association Matches.—A Candidate for Aldermanic Honors.

TORONTO, 31st.—A man named John Sheadman, living at Norway, was arrested to-day on a charge of manslaughter by the County Constable Knoblock. It appears he and his son Michael Steadman were fighting outside a tavern on Saturday night and the latter received an injury which caused his death on Sunday. The accused was brought into town to-night, and will be up before the police magistrate to-day.

At the meeting of Moffatt Bros. the creditors to-day, the assets were stated to be $192,000 and the liabilities $400,000. A composition of 40 cents on the dollar was all but unanimously accepted. Mr. John Kerr was appointed official assignee.

Vice Chancellor Proudfoot to-day granted orders on consent for the examination of the respondent in the Monck Dominion Election case, and for the inspection of ballots.

The Ontario Rifle Association matches commenced to day. In the all comers' match Sergeant Lewis, of the Queen's Own, made the highest score and took the first prize with a score of 37 out of a possible 40. The Guards' Rifle Association, Private Cotton, 36; Lieutenant J. Pearson, Albert, R. A, 36; and Sergeant Pain, 13th Battalion, 36, were the next highest scores. The Affiliated Associations' match was commenced, President John Gordon entertained the markmen and several visitors to a sumptuous lunch. The cavalry match takes place on Friday, and will be the greatest match of the occasion. It is a new thing in this country.

Mr. John Cornell, a brewer, is a candidate for the vacant seat in the city council for St. Andrew's Ward, in the place of Ald Dunn, resigned.

At a meeting of the Agricultural members of the Canadian Advisory Board held to-day, Sheriff McKellar presided, and it was resolved that the product of soils should be represented in counties, and that a circular should be sent to every President of County Agricultural Societies soliciting two quart of each kind of grain and seed to be procured. At the forthcoming shows native wines are to be forwarded to the Secretary at Toronto in quantities of not less than six bottles. The arrangements as to the field roots, horses, cattle, &c., are to be determined on at future meetings.

A cricket match, Toronto vs Port Hope, has resulted in the defeat of the former by one wicket. To-morrow a match between Old Countrymen vs. Canadians will be played.

HAWKESBURY.

Destructive Fire—Loss, $12,000.

HAWKESBURY, Aug. 31.—An extensive fire occurred here this morning, Hersey's steam saw mills being completely destroyed. The loss is estimated at $8,000; no insurance. About 450,000 feet of lumber, owned by W. C. Wells, Esq., was burned. It is reported to be well insured. Six dwellings and a wharf and storehouse were destroyed; loss, about $4,000; insurance, $800. The origin of the fire is not known. When the alarm was first given, about 1.30 a.m., the fire was in the centre of the lumber yard, and too far advanced to save the lumber and buildings. Through the exertions of the inhabitants, with the aid of Messrs. Hamilton Bros.' fire engine, Babcock extinguishers, &c., the fire was soon got under control, and the destruction of the principal business portion of the village prevented. Fortunately no wind was blowing at the time.

COLLINGWOOD.

The Chicora.

COLLINGWOOD, Aug. 30.—The steamer Chicora arrived this morning with 54 passengers and a general cargo of freight. Among the passengers were:—Hon. B. Robinson and family, Miss Jarvis, Miss Dickson, Mr. Eckhart, Mr. Dickson, and others of Toronto; Mr. Dale, Hon. J. Simpson, and Mr. Wills, of Ottawa; and Rev. Dr. Lett and family, and others of Collingwood. Previous to leaving the steamer they presented Captain Orr, on behalf of himself and officers, with an address expressing their thanks for the attentions paid them. She reports meeting the Cumberland in the Sault River and the Ontario near Bruce mines on her way down. She brought 60 barrels of silver ore from Thunder Bay to the reducing work at Silver Islet, the product of the Snunish mine. The Chicora leaves on the arrival of the steamboat express train Tuesday evening.

The American Stock Breeders' Association—Good Time Made.

HARTFORD, Aug. 31.—The Fall meeting of the American Stock Breeders' Association opened this afternoon. The attendance was large and the track in good condition. The first race, for horses of the 2.20 class, was won by St. Julien in three straight heats. Great Eastern 2d; Gold Finder 3d. Time: 2.28¼; 2.26¼; 2.26. The second race, for horses of the 2.20 class, four started. Won by Hopeful Lady. Maude 2nd; Lucille Gold Dust 3rd. Best time, 2.18¼.

CINCINNATI.

The Klu Klux Clan.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 31.—A despatch to the Enquirer states that Green M. Cantrell and Williamson Bailey, two Franklin County, Illinois Klu Klux Clan men were examined before the United States Commissioner at Centralia, Illinois. The Commissioner held them in $1,600 bail, which was furnished. Six more outlaws were arrested on the 29th and taken to Centralia for trial. The testimony shows the organization has 400 in Franklin and 600 in Williams County.

UTICA.

The Military Reunion.

UTICA, N.Y., Aug. 31.—The Committee of Arrangements for the Army of the Cumberland Reunion at Utica, has received word that Generals Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, Hooker, Custer, Coburn, Murray and many others will be present. The citizens of Utica have tendered a reception and ball to the Society and their guests.

OTTAWA, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 1, 1875.

The Rev. John Thompson, of Sarnia, son-in-law of the Hon. Mr. Mackenzie, and his wife, are at present in the city and staying with the Premier.

Mr. Josiah Snow, Magistrate of Shelburne, N. S., has been appointed to enquire into the loss of the Mary E. Jones, which was abandoned at sea by her crew, and upon which it was said two lady passengers were stated to be outraged.

We understand that the Minister of Marine and Fisheries has directed that an immediate inquiry be held by the Collector of Customs at Sault Ste Marie into the late unfortunate collision on Lake Superior, between the steamer Manitoba of the Beatty Line and the American propellor Comet, by which accident it is stated eleven of the crew of the Comet were drowned.

It is with deep regret that we this morning chronicle the death of the youngest child of the Hon. R. W. Scott, Secretary of State. The child has been ill for some time, and the trip of the hon. gentleman to the seaside was interrupted by a sudden call home in consequence. It was, however, of little avail, for the child departed this life yesterday morning. The family have the heartful sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

MR. MACKENZIE'S RETURN.

Mr. Mackenzie arrived yesterday afternoon at five o'clock from his visit to his native land, and was welcomed back by the corporation and citizens of Ottawa with a heartiness which could not fail to have been gratifying to him. They but took the opportunity of giving expression to the sentiments of the whole people, who we feel very confident welcome the Premier back with all the more enthusiasm that in his absence, and in the midst of all his honours and flattering attentions paid him on every side, he was ever careful to keep Canada and her interests primarily in view. It is sincerely to be hoped that he has personally benefitted from the trip. Everything indicates that he has, and it is tolerably certain that the advantages are not confined to himself, but extend also to the country. How this latter result was accomplished it is quite unnecessary to inform any intelligent Canadian. His personal oversight of public business in England, which is believed to have been the leading object of his visit, cannot fail to be productive of lasting benefit to the Dominion, while his practical, candid, and able expositions of the resources and character of this country, on public occasions, especially in Scotland, have been worth the labours of a legion of emigration agents, active and energetic as many and most of these gentlemen usually are. No candid observer could have failed to notice how completely Mr. Mackenzie succeeded in making every tribute of respect paid to himself subsidiary to the interests of the country over whose government he presides, how unselfishly, indeed, he made his own personality an entirely secondary matter. This is a kind of patriotism which is as admirable as it is rare. It would have been an easy matter to excuse him if, instead of attributing his own remarkable success to the country and its institutions, thereby illustrating the entire absence of class distinctions and prejudices which characterizes the people, and the field which is thus opened up to the industrious and persevering of all ranks and conditions, he had permitted those with whom he came in contact to think, as otherwise they would naturally have thought, that he had succeeded in spite of these prejudices and distinctions. It is only necessary to be acquainted with the class of people in the mother country, whose presence in Canada is most desirable, to know that a very large number of them are possessed of a laudable ambition to distinguish themselves in one or other of the pursuits or professions which bring men more or less prominently before their fellow-men, and not only does their ambition lie in this direction, but their abilities eminently fit them for the positions they covet. But when opposed to men of meaner attainments, on whose side, however, are the powerful forces of wealth and influential connections, and when in addition their path is strewn with the barriers of caste and social distinction, they find themselves nowhere in the race. It could not be other than a most potent inducement to these men to transplant to Canada, with its fair field and absence of favour, those energies and aspirations which, securing them a fair measure of success at home, would certainly crown them with prosperity here. It is very improbable that Mr. Mackenzie believed there was any self denial on his own part in thus accounting for the fact that he had himself risen from the ranks to the highest position open to him in this country, although to a less unselfish nature the sacrifice it involved, the opportunities of self-glorification it destroyed, would have been very great indeed. The flood of light which his speeches, published as they were and commented on by the leading newspapers all over the Empire, threw upon the resources of Canada and the actual condition of its people, must have been productive of effects which will not soon die away. His utterances were perfectly free from the exaggeration which is too frequently resorted to by the emigration agent. They were frank statements, which left no false impression upon the mind of the people either as to the advantages presented by Canada to the emigrant, or to its drawbacks. This feature of his visit has been very appropriately and correctly referred to in the addresses with which he was presented yesterday.

As we have said, we but express the generally prevailing public sentiment when we hope that a holiday which has been productive of such excellent results to the Dominion has not been without some effect in restoring the energies and health of the Premier himself. By a tenure of office remarkable for the assiduity with which he performed his multifarious and important duties in his department, in addition to those of Prime Minister, he well earned the relaxation which his visit to his native country may be presumed to have afforded. The change of air and scene must have been of considerable benefit, both to himself and his amiable lady, but it is doubtful whether he has had much real rest. He has been too busy informing the people of the "Old Country" in regard to Canada to admit of that. It cannot fail to give him new inspiration and energy in the administration of the affairs of the Dominion, however, to know that his efforts have been so highly appreciated and his career so much admired and held in respect by the people of Great Britain, as well as the people of Canada; and we are safe to say, that he did not himself anticipate, even in his most sanguine moods, the extent to which those feelings prevailed.

COAT-TURNING.

To the Editor of the TIMES:

DEAR SIR:—In the Free Press of last night the following sentence occurs, in a communication signed "Clear Grit."

"As everybody knows, the TIMES turned its coat in one night, and it was convenient to have a nominal Reformer as shareholder in the concern."

Now, as everybody knows, the TIMES did not change its politics until there was a change of proprietorship. There was nothing indecent or unusual in the act. It is a matter of frequent occurrence for a newspaper to change hands and politics when a change of Ministry occurs. There were two or three such cases in England when Disraeli came into power, and nobody was so unreasonable as to expect the new proprietors to be bound by the record of their predecessors. But on the other hand, I have never known but one instance in which a newspaper, controlled exclusively by one man, changed its politics, and that one instance is the conversion of the Free Press, within the space of one short week, from a rabid Tory to an equally extreme Liberal organ. For this vault no excuse was offered; none could be framed. It bore, on the face of it, the disgraceful character of a commercial speculation. At the time of the change the proprietor of the Free Press professed to be a Conservative, and was in fact a regular member of the Conservative Association of Ottawa. His paper, after the whole Pacific Scandal had been unearthed, and the Tories had been well nigh exterminated, deliberately announced that it had "cast in its lot with the Opposition." Its columns reeked with the most villainous abuse of the Administration whose members it pronounced to be "convicted slanderers and hypocrites." Of Tory newspapers it was the dyed-in-the-wool organ. Yet the Free Press is impolitic enough to allow references to be made in its columns to the perfectly fair transaction which converted the Times from a Tory to Reform newspaper! It could not pursue a policy more calculated to damn its own reputation.

I am,
Dear Sir,
Yours very truly,
REFORMER.

Ottawa, August 31st, 1875.

NERVOUSNESS.

It affords me great pleasure to bear testimony to the benefits I have received from using Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and it has proved an excellent curative for nervousness and general debility.

It is also a first class tonic, enables a person to take on flesh rapidly, and is free from the constipating effects characteristic of other tonics I have tried.

Wendell Phillips' Tribute to O'Connell

Wendell Phillips in his lecture spoke thus of O'Connell's eloquence: "I do not think I should exaggerate if I said that God, since he made Demosthenes, never made a man so fit for the great work as he did O'Connell. You may think I am partial to my hero, very naturally; but John Randolph, of Roanoke, who hated an Irishman almost as he did a Yankee, when he got to London and heard O'Connell, the old slave holder held up his hands and said: 'This is the man—those are the lips the most eloquent that speak English in my day.'" And I think he was right. Webster could address a bench of judges; Everett could charm a college: Choate could delude a jury; Clay could magnetize a Senate; Tom Corwin could hold a mob in his right hand; but no one of them could do more than that one thing. The wonder of O'Connell was that he could talk out Corwin; he could charm a college better than Everett; delude a jury better than Choate; and leave Clay himself far behind in magnetizing a senate. I have heard all the grand and majestic orators of America, who are singularly famed on the world's circumference. I know what was the character of Webster; I know what it was to melt under the magnetism of Henry Clay: I have seen eloquence in the iron logic of Calhoun; but all three together never surpassed, and no one of them ever equalled the great Irishman. In the first place he had—what is half the power with a popular orator—he had a majestic presence. He had, in early youth, the brow of a Jove or a Jupiter, and the stature of Apollo; a little O'Connell would have been no O'Connell at all. Sydney Smith said of Lord John Russell's five feet, when he went down to Yorkshire, after the reform bill had been carried, the stalwart hunters of Yorkshire said: That little shrimp! What he carry the Reform Bill! "No, no," said Sydney; "no; he was a large man, but the labors of the bill shrunk him." Do you remember the story of Webster that Russell Lowell tells, when we, in Massachusetts, were about to break up the Whig party? Webster came home to Faneuil Hall to protest, and four thousand Whigs went to meet him. He lifted up that majestic presence before the sea of human faces, his brow charged with thunder, and he said, "I am a Whig—a Massachusetts Whig—a revolutionary Whig—a constitutional Whig—a Faneuil Hall Whig. And if you break up the Whig party, where am I to go?" And Russell Lowell says: "We held our breaths, thinking where he should go. But if he had been five feet five," said Lowell, "we would have said, 'Well hang it, who cares where you go.'" Well, O'Connell had all that. Then he had what Webster never had, and what Clay had, the magnetism and grace that melts a million souls into his. When I saw him he was 65—blithe as a boy; his every attitude was beauty; every gesture was grace. Macready or Booth never equalled him. I heard him once in Exeter Hall say: "Americans, I send my voice careering, like the thunder storm, across the Atlantic, to tell South Carolina that God's thunderbolts are hot, and to remind the negro that the dawn of their redemption is breaking." And I seemed to hear the answer come re-echoing back to London from the Rocky Mountains. And then, with the slightest possible flavor of an Irish brogue, he would tell a story that would make all Exeter Hall laugh. And the next moment tears were in his voice, like an old song, and five thousand men would be in tears. And he never made an effort. You would go out of this hall, after hearing Mr. Sumner, and you would say, "What a magnificent effort!" Well, no man would ever use the word effort with O'Connell. I heard him twenty times, and I never saw him more than three times at the full sweep of his power. You would get provoked that he did not, and you would say: "Oh, what a magnificent creature if he would only but try!" But he would not "try."

A story is told of an Irishman who bound over to keep the peace against all Her Majesty's subjects, exclaimed, "Then heaven help the first foreigner I meet!"

How much greater is the power of an old song, with simple air and words, than that of those more difficult and artistic ones which sometimes throw professional musicians into ecstacies of delight! It may not be because there is more music or more feeling in it; but it is endeared to the hearts of the common people through familiarity, and associated with home scenes of love and affection, and appeals to sentiments and feelings that could not be awakened otherwise.

Polished manners have often made scoundrels successful, while the best of men, by their bareness and coolness, have done themselves incalculable injury—the shell being so rough that the world could not believe there was a precious kernel within it. Had Raleigh never flung down his cloak in the mud for proud Elizabeth to walk on, his career in life would scarcely have been worth recording. Scores of men have been successful in life by pleasing manners alone.

A very high dignitary of the Church, well known to the author of some charming books, was dining out the other evening. Of the two ladies between whom he was seated the one on his right hand side was an intimate acquaintance, and in the course of dinner noticing that her distinguished neighbour was very silent and distrait, said to him sotto voce, "I am afraid you are not very well this evening, you do not seem in your usual spirits." "Well, to tell the truth," said the dignitary, "I am not quite the thing, and I must apologise for seeming rude and preoccupied; but the fact is, I am in rather a nervous state of mind about my health, and have a sort of presentiment that a serious illness is hanging over me. I am conscious of a peculiar numbness all down my right side, which seems to forbode an attack of paralysis." His fair companion expressed her hope that such fears were unfounded, and suggested that he might be mistaken as to the sensation of apparent numbness which he described. "Ah, no," he replied, "I'm afraid there's no doubt of it, for I have been pinching my right leg at dinner time, and can elicit no responsive feeling whatever. The limb seems quite dead to all feelings." "Oh," expressed the lady briskly, and with an expression of intense relief on her face. "if that is all that troubles you, I think I can at once relieve your mind from anxiety, for the leg which you have been pinching all the evening is mine"

Off there, simmering in the sun, lies the great wide, blue, vague, uncertain sea—the sea which everybody has tried to describe, and failed. It allures by its mystery, and repels by its treachery; and it means all the time as if in pain at the world's distrust. To go and spend a few weeks beside it is to breathe in new life. How can one remember the petty worries of the day in sight of this great ocean that sweeps round the world, and could swallow up whole nations and never mark their tomb by a single extra ripple upon its surface? It is so vast, and you are such an atom, that you dare not affront it with your small personal cares and repinings. With your first salt bath you bury them all in its waves; and, for a time you are a new man and free. This cannot last. No—nor can the slumber that refreshes you or the dinner that must be eaten afresh every day. But sleep and dinner are necessaries of life, and the demand of the human being for change is almost as imperative as for food and sleep. If you cannot leave your home for the season, get off, if only for a few hours, where all is new—where the salt air fills you with exhilaration, and the waves invite you to their embrace. There are plenty of such retreats for a day near our large cities. Seek them for such brief relaxation, if no more; but, if you can, go for a few weeks to the seaside, and see the morning sunrise and the red sunset, and the waxing and waning of the summer moon. No matter if your room is small and your bed hard, you have all the outside world in which to refresh yourself.

A Ghost in the Form of a Baby.

From the Reading Eagle.

We have a something on the summit of the Welsh Mountain, midway between Morgantown and Waynesburg, and about one fourth of a mile in from the main road. For the past two weeks the cries of a child could be heard by persons passing along the road, and on Sunday night last as Robert Gorman, residing north of Downingtown, in company with another gentleman and two ladies, were passing the point, the cries became heart-rending and they thought that somebody was treating a child shamefully. After walking a short distance one of the ladies, a Miss Ellie Parker, who resides near Paoli, stopped suddenly, and told the party to look up near the top of a large tree just in front of them, and there was seen a baby seated in a small basket, swinging back and forth, with but faint cries The ladies became frightened at the sight, and begged one of the gentlemen to try and get up the tree and bring the child down. The distance up to the first limb was some twenty feet, and the gentleman found it impossible to get up. While the conversation was going on as to how the child could be brought down the child gave one scream, and as if by magic the basket fell half the distance to the ground, causing the ladies to scream, and the entire party to be more or less frightened. In less time than it takes to write this the basket and its contents were back in their place again, the child crying all the time. This movement struck terror into the party. They watched the movements of the basket, and saw the baby plainly for five minutes afterward, and all at once the basket with its contents disappeared. The ladies state that the child was alive, for they saw it plainly move when it fell down toward them.

On Monday evening a party numbering some twenty repaired to the place, and all saw the same thing. Mr. J. S. Peters, residing south of Lancaster City, was one of the party on Monday night, and he says he saw the baby in the basket, saw it move, and saw the falling and the disappearance.

The Church in Germany.

The German Catholics evidently do not take very kindly to the voluntary support of the Church. We are informed that the result of the effort to get means to replace the stipends hitherto paid by the government to the priests has scarcely amounted to fifty per cent of the grants withdrawn. Either the Catholic Germans have not become accustomed to the idea of paying for religious services directly out of their pockets, or the religious enthusiasm of the people must be very lukewarm. It is just possible, too, that an appreciable number of good Catholics do not approve of the attempt made by the priesthood to set themselves up against the laws of the Fatherland. The Church in this age has shown itself peculiarly militant and inclined to be aggressive—many Catholics think too much so—and this may be one of the causes why the collections for the support of the priesthood gave such a poor return. In any case, it will have a tendency to check the disposition shown by clerics to defy the civil law where it happens to interfere with their privileges or ideas of right. No doubt it is a very good thing and church discipline is necessary; but, after all, people were put in this world for something else besides praying, and it is necessary that the priesthood everywhere should keep this fact well in mind. If the religious element were allowed to control the destinies of mankind this world would soon present a very strange spectacle. But intelligent people intend to keep religion and government strictly apart, and in the end this arrangement will be found best for all concerned.—New York World.

Mr. Benjamin Ginning some time since presented the poor of the City of Liverpool with two hundred pounds, upon which a wag wrote "A good B. Ginning."

Hogg, the "Ettrick Shepherd," late in life wrote:—"So uniformly smooth and happy has my married life been, that, on a retrospect, I cannot distinguish one port from another, save by some remarkably good days of fishing, shooting, and curling on the ice.'

A Yankee paper has the following unique criticism upon a well known prima donna:—"Her voice is wonderful. She runs up and down the scale with the agility of an experienced cat running up and down a housetop and two or three fences thrown in. She turns figurative flip flaps on every bar, tearing up the thermometer to away above 212, and sliding down again so far below zero that due feels chilled to the bone."

The other day when an old fellow got in the way of some labourers at the levee, one of them called out, "Come, trot out of this old bald head." The old chap looked up, scowled, an I remarked, "Why, man, I own more acres of ground in this State than you've got hairs on your head." "Can't help it if you own the whole State and a half of Louisiana," was the brusk reply. "When I'm rollin' bar'ls everything's got to stand back or bust."

A Text for Bachelors.—"Whoso findeth a wife, findeth a good thing, and obtaineth favour of the Lord." A Text for Aristocrats—"The rich and poor meet together; the Lord is maker of them all." "He hath made of one blood all nations of men." A Text for Idlers—"Seest thou a man diligent in his business? he shall not stand before mean men!" A Text for the Timorous—"The wicked flee when no man pursueth; but the righteous are bold as a lion."

Nothing, perhaps, more deserve sympathetic commiseration than the position of a timid young man who does not know what to say to his partner at a ball, and risks, "it is very warm," or "What beautiful dresses!" But of all the observations which could suggest themselves to a beautiful dancer overcome with bashfulness, the following, recently heard in a crowded Aberdeen ball room, is certainly the most original: "I say," stammered the unhappy youth, "I say, did it hurt you much having your ears pierced?"

A dissenting minister was paid to preach a sermon on some special occasion in the chapel of a country town. As the congregation was not very rich, he was informed beforehand that they could not afford to pay him more than a guinea for his discourse. When the service was over, he received in the vestry the congratulations of the elders, who were loud in their admiration of his eloquence. He turned around upon them with almost a smile of contempt, and said, "Do you call that an eloquent sermon? I should just like you to hear my three guinea one!"

One of a crowd of colored persons who were waiting on the levee at Vicksburg for the arrival of a steamer and a job, was looking over a pile of newspapers, and spelling out words here and there, when he came across the word "prognosticate." He asked every one around him to explain its meaning, and the last man took a long moment to think, and then replied:—"Dere's just four words dat I can't splain de meanin' of, an' dis yere am one. If dat word was 'boots,' or 'shoes,' or 'wood,' I could 'splain it quicker 'n lightnin'!"

An angler one day fishing in the Ness out of a boat, noticed a cow inquisitively examining some things which he had left by the waterside. On landing he found she had been influenced by other motives than those of mere curiosity, having eaten up the whole of one side (the button half) of his new Macintosh. Happening shortly afterwards to meet the miller whose property she was he exhibited to him the mangled evidence of her misdeeds, expecting at least to meet with something like sympathy for his loss. The miller's sympathies were, however, all on the other side. He surveyed the article for some time in silence, and then, with an air of dejection, simply exclaimed, "Eh, but she'll no be the better o' the buttons."

Coming Paris Fashions.

Lucy Hooper's Letter.

The most fashionable shade for the coming winter is apparently to be a very dark green—that is for walking dresses and demi-toilettes. It compines beautifully with most of the neutral tints, and has the advantage of being extremely becoming to every one who is not actually yellow with sallowness. Silver gray will also be much worn. Felt is to retain the popularity which it acquired for bonnets last winter. The favourite trimmings will be the ostrich plumes, small, bright tinted birds and wings. The tightly tied-back apron overskirt is to be discarded in favor of very long tunics nearly touching the ground in front, looped up at the sides and slightly draped behind. Ladies are no longer to look like walking umbrella cases, a certain amount of fullness being restored to the skirts, and there is even talk of introducing small sized crinoline for the bottom of dresses merely. Just at present it is the height of style for a lady not to be able to put her hand in her pocket unless she stands up, and as to picking up any thing off the floor without bursting half a dozen straps and ties, that seems a total impossibility. Cashmere is only to be used for demi-toilette costumes and travelling mantles. Lace, wide silk braid and fringe, the latter of silk and chenille, are to be the favourite trimmings. Jet has vanished entirely. The new style of walking dresses will probably prescribe short skirts again, for which sensible innovation we unfortunate beings who have become worn out with holding up our heavy trimmed skirts all spring and summer long have every reason to be thankful. Out door warps show a tendency of return to the half fitting, jaunty jackets of a few years back, which had the merit of being adaptable to almost any figure or style, while the dolmans, when made in heavy materials, were only suited to very slender figures.

How many grains of common sense go to one scruple? How many scruples of conscience go to one dram?

Dr. Adam Clarke, the celebrated commentator, said 'Strong drink is not only the devil's way into a man, but man's way to the devil."

"Jones has a reverence for truth," said Brown. "So I perceive," was Smith's reply, "for he always keeps a respectable distance from it."

Foote, on being scolded by a lady, said "I have heard of tartar and brimstone; you are the cream of the one and the flower of the other."

"Don't you think," said a vain fellow, "that I am fit to be King of Great Britain or Emperor of the French?" "No, but you might make a Doge of Venice, if the title were only curtailed by a letter."

A man carrying a cradle was stopped by an old woman, and thus accosted: "So, sir, you have got some of the fruits of matrimony." "Softly, old lady," said he, "you mistake; this is merely the fruit basket."

How is it that, if a number of gentlemen are sitting together, talking sensibly upon some sensible subject, and a lady enters, they mostly commence talking foolishly, and keep it up until she makes her exit?

BUSINESS NOTICES

Horse Medicine.—For people to allow disease to grow into confirmation upon them rather than employ a physician, or to suffer as many do as we do with the different kinds of pills, without resorting at once to the drug great for Fowler's Pile and Humor Cure, which is an infallible cure. 3729

Sore Diseases, of whatever nature, are completely eradicated by the use of Dr. Fowler's Humour Cure; its effect is marvellous for Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Itch, Worms, and even Leprosy; it has cured these and almost never failing cure. 3733

Home Comforts.—If you desire to get a good cup of tea, call on Baskerville & Bros. and have them to select for you. If the tea is not pleasing to your taste they will refund the money for what you return. Their wines, liquors and general groceries are of the best brand.

People's Tea Store,
56 Rideau street.

Hemorrhoids or Piles are permanently cured by Mathieu's Pile Ointment, or money refunded. Price $1 per pot, or six pots for $5. Sold wholesale and retail by the Wingate Chemical Company, Montreal, and retail by all druggists, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by Dr. E. Mathieu, 198 Notre Dame street, Montreal. 3782

Furniture.—At No. 5 Rideau Street Mr. W. A. Annable has on hand a very large stock of furniture of every description and of the newest style. On Saturday last we paid his establishment a visit and were well pleased with everything we saw. Whether for the drawing room, the parlour, the bed-room, the library, or the kitchen there is an ample choice, and we learned that Mr. Annable is preparing to give up the retail business and deal only by wholesale. Persons desiring handsome furniture at very moderate prices will do well by paying Mr. Annable a visit under present circumstances. Nothing like it is to be found in Montreal, in neither auction rooms nor elsewhere can he be undersold in the city. 3913—1m

Horses Save.—The lives of thousands of horses have been saved during the past year, and the credit is due to "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." This preparation is being extensively used, and exacts from all the highest praise. Nothing of the kind has ever before been half as successful, or given such universal satisfaction; it can not be equalled. We can confidently recommend it, and would advise all who own horses to keep a supply of it on hand—it may be the means of saving your horse's life. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co., is on each package. Northrup & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medical dealers. 3796

What They Say of It! A Few Facts for the People.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Fairbairn Centre, P.Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and since then had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally as good for horses as for man."—A. Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, 'one of the best medicines they have ever used;' it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throat, &c., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes: "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit." A. Mr. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes: "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee, of this place, induced me to try Electric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine.

Sold by all medicine dealers, price 25 cents.

FOWLE'S
PILE AND HUMOR CURE,

For Internal and External Use

Warranted a SURE and perfect CURE for all kinds of Piles, Itching, Scrofulous Letter or Ring worm, Salt-Rheum, and all diseases of the skin. One bottle warranted to cure all cases of Piles; from one to three bottles in all cases of Humours.

This remedy has been faithfully tested, and found to be an almost infallible cure for the above named diseases. Its success has been so universal that the proprietor guarantees a cure to those who use his medicine, or in case of failure to refund the money paid. Since it was first introduced he has received many thousands of testimonials, proving its efficacy for the cure of the awful diseases it is recommended for. The pile and humour are entirely vegetable in its composition, and can be used with perfect safety in all cases. There is no danger of its driving the humour in, as it cures on the surface, and the patient's bodily health continually improves while under this treatment.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Berkeley, Sept., 1869.—Gentlemen, I feel it a duty I owe to you to express my gratitude for the great benefit I have derive. by taking "Norton's Camomile Pills." I applied to your agent, Mr. Peat, for Darley, for the above Pills, for wind in the stomach, from which I suffered excruciating pain for a length of time, having tried many every remedy prescribed, but without any benefit at all. After taking two bottles of your valuable pills, I was quite restored to my usual state of health. Please give this publicity—for the benefit of those who may thus be afflicted.—I am, Sir, yours truly, HENRY ALLBAN. To the proprietors of "Norton's Camomile Pills."

The Montreal Proprietary School has been established to provide a liberal education similar to that given in the Public Schools of England. The course of Instruction, however, will not be exclusively classical, and boys will be specially prepared either for the University and Professions or for Commercial Life.

Most eligible premises have been purchased for the School in McTavish street, one of the most healthful localities or the city, and immediately adjoining the grounds of the McGill University.

The course of instruction will include Latin, Greek, Mathematics, French, German, Arithmetic, Writing, English Grammar, Literature and Composition, History and Geography, and Ancient and Modern, Natural Philosophy, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, Gymnastics and Drilling.

A limited number of boys will be received by the Principal as Boarders or Weekly Boarders, and, with the view of keeping the pupils from improper influences, it is strongly recommended that all be entered as Day Boarders, who will dine in the house of the Principal.

Further particulars can be obtained from the Secretary, J. W. Holmes, Esq., 78 Victoria street, to whom all applications for admission must be made.

The School will open on MONDAY, the 12th of April, and will be carried on for a few days in 76 Victoria street, the new premises not being quite completed.

CHOICE AND BEAUTIFUL

WALL PAPER.

INCLUDING THOSE DEDICATED BY THE MANUFACTURER

TO

Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Dufferin.

These Paperhangings are imported direct from the best Manufacturing Establishments in England, France and United States. Great care has been taken in their selection with regard to colour. The ground tones are soft and pleasing to the eye, especially those toned with silver mica; but above all, they are free from the mineral poisons that many of the tawdry-coloured Paperhangings of the day are surcharged with. The Subscriber's long experience as a colourist, and being thoroughly acquainted with the chemical compound of the pigments used in Painting, enables him to reject, in his selection of Paperhangings, those coloured with poisonous pigments, so deleterious to health. The Public are respectfully invited to examine his STOCK of WALL PAPER before purchasing elsewhere.

As the undersigned is going out of the Room Paper Business as soon as his present Stock is disposed of, the Goods will be Sold at the Lowest Remunerating Prices.

PAIN KILLER.

After thirty-five years trial, it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Physicians of the first respectably recommend it as a most effectual preparation for the extinction of pain. It is not only the best remedy ever known for Bruises, Cuts, Burns, &c., but for Dysentery or Cholera, or any sort of Bowel complaints it is a remedy unsurpassed for efficiency, and rapidity of action. In the greatest cities of India, and other hot climates, it has become a standard medicine for all such complaints, as well as for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, and other kindred disorders. For Coughs and Colds, Canker, Asthma, and Rheumatic difficulties, it has been proved by the most abundant and convincing testimony to be an inevitable medicine.

It is used Internally and Externally.

Canal Enlargement.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sealed Tenders addressed to the Secretary of Public Works, and endorsed "Tender for the Lachine Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western mails on Thursday, the Sixteenth day of September next, for the enlargement of this canal, consisting of the widening and deepening of the channel from near the new basin east of Wellington Street bridge, upwards, to the river St. Lawrence at Lachine, embracing the construction of new locks at St. Gabriel and Côte St. Paul, also the taking down and rebuilding of the upper portions of the present locks at these places; building regulating weirs, culverts, bridge piers; the construction of a new entrance lock at Lachine, and the formation of a channel and basin on the south or river side of the existing entrance.

The works will be let in sections of the respective lengths as may be indicated on a plan of the line, which, together with plans and specifications of the various works, can be seen at this office, and at the Lachine Canal Office, Montreal, on and after FRIDAY, the Third day of September next, at either of which places Printed forms of Tender can be obtained.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that Tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and with the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same; and further, an accepted bank cheque, or other available security, for the sum of from one to three thousand dollars, according to the extent of work on the section, must accompany each Tender, which shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines or fails to enter into contract for the works, when called upon to do so, at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The amount required in each case will be stated on the form of Tender.

The cheque or money thus sent in, will be returned to the respective parties whose Tenders are not accepted.

For the due fulfilment of the contract, satisfactory security will be required on real estate, or by deposit of money, public or municipal securities, or bank stocks, to the amount of five per cent on the bulk sum of the contract, of which the sum sent in with the Tender will be considered a part.

Ninety per cent only of the progress estimates will be paid until the completion of the works.

To each Tender must be attached the actual signatures of two responsible and solvent persons, residents of the Dominion, willing to become sureties for the carrying out of these conditions, as well as the due performance of works embraced in the contract.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any Tender.

By Order,

Department of Public Works, Ottawa, 9th August, 1875. F. BRAUN, Secretary.

Local Intelligence.

SELBY LEE will not, nor cannot sell Boots and Shoes at cost, but will sell ten per cent cheaper than any other shop in the city.

LADIES COLLEGE.—Prof. Fischer of Berlin has been named successor to Prof. Butler in the musical department of the Ladies College.

AMERICAN CONSUL.—Mr. George H Pince, American Consul, has returned from Ogdensburg and is staying at the Windsor House.

COUNTER LUNCHES AT NOONAN'S.—An excellent luncheon with a cup of tea, coffee or glass of ale, will in future be served daily at 15 cents, from 12 to 3 p.m. Noonan's Restaurant, Sparks street west.

ASSIGNEE.—Capt. R. C. W. MacCraig was yesterday appointed official assignee of the Metcalfe Estate. Hitherto he has been acting as interim assignee.

WHO LOST THE PIEBALD HORSE?—Mr. Weldon Champness has had in his stable for the past week a piebald steed which has gone astray from its owner. The constable who found it would like to find its owner also.

The George Washington Restaurant, York street is now open for guests, and meals can be had at all hours. 3915-6w.

THE BURNS TRAGEDY.—The inquest in this case has been further adjourned till Monday next, when doubtless the case will be finally disposed of. It is said that some new features in connection with the case are looming up.

THE ANCIENT MAN.—Binks senior was arrested last night for being drunk and disorderly. This is not the first time he has been placed in limbo for a similar offence. Ten dollars and costs will probably meet the requirements of his case.

A ROW.—A couple of stonecutters indulged in a game of fisticuffs on Wellington street. They clinched and one tried to gouge the other's eye, but the intervention of some bystanders put a stop to the kindly intention. The combatants were parted without much damage done.

ORGAN RECITAL.—There will be a Grand Organ Recital in St. Patrick's Church on Monday evening the 6th September. The proceeds go to aid the Rev. Father Stenson in the purchase of the new organ for his church at Almonte. 392282.

AT HER OLD GAME.—The incorrigable Mag Doherty was in the cells last night for raising a disturbance on the Bank street road. She was very drunk when she was arrested, and, as usual, extremely abusive. Her sins will have to be accounted for before the Police Magistrate this morning.

MANY BOOTS.—Mr Selby Lee of Sparks street, received to-day a consignment of 8,000 pairs of boots, packed in bogsheads—rather a novel style of stowage, but nevertheless the goods came to hand safe and sound, and are now open for inspection and sale, at ten per cent cheaper than the same class of article can be obtained at any other house in the city. 392913.

A GALA DAY.—The city yesterday presented a regular holiday appearance. Flags daunted to the breeze from the Parliament houses and many public and private dwellings. Streamers crossed the streets at intervals and a magnificent arch of evergreens with an endless display of bunting decorated the station of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa railway depot. It was truly a cupitolian reception to the first Canadian Statesman.

The Ottawa Ladies College, opens on Wednesday the 1st September. Mr. Butler's successor Prof. Edward Fischer late of Berlin, Germany, is very highly recommended by Julius Eichberg of the Boston Conservatory, and other musical notabilities. The boarding list includes many new names. 393282

RECEPTION OF THE PREMIER.

A POPULAR DEMONSTRATION.

PRESENTATION OF ADDRESSES.

It is always a gratifying thing to do, to pay a hearty tribute to the worth of a man, let him be either a political or a private individual, and yesterday afternoon men of all shades of political opinion turned out en masse to welcome back to the scene of his labours the Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, after his lengthened sojourn in the land of his fathers. During his trip, by the forcible arguments he adduced in the various speeches he delivered, he probably did more towards placing Canada in a favourable light before the Old Country people than all the Emigration Agents and lecturers that have been sent home, and by placing before the people, he addressed, in a plain, straightforward way, one so peculiarly his own, he has paved the way for the importation of a most useful class of emigrants. This fact is one that has been made manifest, and ergo, all who have the interest of Canada at heart, sinking their political prejudices, joined yesterday, most heartily in welcoming the return of the Honorable, the Premier. There has not been such a demonstration in Ottawa for many years past, and it is no exaggeration to say the procession was at least half a mile long, as it reached from the gate of the St. Lawrence & Ottawa Railroad Depot to the corner of Sussex and Rideau streets, and both thoroughfares were lined with persons anxious to catch a glimpse of the chief helmsman of the Canadian Ship of State. The train was about an hour late in arriving from Prescott, but from four o'clock the platform at the depot was thronged—a handsomely decorated enclosure, adorned with evergreens and flags was erected for the reception of the distinguished gentleman, and in which the addresses below appended were to be read and presented. Over the entrance to the temporary apartment, was a scroll bearing the words, "Welcome Home" A space was kept clear by some of the members of the City Police Force under the command of Chief Langrell and Sergeant O'Keefe and the constable did most efficient service in preserving order. The station yard was crowded with both public and private vehicles, containing several members of the Corporation and many leading citizens. The Dominion flags, with the British ensign, floated over the station, and there was a liberal display of bunting from all the public buildings in the city—the Parliament House, the Eastern and Western Blocks, the new Post Office, the Russell House, the TIMES office, the Free Press office, all contributed their share to the display, which was a most imposing one. Among those present were noticed Acting Mayor Waller, C. T. Bate, D. S. Eastwood, W. H. Walker, Thomas Coffey (the latter representing the Water Commissioners) W. C. Edwards, J M. Currier, M.P., T. H. Kirby. W. Fingland, Jas. Angus, Dr. Sweetland, Ald. Bangs, Ald J. P. Roberton, Ald. Rooque, Ald. Pratt, Ald. Bronson, Ald. Heney, Ald. O'Connor, J. T. Pennock, Lt.Col. Bernard, R. Audy, Thos. Reynolds, (Managing Director of the St. Lawrence & Ottawa R.R.) J. W. Peachy, Phillip Thompson, J. W. Russell, Horace Merrill, Lieut. Col. Macpherson, Dr. Grant, Malcolm Cameron, M. P., J. C. Jamieson, Jas. Pennock, the Hon. Mr. Huntington, the Hon. Mr. Blake, the Hon. Mr. Cartwright, Dr. St. Jean, M. P., D. J. O'Donohue, Geo. Hay, H. T. Bronson, Wm. Griffin etc. etc. On the arrival of the train, the advent of which was announced by the explosion of several fog signals, which had been placed on the rails. The Guards Band, which was stationed on the enclosure on the platform, as the Premier, accompanied by Mrs. Mackenzie, disembarked, struck up the inspiriting strains of "Bonnie Dundee."

Dr Sweetland escorted Mrs. Mackenzie to the dias, when she was presented with a boquet of most pretentious dimensions. Acting Mayor Waller then read the following address, which was beautifully engrossed on vellum by Mr. Chas Medlow, of Sparks, St.:

To the Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, Premier of Canada.

HONOURABLE SIR.—On behalf of the Corporation of the City of Ottawa, on your return from your visit to the land of your birth, we beg to tender you a hearty welcome.

The very cordial and flattering reception which was extended to you by all classes of people, during your absence, did honor, we are convinced, both to yourself personally and to your position as first minister of the Government of the Dominion.

Your public addresses—delivered before some of the most intligent of the citizens of the various places which you visited, and which were published broadcast throughout the whole of Great Britain and Ireland, giving from so distinguished and reliable a source, the fullest information as to the great extent, the almost infinite variety of resources, the unexampled prosperity, the probable future, brilliant in reliable promise, and the undoubted loyalty to the empire, of this her most important colonial dependency, cannot but serve to enlighten all who heard, and all who read them, more fully, regarding us and our Dominion; to awaken in them a deeper interest in thei fellow subjects on this side of the Atlantic, and to rivet more firmly the ties which now bind us to them, and which we trust will grow stronger with advancing years.

In this we are assured you have rendered signal service to the land of your adoption, a service for which we feel we may well tender you our best thanks.

We venture, sir, to express the hope that the relaxation of the past few weeks from severe official labours may have been of great benefit to you, and that both yourself and Mrs. Mackenzie may be long spared to enjoy the honors which have been so deservedly accorded you.

Signed on behalf of the Corporation of Ottawa.

W. H. WALLER,
Acting Mayor,
E. H. BRONSON,
F. McDOUGALL,
C. W. BANGS,
F. X. GROULX,
Members of the Reception Committee.

On behalf of the citizens generally, Dr. Sweetland read the following:—

To the Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, Premier of Canada.

HONOURABLE AND RESPECTED SIR,—We, the inhabitants of Ottawa and surrounding district, desire on this, the occasion of the return of yourself and Mrs Mackenzie from a visit to Great Britain, to congratulate you both on your safe arrival, and to express our pleasure at having you amongst us again.

We have carefully observed the gratifying attention you received in public places, and have with pleasure read the accounts of the addresses presented to and honours conferred upon you during your absence from us. We were especially pleased to note the manly dignity you maintained as a Canadian, both before the aristocracy and workingmen of Britain, and the able manner in which you set forth the advantages of Canada, the stability of its institutions, its unlimited resources, and its heartfelt loyalty to the Queen and Constitution, and are assured that in harmony with our Governor General your visit has been and will be productive of great and lasting benefits to Canada in removing prejudices, and improving its position and credit.

Trusting that you and your amiable wife may long be spared to enjoyed the advantages of Canada and the respect of all Canadians everywhere, we again most heartily bid you welcome home.

Signed on behalf of the citizens of the city of Ottawa.

JOHN SWEETLAND, M.D.,
W. PENNOCK, Secretary.

In reply,—

MR. MACKENZIE said:—Mr. Mayor, Dr. Sweetland, ladies and gentlemen,—I am exceedingly grateful for the kind words you have addressed to me on my return from my native country and I assure the kindness the citizens of Ottawa have shown me to day, in active of political parties, will never be effaced from my memory. I have been pursued when on the course I have pursued when on a visit to Great Britain. You have spoken in public of necessity to refer to the way I have made use of upon such occasions as that became a Canadian. (Cheers.) I can only say that every Canadian who visits Great Britain, no matter whether he comes in contact with the peer or the peasant, must necessarily use the same language, and if he is at all a representative of manly independence which characterises the whole of our people, and forms the ground work of our political institutions. (Loud cheers.) I believed always, and I believe now more firmly than ever, that it is quite possible to preserve that spirit and those institutions, and at the same time maintain an attachment to the British Empire. (Cheers.) I have the utmost pleasure in testifying, too, from the expressions of public opinion I have had the honor of witnessing, both in public and in private, during my visit, especially in the great centres of population, that if ever there was a party in Great Britain which regarded the continuance of that attachment with disfavour, it was numerically insignificant, and indeed no longer exists. The British people are beginning more fully to comprehend the spirit which animates the Canadian population, and must necessarily animate the Canadian Administration. (Hear, hear.) I am greatly gratified, I assure you, that men of all political parties in the city of my residence have been pleased to express themselves as they have done in regard to myself upon this occasion. An Administration having in charge the affairs of a country like Canada ought to command the respect and confidence of men of all parties—that is, as an Administration simply; although we of course do not expect that all our measures will receive the approbation of those politically opposed to us. For my own part if I should again be, as I probably will, a member of Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition, while I hope I shall ever be faithful to the interests of my party, I am certain I shall never forget my duty to my country and my Queen, nor the fealty I owe to the British Empire. (Loud cheers.) I regret very much that I was unable, while on the other side of the Atlantic, to visit two great centres of population to which I was invited. I refer to Glasgow and Manchester, in either of which I should have had the opportunity of addressing larger audiences than I could elsewhere, on the affairs of Canada; but the sentiments I expressed in other places have, I am glad to think, been pretty well disseminated through the British press, and the objects which would have been gained by the visits I was compelled to decline were probably in this way in some measure attained. (Hear, hear.) I hope that in future I shall be able, as I have endeavoured heretofore, to administer the affairs of this country in a manner becoming a great people having connection with Great Britain, and forming of a part of the great British Confederation (Great cheering.) I shall not further trespass upon your attention just now, but permit me again to say that I feel very deeply the kindness you have been pleased to show me, as well as the kindly references to Mrs. Mackenzie contained in the addresses you have presented to me. I thank you again from my whole heart, and I trust nothing shall occur in the future which will give you cause to regret the opinion you have seen fit to express of me to day.

Three cheers were then heartily given for the Queen, three for the Governor-General, and three for Mr. and Mrs. Mackenzie.

The carriages then formed a line of procession, headed by the band, and proceeded along Sussex street, thence to Sparks street, turning up Bank street to the hon. gentleman's residence, where—

MR. MACKENZIE, who appeared on the balcony, in front of his residence, in response to appeals from the large congregation who had escorted him home, said: I thank you again for the cordial reception accorded me, and the kindness shown me by the citizens of Ottawa. I hope, for the future, our relations may be of such a character as will be at once beneficial to the city, and honourable to myself and to my colleagues. It was a source of great pleasure to me to hear, as I think it was very appropriate, the band playing "Home, Sweet home," for there is "no place like home," and during the short time of my residence in Ottawa I have learned to appreciate its people as well as the natural beauty of its scenery and its imposing situation. It was very gratifying to me while in England to hear expressed on all sides, by gentlemen who had visited this country, such flattering opinions of the beauty of the situation of this city, and of the grandeur of our Public Buildings as compared even with those in London. Seeing that we are able to rival them in this exterior feature, I hope it will be our constant endeavour always to rival them in the interior features of our political life—that nothing we do shall ever be calculated to bring the slightest stain or reproach upon the British name and character. (Cheers.) I am glad to think that in enunciating these sentiments I am but expressing the opinions of one and all, independent of political parties in this city, and indeed in this whole country; and I am equally glad to know that in respect of the desire I have expressed for continuance of existing relations with the mother country, I am but re echoing the feelings entertained by the largest portion of the public of England, Scotland and Ireland. In conclusion, permit me to express to the Reception Committee, Dr. Sweetland and my friend the Acting Mayor, for the way in which they have carried out the arrangements on behalf of the citizens. (Cheers.)

The vast assemblage, after giving three cheers for Her Majesty, and three hearty ones for Mr. and Mrs. Mackenzie, then dispersed.

CRICKET.

A somewhat interesting cricket match took place the day before yesterday at the Rideau Hall Grounds, between the "old men" and "the boys" of the Club. SAD DROWNING CASE.

Fatal Result of Bathing—A German Lad of 12 Years Drowned. Great Grief of the Parents.

Another of those melancholy events which too often in this vicinity alarm the community, took place yesterday in the drowning of a young German lad, in the Rideau River near the railway bridge. It would seem that the boy went down to the river in rear of the emigrant sheds, at the foot of King street, to bathe, between two and three o'clock, and being seized with cramps met a watery grave. An alarm having been given, the mother was early on the scene and put forth every effort to save her child, but without success. A boat was procured by some other lads who attempted the rescue of the drowning lad, but all their exertions proved futile. A man named William Bambrick soon put in appearance, and with the assistance of his brother succeeded in taking the body ashore, but life was found to be extinct. A man named Robert Watson next came along, and took the deceased to his father's residence on Rideau street. Word was sent to Coroner Beaubien, who soon arrived, and proceeded at once to hold an inquest on the body.

THE INQUEST.

The following jurymen were then empanelled and duly sworn:—J. Bte. Deslongchamps, foreman; J. T. Prudhomme, Michael Conroy, Pierro Laviolette, Wm. McKenzie, Thos. Waller, Daniel Niett, James Whelan, Richard Boufield, F. J. Murray, J. B. Rheaume, Robert Jenkins.

After viewing the body under the direction of the Coroner they retired to the street, when the following evidence was elicited relative to the sad affair;

WILLIAM BAMBRICK of the city of Ottawa, labourer, was just sworn. He deposed; About 3 o'clock, p m. I was told by my mother that there was a shout down at the river; I went down and saw the mother of the deceased crying; I saw a boy with a boat looking for the deceased; when I saw he could not find the body I called him; he came to toe shore and I got into the boat with my brother and we found the body; I raised the body with a board, and another man brought it to the shore; I understood that Mr. Watson brought the body to the house.

THOMAS BAMBRICK was the next witness. He corroborated the testimony of his brother, as read to him by the Coroner.

ROBERT WATSON, of the City of Ottawa, labourer, was the last witness sworn. He deposed, I was standing at my own door when a cry was heard in the direction of the river that a boy was drowning; I went down the bank of the Rideau, and found the mother holding up the head of her son on the shore; I took off my coat and took the deceased to his father's residence; he was drowned in the Rideau river.

The jury then retired, and, after a short deliberation, returned the following verdict: "That the deceased, Auguste Kostie, met with his death by accidental drowning in the Rideau river."

The jury were then dismissed.

GRIEF OF THE PARENTS.

The scene at the house was one of the most affecting that could possibly be described. The family, who are German, have only been out a few weeks from the old country, and were just beginning to do something. The deceased was the eldest of a family of three children, being about 13 years of age, and was a fine looking lad, and doubtless the joy of the poor and humble parents. A girl of about six years moved about the house, and the mother bore an infant in her arms. The house presented a miserable appearance and revealed the sad fact, that the family was in impoverished circumstances. Mr. Beaubien, Ald. O'Connor, and Ald Robertson being present sought for an interpeter, and finding out the destitute condition of the family came to the conclusion to have the young lad buried at the public expense. The body will be interred this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The grief of the parents was intense as they viewed the corpse stretched out in the floor of the miserable hovel in which they were compelled to live. The husband embraced his wife in the most affectionate manner, and endeavoured to console with her on the loss they had sustained. The whole case is a most melancholy one, and the family in their deep affliction have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in which they resided.

Remedies.

Borthwick Springs.

A limited number of boarders can be accommodated at the Borthwick Springs. Invalids wishing to avail themselves of the benefits to be derived from the use of the best Mineral Water on the continent, and parties wishing to spend a few weeks in the country should visit these Springs.

Comfortable quarters at moderate charges, fitted with all necessary requirements for

SHOWER AND OTHER BATHS.

Pure country air and freedom from excitement give the patient the benefit of hygienic results impossible to be obtained elsewhere. The attention of the reader is particularly directed to the fact that this Mineral water loses none of its virtues by keeping or transportation, and that where freely taken by those in good health, health continues. By invalids who cannot visit the Springs the water can be as well used in their own houses, whilst its low cost places it within the reach of all.

Delivered to all parts of the city in 3 gallon jars, at 10 cts. per gallon; in 30 gallon barrels at $2.50 each, barrels extra. For conveyeance to the Springs and other information, apply to

The REJUVENATING WATERS so much sought for in years long past
Invalids! Attention!
Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Digestive Organs, Drowsy, Diseases of the Skin, Affection of the Liver and Urinary Organs are positively cured by using the water for a few weeks.
Rheumatics! Read!
Hundreds of Rheumatics have been buried by the Saline Baths. Suffering is alleviated by the first, and cripples throw away their crutches after a few bath[illegible] baths.
TESTIMONIALS.
"Montreal, 28th July, 1876.
"I hereby certify that I entertain a very favorable opinion of the Salts and Waters of the Caledonia Springs in many forms of disease, among which I would especially mention chronic Rheumatism, the Stimulus of Gout, Neuralgia, some of the varieties of Cutaneous disease, Dyspepsia, Uric Acid, and in carefully selected cases, some of the diseases of the Kidney and Bladder.
(Signed) GEO. W. CAMPBELL, A.M., M.D.
Dean of the Medical Faculty, McGill College.
Dr. Wm. Robertson, of Montreal, wrote as follows, in 1858:—"But the case in which the action of the water is most decided is Rheumatism. * * * I have known a few individuals who suffered much from improper use of mercury who were restored to health by the use of the waters.
ACCOMMODATIONS.
A magnificent new hotel, capable of accommodating 400 guests, will be opened on June 1st for the accommodation of visitors. The grounds have been improved and beautified, and every means for amusement and exercise provided. The trip thither by the Ottawa River is most enjoyable, and a railroad from the river to the Springs is in course of construction. Until the railroad is built, comfortable carriages will be in waiting at the wharf for the conveyance of visitors to the Springs. The distance of the Springs from Montreal and Ottawa respectively is 80 and 50 miles.
Mr. W. CHAMPNESS will open a good Livery Stable, providing good carriages, horses, saddles, &c. There is a good race-course on the property of the Company.
The PANACEAN WATERS of these Springs will yet make Caledonia the greatest resort in the world for health and pleasure seeking. Thousands of testimonials might be produced, but the reputation of the Springs renders it unnecessary so to do.

Insurgents Desperate.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The Times' Berlin special says, after the recent appointment of Mahmoud Pacha as Grand Vizier, there is less hope than ever of the insurgents coming to terms. Mahmoud is regarded as the champion of absolute government, and his very presence in the Cabinet is calculated to make the insurgents desperate. His appointment, unless a mere caprice, is a proof that the Sultan is determined to maintain the system which has produced the present outbreak.

Bullion.

The amount of bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day is £37,000.

Pilgrimage

A special to the Daily News from Berlin says, the Catholic Pilgrimage community have not yet consented to give up their proposed visit of Lourdes, and the French Government is seeking to have it interdicted by the Pope.

SWITZERLAND.

Refuses to Cash.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 1.—The Swedish banks refuse to cash Bank of England notes on account of the number of counterfeits reported to be in circulation.

FRANCE.

Cardinal McCloskey.

PARIS, Sept. 1.—Cardinal McCloskey has returned to Paris, and will leave tomorrow evening for Rome.

HOLLAND.

Law of Nations

HAGUE, Sept. 1st.—The Association for Reform and Law of Nations was formaliy opened here to-day. The delegates from the United States are present.

SAN FRANCISCO.

The Bank of California.

SANFRANISCO, Sept. 1.—Nothing authentic has been learned concerning the resumption of the Bank of California in addition to the last despatch on that subject.

Bank Building.

Flood and O'Brien have employed an extra force on the Nevada Bank building, and are bringing it to completion.

Rumour.

Rumour has obtained credence that the analysis of the stomach of Ralston has evidences of poison. The coroner states emphatically that no hint to that effect has been given.

Statement Unauthorized.

An interview just had with the directors of the Bank of California establishes the previous report that nothing new has transpired in the affairs of the bank. Posititive statements made in relation to the resumption, &c., are unauthorized. In reply to a question the answer was received, we are trying to fix this organization, but don't know whether we will succeed or not. In reply to the question as to the condition of the bank, the answer was, the nominal assets are about $20,000,000 and liabilities about $14,000,000. We think the reliable assets will pay our debts. There is nothing new in relation to the National Gold and Bank Trust Company or Merchants' Exchange Bank; both banks report fair progress in obtaining coin for the purpose of resuming business. The State election is proceeding quietly.

Election Day.

This being election day, the banks and many other places of business are closed. Nothing new has transpired with reference to the Bank of California. The Chronicle this a. m. publishes a positive statement that the bank has reliable assets to the amount of $14,000,000, and nominal assets to the amount of $20,000,000; indebtedness $13,000,000; coin in vaults, $850,000; and that a guarantee bond of five to ten millions is nearly all pledged, and that the resumption is assured immediately. Similar statements are being spread abroad. All such assurances are, however, premature, according to information from headquarters.

WASHINGTON.

Public Debt Statement.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The following is a recapitulation of the public debt statement issued to-day: Debt bearing interest in lawful money bonds at 6 per cent, $1,085,865,530.00; bonds at 5 per cent, $623,032,750.00; principal, $1,708,898,300.00; interest, $26,582,838 51. Bonds bearing interest in lawful money certificates of indebtedness at 4 per cent, $658,000.00. Navy pension fund at 3 per cent, $14,0000,000.00; principal, $4,678,000.00; interest, $83,500.00. Debt on which interest has ceased since maturity—principal, $17,961,260 26; interest, $232,530.35. Debt bearing no interest—old, demand and tender notes, $37,435,565 50; certificates of deposit, $64,780,000.00; fractional cusrency, $31,137,018.52; coin certificates, $17,618,500.00; principal, $497,851,084.02; unclaimed interest, $20,834 84. Total debt principal, $2,239,388,644. Interest $26,619,783.90; total $2,266,308,428.18; cash in Treasury Coin, $71,117,272.73; currency $4,602,365.75; special deposit held for redemption of certificates of deposits as provided by law $64,780,000.00; total $140,499,638.48; debt less cash in Treasury, September 1st, 1875, $2,125,808,789.70; decrease of debt during the past month $1,585,069.26; decrease of debt since June 30th, 1875, $2,879,936.62; bonds issued to Pacific Railway Company's interest payable in lawful money, principle outstanding $64,623,512.00; interest accrued and not yet paid $646,235.12; interest paid by United States $28,202,807.79; interest repaid by transportation of mails, &c. $934,047.41; balance of interest paid by United States $21,898,760.29.

Calls for Redemption.

The Treasury to-day issued calls for the redemption of $13,000,000 of 5-20 bonds of 1854, $8,000,000 of which are on account of the sinking fund, principal and accrued interest to be paid at the Treasury of the United States, or at the office of the Assistant Treasurer, New York, December 1st, 1875.

POTTSVILLE.

Shot and Killed.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 1.—Thomas Sanger, inside boss for J. M. Heston & Co., at Raven Run Mines, Lehigh Valley, was shot and instantly killed by five men, all strangers. This morning, another man, unknown, was shot in the bowels. The miners had been dissatisfied with Sanger for some time back, and had refused to work under him, and had suspended, but resumed again. He several times received letters threatening his life if he did not leave. A later telegram states that two more men have been shot.

NEW YORK.

Assets of the Bank.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Information from the Mercha ts' Exchange Bank of San Francisco says that the assets of the Bank are over six millions dollars; while the liabiliti s are less than one million dollars. The Bank will probably resume business again in a few days.

Obtained an Injunction.

The Bank of North America obtained an injunction restraining Ludlow Brothers from disposing of certain bills of exchange remitted to the latter firm by the bank, and supposed to be on their way to this city from San Francisco.

Drowned.

Mrs. Mutter and daughter of this city were drowned while bathing at Rockaway beach yesterday.

Ratified.

The new contract between the Panama Railroad and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company has been ratified, but the terms of the contract are not made public.

Railway Commissioners.

Sydney Dillion, one of the commissioners appointed by the Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph Company to confer with the commissioners of the Western Union, said yesterday there was no truth in the story that any terms had been agreed upon, or that any definite proposition had been made on either side. Gentlemen of the commission have met several times, and conversed generally about what would be fair to both companies; that at the last two meetings the views of the opposing interests have harmonized better than heretofore, and yesterday the conference was so satisfactory that it was agreed to report to the directors of the two companies, and, should they approve of the views of the commissioners, it will probably be easy to arrive at something definite. Mr Dillion denies that any proposition involving a sale or lease of the Atlantic & Pacific line on a basis of twenty or twenty-five per cent of its capital stock has been suggested or accepted. He also denies that negotiations with the W. A. Company have been broken off, on account of a propositon from the new National Telegraph Company, nor is the president of the latter on his way East to conclude negotiations. Some months ago Cohen on behalf of the New Company made a proposition to A. & P. Company, expressing a desire to purchase the latter's lines or to cease interest, but nothing more has been heard from him since. The story about a provision in the by law compelling the A. & P. Company to advertize for six weeks before a sale Mr. Dillon pronounces absurd. The best interests of the Company he represents will be observed and parties who bid shigh enough will get the line, no matter who they are.

Enjoined.

The Treasury of the Erie Railway stated yesterday they had been enjoined by the Court from paying the consolidated mortgage bonds. They are however, authorized to pay interest on the second and third mortgage due to-day.

Escaped from Jail.

Last Saturday night all the prisoners in the Honesdale jail escaped by means of false keys, including a notorious horse thief and burglar named Gregg.

Discharged to Serve an Unexpired Term

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Joseph Kingland, alias George Fuller, who robbed the Barre bank in July last, was discharged by Chief Justice Daly to-day on habeas corpus proceeding, from arrest under a warrant of extradition to Vermont, and turned over to the keepers of Sing Sing prison, where he has to serve an unexpired term of nine years.

The Demand Met.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Havana papers contain the usual accounts of successes over insurgent Cubans, but also mention that the loan of $800,000 gold demanded by the Captain General was raised there in a few days by capitalists.

Fire.

A fire this morning damaged B. Skiner's cabinet factory to the extent of $6,000.

An Attachment Granted.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—An attachment amounting to $37,750 against the property of the Bank of California was granted this p.m. by Judge Brady in the Supreme Court.
The Executive Committee of the Western Union Telegraph Company met to-day and did not accept the Atlantic and Pacific proposition.

Paying the Interest.

Mr. Jewett receiver of the Erie Railway was to-day paying the interest on the second and third mortgage bonds of the company, which is due March 1st and Sept 1st of each year. The amount of these bonds outstanding is $2,174,000 of second and $4,852,000 of third mortgage bonds. The principal and interest of the six per cent sterling convertible loan, principal $4,580,000, fell due to-day, but was not paid. These bonds are convertible into first consolidated mortgage, which mortgage ranks

MONTREAL.

Convicts Escaped—Preliminary Examination—The Jacques Cartier Bank—The Guibord Case—Meeting of Committee—Sunstruck.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1st.—Three convicts named respectively Prevost, Philias, St. German and Laborge, made their escape last evening from the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary.
Mr. J. R. Dougall and Dr. Carpenter, in answer to a subpœna, appeared in the police court to-day to make depositions on the preliminary investigation into the anti-vaccination riot which is now going on in the police court.
Mr. Cotte, of the Jacques Cartier bank, was arrested this morning at his summer residence in Longmont on a charge of presenting a false statement of the affairs of the bank to the shareholders. He was sick in bed so the High Constable let him remain and set a man to watch him. The arrest causes much comment. The action is taken by P. M. Galarneau, a shareholder, and formerly one of the directors of the Bank. At an adjourned meeting of the shareholders held this evening, after discussion the report condemning the management of the Bank was adopted, and the following resolution passed:—"That the books of subscription to preferential stock be opened in the first place to owners of old stock until October 1st, that until then they shall have exclusive right of subscribing to the same in proportion to the amount of their old stock, reduced one half, and from the 2nd to 10th October the old shareholders may apply for such an amount of stock of the balance remaining unsubscribed as they may desire, and if these applications together exceed such balance not subscribed, this balance shall be divided among the applicants in proportion to the shares personally possessed by them, and that from 11th of October the remaining preferable capital not subscribed be offered to the public." Mr. Barbeau was asked to continue to act as administrator till arrangements are completed. Hon. J. L. Beaudry was elected director, vice Brudeane, resigned, and the meeting closed.
Great excitement exists regarding Guibord's funeral to morrow. The Seminary has not made know to Doutre, counsel for the Institute Canadienne and Guibord's trust, what its intentions are. However, Mr. Boiss au, Superintendent of the Institute, applied this morning to Choquette, Secretary of the Seminary, asking permission to dig Guibord's grave in lot 873, which he owned when in life. No answer was given till at two p.m., when Boisseau again saw Choquette who replied to the request—"I must answer you in my official capacity as secretary that I have no answer to give you—Mr. Boisseau said—If I should go to the cemetery to-morrow a.m. to prepare a grave will Deroche, the guardian, put me out. Mr. Choquette answered "No sir." Mr Deroche will let you do all that you like. This was of course a direct answer, though whether Choquette meant it as given in an official capacity or not was not distinctly shown. At the close of the interview Boisseau proceeded to Mr. Doutre's office and obtained the title deed to the lot in the cemetery and he intends proceeding to-morrow with two men to dig the grave. A hearse has been secured, and pall-bearers from members of the Institute, and the coffin is lying in a vault of the Protestant Cemetery, ready for removal. It is not likely any ceremonies will be performed at the interment. Cure Rouselot told a reporter the mandamus was to be obeyed, but no burial services would be performed.
The committee appointed at the late meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, for the purpose of setting in order and regulating affairs of the United Body, met to-day, at noon, in St. Paul's Church, in this city, Rev. Dr. Topp of Toronto, convener, was in the chair, and Rev. Messrs. Gray of Orilla, and McGregor of Halifax, Nova Scotia, were chosen secretaries. A lengthened discussion took place as to excluding reporters. The old threadbare argument about the presence of reporters inducing members to make long speeches was strongly supported by the excusionists. On a vote being taken the majority were in favour of a secret meeting, and the reporters were shown the door.
A surveyor named Gerard was sunstruck yesterday. He may recover.

HAMILTON.

The Railway By-Law—Harvest Homes—The City Revenue—Burglary.

HAMILTON, Sept. 1.—The excitement over the result of the vote taken by the rate-payers yesterday, confirming the By law of the City Council to take $100,000 in the Hamilton and North Western Rail way, has subsided, but it seems that some of the leading opponents of the scheme are determined to carry the war into Africa, and fight the battle over again upon technical grounds.
For the next few weeks this section of country will witness a number of pic-nics, in connection with harvest homes and church festivals.
Last evening, at the regular meeting of the City Council, Ald. Fitzpatrick, Chairman of Finance, presented a report which showed that the financial condition of the city was very favourable, and that the revenue was much in excess of the expenditure.
About three o'clock this morning burglars attempted an entrance to the residence of George Greer, but were prevented from carrying out their designs by the report of Mr. Greer's revolver. The thieves however, succeeded in carrying away with them some articles of no value except to the owners.

ST. CATHARINES.

Action Against a Commercial Agency—Rumoured Resignation of Mr. Plumb, of Niagara—Call Accepted.

ST. CATHARINES, Sept 1.—Jas. Douglas, Mayor of the town and a prominent jeweller, has entered an action against the Mercantile Agency of J. M. Bradstreet & Son for vile and malicious representations of his financial condition. It appears they issued a circular stating that Douglas had compromised with his creditors at sixty cents on the dollar. Damages are laid at $10,000.
The News of to-day says:—"It is rumoured that Mr. J. B. Plumb, the present member for Niagara in the House of Commons, is shortly to resign his seat on account of continued ill-health."
Rev. Mr. Bruce, of Newmarket, has accepted the call of the First Presbyterian Church of this place.

LONDON.

Camp—Opening of Streets.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The preparations for the accommodation of the volunteers to be encamped in Carling's farm near the city next week are almost completed. The brigade will assemble next Tuesday. It is expected that the Cleveland Greys, who visited the 7th battalion while in camp at Kensington last year, will spend a day with the same corps during the holding of the coming camp.
A resolution of the City Council last night to keep closed the streets which should run through the exhibition grounds, will in all probability result in litigation, property holders in the neighbourhood evincing a strong determination to force the opening of the streets.

TORONTO

Shooting Match—Funeral—Cricket Matches—Received and Withdrawn—Ontario Rifle Association—A Meeting of Rate-payers.

TORONTO, Sept. 1.—The pigeon match between George Kemardson and Joseph Barrett, at thirty-one birds each, for the amateur championship cup and $50, was won by the former killing twenty-nine to the latter's twenty five.
The funeral of the late Charles Fisher took place to-day. It was attended by the Corporation, School Trustees and the Irish Protestant Benevolent Society. The deceased gentleman was founder of the last society, and it was the first funeral they had attended in a body.
In the cricket match to-day, the Old Countrymen scored, 1st innings, 59; 2nd innings, 61; and Canadians, 1st innings, 39. At the conclusion of this match to morrow, residents will play non-residents.
During August $23,411 were received at the Post Office Saving's Bank, and $24,848 withdrawn.
The Ontario Rifle Association meeting was continued to-day. The affiliated association match for the ladies challenge cup, $50 was won by the Albert Rifle Club of Toronto, with a score of 53; the Guards Team of Ottawa coming next with the same score. Firing in the battalion match for the merchants challenge trophy was commenced. At the conclusion of the days shooting the annual meeting of the association was held. In consequence of the falling off in the number of entries, the entrance fee is to be increased. No business of importance was transacted except the election of the council for the various military districts.
A meeting called at the request of the ratepayers by the President of the city council, to take into consideration the causes of the present depression, was poorly attended. Nearly all the speakers expressed a strong opinion in favour of protection. Several motions disapproving of the course of the present Government were made and were received more or less favourably. Mr. J. D. Edgar was present and defended the policy of the present Government and was patiently listened to.

ST. JOHN, N.B.

The New Brunswick Team for the Dominion Rifle Association—A Distressing Case of Murder.

ST. JOHN, N.B Sept. 1.—The team to represent New Brunswick at the Dominion Rifle Association Matches at Ottawa, on Tuesday next, will leave St. John on Thursday or Friday. The men are:—Sergt. A. Lipsell, 71st battalion; Major Morris, 71st battalion; Sergt. Loggie, 71st battalion; Private Perkins, 71st battalion; Ensign Johnson, 71st battalion; Corporal W. Langstrath, 80th cavalry; Corporal J. Pallen, No. 7 battery; Gunner W. B. Mills No. 10 battery, St. John; Sergeant Sproule, 8th cavalry; Captain Arnold, who was one of the team, will be unable to go.
About a week ago a man named James Wallace, recently arrived in this city from Scotland, with his wife and children was arrested for rent due his landlord. There was a severe scuffle, in which Wallace was released by a crowd from the constable, but was subsequently re-arrested. He was too poor to pay the rent, or to support his family, and went up the Western Extension Railway next day with his family, to commence work on a farm. He complained of injuries sustained in the scuffle with the constable and has since died.
At Gaspe Railway station on the Western Extension Railway, an inquest was commenced. The wife testified that at the time of his arrest, constable Hancock knocked her husband down, dragged him by the feet from the room down four pair of stairs to the sidewalk, where he jumped upon him, kicked him, and choked him.
A verdict has not yet been rendered.

HALIFAX.

Masonic—Lunacy—The Bear River Tragedy.

HALIFAX, Sept. 1.—The Free Masons' display yesterday at the laying of the corner stone of the new Masonic Hall, was the finest of the kind in Halifax for years. About 1,000 members were in the procession. Seats had been erected on the side of the building, and they were occupied by six hundred ladies. An immense crowd of people surrounded the ground. The stone was laid by Grand Master Laurie with the usual Masonic ceremonies. Grand Chaplain Townsend delivered the oration.

OTTAWA, THURSDAY, SEPT. 2, 1875.

Mr. Blackmore, Private Secretary to the Minister of Finance, leaves to day for England via New York, by the steamship City of Richmond. Bon voyage.

The Hon. Mr. Vail, Minister of Militia, left Halifax yesterday morning on his return to the Capital. He will arrive here to-morrow.

The following is a list of the visitors who have registered their names during the week ending the 18th August, at the Library of the Canada Government Building, King Street, Westminster:—Major W. H. Cotton, W. S. Brice, Esq., M. D., Kingston; J. Baine, Esq., E. N. Maule, Esq., George H. Griffin, Esq., Ottawa; W. Caldwell, Esq., Brantford; T. B. Warren, Esq., A. Cross, Esq., F. L. Becque, Esq., John Rounsfell, Esq., Ottawa.

WRONG AGAIN.

The Mail had the sublime confidence in its capacity to palm off a falsehood for the truth, recently to assert that the father of the late Speaker of the Ontario Legislature was the only Sheriff in the Dominion appointed an Official Assignee under the new Insolvent Act, and it threw its jibes and jeers at Mr. Blake for this supposed partiality to Sheriff Wells in a style peculiarly its own—a style which has no parallel outside of newspaper circles, except among whiskey soakers and corner loafers. In the course of a few days it receded slightly from its original position, and informed its readers that its attention had been called to the fact that other two sheriffs had been similarly favoured. For unblushing impudence in the assertion and repetition of a falsehood, commend us to the Toronto Mail.

AT MACKELLAR AGAIN.

The Mail has scarcely issued a single publication since it was first started, that it did not, in one way or another, take the opportunity to "pitch into Mackellar." Now that he is out of public life, and quietly settled down in his shrievalty, it might fairly be hoped that it would turn its attention to somebody else. Such is not the case, however, for the Sheriff of Wentworth has so far been made the butt of the organ's rib-stabbing just as if he were still Minister of Agriculture. His latest offence, in the Mail's estimation, is his acceptance of a banquet tendered him by his old friends in Western Ontario. We are not aware that he has actually accepted it as yet, and as the Mail is the only authority which has made the assertion, we should say the truth of it is more than doubtful. But supposing it to be the fact, what then? The Mail says it is going to be made an occasion for the exercise of Mr. Mackellar's political influence, after he has retired from politics, is occupying a position in the patronage of the Government, and ought not to take any part in a contest such as that now pending in West Kent. The author of this contention has for some years been doing its best to make the public of Ontario believe that Mr. Mackellar had no influence, and deserved to have none. In proof of this assertion it pointed out just the other day that he had only a majority of seventy-five in West Kent at last election, which it regarded as an infallible sign of his waning popularity. If, therefore, in his capacity of a member of the Government he was half as weak and wanting in influence as was represented, as Sheriff of Wentworth, altogether separated from the political arena, without even an office in his gift, he must be a very harmless individual indeed. The Mail draws a comparison between his conduct in the premises and that of the Lieut. Governor, who declined, at least for the time being, a banquet which his old constituents proposed to get up in his honour. The illustration is probably about as far-fetched and inappropriate, and the circumstances about as widely different as they could be. Besides, the Mail is not aware, and has no mode of informing itself, for what reason Governor Macdonald declined for the present the proffered honour from Glengarry. We undertake to say that the explanation it offers is by no means correct, and the inferences it draws equally wide of the mark.

"INTERVIEWING."

There is probably none among the many degrading customs which have of late years characterized American journalism more repugnant to the cultivated taste than the practice of "interviewing." So greatly, indeed, has it deteriorated from the standing of the journalist whose business it is, that the modern "interviewer" is regarded in a light very little more favourable than the common informer. The public men of the United States, from the frequency with which their views are set before the world in the form of an "interview," might be supposed rather to court the system than otherwise, but the truth is that they have been kicked and cuffed into acquiescence by those who control the newspapers. The origin of the iniquitous practice, or at least that which gave it vitality, was of itself a very harmless, and under the circumstances an almost necessary proceeding. It is almost needless here to say that it arose from the fact that an American President, who was very much abused by his opponents, and whose mouth was practically shut except when it became his duty to address Congress by message, determined to turn his familiarity with the Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune into good account. He accordingly arranged with his friend for the publication of a series of "interviews," in which it was represented that certain questions were put by the correspondent with regard to current topics, and certain answers returned by the President. The questions were so arranged as to elicit in reply the most plausible and forcible defence which could have been offered by the President to the attacks made upon him, and in this way the novel idea was turned to a useful and altogether unimpeachable purpose. Of course the professed interviews never took place, and everybody understood so; indeed, there has been a good deal of discussion as to whether it was the President or the journalist who wrote them. They were accepted for what they undoubtedly were—cleverly conceived and well written articles in vindication of the Chief of the Executive carrying with them much more force and directness than mere newspaper editorials, and yet evading the scope of the conventional rule which made it a breach of etiquette for that officer to address himself to the public expressly, or in any other way than by a message to Congress. That the plan served the purpose of those who resorted to it well, and that the appeals thus addressed to the reading public had the anticipated effect, is conclusively proved by the hold it took almost immediately, and has since continued to retain, upon the journalism of the continent. Finding the stratagem of the President so completely successful, every fool in American politics must have himself, "interviewed," and, be it said with regret, no a few who had need of no such lever to raise them into public notice were not above a similar vanity. In fact "interviewing" soon became the rage, constituting a sort of profession in itself, and to the impertinence of its votaries all who had gained any measure of prominence or notoriety, from the foreign potentate who visited the country to see its wonders, down to the perpetrator of the latest and most brutal crime on the record, had to submit with as much meekness and grace as possible. When an actual interview could not be obtained, one must be fabricated; and it has become a common practice, especially in the Chicago and New York press, when a man refuses to submit to the abominable ordeal, to write the invented conversation in the most villainous and libellous style. In fact so debased and degraded has the practice become, that those who first resorted to it might quote the Shakespearian line with a propriety only equalled under the circumstances which called it forth, and exclaim—"To what base uses!" &c. The only wonder is that men of the intelligence and education by which "interviewers" generally are characterised could be induced on any consideration to do such dirty work. Some of the forms into which "interviewing" has resolved itself, have been of such an offensive character that many of the papers which still adhere to the practise in other and more elevated shapes, have protested vehemently. Of these protests, the latest we have seen is perhaps one of the most welcome, as it is one of the most remarkable. It comes from the New York Herald, a journal which, beyond any other that ever existed has done more to debase and bring into disgrace and disrepute the whole profession, and especially the "interviewers." Perhaps the testimony owes a good deal of its force to that very circumstance, in the same way as does the declaration and warning against crime of the sentenced but penitent criminal. As our readers doubtless know, two very celebrated personages in the United States, visited by a severe dispensation of the Almighty's providence, have for some years been bereft of reason, and have of late been submitted to the restraint of a lunatic asylum. The personages in question are Mr. Robert Dale Owen, the veteran scholar and philanthropist and Mrs. Abraham Lincoln, wife of the late lamented President of the United States, whose tragic fate accounts for the unfortunate calamity that has overtaken his widow. It would be the very least that could be expected with reference to two such persons that, as the Herald puts it, they "would be protected in their "sorrows from the prurient gaze of the "public." But it appears, on the contrary, that those who have charge of the institutions in which they are confined, and the conductors of leading Chicago newspapers, entertain quite a different idea, for every odd day the columns of the journals in question are disfigured with glowing accounts of the maniacal ravings of these unfortunate people. The outrage cannot be more appropriately characterized than in the words of the Herald, when it says:—"It is a calamity "unspeakable and far-reaching when "people of any station of life, not to "speak of Mr. Owen and Mrs. Lincoln, "fall under the shadows of so terrible a "disease; but it is an insult to our "humanity that any truffle-hog, calling "himself a journalist, should be allowed "to publish from day to day reports of "what they may say or do in their "moments of wandering madness." Let us hope that the Herald and its American contemporaries will cease henceforth to play the contemptible part of truffle-hog, and insult humanity no longer with their indecent system of "interviewing." Fortunately Canadian society has never been very dangerously threatened with the plague. There is probably nothing more hateful to the truly British mind, than the miserable espionage and deception which have to be practiced in order to make "interviewing" successful, and we have had enough British spirit to enable us to frown down the several attempts which have been made to give it a footing on this side of the line. May we ever be preserved from the visitation.

The Late Chief Bertram.

From the Montreal Herald.

It is with no small degree of regret that we announce the death of Chief Bertram of the Montreal Fire Brigade, which took place at his residence yesterday morning. He was born in Berwickshire, Scotland, in 1811, the son of an industrious blacksmith, which business he learned with his father. When twenty-three years old he came to Canada, and soon after enrolled himself as a member of the Volunteer Fire Protecting Company, continuing with it till 1841, when the Fire Department was reorganized with Mr. J. B. Bronsdon as chief engineer. He was then brakesman on engine No. 4, the Cataract, and gradually rose to be branchman, next lieutenant, and before 1849 was made a captain. That year he was appointed assistant engineer, and, being a very active and steady man, he became invested with much responsibility in the management of the forces. He received a gift from his fellow firemen on the occasion of his elevation to be assistant engineer, and continued to devote much of his time to the peculiar duties of his position till 1852, when a terrible fire devastated a large portion of the city and struck terror into the hearts of all. During this year Mr. Perrigo (now clerk of the Bonsecours Market) resigned his position as chief of the Brigade, whereupon Mr. Bertram was appointed in his place. After that period he was entirely occupied with matters pertaining to his position, and the Brigade was assiduously drilled and its appliances perfected under his personal supervision. The Volunteer Brigade then numbered 400 men; but when the new water works system was brought into use, and it was found that there was a hydraulic pressure sufficient to put out fires, he advocated the general reduction of the brigade and the establishment of a paid force to look solely after the protection of the city. The matter was discussed in Council, and finally the volunteer system was entirely discarded, and the force reduced to a strength of 57 men and officers. During the visit of the Prince of Wales to Canada in 1860, the chief and the brigade took an active part in the display and torchlight procession, in recognition of which he was presented with a handsome silver cup by several friends, and in 1863 the firemen presented him with a beautiful and ingeniously carved silver goblet, the foot being a minature hydrant, and the bowl supported from it on delicately carved hose keys. As years passed, the brigade gradually grew in discipline and in the number of appliances which it could make use of in waging war on the fire fiend, the small Shand and Mason steam engine being the most important of these. This was christened "A. Bertram," and proved a valuable auxiliary. In 1873, when he had been Chief Engineer for 20 years, the members of the brigade presented him with a magnificent oil portrait of himself in costume, which he prized very highly. He has been connected with the Fire Department of this city for 33 years, and up to the beginning of this summer had always devoted himself closely to his duties, being present at all fires and personally aiding his assistants and the force of their operations. He was always anxious to promote the happiness and welfare of his men and while strict in discipline yet his frank manner and fair spirit made him much endeared to them all. The deceased last July became troubled with a chronic affection of the intestine organ, and by the advise of a physician went up to Caledonia Springs in the hope of obtaining relief. However, the mineral waters did not appear to have the desired effect, and the Chief was obliged to return in a debilitated condition and suffering considerable pain. He took to his bed at his residence, Central Fire Station, Craig street, and though all that was possible was done for him, he grew no better, the disease (gastic fever) running its course.

Mr. Bertram will receive a public funeral at the hands of the city. The following, so far as arranged, is the order of procession, open, of course, according to alterations as other organizations or institutions signify their intention of taking part:

Government Police, with reversed arms, headed by Chief McLaughlin.
100 City Police in single file on each side the street.
St. Jean Baptiste Fire Brigade.
Hochelaga Fire Brigade.
Cote St. Paul Fire Brigade.
St. Henri Fire Brigade.

The cortege leaving No. 1 Station, proceeds down Craig street, across Victoria Square to St. James street, and through Place d'Armes to Notre Dame street, thence to St. Gabriel Church. They then proceed down St. Lambert Hill, up St. Lawrence street to the Mount Royal Cemetery.

The Ottawa Ladies College, opens on Wednesday the 1st September. Mr. Butler's successor Prof. Edward Fischer late of Berlin, Germany, is very highly recommended by Julius Eichberg of the Boston Conservatory, and other musical notabilities. The boarding list includes many new names. 39322

"The Real China Land."

A TOURIST IN THE PROVINCE OF SHANTUNG—STRANGE SIGHTS.

The following extract of an interesting letter from Weihyen, in the Province of Shantung, appears in the London Times. Mr. Thomas Ferguson, the writer of the letter, is the principal merchant in Chefoo, and is also the Belgian Consul at that port:—"Weihyen, Shantung, China, May [illegible] 1875.—I arrived here on the 27th inst. after a most interesting journey of two hundred miles through the Province of Shantung; and though I have had a deal of fatigue owing to the bad roads and wretched inns, I feel much better in health than when I left Chefoo on the 10th inst. I have travelled in my large consular chair, with four bearers and four more to change, so in all, I had eight men at my service. I also have a cart for my servant, my trunk, provisions, and cooking utensils, and my bed, for in the inns there are only eggs and chickens, and in some places fresh fish. I generally started at 5 o'clock in the morning and travelled till 12, then had a good meal, and started again at two, and reached my evening resting place at six or seven, when I had supper and went to sleep. This sitting so long in the chair every day was tiring, but the novelty of the journey, and the interesting country through which I passed, made me feel it less than I fear I shall do on my return, when the novelty of the affair will exist no longer. I had no idea of what the real China land is until now, or rather my idea of it was rather incomplete; and now I have seen this admirable country so closely I feel it is a most wonderful place in many ways. From the time I left Chefoo until this place the fields of wheat extend on both sides of the road as far as the eye reaches. Luxuriant crops they were, and they betoken great wealth in the land. For the first seventy miles the road is over a hilly country, not steep but undulating, and with the greatest height of 275 feet. This portion of the journey ended at Wanghyen, and after that the road traverses a vast plain, over which numerous villages are spread, about one to two miles apart. All the villages are enclosed in mud walls, and at a distance look solid, but when seen close they are miserably defended by such walls, the greater part of them being out of repair. The population of this province is quite up to the estimate of 38,000,000, if one can judge of it from the inhabitants of the plain I came across. I passed the large city of Lai-chu-foo, with high walls of stone, and another city of Chang yi with very fine stone walls, and the place where I am now is a vast city of 250,000 inhabitants, with magnificent stone walls about seventy feet high, with battlements, and most grand in appearance. I had my surveying barometer with me in the chair, and, by its help, I have been able to get the profile of this whole country as I came along, with the exact height of each hill, and the level above the sea of every place through which I passed. I went to the coal mines, about twelve miles distant, and I was much struck with the helplessness of the Chinese to work those mines properly. It was a curious feeling to find myself and a missionary gentleman (living here) among a crowd of Chinese miners, about five hundred men keeping a ring round us as we advanced, looking at us with astonishment and concern, but with no hostile feeling or a word expressive of dislike, and there was the appearance of respect arising out of the feeling, 'These foreigners can help us to keep the water out of our mines and allow us to work them and gain our bread.' This is what they seemed to be saying to themselves all the while. It was a strange sight as I stood in the midst of the crowd, with an umbrella over my head, and the people staring at me and good-naturedly walking with me to the coal pits. I have had visits from several people, to whom I have shown how to work these mines, and I have visited one of the most ancient and wealthy families of the city. Chin is the family name (his visiting Chin is 'Chin Ghia See'), and I am to dine with him to-day. His house is remarkable—the first I have seen in China. The reception room is furnished with ancient arm chairs at least three feet wide in the seat, like thrones. The place of honor had a beautiful drawing of a bamboo grove in the wall. We never saw such a thing in China. Before it a large porcelain plate on a stand 700 years old. On one side is a bronze vase of the 'Chen.' dynasty, or 600 years before Christ. The old man introduced his grandson, a charming boy; and on our request to see some old curiosities he went to his room and brought a sacrificial bronze cup on three legs, which belonged to a noble family 1,100 years before Christ, just the same as one sees printed in the books of the ancient Chinese classics. It was most curious, and it seemed to say, 'I show you a thing which was used by my ancestors in their worship nearly 3,000 years ago.' In fact this cup was contemporary with Solomon's Temple and was made before Rome was built. He only showed us that, as if all the rest was too modern for our admiration. In his grand room, where he received us, was his library of books, in beautiful cedar cases, and his family banners of silk, with gold letters on them, which are borne before the coffins at their interments. I also saw another fine house—'Yang'—and I am much pleased with my visit here. To-morrow morning I go to Tsi nan-foo, capital of the province, so as to see all the country.

No Humbug.

We do not wish to inform you, reader, that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures all diseases of mind, body, or estate, and is designed to make our sublunary sphere a blissful Paradise, to which Heaven itself shall be but a side show; but we do wish to inform you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has cured thousands of cases of Catarrh in its worst forms and stages. It may be procured by mail for sixty cents, by addressing R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y. It is also sold by druggists.

A WALKING ADVERTISEMENT.
LIMESTONE SPRINGS, S. C.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

DEAR SIR,—I am a walking advertisement for your Golden Medical Discovery, Purgative Pellets, and Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, they having cured me of Catarrh of nine year's standing, which was so bad that it disfigured my nose, and, while curing it, your medicines also cured me of Asthma in its worst and most aggravated form. Before using your medicines I had become reduced in flesh from one hundred and fifty five to one hundred and fifteen pounds, and I now weigh one hundred and sixty-two pounds, and am in better health than I have enjoyed for twenty years.

Yours truly,
J. L. LUMSDEN.

The above is but a fair sample of hundreds of letters which are received by Dr. Pierce, and in the face of such evidence who can longer doubt that the Doctor's medicines cure the worst cases of Chronic Catarrh?

NERVOUSNESS.

It affords me great pleasure to bear testimony to the benefits I have received from using Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and it has proved an excellent curative for nervousness and general debility.

It is also a first class tonic, enables a person to take on flesh rapidly, and is free from the constipating effects characteristic of other tonics I have tried.

"Man," says Hugo, "was the conundrum of the eighteenth century; woman is the conundrum of the nineteenth century." We can't guess her, but we'll never give her up—no never!—Columbia (S. C.) Union Herald.

"My son," said a stern father to a seven year old hopeful, "I must discipline you. Your teacher says you are the worst boy in school." "Well, papa," was the reply, "only yesterday she told me I was just like my father."

Officer at firing point (who thinks that it is raining) — "Sergeant Mauchline, hain't you better put on your great coat till it's your turn to fire?" Sergeant Mauchline (from the "land of Lorne")—"Hoo? noo the noo! I'll pit it on when it comes wat!"

A Louisville clergyman recommends that slates be hung in the church vestibules, to enable the girls to register their names on entering for morning services. This will obviate the disturbance created by the young men who come in to see whether the charmers are present.

The most attentive man to business on record was he wrote on his shop door: "Gone to bury my wife; return in half an hour." He was no relation to the lawyer who put upon his office door: "Be back in five minutes," and returned only after a pleasure trip of three weeks.

A city baker advertises, "That, as all men need bread, he wishes the public to know that he kneads it. He is desirous of feeding all who are hungry, and hopes his good works may be in the mouth of every one. He is well disposed towards all men, and the best bred people among us will find him, he hopes, one of the best bread men in the city."

The Rev. J. C. Young, rector of Ilmington, Warwickshire, in his journal chronicles the reply of an old woman to whom he had expressed his regret that he had never seen her in church. "She smiled, patted me on the shoulder in a patronising way, and said, 'Oh, don't you be downhearted. When the weather picks up a bit, I'll come and have a look at you.'"

The Sultan of Zanzibar showed himself generally a very smart chap to the Europeans. He didn't wear any stars, and garters, and crosses, nor medals of his own, nor would he accept of any, as the wearing of such gewgaws is contrary to the customs of his country, perhaps because, as the evening and morning dress of his subjects is simple nakedness, they would have to cut buttonholes in their skins to adopt such a fashion.

A fire eating Irishman, covered with wounds received in duels, challenged a barrister, who gratified him by accepting. The duellist, unable to stand without support, requested that he might have a prop. "Suppose," said he, "I lean against a mile stone?" "With pleasure," replied the lawyer, "on condition that I may lean on the next." The challenger burst into a fit of laughter at the joke, and swore he would not fight so good-humoured a gentleman.

Wall Paper.

McKAY'S
CHOICE AND BEAUTIFUL
WALL PAPER.

INCLUDING THOSE DEDICATED BY THE MANUFACTURER

TO

Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Dufferin.

These Paperhangings are imported direct from the best Manufacturing Establishments in England, France and United States. Great care has been taken in their selection with regard to colour. The ground tones are soft and pleasing to the eye, especially those toned with silver mica; but above all, they are free from the mineral poisons that many of the tawdry-coloured Paperhangings of the day are surcharged with. The Subscriber's long experience as a colourist, and being thoroughly acquainted with the chemical compound of the pigments used in Painting, enables him to reject, in his selection of Paperhangings, those coloured with poisonous pigments, so deleterious to health. The Public are respectfully invited to examine his STOCK of WALL PAPER before purchasing elsewhere.

As the undersigned is going out of the Room Paper Business as soon as his present Stock is disposed of, the Goods will be Sold at the Lowest Remunerating Prices.

The Montreal Proprietary School has been established to provide a liberal education similar to that given in the Public Schools of England. The course of Instruction, however, will not be exclusively classical, and boys will be specially prepared either for the University and Professions or for Commercial Life.

Most eligible premises have been purchased for the School in McTavish street, one of the most healthful localities of the city, and immediately adjoining the grounds of the McGill University.

The course of instruction will include Latin, Greek, Mathematics, French, German, Arithmetic, Writing, English Grammar, Literature and Composition, History and Geography, both Ancient and Modern, Natural Philosophy, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, Gymnastics and Drilling.

A limited number of boys will be received by the Principal as Boarders or Weekly Boarders and, with the view of keeping the pupils from improper influences, it is strongly recommended that all be asked to lay boarders, who will dine in the house of the Principal.

Further particulars can be obtained from the Secretary, J. W. Holmes, Esq., 78 Victoria street, to whom all applications for admission must be made.

The School will open on MONDAY, the 12th of April, and will be carried on for a few days at 76 Victoria street, the new premises not being quite ready for completed.

PAIN KILLER.

After thirty-five years trial, it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsability. Physicians of the first respectability recommend it as a most effectual preparation for the extinction of pain. It is not only the best remedy ever known for Bruises, Cuts, Burns, &c., but for Dysentery or Cholera, or any sort of Bowel complaint it is a remedy unsurpassed for efficiency, and rapidity of action. In the greatest effort of India, and other hot climates, it has become the standard medicine for all such complaints, as well as for Dispepsia, Liver Complaints, and other kindred disorders. For Coughs and Colds, Canker, Asthma, and Rheumatic difficulties, it has been proved by the most abundant and convincing testimony to be an inevitable medicine.

It is used Internally and Externally.

LACHINE
Canal Enlargement.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sealed Tenders addressed to the Secretary of Public Works, and endorsed "Tender for the Lachine Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western mails on Thursday, the fifteenth day of September next, for the enlargement of this canal, consisting of the widening and deepening of the channel from near the new basin east of Wellington Street bridge, upwards, to the river St. Lawrence at Lachine, embracing the construction of new locks at St. Gabriel and Côte St. Paul, also the taking down and rebuilding of the upper portions of the present locks at these places; building regulating weirs, culverts, bridge piers; the construction of a new entrance lock at Lachine, and the formation of a channel and basin on the south or river side of the existing entrance.

The works will be let in sections of the respective lengths indicated on a map of the line, which, together with plans and specifications of the various works, can be seen at this office, and at the Lachine Canal Office, Montreal, on and after FRIDAY, the Third day of September next, at either of which places Printed forms of Tender can be obtained.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that Tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and—in the case of firms—except there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same; and further, an accepted bank cheque, or other available security, for the sum of from one to three thousand dollars, according to the extent of work on the section, must accompany each Tender, which shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines or fails to enter into contract for the works, when called upon to do so, at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The amount required in each case will be stated on the form of Tender.

The cheque or money thus sent in, will be returned to the respective parties whose Tenders are not accepted.

For the due fulfilment of the contract, satisfactory security will be required on real estate, or by deposit of money, public or municipal securities, or bank stocks, to the amount of five per cent on the bulk sum of the contract, of which the sum sent in with the Tender will be considered a part.

Ninety per cent only of the progress estimates will be paid until the completion of the works.

To each Tender must be attached the actual signatures of two responsible and solvent persons, residents of the Dominion, willing to become sureties for the carrying out of these conditions, as well as the due performance of works embraced in the contract.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any Tender.

By Order,
F. BRAUN,
Secretary.

Department of Public Works, Ottawa, 9th August, 1875.

BERKELEY, Jan. 20th, 1875. Gentlemen,—I feel it a duty I owe to you to express my gratitude for the great benefit I have received from your "Nervous Cannabis Indica." I applied to your agent, Mr. Pearce, of Berkeley, for the above Pills, for which I paid two dollars, which I used for a length of time, having tried nearly every remedy prescribed, but without any benefit at all. After taking two bottles of your Pills, I was quite restored to health, and could recommend them to all those who may think as I did, that it was quite useless. Please give this publicity, for the benefit of those who may think as I did, that it was quite useless. Yours truly, HENRY ALLMAN. For sale by all Druggists. Agent for Norton's Camomile Pills.

Horses suffering from the lives of thousands of horses have been saved during the past year, and the credit is due to "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." This preparation is being extensively used, and exactly as directed in the pamphlet. Nothing of the kind has ever before been half as successful, or given such universal satisfaction; it can not be excelled. We can confidently recommend it and would advise all who own horses to keep a supply of it on hand—it may be the means of saving your horse's life. WHAT DOES NATURE SAY? A Few Facts for the Public.—There are but few preparations of medicine which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Fairham Centre, P.Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then had no attacks of it. I would recommend it to all."—W. B. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines without the benefit until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases

Local Intelligence.

William England, Official Assignee for Ottawa City and County of Carleton, Office, Hay's Block, Spark St. 3915-6w

Brooklyn Episcopal Church.—The ladies of Emanuel Church (R. E.) meet this evening in the church, to make arrangements for the getting up of a Church Dinner.

The Band.—The Band of the Governor General's Foot Guards performed last night on the Government Hill, and their music was listened to by a very large concourse of people.

A Cold Water Blessing.—At the corner of the Dufferin Bridge a drinking fountain has been placed and was in operation yesterday for the first time. The arrangement will prove a great boon to thirsty wayfarers.

The County Council.—A special meeting of the County Council of the County of Ottawa, will be held on Wednesday next. The business to be transacted will be in connection with the forthcoming Provincial Exhibition.

A False Alarm.—About noon yesterday an alarm of fire was sounded from box 31, situated on the corner of King and Rideau streets. The brigade turned out for nothing; it was only a chimney that wanted sweeping, and the soot there in had ignited.

A Desideratum.—Mr. Donald Noonan has instituted a fifteen cent luncheon at his restaurant on Sparks street, and, he has been most liberally patronized. The viands are excellent, the attendance good and no delay is allowed to take place in the serving of the edibles. The arrangement is a good one and Mr. Noonan desires to be liberally patronized.

Sale of Property.—The half lot and two dwellings on the corner of York street and the new By Ward Market Square was sold yesterday by auction by Mr. A. B. Macdonald for the sum of $7,000. The purchaser was the present occupant of the premises, Mr. D. Roy. The owner, Mr. McMaster, gets $2,000 cash, and the balance is paid in seven equal annual instalments, the unpaid amounts to bear 7 per cent.

New Normal School.—This institution will open on the 15th inst., and from what we can learn with every success. There have been upwards of one hundred applicants to enter this session, and should they succeed in passing the entrance examination a good class will have been formed for a beginning. It is to be hoped, for the credit of Eastern Ontario, that all interested will lend Mr. Mc Cabe, the principal, every assistance in his somewhat arduous task of inaugurating this new institution.

Imports for Ottawa.—The following imports for this city appear in the manifest of the steamer Prussian, just arrived in Montreal from Liverpool:—J. Y. Gilmour & Co., 8 cases; order, 1 do.; Garland, Mutchmor & Co., 3 cases; Wm. Grier & Co., 2 cases; Magee & Russell, 4 cases and 1 bale; John Leslie, 1 cask; Fingland & Draper, 4 cases and 1 bale; Chalmers & Co., 1 case; Elliott & Hamilton, 2 cases and 7 pkgs; G. M. Holbrook, 8 cases; W. Hearn, 1 case; Kearns & Ryan, 4 cases; W. J. Topley, 1 case; J. Durie & Son, 1 box; James Young, Govt. station er, 1 case; Earl of Dufferin, 1 box.

The Cow Nuisance.—The residents of Stewart Street are in great trouble over a nuisance that has existed in that locality for a long time in the keeping of cows. The party in question is said to own ten cows and they are allowed to roam about the neighborhood, to the disgust of those occupying first class houses. It is said the by law allows only the keeping of one cow in each family within the city limits, and if such is the case, the police should see that it is rigidly enforced. The new platforms that have recently been laid in this somewhat fashionable street, have been for the last two weeks rendered almost unfit for travel on account of this nuisance. The authorities should redress this grievance at once.

Launch of a Yacht.—A handsome steam yacht was launched yesterday from the yard of Mr. Phillips, on the bank of the Rideau Canal, near the Maria Street Bridge. She was built for Mr. Arnold, and is about 12 tons, yacht club measurement. Her engines have been supplied by C. Lovell & Co., the Mill Supply Agency, Sparks street, and are really most complete in every detail. At four o'clock the ceremony of christening the craft was performed by Mrs. Levi Adams, and the boat went down the ways without a hitch, and became the name of the Regency. Her lines are fine, and she has a particularly good entrance, and a clean run after, with a good sweep in her counter. The screw is a triple bladed one, and is expected that she will steam about and a half knots, or nearly twelve miles an hour. A trial trip will be made in the course of a few days.

An Omission.—In the hurry and excitement of preparing our report of the cordial reception to the Hon Mr Mackenzie on Tuesday evening, we omitted to mention the names of a number of persons who took a very active part in getting up the demonstration. Captain McCaffrey should have been particularly noticed for the able manner in which he as chief marshal organized and regulated the procession. Amongst others whose names were unintentionally omitted were Messrs. E. McGillivray, J. R. Booth, W. G. Perley, A. Drummond, Benj. Suite, Major Macdonald, T. D. Harington, E. A. Meredith, John Langton, Colonel Chamberlain, M. Starrs, Ex-Ald. Goulden, J. W. Webster, P. A. Egleson, Richard Nagle, Dr. Wood, Dr. Logan, H. Lapierre, A. H. Taylor, R. Blackburn, M.P., George Crain, J. M. Goulden, Wm. Wall, P. J. Egleson, L. N. Nye, and a number of others. These names were unintentionally overlooked by our reporter, and we can only express our regret that such should have been the case, in connection with those who took so energetic a part in the affair.

Fresh Oysters.—One barrel of fresh shell oysters to arrive at 4 p.m. Families and parties requiring them, will please send in their orders. Noonan's Restaurant.

New Goods.—Just received "ex Peruvian" two cases West of England cloths and coatings, and Scotch tweeds, well worth an inspection. T. W. Kenny & Sons, Merchant Tailors and Outfitters, 86 Sparks St.

Customs Duties.—The amount of customs duties collected at this port for the month ending 31st of August was $19,294.00; shipping dues $93; steamboat dues from fund $26.24, making a total of $19,320.20.

Inland Revenue.—The following duties were collected at the Inland Revenue office in this city for the month ending 31st of August:—Spirits, $10,080.69; licenses, $750; tobacco, $2,489.20; making a total of $13,270.20.

New Appointment.—Mr. James Adam enters into the position of assistant to Mr. A. H. Taylor in the Grand Trunk Agency in this city, this morning. The appointment is a good one, and we congratulate Mr. Taylor in procuring so able an assistant.

An Incorrigible.—Julia Ring was incarcerated last night for smashing the windows in a tobacconist's shop on Sparks street. She made the police station lively for some time by exercising her vocal powers, but the language she used was anything but choice.

Board of Public School Trustees.—There will be a regular meeting of the Board of Public School Trustees held this evening in the City Hall. There is a good deal of business of importance to transact that requires the immediate attention of the members of the Board.

Monthly Fair.—The regular Monthly Fair was held yesterday on the By Ward Market Square and was pretty well attended. There was a large number of horses offered for sale, but purchasers were not forthcoming. On the whole the affair may be considered a failure.

The Burns Tragedy.—Last evening a half breed was arrested on suspicion of having been implicated in the alleged murder of Burns. A witness was called confidently the prisoner, but as the former was not positive as to the latter being the man he suspected, he was allowed to depart.

Horse Sales.—Some Gypsies yesterday afternoon made the neighbourhood of the Market lively by some horse dealing transactions. The language they used in conducting their business, if it was not choice, was at least amusing to the crowd of the "great unwashed" who were present.

English Mail.—An English Mail will close in the City Post Office to-morrow (Friday) the 3rd, inst., at 12:05 o'clock p.m., destined for the steamship Moravian, which sails from Quebec for Liverpool on Saturday. A supplementary bag will close at 1.25 p.m., for the same destination, but will contain only unregistered matter.

The George Washington Restaurant, York street is now open for guests, and meals can be had at all hours. 3915-6w

Railway Guide.—The International Railway and Steam Navigation Guide for September has come to hand from the publishers, Messrs. Chisholm, Bros., of Montreal. It is replete as usual with all information relative to railway and steamboat travel, and cannot but prove invaluable to tourists and others who are engaged in travelling. It is to be had from news dealers and bookstores.

Bishop Cummins.—The Right Rev. Geo. David Cummins, D. D., Presiding Bishop and founder of the Reformed Episcopal Church, will arrive in the City on Saturday. Bishop Cummins will preach morning and evening in Emanuel Church on Sunday next. The Church Wardens have taken a suite of apartments at the Union House for the Bishop, where he will receive any persons who may desire to call upon him.

The Late Miss Wily.—The funeral of the late Miss Wily took place at Beechwood Cemetery yesterday afternoon, and it was largely attended. The deceased lady was well known for her works of charity, and her demise will be severely felt by the poor of the city, to whom she was a most sincere friend and helper. She, in her lifetime, "went about doing good," and the many recipients of her bounty will feel her loss most keenly.

Waking up to a Sense of Duty.—The police authorities, who were somewhat tardy in the beginning in prosecuting an investigation into the Burns' tragedy, are now becoming alive to the necessity of more vigorous action. Every day reveals some new feature, clearly pointing to a murder having been committed. It is altogether probable that a reward will be offered by the Corporation at its meeting on Monday night by way of assisting the authorities. Had the police not evinced a disposition to ferret the case out, the Minister of Justice would unquestionably have taken the matter in hand.

Gendreau's shaving and haircutting saloon, No 3 Rajotte's Block, Wellington street. Adele M. Gendreau, proprietor. 3922 tf

We think the Congregationalist very nearly right in the following judgment:—"A good sermon can't be preached too often, but the preacher must be warmed up every time. Whitefield's best sermon was preached fifty nine times."

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

Windsor House.—L H Daniels, Prescott; John Shepstan, Williamsburg; S R Bailey, Oshawa; Robert Clark, Smiths Falls; T Wells, Miss Depencier, Wakefield; McKay Wright, Aylmer; J W McLean, Miss A W McLean, Eardley; Alf Beale, Chas Dion, Miss Chipchase, Montreal; John C Cox, New York.

Russel House.—David Simms, Thurso; M K Dickinson, Manitock; H Hunden, Rochester; E H Goff, Montreal; Dr. P C Kempson, New York; G W Simpson and lady, S B Hily, W G Clark, Montreal; John Bryson, Jno. Bryson, jr. Fort Coulonge; L M Clark, Fort Plain, N. Y.; Jas. McLaren, Buckingham; H F Stetson, Boston; T E. THE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

A special meeting of the Collegiate Institute Board was held yesterday afternoon at the City Hall, for the purpose of deciding on the application for the position of female teacher for the Collegiate Institute of this city. Sixteen applicants responded to the advertisement from the High School Board, both from Ontario and Quebec, and it was gratifying to see so large a number holding first-class certificates, and prepared to take charge of so high and important a position. We think there is great credit due to the Trustees for pushing the work and rendering the building ready for occupation at the commencement of the present term. The building, we may say, is as good as any in the Dominion, will cost $40,000, and with its present staff of teachers it is sure to prosper, and we are sure it will give general satisfaction to know that it is a free school, preparatory class excepted. We would recommend those who have not seen the building to do so; and we congratulate Miss Laying of Ottawa on her success in obtaining the position, and who is very well qualified for the situation. It is saying a good deal for Ottawa and its educational institutions, that there are now 100 male pupils on the roll, exclusive of 25 females.

TEMPERANCE HALL.

Meeting on Tuesday Night.

We have learned from a friend who was at the Temperance Hall last night, that the attendance of members was very small, indeed quite insignificant in point of numbers—a circumstance to be regretted, as very important questions were brought before the meeting for discussion, with a view to ascertain what was practicable in the way of restriction upon the "liquor traffic," whether by entire prohibition, or by limiting the manufacture and sale of "ardent spirits" to certain classes of the community. Several propositions or "questions" were submitted for discussion, and the general tone and drift of the speeches delivered by several speakers would seem to indicate a large generation of froth in reference to the Temperance movement. The very attempt to mix up moral questions of this kind with political chicanery has, to men of ordinary sagacity, a sinister aspect, intimating obscurely it may be, yet unmistakably, that the wish, aim and object, of not a few, is to embarrass political leaders, and, by dexterous management, to allure certain honest, yet unwary friends of a noble cause, from their political allegiance.

If some of the "questions" have not been inspired or even written by the "cunning," though unscholarly hand of a political demagogue, then we must come perforce to the rather humiliating (to temperance men) conclusion that the writer was intoxicated; for, on the supposition that party politics had nothing to do with the framing of the "questions," what do the second and the third propositions mean? Why they simply mean that the writers have stultified themselves, not to say have ratified a plentiful ignorance of Ba land even unintelligible English. The second and the third propositions read as follows:—

(2) "In order to secure the necessary combination of influence to bring about legislation, is it desirable to make prohibition a distinct political issue at the polls?"

(3) "Would the passage of a prohibitory liquor law dependent for ratification upon the decision of a majority of the electors of the Dominion by a plebiscite, accomplish the object in view?"

To our thinking it shows but a poor knowledge of human nature to attempt what is proposed in question, second; for does not any person know that, as a true hearted Scotchman said, nationality is stronger than religion, so politics is stronger than temperance, and every observer knows full well, and on that knowledge bases his charge that demagoguism, political demagogism, is the enceladus whose writhings disturb the dwellers on the Temperance mount.

What a direct and effective way to secure what every friend of the movement for abatement of the excessive use of spirituous liquors is it to obtain Prohibition first, and ratification (?) by a majority of the people afterwards? What is meant by ratifying what a Parliament passes into law transcends our comprehension? We had imagined—in our ignorance, it should seem—that Parliament was the higher power, at least so far as law was concerned. Besides, what could the approval (the term ratification is not English in the sense of the writer criticized) if the people add in weight or dignity to an act of Parliament? The friends of Temperance, of whom we are an humble member, may rest assured that, if any measure passed by Parliament does not satisfy the wishes of a majority of the people, they will soon hear the people through the mouths of demagogues, with here and there a patriot—rari nantes in gurgito vasto—demanding a redress of their grievance; so that it is mere twaddle to talk about the "ratification"—in the un English sense—of what Parliament does.

Even on the hypothesis that it were wise and opportune to solicit the aid of politics for the cause of temperance, we should say that sincere friends of the good cause, acting with a single eye to its furtherance, would show an enormous imprudence in making temperance in the first instance a political question. A good general first drills and marshals his men and shows those around him the advantage of his alliance, simply because his alliance secures victory. Let our friends find out, by actual canvass, the numerical strength of the temperance vote, and then come and tell Parliament that there is a majority of electors pledged to support temperance irrespective of party politics, and then politicians may take the matter into serious consideration; although albeit there was a majority in favour of temperance, it is questionable whether any practical leader of a party would so far trust himself to the movement in favour of prohibition as to make it an article stantis vel cadentis of his ministry. Temperance men would be divided in their politics, although agreed on the question ostensibly sought to be advanced; there would be an immense display of demagogic oratory; the word of promise would be kept to the ear, but broken to the hope; the simple would be led by foolish and fanatical harangues, and the wise would be offended; men who had acted in concert previously, would be estranged by political charlatanism; the very spot where victory had been expected to perch on "cold water" banners would be the grave of hopes and the birth place of feuds. Taking a sober view of the situation, we think that the best thing to be done is to agitate the "question," to mature deliberations, to educate the people in the principles of the movement, and, if possible, to make it a civil offence to use liquor in any way at election times; nay, there should be, if there is not now, a law passed that not a glass of liquor, spirituous or otherwise, should either be sold or given to any person during polling-day. It is by the adoption of stringent measures like this that we can make the time ripe for a coup d'etat—"a strong pull, a long pull, and a pull altogether." We wish well to temperance; we wish well to every noble and disinterested effort in the cause of man; but we do not see our way quite clear as yet; we walk feeling after the solid rock of truth and right.

POLICE COURT.

Before M. O'Gara, P. M.

Wednesday, Sept. 1st.

Joseph Jones was charged with being disorderly on the street. He was fined $2 and costs.

James Smith was fined $2 and costs for a similar offence.

Denis Gaffney, another defaulter in this respect, was relieved of a similar amount.

John McCulluogh, drunk on the street, was fined $2 and costs.

Thomas Leonard, drunk on the streets, was fined $2 and costs.

John White, charged with disorderly conduct, was discharged.

Therese Lone, on a charge of drunkenness, was discharged.

Ilmann Berthelot, was charged with using abusive language to Isaie Desormeaux. He was fined $2 and costs.

Isidore Groulx, for a similar offence, was fined $2 and costs.

Anthony Gillespie, jr., was charged with using insulting language to Denis Regan. A fine of $3 and costs was imposed.

Mary Leger was charged with using abusive language to Andre Jolicoeur. The case was dismissed with costs.

Lyman Smith, was charged with the larceny of a boat from Antoine Ratte. The case was adjourned for one week.

Troubles are like dogs—the smaller they are the more they annoy you.

A bashful young man mortally offended the bride of his most intimate friend by stammering when taken aback by a request for a toast at the wedding, "Tom, my f—fr fiend, may you have a wedding once a year as long as you live."

A fellow the other day asked his sweetheart if he might be permitted to encircle her in his arms and give her an affectionate hug. "No," said she, "I can't allow that; but I'll tell you what I will do, I'll split the difference with you—you may kiss me."

A patient waiter—A young doctor.

Jones says he loves two charming girls—Jenny Rosity, and Annie Mation.

If a man wont act on the square, the best thing is to deal roundly with him.

We know all about shooting stars, but we often forget that this world of ours is a revolver!

"Any letters for Mike How?" asked an individual of a clerk at a post office window. "Nor letters for anybody's cow."

A schoolmaster said of himself:—"I am like a bone—I sharpen a number of blades, but I wear myself out in doing it."

Near Knoxville, the other night, a young girl, who was unexpectedly interviewed by the family as she was about eloping with the object of her vergin affections, knocked the old man down, laid out two brothers with a cistern pole, kicked the hired man in the stomach, and got away with her lover, and "made the riffle." We wish that heaven had sent us such a woman as that

Remedies.

Borthwick Springs.

A limited number of boarders can be accommodated at the Borthwick Springs. Invalids wishing to avail themselves of the benefits to be derived from the use of the best Mineral Water on the continent, and parties wishing to spend a few weeks in the country should visit these springs.

Comfortable quarters at moderate charges, fitted with all necessary requirements for

SHOWER AND OTHER BATHS.

Pure country air and freedom from excitement give the patient the benefit of hygienic results impossible to be obtained elsewhere. The attention of the reader is particularly directed to the fact that this Mineral water loses none of its virtues in keeping or transportation, and that where freely taken by those in good health, health continues. By invalids who cannot visit the Springs the Water can be as well used in their own houses, whilst its low cost places it within the reach of all.

Delivered to all parts of the city in 3 gallon jars, at 10 cts. per gallon, in 30 gallon barrels at $4.50 each, barrels extra. For conveyance to the Springs and other information, apply to

Caledonia Springs.

Joyful Tidings to Thousands.

The Elysium of the Invalid
Is again open
ULPHUR, SALINE and GAS.

The REJUVENATING WATERS so much sought for in years long past.

Invalids! Attention!

Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Digestive Organs, Dropsy, Diseases of the Skin, Affections of the Liver and Urinary Organs are positively cured by using the water for a few weeks.

Rheumatics! Read!

Hundreds of Rheumatics have been cured by the Sulphur Baths. Suffering is alleviated by the first, and cripples throw away their crutch after about half-a-dozen baths.

TESTIMONIALS.

"Montreal, 28th July, 1876.

"I hereby certify that I entertain a very favorable opinion of the Baths and Waters of the Caledonia Springs in many forms of disease, amongst which I would especially mention Chronic Rheumatism, the Sciatica of Gout, Neuralgia, some of the varieties of Cutaneous disease, Dyspepsia, Chronic Sore, and in carefully selected cases, some of the diseases of the Kidney and Bladder.

(Signed) GEO. W. CAMPBELL, A.M., M.D.
Dean of the Medical Faculty, McGill College.

Dr. Wm. Robertson, of Montreal, wrote as follows, in 1839:—"But the disease above all in which the action of the water is most decided is Rheumatism. . . . I have known a few individuals who suffered much from improper use of mercury who were restored to health by the use of the Waters.

ACCOMMODATIONS.

A magnificent new hotel, capable of accommodating 500 guests, will be opened on June 1st for the accommodation of visitors. The grounds have been improved and beautified, and every means for amusement and exercise provided. The trip thither by the Ottawa River is most enjoyable, and a railroad from the river to the Springs is in course of construction. Until the railroad is built, comfortable carriages will be in waiting at the wharf for the conveyance of visitors to the Springs. The distance of the Springs from Montreal and Ottawa respectively is 80 and 50 miles.

Mr. W. CHAMPENESS will open a good Livery Stable, providing good carriages, horses, saddles, &c. There is a good race-course on the property of the Company.

The CANADIAN WAFFERS of these Springs will yet make Caledonia the greatest resort in the world for health and pleasure seekers. Thousands of testimonials might be procured, but the reputation of the Springs renders it unnecessary to do so.

EDUCATION OFFICE,
August 19th, 1875. 3w-law.

tion. Mr. Letellier, Minister of Agriculture, passed through St. Paul's yesterday, en route for Ottawa, on his return from his visit to the North West.

It will be seen by the telegram from our special correspondent in Toronto, that the Governor-General's Foot Guards Team have covered themselves with laurels having won nearly all the principal prizes offered during the competition yesterday Bravo for Ottawa!

The Hamilton Times of September 1st says: "It is worthy of note that all the twenty contracts on the Canada Central Railway, awarded by Hon. A. B. Foster, have been given to Canadians, save one. This is the line on which, according to the organs, Mr. McMullen was to receive "his pay," in the shape of a fat contract."

Order Granted.

Judge John R. Bradley, of the Supreme Court, has granted an order of publication in the suit of Drexel, Morgan & Co. vs. California Bank, to recover $25,000 gold on affidavits that the defendant is a foreign corporation, whose president is dead, and whose cashier lives in San Francisco, and which has no officer in this State on whom services could be made. This is not for deposits, but on a circular note.

Peace in Columbia—The Erie Railroad—Death of a Clergyman.

A despatch from Panama says that articles of peace have been signed by General Delgalio, commanding the forces of the General Government in the United States of Columbia, and General Santimando of the Insurgent forces; so that all trouble may now be considered at an end.

At a meeting of the Erie Railroad Directors, held to-day, for the purpose of extending an official welcome to Sir Edward Watkins and party, the capitalists who have just finished the inspection, Mr. Chambers of the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company said that all statements, thus far published, in regard to the proposed consoladation of that Corporation with the Western Union, might be considered as unauthorized conjectures. He stated that it will not be brought about, that is, at least for the present.

The Rev. Dr. E. H. Gillett, a well known Presbyterian clergyman, died to-day.

PHILADELPHIA.

The Charlie Ross Kidnapping.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—In the Western trial to-day after considerable discussion and objections on the part of the prisoner's counsel, the statement of Westervelt, made at the police station last April, but which was not published, was admitted in evidence, and read by the stenographer who took it down. from the character and length of his declaration, it is evident that he was by no means reticent, but on the contrary he told many things that convinced his hearers of an intimate relation that existed between the Charley Ross kidnappers and himself. His trip up North River to Roundout in the boat, the intention to commit a burglary at that place on the part of his associates, and the subsequent abandonment of the plan at his urgent solicitation, shows that he was evidently cognizant of their operations, and a companion with them in their crooked work.

CINCINNATI.

A Ruffianly Outrage.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 2nd.—At Dayton, O., yesterday, Wm. Dawson, late a colonel of the Indiana Regiment, was set on by a notorious young rough named James Murphy, and was stabbed in the abdomen from the effects of which he died in a few minutes afterwards. He was in attendance at the wedding of a friend at the time, when he and five of his comrades demanded admittance, and being refused, they shot him. Murphy was arrested. About 300 persons gathered aronnd the gaol last night with the avowed purpose of lynching Murphy, but were prevented by the police force of the city.

ST. PAUL.

Damaging Rain Storms.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 2nd.—Prospects are very unfavourable. There has been a succession of driving and soaking storms since Monday of last week, which have done immense damage to grain crops of all kinds Wheat in stock and shock is found to be sprouting in numerous instances, and grain dealers, well informed, estimate the damage at fully 15 per cent. of the whole crop of the State. Grasshoppers in no one year have ever done as much actual damage to crops as the furious rain storms of the last few days have accomplished.

The Governor General's Foot Guards—The Hamilton Abortion Case—Insolvent—Madame Titiens.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.—The Guards tried for the "Ladies' Cup," 153 points and lost, but won the "Challenge Trophy," first Battalion prize, and first Company Brassy and Tait cups.

The enquiry into the Hamilton Abortion case before the Police Court was concluded at five o'clock this afternoon. Arthur Davis and wife, charged with causing the death of Catharine Laing by producing an abortion was committed for trial, and James Amo, of Hamilton, charged with being accessory after the act was honourably acquitted. The magistrate stated that not a stain rested upon his character.

The Consul General of Spain arrived in town this morning.

William Davidson & Son, wholesale sadlers, assigned recently, Hugh Wallace was sole proprietor. He having went into the firm about two years ago and bought Davidson & Son out for $15,000, he was insolvent in a tobacco business in this city before entering the last mentioned firm. At the time of the present suspension he was carrying $75,000 in accommodation paper.

Madame Titiens is promised at Mrs. Morrisons' Theatre during the next season and also Miss Julia Matthews.

Mr. Nicholas Flood Davin, one of the editors of the Globe has resigned.

The Hudson Bay Co and the City Council at Loggerheads—The Minister of Agriculture—Mr. Ogilvie of Montreal

WINNIPEG, Sept. 2nd.—The Hudson Bay Company and the City Council are at loggerheads. The former claim the road to Portage la Prairie, which has been occupied as a public highway for sixty years. The city have graded it, and the company have applied for an injunction, they having surveyed it into city lots, and set apart new streets more advantageous to their own property. The corporation maintain that the city has a right to the old road, and will defend their claim. The case is pending, and excites considerable public interest.

Hon Letellier de St. Just left for Moorehead, by special conveyance, yesterday. He has visited the principal settlements in the Province, and informed himself thoroughly as to the situation of our agricultural population, with a view to learn the nature and extent of the relief required from the Dominion. He is loud in his praise of the Province and the courage and independence of its people, under all most crushing misfortunes.

Mr. Ogilvie, M.P.P. for Montreal West, who has been prospecting in the Province for some time, was the recipient of an address from the prisoners of 1869, on Friday last, thanking him for his efforts to arouse public indignation against the Provisional Government of that time. He left for Montreal on Saturday.

BERLIN.

Destructive Fire.

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—A serious fire occurred here to day. It broke out in the rear of the stables of the Royal Hotel, on the premises occupied by Mrs. S. S. Weaver, and in a very few minutes had communicated to the hotel, a large frame building, which burned with fearful rapidity. The large brick livery stables and blacksmith shop adjoining the hotel, and owned by G. C. Clemens of Preston, and occupied by Daniel Bowman and W. W Cowan, soon fell a pray to the flames, and in less than one hour the whole was in a blaze. A west wind drove the flames towards the barns and sheds in the rear of the Commercial Hotel, and the greater part of the business portion of the town was in great danger. Hundreds of men were on the roofs of the Commercial Hotel and stables throwing water and spreading wet blankets on the roofs. In spite of their exertions the sheds caught, but the flames were quickly put out, and at this opportune moment the wind veered round and blew towards the south and that part of the town was saved. The steamer worked well for a time, but an unforseen accident caused a delay of twenty-five minutes. The Waterloo engine had been telegraphed for, and in less than half an hour was on the ground. The losses and insurance are as follows:—Dr. Wright, Royal Hotel buildings $3,500; insured for $2,000 in the Waterloo Mutual. S. S Weaver, hotel furniture, loss $2,000; insured for $1,000 in the Waterloo Mutual. D. L. Bowman, livery keeper, who saved nearly everthing; loss about $500, covered by insurance. G. C. Clemens, livery building and blacksmith shop; loss $3,000; insurance $1,400. W. W. Cowan, blacksmith tools, &c.; loss about $800; insurance $400. Mr. Hilborn, proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, had the greater part of his furniture and all his liquors removed. Loss not known, but covered by insurance.

BELLEVILLE.

Albert College—Cheese Shipments—The New Insolvency Law

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 2.—Bishop Carman, late President of Albert College, has been succeeded by the Rev J. R. Jacques, A. M., P. H. D., D. D., Professor of Greek and Ethics in the Wesleyan University, Bloomington, Ill.

Shipments of cheese this week are very light. 3,000 boxes are reported at 8¾ to 9c.

There were eleven applications for insolvency here yesterday, nearly all of whom were doing business in town.

CLIFTON.

Lord Houghton at Niagara.

CLIFTON, Sept. 2.—Mr. Wm. Thompson, M. P. for Welland, entertained on Monday, at his residence, at Glencairn, on the Niagara River, Lord Houghton and his son, Hon. Mr. Milne. Among the guests who came to meet his Lordship were Mr. Nicholson, of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. Lansing, of Niagara; Miss Cameron, of Toronto; Mr. William Henry Hurlbert, of New York; and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Broughton, of Hamilton.

The Guibord Funeral.

AN EXCITED MOB.

The Hearse Stoned off the Ground.

POLICE AND MILITARY AID SOUGHT IN VAIN.

The Remains Returned to the Protestant Cemetery.

The "WITNESS" on the SITUATION

Special Telegram to the TIMES.

FIRST DESPATCH—5 P.M.

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—Our reporters despatch from the cemetery announces the appearance of a big row. Stones are being thrown at the hearse, and the cemetery gates have been barred against it by the mob.

A reporter was struck with a stone.

The crowd is gathering from all quarters and a large portion of it is provided with firearms.

The military have been sent for, but before they reach there, to all appearances blood will have been spilt.

SECOND DESPATCH.

At two o'clock the members of the Institut Canadien and their friends, numbering some 300, went to the Protestant cemetery vaults to get the remains of Guibord. Mr. Doutre presented a written order for the delivery of the body, which order was presented to the trustees of the Mount Royal Cemetery, Messrs. M. H. Gault, Wm. Turner, George Macrae, and Mr. Robertson.

The only relative of Guibord present was Mrs. Rose, his wife's sister.

At ten minutes past two o'clock Mr. Spriggins opened the door of the vault, and the coffin was lifted by three labouring men, carried out and deposited on a frame Mr. Doutre then uncovered his head, so did also other gentlemen standing about, and asked Mr. Spriggins, "Is this the same coffin that was brought here on the 29th of November, 1869." Mr. Spriggins answered "It is the same." The coffin was then placed upon the hearse, and the procession, comprising a dozen carriages, then formed and left the cemetery at 2:25. The procession went around the mountain at a smart trot and reached the gates of the Catholic cemetery at about 3 p.m. In the meantime about five hundred French Canadian roughs had assembled in and about the entrance to the Catholic cemetery, cursing Guibord and the Institut Canadien and vowing they would never let his bones lie in consecrated ground. At the cry of "Here comes the procession" a rush was made for the gates by the mob, and as the hearse drove up at 3 p.m. the gate was found barred and bolted. Mr. Doutre and his friends stood in the carriage while some hundreds of yelling and jeering French Canadians stood inside the entrance pouring insults on the procession. The crowd grew very large and the Canadians were filling their pockets with stones. The hearse was driven off the by the entrance to the graveyard, and stood facing the street. Mr. Doutre dispatched a bailiff to notify the guardian of the cemetery that the hearse awaited admission. He also communicated with the Mayor, demanding police aid; and also sent after Col. Fletcher to get the volunteers. Some 2,000 persons were present. The mob made a rush for the hearse, crying "Curse him!" Curse him!" and stoned it off the ground. It halted a little down the road, the driver being slightly hurt by a stone. Quite a stampede ensued, and many others were bruised, and some trampled by the horses. The mob remained masters of the ground, and cried to the other crowd to come on.

At 4:45 Mr. Doutre decided, after consultation with his friends, that it would be impossible to get admission into the graveyard, and as the bailiff had come back and reported that it would take some time to get the volunteers, the hearse moved off, amid the derisive cheers of the multitude ensconsed behind the gates.

Wm. Seale, the driver of the hearse, was cool and collected and walked his horses at a slow pace down the road, followed by the carriages containing Doutre and his friends. The mob for a moment made as if to follow and attack the procession, but when they saw the friends of Guibord and a number of Protestants close in behind they desisted and remained on the ground. A report was circulated that Deroche, the guardian, had been seen to issue ammunition to the crowd at the gates, the others outside said, "If you shoot we can too." The roughs also shouted "We are guarding this cemetery for the Fabrique," "take cursed Guibord away." It was noticed that the crowd was composed of a very low and debased class of the French Canadian population, and many of them seemed intoxicated. Not one Irish Catholic was noticed, though when the crowd heard Doutre had sent a Bailiff for the military the French Canadians shouted, "We can get plenty more in Griffintown to help us." It was at one time proposed for a resolute body of men to "go" for the gates, but Doutre thought it best to wait for the assistance of the constituted authorities. Not a guardian of peace was to be seen on the road. It is not known whether another attempt will be made to bury Guibord to-morrow or not.

The military can be called out on a requisition of two magistrates.

Bishop Bourget, it is said, notified the mayor this morning he feared a disturbance, and the mayor is stated to have consulted with the Chief of Police, who, however, did not think any trouble would arise.

After the hearse had departed the crowd remained for a few minutes and then began to disperse.

An elderly French Canadian in his shirt sleeves who had made himself conspicuous at the gate in resisting the entrance of the hearse and in kicking the horses, and violent conduct generally, was struck on the head with a stone which laid the flesh open. A few moments after his assailant was attacked and badly beaten by the mob, a crowd of friends, however, came to his assistance and drove them away, and chased two of them out of the grounds. This is the only fight that took place.

A rumour for two or three days has been current that the Cures in some of the parishes on the western portion of the island had been preaching to their people last Sunday in a manner to excite them to violence. A great many one horse carts were remarked on the road, and it is possible the most of the trouble was caused by habitants.

The body of Guibord has been carried back to the Protestant Cemetery, there to await further and decisive action.

The Witness in commenting on the affair says: "This evening Montreal has enjoyed the edifying spectacle of all her available forces of defence, both civil and military, marching through St. James street, after it was known that Her Majesty's positive decree was being defied by a rabble of the lowest and most vagabond sort. The irregularity of the evening was another of the arguments of Ultramontanism; but one which we can hardly believe was intended by the leaders of that movement. It need not be added that the result of it will be that the remains of Guibord will have such a funeral as Canada has never witnessed.

Chief Bertram's funeral this afternoon drew thousands of people out. The hearse was magnificent. The procession was a mile long, comprising of the volunteers, police force, and firemen. The arrangements for the funeral were perfect, and manifested much attention on the part of the officers and men of Fire Department.

ST. CATHARINES.

Poisoned.

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 2.—This morning George Hannan, a young man employed in the Dolphin Manufacturing Company's works, drank a quantity of solution of bichromate of potash and nitrate of lead, which had been left in a pail, thinking it was water. He took a large quantity of salt and water as an antidote, and was relieved of the poison by a physician and a stomach pump.

On Saturday last a lodge of the 'Prentice Boys' Protestant Benevolent Association was organized in St. Catharines by James D. P. Meredith, Grand Lecturer, assisted by Bros. Ewing and Domell, of Toronto. The following were elected officers for the year: W. C. Dollery, W. M.; Wm. Ewing, D. M.; Geo. Eccleston, Chap.; James Malcolmson, Sec.; S. S. Ackerman, Treas.; R. Wills, A. Morton, R. Colling, Committeemen; J. Colling, I. G.; W. Grant, O. G.

OTTAWA, FRIDAY, SEPT. 3, 1875.

THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

A cable despatch was received to day from His Excellency Lord Dufferin, at Clandeboye, Ireland, stating the intention of the Vice-Regal party to sail for Canada on the 9th October.

FOREIGNERS APPRECIATION OF THE CANADIAN CANAL SYSTEMS.

Yesterday afternoon the Hon. the Premier gave an audience to two Russian Civil Engineers, who have been despatched to this country in order to study its Canal system. They have also been instructed to draw up a report as to the rivers of the Dominion and the sea boards. The two gentlemen alluded to are Messrs. Paul Michaeloff and Arhadie Gutanzoff, and they are both in possession of credentials from His Imperial Majesty, the Czar, with full instructions to use their discretion in the wording of their reports. The British Minister at Washington furnished the gentlemen with introductions to the Premier, who received them most cordially and afforded them all the information he could upon the subject they were enquiring upon. The canal construction in Russia is at present in a most defective condition, and it is the desire of the Czar to place it on a footing which cannot be equalled in the world. Hence his enterprise in sending practical men out to study the systems of other nations.

NEW YORK NATIVISM.

The press telegrams have of late brought us little scraps of news which indicate that "Know Nothingism" has again been revived in some portions of the United States, and candidates for political offices nominated under its auspices. The movement, however, evidently lacks vitality, and will certainly not attain to anything like its former proportions. Indeed, it may justly be regarded as one of those skirmishing dodges which are always sure to take place beyond the outposts, when the two great parties are preparing for the fray—a little piece of strategy, to frighten or decoy the loose fish from the enemy's lines. So much for political nativism. The same ungracious and illiberal jealousy which is at the root of that movement has been manifested in another, and so far as New York is concerned, not entirely new way within the last week or two. The story is briefly this. Mr. Barry Sullivan, the eminent Irish tragedian, has an engagement to play "Hamlet" and other Shakesperian characters at Booth's theatre, with a British company supporting him. Simultaneously Mr. E. L. Davenport, an American actor of considerable reputation, was offered and accepted an engagement at the Grand Opera House to appear in the same parts with a purely American company. The management at Booth's billed Mr. Sullivan to make his debut on Monday night last as Hamlet; the Grand Opera management followed suit, announcing Mr. Davenport in the same role for the same evening. So far so good. There could be no objection, and none was taken, to any amount of competition between the rival theatres, and the attractions of the rival actors. Both men had a good record; neither was an entire stranger to the New York stage. Mr. Sullivan was there fifteen years [illegible] since which time he has [illegible] a wreath to his laurels; [illegible] said that Mr. Davenport [illegible] from home elsewhere, and he may be regarded as one of New York's own artists. Upon his acquaintance with the public of that city, and the reputation he enjoys as a Shakesperian actor, he might have relied for a fair amount of patronage and appreciation, as against any rival. To his eternal discredit be it said however, he invoked the worst prejudices of the people by appealing to them, in his advertisements, to patronize an "American" performance with "American" artists, and ostentatiously informing them that they would have the opportunity to judge whether American actors can render Shakespeare's master-piece, from Monday night, at the Grand Opera House, when Mr. Davenport and an "American" company will appear in Hamlet." This was a clear and open challenge to Mr Sullivan, a foreigner, and his foreign company. It was, moreover, an imitation of the tactics by which, thirty years ago, Forrest drove Macready from America, and damned forever his own professional reputation into the bargain. The New York Herald promptly came down upon Mr. Davenport, predicting that his attempt to play Hamlet with American artists would amount to nothing but a burlesque. The same paper further characterized his tactics as a degradation of his art, and protested against his playing Hamlet, not as a creation of Shakespeare, but as a mere rowdy endeavor to revive old animosities. Truly, as the Herald said, it came with bad grace from Mr. Davenport, who never received, according to his own admission, anything but courtesy in England. No actor or actress was ever received with less favour by the British public because of their American birth, as Miss Bateman, Mr. Sothern, and Mr. Boucicault, all of whom are practically Americans, have frequently testified. Mr. Davenport only half polished the strictures of the Herald, which paper it is needless to say has not been remarkable for its favour to Britishers, and wrote a reply in which he disclaimed all responsibility for the wording of the advertisement in regard to which complaint was made. He could not control, he protested, the particular way in which the managers of the theatre advertised their entertainment. On the other hand he affected entire ignorance of the matter, assured the public that he had no desire to challenge a foreigner, and was certain he would find Mr. Barry Sullivan now, as he had found him when in England, "a fine artist and a gentleman." This would have been all very well but Mr. Davenport had the misfortune to have written a letter to a friend previous to this disclaimer—a letter, by the way, which was published with great pomp and circumstance in the Evening Telegram. The tone of that letter was in wonderful contrast to his meek utterances in reply to the Herald. In the former case he asserted boldly that he was "confident we "have as good actors (and in many cases "better) here as in England, and until we "go in to uphold our own dignity we shall "never know the treasures of our 'home "mines.'" But upon that occasion he went a little way further, and declared his disbelief in "this ridiculous slobbering over of all that has smelt the cool "air of Albion and the adjoining countries." Monday night, however, revealed that Mr. Davenport's first thoughts were those he regarded as best, and that his mild letter to the Herald was not a very exact expression of his inmost thoughts. But Monday also revealed that his appeals to the national prejudices of the New Yorkers were rewarded as they ought to have been—with a house not too well filled, and an audience of gutter snipes, who came not to criticise, but to cheer and whistle; while theatrical critics were agreed in declaring that Mr Sullivan was greeted with an audience which filled the large theatre—the "first night audience," as one of them has put it, "not "to be much swayed by the outward "look of things, but, on the contrary, "the more anxious to scan curiously the "work of the artist who was ushered into "public notice with so much pomp and circumstance." Not since Miss Cushman went through the form of bidding farewell to the New York stage, we are told, has there been anything equalling the enthusiasm manifested on the occasion of this Mr. Sullivan's first appearance. The American public will gain immensely in the estimation of the civilized world in consequence.

The Philadelphia man who was arrested in Delaware for horse stealing wrote home to his friends that he was temporarily detained there by a heavy pressure of stock.

"Man," says Victor Hugo, "was the conundrum of the eighteenth century; woman is the conundrum of the nineteenth century." We can't guess her, but we'll never give her up—no, never!—Columbia (S. C.) Union Herald.

There is a village in New Hampshire which has produced twenty six editors, and it was the allusion to this circumstance that a pious old deacon there remarked: "Yes, there was twenty-six on 'em, but as they've all left town, I reckon the Lord won't lay it up agin us."

The most attentive man to business on record was he who wrote on his shop door: "Gone to bury my wife; return in half an hour." He was no relation to the lawyer who put upon his office door: "Be back in five minutes," and returned only after a pleasant trip of three weeks.

"Say, Bill, what's dat all 'bout in de cohas 'bout 'flashun ob de scurrency, an can't be de 'feck on shinin?" "'Flashun! Hin't you been reedin' well's me in de papahs?" "Well, I dunno: I don't zackly remremembah how it is." "You fool nigah can't stand nuthing. It's jes dis: Dat's sum'er dem fellers dat wants ter git der boots shined twice wid one ten cent dime; and again, dar's sum wat tinks it aint jestis. Dem fus ones is flashunists and de udder ones is disflashunists." "Dat's it, jes it, an' I don't beleeve in flashun t'all; dat's it, de hole subjeck."

A female servant in the family of a gentleman in the Department of the Interior, Washington, is allowed to make a yearly visit to her old home in Richmond, Va. Last summer, when she left, a substitute was employed, a mulatto girl, who had been quite well educated. She performed the duties in a rather indifferent manner. When the regular servant returned, she began her tour of investigation to ascertain how her work had been done, and was disgusted at the evident want of neatness manifested everywhere. Her indignation finally found vent in the following, to her mistress: "I'll tell you what it is, Miss ——, you can't get grammar and clean corners out of the same nigger!" Which, if true, offers a knotty problem in reference to the education of the race.—Harper's Magazine.

LORD DUFFERIN AND CANADA.

SIR,—Lord Dufferin having recently laid before the English people a photograph of Canada and Canadian sentiment, your press and that of the United States have thought fit to comment thereon in varying terms of approval or dissent. Perhaps, however, none are better able to recognize the truthfulness or falsity of the picture than Canadians themselves; and as a representative of such, I venture to say a few words which I feel sure do but echo the sentiments of a vastly preponderating majority of the inhabitants of the Dominion quite irrespective of religion or creed.

The Times, in remarking upon the speech in question, has thrown a shade over Lord Dufferin's judgment by the brightness of the colours in which it has set forth the more generous qualities of heart and mind; but, Sir, permit me to say (and those who have lived in Canada for the last ten years will endorse me in saying) that the picture drawn by him is one of photographic accuracy, especially that part which pourtrays the overflowing loyalty of our people to Her Most Gracious Majesty and the empire over which she rules.

We are told that, when Pizarro and his followers approached the Peruvian coast, they gazed with astonishment and admiration upon the cultured slopes of the lofty Cordilleras, dotted over almost to their summits with comfortable villas, and teeming with fertility and wealth; but when they landed upon those shores they found that they had to traverse many a score of miles of arid desert and of malarious swamps, before which men of less heroic daring would have quailed. The beauty, the wealth, the fertility, were all there, even beyond their first imaginings; but distance blotted out the minor defects which became apparent only upon closer contact.

So Canadians, standing back and out of sight of those little parish politics and petty trading interests which bring out from time to time the foibles and weaknesses of your great public men, and the minor insufficiencies of your governmental machinery, have seen only the bold outlines of Britain's history, as year after year, and generation after generation, there has risen up before them a structure of material and moral grandeur which has attracted the wonder and admiration of the civilized world. With the rest of mankind they gazed and admired, but as they felt the same life blood coursing through their veins, the sense of kinship quickened that sentiment into one love which groaned for some avenue of expression.

As upon the eve of the Christian era the hearts of mankind groped after closer contact with Divine truth, and bounded exultingly to lay hold upon the human hand through whose veins the pulsations of the great heart of the Almighty Father might be felt, so the affections of the Canadian people, long repressed by the conventionalities which crowded them out of the presence of the representatives of the Queen they loved so well, and often wounded by the apparent indifference of British statesmen and semi-hostility of the British Press, burst forth in joyous welcome when Earl Dufferin, brushing aside all unduly restraining forms, laid bare to them his generous nature and kindly Irish heart, and with one hand upon the throne grasped with the other the hands of those who now for the first time felt themselves almost in actual contact with their beloved Sovereign.

From his first landing upon our shores he has drunk in the spirit of our people, sympathized with our enterprises, fed by his graceful oratory our national aspirations and hopes, and even entered with zeal into our very sports. He has identified himself with everything Canadian, and has won by his many genial and manly qualities of heart and brain, the deep affections of the entire people. The welcome tendered him at first was genuine and deep—one born of a love to our ideal Britain; that which will greet him on his return will be intensified by a personal affection which but few men have succeeded in eliciting from any national heart.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
EDWARD MIALL, Jun.

Ottawa, Canada, July 29, 1875.

No Humbug.

We do not wish to inform you, reader, that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures all diseases of mind, body, or estate, and is designed to make our sublunary sphere a blissful Paradise, to which Heaven itself shall be but a side show; but we do wish to inform you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has cured thousands of cases of Catarrh in its worst forms and stages. It may be procured by mail for sixty cents, by addressing R V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y. It is also sold by druggists.

A WALKING ADVERTISEMENT.
LIMESTONE SPRINGS, S. C.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

DEAR SIR,—I am a walking advertisement for your Golden Medical Discovery, Purgative Pellets, and Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, they having cured me of Catarrh of nine year's standing, which was so bad that it disfigured my nose, and, while curing it, your medicines also cured me of Asthma in its worst and most aggravated form. Before using your medicines I had become reduced in flesh from one hundred and fifty five to one hundred and fifteen pounds, and I now weigh one hundred and sixty-two pounds, and am in better health than I have enjoyed for twenty years.

Yours truly,
J. L. LUMSDEN.

The above is but a fair sample of hundreds of letters which are received by Dr. Pierce, and in the face of such evidence who can longer doubt that the Doctor's medicines cure the worst cases of Chronic Catarrh?

The compositor who substituted an "in" for "m" in speaking of a lady troubled with "swelling of the feet," accomplished the worst typographical feat on record.

The man whose wife gave away his last bottle of cocktail to a sick beggar has since been heard to mildly express the opinion that charity should be gin at home.

The Boston editor said he wrote as plain as could be, "The sacred heavens around him shine," when the blarsted printer went and made it, "The scared hyenas around him shine!"

As the ladies walked on the beach with their long hair down, because otherwise "it takes so long to dry," it was the enfant terrible who said triumphantly, "Mamma leaves hers at the hotel."

One of our subscribers, an elderly lady, wants to know if we won't write something about tobacco, she being very much against the use of the noxious weed. Certainly we will. Everybody knows that the use of the vile article is most injurious, destroying the vital powers, and filling lunatic asylums and graves. It is frightful to contemplate the ravages of the tobacco poison. Would that we wielded the pen of a Dickens, that we might vividly portray the evil effect of the weed. Thousands of persons have —— A friend has just dropped in and offered us a cigar, and as it looks like a good one we won't write any more just at present.—Rockland Courier.

The steamer Fenny was coming down the upper Mississippi loaded with pig lead. As she was going over a shoal place the pilot gave the signal to heave the lead. The only man forward was a green Irishman. "Why don't you heave the lead?" "Is it the lead, yer honor? Where to?" "Overboard, you blockhead!" The Irishman snatched up one of the pigs of lead and threw it overboard. The mate, in endeavouring to prevent him, lost his balance and fell into the river. The captain, running to the deck, asked: "Why don't you heave the lead, and sing out how much water there is?" "The lead is heaved, yer honour, and the mate's gone down to see how much water there is."

Marine and Fisheries Report.

The Marine and Fisheries Department has issued a second supplement to its last annual report, which has just come to hand. The volume is one of very nearly 300 pages and places at the disposal of the public a large and valuable fund of additional information respecting the merchant marine of the Dominion and other important interests therewith connected. In the first place, it gives a list of all vessels on Canadian Registry books down to the 31st of December last, with their official numbers, rig, when and where built, register, dimensions, tonnage, owner or managing owner, and as far as possible, their classification at either the English or French Lloyds—the whole arranged by Provinces. Under this head, we find in point of number of vessels and tonnage, Nova Scotia stands first, with 2,787 craft of all kinds and a tonnage of 479,669; Quebec comes next as regards the number of vessels, but they represent a smaller tonnage than those of New Brunswick—the figures being as follows:—Quebec, 1,837 vessls, New Brunswick, 1,144; Quebec, 218,846 tonnage, New Brunswick, 249,741. Ontario shholds the fourth place with 815 vessels and 113,008 tonnage; Prince Edward Island then falls in with 212 vessels and 43,383 tonnage, and British Columbia brings up the rear with 35 vessels of a tonnage of 3611. Grand total for the whole Dominion—6,930 vessels, representing a tonnage of 1,158,363—a very large fair record, indeed, for a young country like Canada. The port of Quebec is set down as holding 754 vessels, of a total tonnage of 99,626; and Montreal, 239 vessels, of a tonnage of 41,290 of the total figure of the Province. Next is given a list of the vessels built and registered during last year, showing that New Brunswick turned out 99 craft of all kinds, or a tonnage of 42,027; Nova Scobec, 73, representing 84,480 tons; Ontario, 50, of 10,797 tons; Prince Edward Island, 88, of 24,634 tons, and British Columbia, 5, of 276 tons, or a total of 400 new vessels, of a tonnage of 183,010, during the year. To these should be added six new craft, of 7,746 tons, which preceded from Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick to the United Kingdom during the year, under what is termed a Governor's pass. A statement of wrecks and casualties to sea going vessels from 1st January, 1874, to 31st December, 1874, then follows, giving the name of each vessel, date, nature, cause and place of casualty age, rig, port of registry, tonnage, whence sailed and whither bound, lives lost, total or partial loss and amount. The same statistics are given also for inland craft. Lists of certificates of competency and service, and renewals of the same, granted to masters and mates; the report of the Chairman of the Board of Steamboat Inspection, list of steam vessels inspected and of steamboat engineers' examination and renewals, a list of persons to whom rewards were granted by the Dominion Government for meritorious services, and reports of the investigations held into the causes of the wrecks of the brigantine Barracouta and the Herbert C. Hall monopolize the remaining pages or this very valuable addition to the statistical maritime information of Canada.

PYRIMONT SEYSSEL ASPHALTE.

THE Compagnie Generale des Mines d'Asphaltes, Who are now the Proprietors of the celebrated Asphalte Mines of Pyrimont Seyssel, Ain, France, are now prepared to supply to contractors and others, the produce of these mines, either in shape of the Natural Rock, or in the form of Mastic, for use in the Dominion of Canada, at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

The whole of the Footpaths in Paris, and a large proportion of the Carriage ways in that City are paved with the above Asphaltes; while for the last 25 years and upwards the British Government has specified the Pyrimont Seyssel Asphalte, as the only one permissible in contracts entered into with them.

Moreover a due attention will be paid to the following specialities which are more particularly conducive to the Art of Civil Engineering, viz: Linear Drawing, Perspective Projection, Surveying, Mensuration, Geometry, Trigonometry, Natural Philosophy, &c.

Applications for further information may be addressed to W. O. CALLENDER, 70 & 71 Palmerston Buildings, Old Broad street, E. C. London, England 3925-6i

BUSINESS NOTICES

FALSE MODESTY.—For people to allow diseases to become seated upon them rather than consult a physician, or to suffer as many do for years with the different kinds of piles, without going at once to the drug gist for Fowler's Pile and Humor Cure, which is an infallible cure. 3729

SKIN DISEASES, of whatever nature, are completely eradicated by the use of Fowler's Pile and Humor Cure; its effect is marvellous for Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Ring Worm, and even leprosy; it has proved itself an almost never failing cure. (See special notice.) 3733

"HOUSE SPECIALTIES."—If you desire to get a genuine tea call on Baskerville & Bros. and have them to select for you. If the tea is not pleasing to your taste they will refund the money on what you return. Their wines, liquors and general groceries are of the best brands.

People's Tea Store,
36 Rideau street.

HEMORRHOIDS (or PILES) are permanently cured by Mathieu's Pile Ointment, or money refunded. Price $1 per pot, or six pots for $5. Sold wholesale and retail by the Wingate Chemical Company, Montreal, and retail by all druggists, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by Dr. E. Mathieu, 198 Notre Dame street, Montreal. 3742

FURNITURE.—At No. 5, Rideau Street Mr. W. A. Annable has on hand a very large stock of furniture of every description and of the newest style. On Saturday last we paid his establishment a visit and were well pleased with everything we saw. Whether for the drawing room, the parlour, the bed room, the library, or the kitchen there is an ample choice, and we learned that Mr. Annable is preparing to give up the retail business and deal only by wholesale. Persons desiring really good furniture at very moderate prices will do well by paying Mr. Annable a visit under present circumstances. Of one thing he feels assured, in neither auction rooms nor elsewhere can he be undersold in the city. 3913—1m

HORSES SAVED.—The lives of thousands of horses have been saved during the past year, and the credit is due to "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." This preparation is being extensively used, and exacts from all the highest praise. Nothing of the kind has ever before been half as successful, or given such universal satisfaction; it cannot be equalled. We can confidently recommend it, and would advise all who own horses to keep a supply of it on hand—it may be the means of saving your horse's life. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co., is on each package. Northrup & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medical dealers. 3796

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PACIFIC.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have with stood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P.Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit until I tried Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally as good for horses as for man."—A. Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used;" it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throat, &c., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes: "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit." A. Mr. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes: "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee, of this place, induced me to try Electric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine.

Sold by all medicine dealers, price 25 cents.

NERVOUSNESS

It affords me great pleasure to bear testimony to the benefits I have received from using Fellows Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and it has proved an excellent curative for nervousness and general debility.

It is also a first class tonic, enables a person to take on flesh rapidly, and is free from the constipating effects characteristic of other tonics I have tried.

HENRY JOHNSON, Montreal.

JOB MOSES FEMALE PILLS.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics and Whites, those Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain free, of the agent, a pamphlet, or refer to advertisement.

JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.

$1, and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ontario, general agents for the Dominion, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

For sale by all druggists.

FOWLE'S
PILE AND HUMOR CURE,

For Internal and External Use

Warranted a SURE and perfect CURE for all kinds of Piles, Leprosy, Scrofula, Tetter or Ringworm, Salt-Rheum, and all diseases of the skin. One bottle warranted to cure all cases of piles; from one to three bottles in all cases of Humors.

This remedy has been faithfully tested, and found to be an infallible cure. In the above named diseases it has proved itself universal; that the proprietor guarantees a cure to those who use this medicine, or in case of failure to refund the money paid. Since it was first introduced he has received many thousands of testimonials, proving its efficacy for the cure of the awful diseases it is recommended for. The Pile and Humor cure is entirely vegetable in its composition, and can be used with perfect safety by all applicants; however, there is no danger of it driving the humor in, but it cures on the surface, and the patient's bodily health continually improves while under this treatment.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

A MAN OF A THOUSAND.

A CONSUMPTIVE CURED.—When death was hourly expected from Consumption, all remedies having failed, accident led to a discovery whereby Dr. H. James cured his only child with a preparation of Cannabis Indica. He now gives receipts free to people of two names to pay expenses. There is not a single symptom of consumption that it does not dissipate. Night sweats, dizziness of the head, loss of appetite, &c., vanish at once. Pain in the chest, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the back, and kidneys, are made the Master's. Address, RAD DUCK & CO., 103 Race st., Philadelphia, giving name of this paper.

The Montreal Proprietary School has been established to provide a liberal education similar to that given in the Public Schools of England. The course of Instruction, however, will not be exclusively classical, and boys will be specially prepared either for the University and Professions or for Commercial Life.

Most eligible premises have been purchased for the School in McTavish street, one of the most healthful localities of the city, and immediately adjoining the grounds of the McGill University.

The course of instruction will include Latin, Greek, Mathematics, French, German, Arithmetic, Writing, English Grammar, Literature and Composition, History and Geography, both Ancient an Modern, Natural Philosophy, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, Gymnastics and Drilling.

A limited number of boys will be received by the Principal as Boarders or Weekly Boarders and, With the view of keeping the pupils from improper influences, it is strongly recommended that all be entered as Day Boarders, who will dine in the house of the Principal.

Further particulars can be obtained from the Secretary, J. W. Holmes, Esq., 78 Victoria street, to Whom all applications for admission must be made.

The School will open on MONDAY, the 12th of April, and will be carried on for a few days at 78 Victoria street, the new premises not being quite completed.

TO

Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Dufferin.

These Paperhangings are imported direct from the best Manufacturing Establishments in England, France and United States. Great care has been taken in their selection with regard to colour. The ground tones are soft and pleasing to the eye, especially those toned with silver mica; but above all, they are free from the mineral poisons that many of the tawdry-coloured Paperhangings of the day are surcharged with. The Subscriber's long experience as a colourist, and being thoroughly acquainted with the chemical compound of the pigments used in Painting, enables him to reject, in his selection of Paperhangings, those coloured with poisonous pigments, so deleterious to health. The Public are respectfully invited to examine his STOCK of WALL PAPER before purchasing elsewhere.

As the undersigned is going out of the Room Paper Business as soon as his present Stock is disposed of, the Goods will be Sold at the Lowest Remunerating Prices.

BERKELEY, Sept., 1869.—Gentlemen, I feel it a duty I owe to you to express my gratitude for the great benefit I have derived by taking "Norton's Camomile Pills." I applied to your agent, Mr. Peat, Berkeley, for the above Pills, for what is the complaint, from which I suffered excruciating pain for a length of time, having tried nearly every remedy prescribed, but without any benefit at all. After taking two bottles of your valuable pills, I was quite restored to my usual state of health. Please give this publicity—for the benefit of those who may thus be afflicted.—I am, Sir, yours truly, HENRY ALLBASS. To the proprietors of "Norton's Camomile Pills."

[illegible]

A Newsboys' Act. Mayor [illegible] Amos of the Customs Department [illegible] placed his beautiful park on Daly Street, at the disposal of Miss Sproule for the purpose of holding the annual picnic of the children attending her school. The young folks will doubtless enjoy themselves on the shady retreat.

The I. O. O. F. Excursion.—The members of the "Capital" Lodge, No. 141, intend having a Moonlight Excursion down the River Ottawa, on Tuesday, the 14th instant. The Lodge is a young institution in the city, and hence it has claims to a fair share of patronage.

Tenders.—A young man named Nadeau was arrested in Hull the day before yesterday, while passing counterfeit [illegible] in payment for [illegible] He [illegible] had [illegible] in his possession more [illegible] in the purpose of [illegible]. An inquest was held by Coroner Graham, when a verdict of "Accidental drowning" was returned.

Garden Thieves.—Serious depredations are being committed by garden thieves on Sandy hill and in other parts of the city. Vegetables of all kinds are pillaged in the most reckless manner, melons, tomatoes and cucumbers being cleaned entirely out. It is difficult to account for so much rascality over previous years.

By Ward Market.—The improvements around the By Ward Market are being pushed forward rapidly by the Market Committee. The new platforms and crossings materially alter the appearance of things in that hitherto greatly neglected locality. It only requires the new building to be erected now and the fire station to be removed, to have one of the finest public markets in America.

Promotion.—A pay and festive row took place on the Market the morning between a couple of people, who [illegible] over three cents worth of tomatoes. It [illegible] John Mattie stepped in and separated the disputants. There was no blood spilt, but there were many hard words used; they having the effect of breaking no limbs, did not come under the statute which provides for breaches of the peace.

The Turf.—All the necessary preparations have been made for the turf sports which begin at Caledonia Springs on Wednesday next. Mr. W. H. Aumond, the energetic secretary has been untiring in his efforts to make the forthcoming turf meeting pass off successfully. The programme is a varied one, the purses are good, and includes a visit to one of the most celebrated mineral springs in America. An immense crowd of spectators will no doubt crowd in from all parts of the Dominion and the United States.

A Breach of the By Laws.—The pavement on the beat in the neighbourhood of William street would not be neglected in their duties if they were to see that the refuse building material now collected on the corner of that street and York was removed. The other night its existence nearly was the cause of the hording of a Coroner's inquest. A man fell on some of the debris, and was precipitated into one of the cellars. By great good luck he escaped with a few scratches.

Aquatic.—A double scull rowing match is shortly to come off on the Canal, the distance to be pulled is from the Maria street bridge to the swing bridge and back. The oarsmen call themselves the "Oxygens." Probably the title they have assumed is derived from the fact of the gas and blow each crew have indulged in. However, the contending crews are in active training, and although the pulling may not be particularly scientific, still some fun can be had out of the match.

Cutting off the Water Supply.—Considerable annoyance has been occasioned in the Central School East for the last two days owing to the water supply having been cut off. This action on the part of the Commissioners causes much inconvenience in private families, but it is worse in a public school where some 600 or 700 children are dependent solely upon it for use. The well from which the school was wont to be supplied has destroyed by the main sewer [illegible] though its some means or [illegible] ought to be employed to enable the [illegible] of public buildings to lay in a sufficient quantity for any emergency that may arise.

Disorderly Prisoners.—Mr. Huckell, who is erecting a building in rear of the county jail, complains that the prisoners are in the habit of throwing stones over the prison wall into the street, and through the windows of a building he is at present erecting. Mr. Huckell says that he has complained to the Governor of the gaol, asking him to put a stop to the annoying practice, but Mr. Powell treated the matter with a degree of trifling which has had the effect of inducing Mr Huckell to address his complaint to higher authority, i.e. the Warden of the county. It is not only on the ground that Mr. Huckell gets his property hurt, but passers-by run a risk of being severely injured by the falling stones. The question which naturally presents itself to a sensible persons mind is—what are the turnkeys about when the prisoners are in the yard taking their exercise; surely they are not sent there to throw stones. The popular belief is that they go there to break them.

Board of School Trustees.

The Regular Meeting—Dismissal of Teachers. Financial Report, &c.

A regular meeting of the Board of Public School Trustees was held in the City Hall last night; Mr. Hiram Robinson in the chair. Present: Messrs. Barber, Robertson, Bedard, Iliffe, Le Sueur and the Inspector.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS, ETC.

A letter was read from W. M. Beattie & Co., asking that they be paid for coal contracted for, and delivered to the Board on the 31st of August last.

A communication was read from Miss A. M. Living, resigning her position of teacher in the Normal, owing to her having taken a position in the Collegiate Institute.

A petition was presented from the teachers of the Public Schools praying that they be granted their salaries for the last three months. It set forth that notices had been issued but there were no funds for them, and concluded with expressing a hope that some means would be adopted to raise the necessary sum.

A letter was read from Miss Hasty complaining of a reduction in her salary.

A communication was read from several teachers who had made up their minds to resign their positions to attend the Normal School, complaining of being misled by the Inspector, who told them they had better remain till the close of the year, as their attendance at the Normal School, under present circumstances, he would not like to recommend their re-engagement under the Board. They concluded to act on the suggestion, but were only a few days at work when they received from [illegible] dismissal.

A letter was read from Miss McMaster, asking an increase of salary in accordance with the terms of the schedule, as she had obtained a 2nd class, Grade A, certificate.

A communication was read from Messrs. Ahearn & Gemmill, Solicitors of the Board, stating that judgment was about to be given in the suit for the recovery of the School Sites for the County of Carleton, the costs of which amounted to $400 for plaintiffs were about to take possession of the lands, and levy for the costs.

Mr. LeSueur then read the following report from the COMMITTEE OF SCHOOL MANAGEMENT.

To the Board of Public School Trustees of the City of Ottawa —

GENTLEMEN,—The Committee of School Management have the honour to report that pursuant to the resolution of the Board passed at the regular meeting held on 5th August, referring to them the report of the Examining Board, and directing them to make such classification of the teachers as to them might seem proper, they met on Monday the 23rd and after due and careful deliberation resolved to adhere to the principle laid down by the Board in dispensing with the services of the teachers whose certificates had expired and who had failed to advance one grade at the July examination.

Governed by this principle they found it would be necessary to forego the services of Misses Matilda Hasty, H. Gilmor, E. Gilmor and M. Filson, and the inspector who was present and fully concurred in the propriety of the measure was instructed to inform these ladies that their connection with the schools would cease with the then current month—August—which has been done.

The opening of the Collegiate Institute's new building having had the effect of depleting the 5th class in the Central School we are suggesting the very probable fact that for the future the said class never would be refilled, the Committee decided that henceforth the principal of the school should take charge of the 5th and as this arrangement would render it practicable to carry on operations with a diminished staff, it became evident that one new appointment only would be needed. And they are happy to state that this want was supplied by taking Miss Maggie Shaw into the service. This young lady had applied for employment and as she passed the examination with much credit it may be confidently expected that she will make an efficient teacher. Miss Shaw's salary will of course be that provided by the schedule.

Miss A. M. Living, assistant to Mr. Farlow, having solicited permission to apply for the office of lady teacher in the Collegiate Institute without prejudice to her position if she should fail in obtaining the appointment, the Committee deemed it but due to that very deserving lady to give her the opportunity she desired, and while regretting the loss of Miss Living's good service, they are gratified to learn that she was chosen for the place.

The addition of the two new ward schools having rendered it expedient to re-arrange the duties of the music teacher, Mr. Workman, in regard of the time to be devoted to each school the Committee charged Messrs. LeSueur and Barber in consort with the inspector to do what they might deem necessary to effect the best results.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. P. LeSUEUR,
Chairman.
EDWARD C. BARBER,
THOS. ILIFFE.

Moved by Mr. LeSueur, seconded by Mr. Iliffe, that the report of the Committee on School Management just read be received and adopted.

Mr. Robertson objected to the character of the report and thought that taken in connection with the letter from some teachers who had been somewhat summarily dismissed, an explanation was necessary. He thought the committee had exceeded its duty in dismissing any teacher without the express authority of the Board. The young ladies were on occasion resigning their positions, but were induced from this course by the Inspector, who asked them to complete the term; and it seemed discourteous, to say the least of it, to afterwards dismiss them. He deprecated the constant changing of teachers, especially when they were being replaced by pupils of the schools with no better certificate than those who were leaving, and having no experience whatever. These frequent changes disturbed the classification of the schools, and worked ultimate injury to them. Another thing he found fault with was the Committee taking upon itself the power of allowing Miss Living to violate her yearly engagement with the Board. He thought when the Board acquired the services of first-class teachers, it should insist upon retaining them and not offer inducements for them to go elsewhere.

Mr. Barber denied that the teachers in question were summarily dismissed, stating that nearly a year ago, when their certificates expired, they were told unless they qualified themselves their services would be dispensed with. Independent of this fact, the Committee had received authority from the Board, at its last meeting, to classify the schools, and, on this they based their authority. In regard to Miss Living, he was at first opposed to her leaving; but finding afterwards that nearly all her pupils had gone to the Collegiate Institute, he offered no objection to her leaving.

Mr. Bedard could not agree with the remarks of the last speaker. He thought the Committee had pursued an arbitrary course in regard to the dismissal of the teachers referred to.

After proposing to resign, they had been induced to resume work after the vacation with the hope of continuing to the end of the year, and they are scarcely commenced when they are discharged. He thought it was treating the young ladies unfairly, and thought some leniency should have been exercised. He agreed with Mr. Robertson in his remarks regarding the resignation of Miss Living, and thought it was establishing a bad precedent for teachers at any time in the year to violate their terms of engagement with the Board.

Mr. Le Sueur said their could be no discourtesy to the teachers referred to, when they knew themselves to be disqualified by law. It was not absolutely necessary to discharge them at all, as they should have left at the expiration of the six months. He repelled the insinuation of Mr. Robertson, that they were actuated by improper motives, with a view to replace such good teachers by other persons. In regard to Miss Living, it was only after they found that her leaving the Central School West would not be injurious to its interests, that they consented to her going. He thought it was a credit to the public schools that one of their teachers could fill so honourable a position.

Mr. Robertson said he did not believe in mere sentiment in such matters. He thought the members of the Board should be actuated by no other considerations than the welfare of the public schools, which were especially confided to their care. He would not move an amendment to the report, but would record his dissent against the arbitrary proceedings of the Committee on School Management.

The resolution to adopt the report was then carried on the following division:

Yeas: Messrs. Barber, Iliffe and Le Sueur.

Nays: Messrs Robertson and Bedard.

VOTE OF THANKS.

Moved by Mr. LeSueur, seconded by Mr. Barber, that in view of the prospective withdrawal of Miss A. M. Living from the position of Assistant to the Principal of the Central School West, for the purpose of taking employment in the Collegiate Institute, this board desires to convey to her their sense of the very satisfactory and successful manner in which she has discharged the duties of her office, as well as the appreciation of her kind and gentle deportment towards her fellow-teachers and the children who were committed to her care; also, that a suitable standard book be procured, and the foregoing resolution inscribed on the fly leaf, and that the same be presented to Miss Living in the name of the Board.

Mr. Robertson trusted the mover would not press the resolution, as he felt it was adding only insult to injury. Miss Living had been allowed to violate her engagement to the injury of the school she was leaving, and the resolution contemplated rewarding her for this course of conduct. He respected Miss Living very highly, but he thought she was treating the Board very unfairly. The mover should be satisfied that her resignation was allowed and not press for another division. He sincerely hoped the motion would be withdrawn.

Mr. LeSueur differed from the last speaker as to the propriety of the resolution.

Mr. Bedard although not opposed to the general tenor of the resolution, yet he felt there was a principle involved that should not be violated. He thought an inducement was being offered for other teachers to break any obligations they might enter into with the Board.

The resolution was then put and carried on division.

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE PREPARATORY CLASS.

The question of having a preparatory class in the Collegiate Institute was next taken up and discussed. It ended in the adoption of the following resolution:

Moved by Mr. Le Sueur, seconded by Mr. Robertson; that this Board after much consideration feel bound to express their regret that the Board of Trustees of the Collegiate Institute should have reversed their previous action and re-establish a Primary Department in connection with their Institution, and they have no hesitation in stating it as their conviction that the arrangement is one calculated to create injurious class distinctions, and to impair the efficiency of the Public Schools.

Mr. Barber next presented the following:

FINANCE REPORT.

To the Corporation of the Board of Public Trustees:

Gentlemen—The Finance Committee of the Board of Public School Trustees beg to report that they have examined the following accounts, and recommend them for payment:

Mrs. Curry, cleaning Bolton St. School to 1st July.....	$28 00
James A. Davis, excavating Ward School.....	177 80
R. Bishop & Son, school requisites.....	20 75
Fingland & Draper, school requisites.....	74 71
W. M. Beattie, & Co., coal.....	1,388 00
Oliver & Son, balance on school furniture.....	409 50
	$2,098 76

They further recommend that the Chairman of the Finance Committee be requested to confer with the Acting Mayor, with a view to obtain the necessary funds for carrying on the Schools, and that failing to obtain satisfaction in the premises, that he be clothed with the necessary power to obtain the amount of the school levy.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

EDWARD C. BARBER,
Chairman.

LeSUEUR,
J. P. ROBERTSON,
W. G. BEDARD.

On motion of Mr. Barber seconded by Mr. Le Sueur, the report was received and adopted and the chairman was requested to sign cheques for the same.

MORE ACCOMMODATION.

Moved by Mr. Le Sueur seconded by Mr. Barber, that whereas it is obvious that the children in the Primary Departments of the two Central Schools cannot be injuriously affected in their health by being crowded as they now are in the basements: It is ther fore resolved that the Building Committee be instructed to consider the expediency and propriety of providing better accommodation, by the erection on the premises of an outside building in each case of a character not involving large expense.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS.

On motion of Mr. Robertson, seconded by Mr. Iliffe, the Secretary was instructed to notify all teachers in the service of the Board, desirous of engaging for another year, to present their applications at the next meeting of the Board, to be held on the first Thursday of October.

The Board then adjourned.

Gone for Supplies.—Mr. James Young of the Government Stationery Office has gone to England to purchase the supplies for the next year.

Hot!—It was only 90° in the shade at two o'clock p.m. yesterday. This is almost enough to freckle the frontispiece of an Ethiopian. One man was heard to ask—"how high is it below zero?"

Personal.—Mr. Gormully of the legal firm of Messrs. Scott, Stewart and Gormully, has returned to the city after a couple of months sojourn in the old country. Mr. Archie Stewart who accompanied him on the trip, is expected to return in the course of a fortnight.

The Burns' Affair.—At a late hour last night there was a rumour that an arrest was to be made on account of the alleged Burn's murder. The police were looking after a near relative of the deceased but up to a late hour they had not found the sought for individual.

The George Street Pump.—A pump has been fixed on the old well ("Pond's relief," as it was familiarly called), situated on the junction of George and Sussex streets. The old one was a dilapidated affair and the opening which used to exist over the well was nearly the cause of the death by drowning of a child some six weeks ago. Now in addition to the pump there is a drinking fountain for persons, horses and cattle, the arrangement having been contrived by Messrs. Blyth & Kerr, and most ingeniously have they done their work. The pump and fountain will prove a boon to the carters who frequent that locality.

The Dominion Editors and Reporters Association.

A Branch to be Established in Ottawa.

At a meeting of several members of the Dominion Editors and Reporters Association, held in the Stevens' House, George street, last evening, it was resolved to establish a branch in this city, and to include the counties of Ottawa, Renfrew, Carleton, Pontiac, Lanark, Russell, Leeds and Grenville, Dundas, Stormont, Cornwall, and all the district East of the line of the Brockville & Ottawa Railway, in order that all the newspaper men resident therein should participate in the advantages appertaining to the institution. There were present Messrs. C. H. Mackintosh, J. H. Brock, Carroll Ryan, W. J. Cuzner, C. H. H. Nichols, N. H. Nagle, N. Preston, and H. J. Hubertus.

In the first instance Mr. Carroll Ryan was voted to the chair, and in a few terse sentences announced the object for which the members of the press were invited to meet. The business of electing officers was next proceeded with, and it resulted in Mr. C. H. Mackintosh, of the Citizen, being elected President; Mr. Carroll Ryan, Vice President; Mr. N. J. Cuzner, Secretary-Treasurer; and Messrs. Nagle, Nichols and Preston, as members of the Executive Committee. The Secretary-Treasurer was instructed to communicate with the General Secretary in Toronto, informing him of the formation of the branch, and also requesting him to forward such instructions as would lead to the official working of the new organization. A vote of thanks to Mr. Ryan for his conduct in the chair, to a certain extent closed the proceedings, but Mr. Stevens, the hospitable host, invited the gentlemen attending the meeting to partake of a barbecued and most succulent baby porker. The board was spread in most bountiful style. Mr. Mackintosh occupied the chair, faced by Mr. Ryan, and the other scribes were nothing loth to tuck their legs under the mahogany of Mr. Stevens. Full justice was done to the viands, and the meeting dispersed, not only pleased with its harmonious character, but also with the supper which brought the proceedings to a close. That sucking porker would have delighted the palate of Charles Lamb, the gentle author of the "Dissertation on Roast Pig," so famed in the "Essays to Elia."

Ottawa Market.

Thursday, Sept. 2nd.

The markets throughout the week have been large and well attended by purchasers, who were attracted by the plentiful supplies, and the consequently somewhat reasonable prices—the late favourable weather having done much to forward the progress of fruits and garden stuff generally. To-day there was more than the average supply of the latter class of edibles, and the following quotations therefore may be taken as authentic, having ruled throughout the week.

Vegetables—Carrots 5c per bunch; cauliflowers 10 to 20c, according to size, and there have been some heads sold, the size of which have never been equalled. Potatoes (new)—were plentiful during the week, and realized good prices. The average being from 25c to 30c per bushel, according, of course, to the quality and size. There was also a good supply of turnips and carrots, which were disposed of all round at 5c per bunch. Tomatoes may be set down generally as being worth 15c per gallon, at least that was the price they brought to-day. Cabbages were all prices, from 5c to 10c, according to their size and weight.

Fruit.—All kinds of fruit have been most abundant during the week, and good prices have been obtained. Melons were most noticeably plentiful, and from 5c to 30c, (a wide margin), has been paid for choice qualities. Apples have averaged from $2 to $2 50 per 100, and were both in good supply and demand. Peaches to day were somewhat scarcer than they have been any day through the week, and $2 per crate was easily obtaind for them. Pears were also scant, and from 25c to 30c per peck was the price at which they were sold. Crab apples may be quoted at 30c per gal.; plums 60c per pail, and blue berries at 10c per quart.

Poultry.—This article has been lately conspicuous by its absence, and what chickens have found their way on to the market have been disposed of at 60c per pair. A few turkeys have been brought in, and have been sold at from $1 to 1 50 each.

The Grain and Flour Market.—There has been but few transactions in this line of business lately, farmers appearing to be inclined to hold back, in the hopes of obtaining better prices. To-day some excellent samples of oats were sold at from 38c to 41c. Flour, $6 25 to 6 50. Wheat $1 10 to 1 15 (fall); $1 05 to 1 08 (spring). Peas, $ Barley and Rye, none offered.

Wool and Hides.—Wool ranged from 30c to 33c. Hides $5 and $5 50, inspected. Sheep pelts about 55c.

Butter, Cheese, &c.—There has not been much doing in the products of the dairy, although a good steady demand has been made for them. Eggs were very scarce, and 14c, wholesale, and 15c, retail, was readily disbursed for them to-day. Butter was also scarce. Tall was sold at from 18c to 22c; while prints ranged from 25c to 26c per lb. Cheese has also been scarce for some time past, and the only sample on the market to day, and it was not a good one either, brought 13c per lb.

Hay.—There has been a good supply of hay lately, and it has been of moderately good quality. Prices through the week been oscilated, from $13 to $15 per ton. Plenty of it can be sold at those figures.

Police Court.

Before M. O'Gara, P. M.

Thursday, Sept. 2nd.

Julia Ring was arraigned for being drunk and disorderly. She was fined $5 and costs.

Charles Simmons charged with disorderly conduct was let off with a reprimand.

Daniel McAuley was up for being drunk on the Parliament Hill. He was discharged with the usual caution, it being his first offence.

Nicholas Ryan was up on a charge of assault. He was fined $2 and costs, or go to gaol for a week.

Stanislaus Hotte a carter, was charged with furiously driving his horses on Sunday last. He was mulcted in $5 and costs.

Cassimir Deault was arraigned on a charge of assaulting a Scotchman, for which three men were tried a short time ago. The case was adjourned for a week.

William Fingland Official Assignee for Ottawa City and County of Carleton. Office, Hay's Block, Spark St. 3933i12

Clothes Line Robbers.—On Wednesday night last Mrs McLeod of Wilbrod Street was robbed of about $100 worth of linen which had been washed and laid out to dry. The theft must have been committed by the same gang who were seen on the same evening loafing about Daly street and the neighbourhood of Sandy Hill, and about the back premises of the houses in that vicinity. A couple of notorious thieves were seen about the city yesterday, and it is time their movements were watched.

Sneak Thieves.—Some of those prowling sneak thieves who at present infest Sandy Hill during the night, stripped Mr. Tetu's clothes lines the night before last of a quantity of valuable linen. It is to be hoped the lurking scoundrels may yet be caught in their thievish acts. Mr. W. M. Beattie, who lives in that neighbourhood, had occasion the same night to go down town for a doctor and on his return was set upon by some of these roughs. He managed however to scare them so that they soon took to their heels. The residents of Sandy Hill are determined to go in for self protection, and the end will be that somebody will get hurt.

OTTAWA, KINGSTON, AND LONDON DEBENTURES.
$180,600, Six and Seven Per Cents.

Messrs. DRUMMOND, CASSELS & CO., Montreal, are authorized to receive, on or before the 2nd day of June next, Tenders for $180,000 of Debentures of the Cities of Ottawa, Kingston and London, Ont.

Tenders may be for any portion of the Debentures, from $100 upwards, and are to be at par per dollar, to which will be added accrued interest up to date of payment.

Ottawa Debentures $75,000.—These bear date 1st March, 1875, and mature 1st November, 1891. Principal and interest are payable in Ottawa—the interest, at 6 per cent, half-yearly, on 1st March and 1st November.

The population of the City is now 24,253. Its debt, excluding the Water Works Liabilities, which is itself reproductive, is $750,808. Against this there are, all absolutely liable for the payment of these debentures, assessed property, $11,574,495, Corporation property, exclusive of Water Works, $253,096, and the Sinking Fund for the above debt, already amounting, to $180,187.

Kingston Debentures $75,000.—These bear date 31st December, 1874, but mature annually as per schedule, in different amounts, from 1879 to 1901. Principal and interest are payable in Kingston—the interest semi-annually at 6 p.c., on the first days of January and July. The interest Coupons, payable 1st July next, are attached.

The total debt of Kingston is $420,000, and the assessed value of property, all of which is absolutely liable for the payment of the Debentures, is $5,168,480.

In cases of more than one tender for the same amount or Debentures, preference will be given to the highest tender, and Debentures of similar amount or less of the next nearest date of maturity will be allotted to the tenderers in order, unless in their tenders they indicate a preference for other Debentures.

London Debentures $60,700.—These are all twenty year Debentures, maturing as per schedule chiefly on 1st June, 1895. Principle and interest are payable, the interest half-yearly, on 1st June at 7 p.c., in London, Ont.

The population of London is 18,413, and, with its suburbs, is nearly 20,000. Its debt amounts to $1,007,607; but besides a vast assessed value of property, amounting to $8,066,693, and real property, belonging to the Corporation, to a very large amount within the City, all of which is absolutely liable for this debt, the Corporation holds first and second mortgage bonds, and other securities in the London and Port Stanley Railway, amounting to $1,111,539, from which an annual revenue is derived, under the lease to the Great Western Railway.

All of these Debentures form securities of the very highest character. To indicate the demand in which Canadian Municipal Securities are held in England, it may be mentioned that the Ottawa Six per cent Debentures sold, on 23rd April last, on the London Stock Exchange, at Seven per cent Premium.

The awards will be made to the highest tenderers, to whom advice will be promptly sent, but the right is reserved to reject any proposals, and to allot a portion only of any bid. The Debentures will be ready for delivery immediately after the awards.

Payments to be exchanged at Montreal for the Debentures, may be made through the Bank of Montreal.

Detailed Schedule of the Debentures, with form of tender, can be obtained at the offices, Branches and Agencies of the Bank of Montreal, or from Messrs. DRUMMOND, CASSELS & CO., Montre

The REJUVENATING WATERS so much sought for in years long past.

Invalids! Attention!

Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Digestive Organs, Dropsy, Diseases of the Skin, Affections of the Liver and Urinary Organs are positively cured by using the water for a few weeks.

Rheumatics! Read!

Hundreds of Rheumatics have been cured by the Sulphur Baths. Suffering is alleviated by the first, and cripples throw away their crutches after about half-a-dozen baths.

TESTIMONIALS.

"Montreal, 26th July, 1876.

"I hereby certify that I entertain a very favorable opinion of the Baths and Waters of the Caledonia Springs in many forms of disease, among which I would especially mention chronic Rheumatism, the stigmata of Gout, Neuralgia, some of the varieties of Cutaneous diseases, Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, and in carefully selected cases, some of the diseases of the Kidney and Bladder.

(Signed) GEO. W. CAMPBELL, A.M., M.D.
Dean of the Medical Faculty, McGill College.

Dr. Wm. Robertson, of Montreal, wrote as follows, in 1859:—"But the disease above all in which the action of the water is most decided is Rheumatism. * * * I have known a few individuals who suffered much from improper use of mercury who were restored to health by the use of the waters.

ACCOMMODATIONS.

A magnificent new hotel, capable of accommodating 300 guests, will be opened on June 1st for the accommodation of visitors. The grounds have been improved and beautified, and every means for amusement and exercise provided. The trip thither by the Ottawa River is most enjoyable, and a railroad from the river to the Springs is in course of construction. Until the railroad is built, comfortable carriages will be in waiting at the wharf for the conveyance of visitors to the Springs. The distance of the Springs from Montreal and Ottawa respectively is 80 and 50 miles.

Mr. W. CHAMPNESS will open a good Livery Stable, providing good carriages, horses, saddles, &c. There is a good race-course on the property of the Company.

The PANACEAN WATERS of these Springs will yet make Caledonia the greatest resort in the world for health and pleasure seekers. Thousands of lesigonians might be procured, but the reputation of the Springs renders it unnecessary to do so.

The Provincial EXHIBITION ANNUAL,
A Guide to the Show Grounds,
AND
HAND BOOK for the CITY OF OTTAWA.
First Edition.
(A Circulation of Twenty Thousand Copies Guaranteed.)

Under the above title the subscriber purposes issuing, in time for circulation, previous to and during the approaching Provincial Exhibition to be held in this city, a Hand Book prepared especially for the use of visitors to the Exhibition and of strangers desirous of seeing the principal objects of attraction in and around Ottawa.

Among its contents will be found:
Accurate Plans of the Exhibition grounds and buildings, with full description of the same, dimensions, uses, &c.
A carefully prepared synopsis of By-Laws and Regulations of the Agricultural and Arts Association so far as they affect exhibitors and visitors to the Exhibition.
Index to the location of the several classes of stock and articles exhibited, colours of prize tickets, and all other matters calculated to assist visitors in intelligently enjoying the display.
Complete programme of the Exhibition week from the opening to the close.
Description of the City of Ottawa, its principal points of attraction, scenery, manufactures and Public Buildings, together with the location, dimensions, etc., of the same.
Complete directory of the various Benevolent, Temperance and other societies, clubs or associations, with nights and places of meeting, for the convenience of visiting brethren.
Postal, Train, Steamboat and other information useful to travellers.
List of public meetings, entertainments, etc., in the city during the exhibition week.
The Government Buildings; the Library, locations of the several Departments and principal public offices.
The Patent Office.—Especial attention will be given to this important office and full information as to the most direct mode of transacting business therewith.

TO ADVERTISERS.

As twenty thousand copies of the "Exhibition Annual" will be in circulation before the end of Exhibition week, it will form an unrivalled medium for advertising. Its pages (the size of this prospectus) will be a large pamphlet form with colored paper cover, thus rendering it convenient for preservation and future reference.

The vast amount of information it will contain, and the fact, that it is in contemplation to maintain it as an annual publication in connection with the Ontario Exhibitions—adapting it to each locality wherein it may be held—gives its advertising patrons virtually the benefit of a standing advertisement for a whole year.

From A. McNab, Esq., President of the Provincial Agricultural and Arts Association.

SIR,— I have no hesitation in giving your proposed Hand Book my hearty approval, believing it to be interesting to the public generally and particularly to the Agriculturists of the Dominion. Yours, etc.,
ARCH'D. McNAB.
A. ROBERTSON, Esq., Ottawa.

From the Hon D. Christie, Speaker of the Senate, and late President of the Upper Canada Provincial Agricultural Association.

MY DEAR SIR,—I have read your letter with great interest and have pleasure in stating my hearty approval of your scheme in publishing a "Provincial Exhibition Hand-book." It will be a work of real value to visitors to the Exhibition, as a reference. I hope you will meet with sufficient encouragement to justify a yearly publication of the Hand-Book.
I remain, yours very truly,
D. CHRISTIE.
ALEX. ROBERTSON, Esq.

Encouraged by the hearty approval of Mr. McNab, Hon. Mr. Christie, Hon. M. Cameron, Hon. Mr. Skead, Ira Morgan, Esq., and many other gentlemen of distinction, I have secured a copy-right, and under the title of the "Provincial Exhibition Annual," and intend to make of it a yearly publication in connection with our Provincial Exhibitions.

The contract for the heating apparatus of the new Post Office building in this city has been awarded to Messrs. R. Mitchell & Co., of Montreal.

We omitted to mention that the letter inserted yesterday on "Lord Dufferin and Canada" was originally addressed to an English paper, from which it was clipped by ourselves.

We understand that the claims for compensation for damages arising out of the construction of the dams on the Rideau Canal, at Eagle and Bolis Lakes, are at present receiving the attention of the Government.

Mr. Ira Morgan informs us that the number of entries made with the Secretary by intending exhibitors at the approaching Provincial Exhibition, indicate that the exhibition will be equal in every respect to that of any previous year.

The Russian Engineers were furnished with letters of introduction to the Harbour Commissioners of Quebec and Montreal, yesterday, by Mr. Mackenzie, who recommended them to be afforded every information.

Mr. Walter Cope Bartlett, Surgeon of the Naval Hospital of Bermuda and Staff Surgeon of the Fleet, son-in-law of Mr. Charles Walkem of the Militia Department, with Mrs. Bartlett, is at present at Kingston on a visit to his wife's family. Mr. Walkem proceeds thither to-day to join them.

We are informed and are authorized to say that the Rev. Ryerson, Chief Superintendent of Education, will be in Ottawa on Thursday and Friday, 9th and 10th inst., and will see any persons desirous of conferring with him on Normal School matters, either at the Russell House, or at the Normal School.

TELEGRAPHIC.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Entered the City.

LONDON, Sept, 3rd.—A Daily Telegraph special from Berlin has been received, announcing that the Russian General Kouffman has entered the city of Khokam.

Monsigneur Roncetti.

ROME, Sept. 3rd.—It is reported that Monsigneur Roncetti is to be appointed to high ecclesiastical dignity in America.

Dead.

PARIS, Sept. 3rd.—General Froissard is dead.

Bullion Withdrawn.

LONDON, September 3.—The amount of bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day is £25,000.

Large Requirements of the Grain Trade.

LONDON, Sept. 3rd.—The Times, in its financial column says there is increased firmness in the discount market, apart from other influences which may be expected to cause a demand for floating capital as we get into autumn, more than usual attention is directed to the requirements of the country in connection with the grain trade, and it is known that we shall have to import an unusually large quantity of wheat, and it is equally certain that all the barley will have to come from abroad.

Prospects Favourable

The Daily Telegraph says prospects are favourable for harvest, which has has already commenced. The damage done by mould is below the average.

Strike Ended.

The strike in Dundee is ended. The mills reopened to-day, the operatives having consented to work at reduced rates of five per cent. on their wages.

A Proclamation to be Issued.

A special from Constantinople to the Times says that Sever Pasha has been instructed to issue a proclamation on his arrival at Mostar, giving assurances that henceforth no vexations or illegal acts will be permitted in the name of the Government. He has also been directed to dismiss and punish officials guilty of oppressing the people, to institute special trustees which shall examine and satisfy the demands of those who have been objects of arbitrary movements, to recall any persons exiled without just cause, and expel agitation.

Insurrection Now Maintained by Robbers.

A Standard special from Constantinople says that the insurrection in Herzegovinia is now maintained by bands of robbers, not a single insurgent is to be seen around. Fugitive insurgents have driven 18,000 head of cattle into Dalmatia for security.

Neutrality Vindicated.

A semi official journal of Athens vindicates the Government of Greece in its neutrality towards Turkey: "It says Sclavonia never helped the Greeks in Crete, and Grecian interests imperatively call for friendship with Turkey. The Nesloges, the Greek organ at Constantinople, advocates an alliance between Greece and Turkey.

INDIA.

CALCUTTA, Sept. 3rd.—Government has heard nothing to confirm the reports telegraphed hence to the London Times, that the King of Burmah refused to receive Colduman, and the story is generally discredited.

A Kansas girl says that nothing makes her so mad as to have a grasshopper crawl down her back just as her lover has come to the proposing point.

A Saratoga philosopher says a single woman, as a general thing, can be told from a wife, and yet he has known many a girl to be taken for a wife.

When freedom from her mountain height unfurled her standard to the air, her skirts, pinned back so very tight, made her appear exceeding square.

Oh, she was an A 1 Conneaut belle, of the "very first water," or more; and she married a regular fine-haired "swell" who clerked in a dry goods store. And he clerked, and he clerked, till at last he fell into trouble with some of the money; and they went out West, in a way, folks tell, not particularly funny. And after a time the belle came home, the old folks for to see; and the neighbours asked, when they found she'd come, what her husband's biz. might be. "Oh, he is a railroad man now," she said—"Assistant Conductor," said she; but some one asked, as he shook his head, what the dickens that might be. And then, with that high old "style" of hers, she answered the interrogation: "He assists in slacking the speed of the cars when the train approaches a station."—Ashtabula News.

AMERICAN.

NEW YORK.

The Trial of Cordes Harris.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—A special to the Tribune from Sandersville, Ga., says the trial of Cordes Harris, coloured man, accused of attempting to incite insurrection among the negroes of this county closed last evening with a verdict of not guilty. The trial throughout has been characterized by the greatest calmness among citizens of both races. The acquittal of Cordes Harris was simply the result of the failure of the prosecution to produce any proof of criminal intent in any of the acts of which prisoner was accused. All other prisoners who have not been sent to the counties where they live have been discharged, and the military companies have been dismissed. Negroes of this county have called a meeting to arrange for emigration to some other State. This movement will probably be made less general than it would have been had any of the late prisoners been convicted.

United States Cable.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The officers of the Direct United States Cable in this city are in communication with the steamship Faraday, and if the weather moderates, it is expected the cable will be in working order to-morrow.

SAN FRANCISCO.

The Feeling in Business Circles—The Bank of California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—The opening of the Merchants' Exchange Bank and the prospect of the resumption of the Bank of California, creates the best possible feeling in business circles, and with the exception of the closing of the Stock Board, business has practically settled down to it usual routine. This morning the Board of Brokers will hold its meeting, and it is possible may conclude to resume business by Monday, though the more cautious members advise waiting until the resumption of the Bank of California. The time is not fixed for the opening of the bank as much work remains to be done in the examination of accounts. Ralston's successor has not yet been decided on.

NATICK.

A Strike.

NATICK, Mass., Sept. 3.—A general strike was inaugurated to-day among the workmen in all the boot and shoe establishments at Chochuite, 800 employees being idle, the cause being that the employers refuse to restore their pay to the same standard as before the reduction which was made some months since on account of dull times. Workmen of two prominent establishments of this place struck yesterday, but a compromise was effected and work resumed.

OMAHA.

A Train Through a Bridge.

OMAHA, Sept. 3.—A heavy rain yesterday washed out a good deal of the track of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad near New Jefferson, Iowa. A cattle train went through the bridge at that place at 8 o'clock last night. Twelve cars were smashed, and nearly all the cattle killed, but no men were seriously injured. It is said it will be several days before trains can reach here from the east. Nearly all the trains have been taken off.

ATCHISON.

Railroad Bridge Completed

ATCHISON, Sept. 3.—The celebration in honour of the completion of the bridge over the Missouri river, at this city to day, was very imposing. An excursion train on the Atchison and Nebraska Railway met with a serious accident when about seven miles from this city. A baggage car and two passenger coaches ran off the track; two men were killed and several are more or less injured.

FALL RIVER.

A Mass Meeting.

FALL RIVER, Sept. 3.—At a large mass meeting of weavers yesterday, a resolution expressing a determination not to resume work until manufacturers are willing to pay $2 75 per cent. was pass d. They pledged themselves to stand by this resolution, even to the point of starvation.

ST. PAUL.

Unfavourable Accounts.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 3.—It rained steadily all day yesterday, and accounts from the country are very unfavourable. Wheat in stock is generally sprouting, and reports of immense damage continue.

CLEAVELAND

Price of Composition to be Reduced.

CLEAVELAND, Sept. 3.—The price of composition in the Herald office in this city, will be reduced to 35 cents per thousand ems on Saturday, and the Union printers quit work to night.

MONTREAL.

Body of an Infant—Investigation—Chambly Election Contested Case—The Guibord Case—The Novean Monde on the Affair—The Witness.

MONTREAL, Sept. 3.—The body of an infant rolled in a paper and very much decomposed was found to-day on Portkins street.

Alex. Murray has been elected president of the Dominion Type Foundry.

Investigation into the charges against Cotte, ex cashier of the Jacques Cartier Bank commenced this p. m. G. A. Manseau, assistant cashier, deposed to keeping the archieves of the bank; produced extracts from which it appeared that by agreement of the directors of the bank the salary of the cashier was fixed at $1,400 which defendant accepted. Defendant acted as cashier until the 15th of June last, the date of his resignation. At different times his salary had been raised until it was definitely fixed at $1,500. Witness has made some researches in the minute book, of the report of 30th Nov. 1874 which had been submitted to the meeting of the shareholders on the 17th December following. The report was from Cotte, in the capacity of cashier of the bank, and made by him. Witness had not been able to find it where it should have been entered. Two other employees of the bank also sought in vain for these reports. He had sought since yesterday noon in every place where reports were likely to have been laid, though there were other places in the bank building where they might have been put, which he had not yet examined. Loranger asked that the examination be suspended until further search had been made. The opposing counsel objected, and remarked that the entry of the last annual meeting was in the writing of the witness, and not in that of Cotte. The case was finally adjourned till Monday.

The respondent in the Chambly contested election case alleges that he is possessed of sufficient information to disqualify both Dr. Sauriol, petitioner, and the Hon. Premier of the local Government, who canvassed extensively in the county for the doctor.

The Guibord case is the general subject of comment, and causes great excitement. The whole French Canadian population of the city is aroused. A visitor to the cemetery about 10 a. m., found about seventy-five or one hundred men and boys lounging about the gates, and several groups of men scattered through the cemetery. The belief here was that Guibord was to be brought back again to-day, and they were there determined to prevent his burial. A young French Canadian workingman, of ordinary intelligence, who may be taken as representing the feeling of his class, said French Canadians were all opposed to the burial of Guibord, but the Irish Catholics did not take so much interest in it. His opinion was that Guibord had died a bad Catholic and had 'refused the priest at the hour of death." He said the clergy had not instructed the people to oppose the burial, but were letting them do just as they liked. On being told that the military would probably accompany the body next time it was brought back, he admitted that this would make matters more grave, but said what can the military do against the people?"

The Nouveau Monde, in its report of yesterday's affair, takes full part with the crowd in the cemetery. It ironically employs the expression, "Le Sieur Doutre," when mentioning the counsel for the Institut Canadien, and says he had done a very sheepish action on the occasion. Guibord's remains are styled Mr. Doutre's corpse. It concludes by stating that the demonstration provoked by Le Sieur Doutre was neither flattering for himself nor honourable for his mort. In an editorial upon the affair, the organ calls upon the authorities to secure the fruits of the victory gained by the mob yesterday. It says: "In the presence of a fact in itself so serious and threatening to the peace of this city, and, therefore, of the country, it is the duty of all wise men and the friends of order to use all their influence with the municipal authorities in the first place, and government next, to have the body of Guibord remain where it is now deposited. Whatever may be the legal question, the thing is now on a different footing. There are measures of national expediency which are in imminent danger, and know no other laws than those of prudence. Doutre ought to be warned that to devise actually to force the gates of the cemetery and show his mort to the public, is simply to drive the people to revolt. To priests in those moments of feverish excitement in invoking the strict letter of the law is useless talk. The people in those moments of feverish excitement cannot always be led and kept within the bounds that we should wish. Let there therefore be enough of wisdom to do or allow, nothing of a nature to feed the flame that threatens to spread, and let Guibord remain in the vault, whence he never should have departed. Peace demands this at least for the moment."

The Witness, in commenting, says:—"Its words are simply a defiance of all law and authority, and if these are not speedily vindicated, Montreal will become a laughing stock to all creation."

Charles L. Sycher, the auctioneer arrested on a charge of receiving stolen goods, escaped from his store yesterday while the detectives were searching upstairs for stolen goods. He has not been seen since.

Mr. Doutre states positively he does not know the day when Guibord's funeral will take place. The cemetery is being guarded night and day by the French. The Prince of Wales Regiment is still waiting orders.

HAMILTON.

Boat Race—Remains Exhumed—Firemen's Demonstration in Honor of Amer's Acquittal.

HAMILTON, Sept. 3rd.—On Saturday last the firemen of the Great Western Railway held a pic-nic, at which the annual games were held. Among them were the four-oared race on the bay, which was protested owing to the many bets made. The race was rowed over again, and resulted in favour of the railway men.

About five o'clock this morning the remains of the late Mrs. Laing were again exhumed at the request of the active police magistrate of Toronto.

About six o'clock this evening a telegram was received here from Toronto to the effect that James Amor, chief of the fire brigade, was acquitted of implication in the death of Mrs. Laing. The firemen of this city and a large number of citizens, accompanied by a band and torch lights, met him at the station and escorted him through the principal streets to his residence.

PETERBORO.

Woollen Mills Burned.

PETERBORO, Sept. 3.—The woollen mills of Brodie, Paisley & Co, employing about sixty hands, were totally destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The loss is heavy, but partly covered by the following insurances: On the building, in Phoenix, $3,000; on the machinery, North British, $4,000; Western $4,000; Imperial, $2,500; on stock, in the Royal, $2,000. This mill was doing a good business, and will be a great loss to the town, besides throwing so many persons out of work at this dull season of the year.

TORONTO

Convention—Fast Swimming—Yacht Club Regatta—Rifle Matches.

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—The Superintendent of Insurance Companys will attend the Convention of Insurance Commissioners to be held in the United States on the 20th inst.

Paul Pattilo swam a mile and an eighth in the bay this morning in twenty-eight minutes. This is reckoned to be the fastest time ever made in Toronto.

The following yachts will take part in the Royal Canadian Yacht Club regatta on Monday and Tuesday next, Oriole, Geraldine, Hippie, Kestrel, Lea, from Toronto. Lady Standly, Brunette and Cuthbert, from Hamilton, Gorilla from Cobourg Dauntless, from Belleville, and Surprise, from Trenton. A number of Muskoka fleet from Hamilton and other points are also expected.

The Ontario Rifle Association matches were continued to-day. The weather was very unfavourable for shooting. A mist was hanging over the commons, making high scores almost impossible. Ottawa continued her great successes of yesterday, by number four district winning the first prize in the district match, a silver cup valued at $200, and $100 in money, presented by Col. Gzowski, with a score of 572; number two district, Toronto, coming second, with a score of 566. Out of the fifteen composing the winning team, ten belongs to the Governor General's Foot Guards. The highest individual scores were made by Sergt. Throop, private Symes, private Newby, all of the Foot Guards, who made 44 each out of a possible 56. In the nursery stakes, first prize, the Elkington Cup, valued at $128, and $15 in money, was won by Major White, of the Foot Guards, with 26 out of a possible 28. Captain Bailey, 10th Royals and Captain Thomas Dufferin, R. A., were second and third respectively, with 25 each. Private Newby also of the Foot Guards won the first prize, the highest aggregate score with 158, private Munson being second with 157. The small bore match is in progress and will be finished to-morrow and will conclude the meeting, which has been a splendid success. A number of marksmen left for home to-day and the camp is gradually breaking up. Major Moore, 13th Battalion, has acted as statistical officer and has given great satisfaction.

THE NORMAL SCHOOL.

We remarked some time ago on the extraordinary conduct of the Ottawa Teachers' Association in relation to the Normal School appointments, and we verily believed that it was impossible for any other man or body of men to equal, far less eclipse, the meanness of which they were guilty. The proceedings of the School Trustees, the night before last, however, are of such a nature as to convince us how utterly mistaken we were. The story of the ladies who were dismissed because they had not attained the necessary standing in their profession reveals how despicable are the tactics which some men are prepared to adopt in order to vent their spleen, how cold-blooded and false their jealousy will lead them to be towards those for whom they profess friendship, provided only they have a purpose to serve. Here were four young ladies, aware that they could not continue to teach until they had qualified themselves according to law by securing higher class certificates, and who, therefore, wrote out their formal resignations, intending to go to the Normal School. But the Inspector of Schools, a gentleman professing to have their interests deeply at heart, advised them not to resign, but to work out the year in the schools where they were then engaged, because the Normal School was not likely to be a success for the first six months at any rate. Mr. LeSueur said the young ladies must have known that they could not continue to act; so they did, but he forgot that one who ought to have known better than they advised them to the contrary, in order, evidently, to keep them from joining the new Normal School under its present management. The exact force of Mr Borthwick's suggestion as to the success of the school, "for the first six months," may not at first appear plain, but we can inform that gentleman, and those who have united with him in the attempt to oust the present appointees, that it is plain to us, and we are determined that the public shall understand it, too. The appointments, to begin with, are only for six months, their renewal being dependent upon the success of the institution within that period. This reverend schemer and those who are with him in the plot, probably think that by tactics of this kind they will, during these six months, succeed in damning the reputation of the institution, and thereby secure the dismissal of the present teachers. In that they will find themselves miserably mistaken. We are aware of the game they are playing, and we intend to expose it at every move. In the mean time, as the result of the good advice of Mr. Borthwick, those young ladies have been compelled to submit to the indignity of dismissal; when, if left to themselves, they would have resigned as they had proposed to do.

THE EAST YORK DEMONSTRATION.

Our fellow-townsman, Dr. Tupper, with Mr. M. C. Cameron, Mr. William Macdougall, and Mr. Thomas Nicholson Gibbs have been on a missionary visitation to East York, trying to convince the benighted inhabitants of that riding of the error of their ways. The occasion is announced in the Opposition press as a "great Liberal-Conservative demonstration." It is a good mixture of the Liberal and Conservative elements, in which the first mentioned, preponderated, were the result desired, it was fully accomplished. The Opposition leaders have had the most positive proof of the liberality of the supporters of the Governments of the Dominion and the Province of Ontario, and especially of their toleration, in the number of them present at this particular meeting. Nobody needs to be informed on the thoroughly liberal tendencies of the great majority of the electors of East York, nor that a Tory is a rarity in Markham. Mr. Macdougall learned the fact in a very practical way during the last Ontario general election, and if Dr. Tupper were much less observant of the political events of the past than he has seen, the regretful article in which the Mail announced his intention to be present and address the meeting would have fully impressed upon him the actual condition of affairs. An examination of the names published in the Mail as those of the prominent gentlemen present reveals the fact that, a few Torontonians excepted, the bulk of them were Liberals of the most pronounced type. The promise that Sir John Macdonald was to deliver an address, (which, by the way he could not have done, having failed to be present), on curiously regarding the coming leader of the Tory party, whose prepossessing appearance could not fail to have impressed very favorably the five hundred ladies who were there, no doubt accounts for the attendance of so many Reformers. There was nothing very novel in Dr. Tupper's address. Evidently the recess has not added greatly to the sins of the Administration, for the indictment brought against them was in substance and form very much the same as during the session. Indeed, if the doctor's speeches since he has been in opposition had been summarized, printed and circulated in East York, a good deal of trouble might have been saved. But then the courageous exploit of "hearding the lion in his den," as the holding of a Tory demonstration at Markham has been termed, would not have been accomplished, nor would its glory have been reflected upon those who did it. The only really new thing he said—and it will be information, we are sure, to most people—was that the commercial men of Great Britain laughed at Mr. Mackenzie's theories on the balance of trade, as expressed in his speeches at Dundee and elsewhere. The member for Cumberland evidently forgot that he was not addressing a concourse of the faithful, who might be presumed to take things of this nature for granted. He was addressing men of intelligence, whose views on public questions were as a rule hostile to the party he represented, and it was surely presuming rather largely on their gullibility to make such a sweeping assertion on the bare faith of his personal veracity. We scarcely care to characterize the statement in the terms it deserves. If it were a mere matter between man and man, we should not have scrupled to stigmatize it as a vulgar invention, without the very shadow of a foundation. As it is, we simply ask for the authority which Dr. Tupper had not the good breeding to advance for the information of an audience whose political leader he was attempting to belittle. In the absence of such authority, the assertion must go for a falsehood. Mr. Mackenzie has never, so far as we are aware, claimed the merit of originality for his ideas on the balance of trade. In any expression of opinion upon the subject on his part which we have ever heard of, either here or in Great Britain, he has simply avowed his adhesion to those well known principles which the commercial men of Great Britain not only accept in theory but carry into practice. If therefore it had happened, as it did not, that they had laughed at Mr. Mackenzie's trade ideas, it would be interesting to know how and where the laugh came in. Dr. Tupper is, when among his constituents, a free trader. What he is in principle we have no present means of knowing; we are simply aware of the stand he is compelled to take in order to get elected. His party, however, are carrying favour with the protectionists, and it is probably unnecessary to inform him that the commercial men of England actually do laugh at the idea of protection. They regard it, as the great majority of the people of this country do, as too antiquated and exclusive for this progressive age, and point to its effects amongst Chinamen and Japanese who are perhaps the very best exponents of the theory on the face of the earth, as evidence of its unfitness for a civilized country. Neither does the doctor "intend to adopt the Premier's sneer "at the great American public to the "south of us." In profound ignorance, as we are, of what the sneer referred to consisted of, we are glad to have the doctor's assurance. Both he and the party to which he belongs have been sufficiently profuse of "sneers at the "great American republic to the south of us," to obviate the necessity of adopting a simple one of anybody else's. However, Mr. Mackenzie can scarcely fail to be flattered by the pride with which the member for Cumberland read his "observations to riching the character "of our country, the character and dis "position of its people, and the high "status Canada enjoys to-day. Mr. Mackenzie's greatest admirer could not "have read those utterances of his with "greater pride and pleasure than he (Dr. "Tupper) did." Mr. Mackenzie can never be despondent after that.

But the Doctor's oration was temperance itself as compared to the wild, rabid utterances of Mr Macdougall and Mr. Gibbs. The former alleged that Mr. Brown would have left the coalition government and gone back to conduct the Globe if confederation "had gone to the devil." Mr. Mowat, he said, was a Family Compact Tory—a left handed compliment to Mr. Cameron, who was on the platform no doubt; Mr. Mackenzie was an autocrat, Mr. Cartwright an ass. A correspondent of a western journal recently said of Mr. Macdougall—"politically, sir, you are a humbug." If the evidence of sense avails us anything, he would have been nearer the truth if he had substituted "lunatic" for "humbug." There are less dangerous characters in the gentle embraces of a strait-jacket. Mr. Gibbs was about equally polite in his expressions of opinion. Mr. Cartwright held the position of Finance Minister by fraud, he said; East York had all along been misrepresented in Parliament; and he hoped the present gentlemen would continue to occupy the Treasury Benches, for if given rope enough they would hang themselves. Cultivated leaders, to be sure; happy party that follows them!

RECENT APPOINTMENTS OF MASTERS TO THE OTTAWA NORMAL SCHOOL.

The following letter was addressed to the editor of the Mail, and appeared in yesterday's issue of that paper:—

SIR,—In consequence of the published proceedings of the Ottawa Teachers' Association, and upon other public grounds, I think it necessary to give some explanations in respect to the recent appointments of the three masters of the Normal School at Ottawa.

When the Hon. A. Mackenzie was Treasurer, and acting Premier of Ontario, he officially required me by letter (against my wishes), to prepare for the Government a statement of my views as to additional Normal Schools, their locality, probable expenses, &c. In a letter, in reply, dated 19th Oct., 1872, I recommended the establishment of three additional Normal Schools—one at Ottawa, one at Kingston, and one at London. I stated the necessity of establishing the first one at Ottawa, and that as Ottawa was the centre of a large Roman Catholic population, I thought one of the masters of that school, other things being equal, should be a Roman Catholic. I was afterwards informed that my letter was approved without qualification, as the Government's basis of proceeding on the subject, and it was understood, and I believe intended, by the Government as well as by myself, that one of the masters of the Normal School at Ottawa should be a Roman Catholic. An ingenious contrivance was devised by a certain member, or members, of the Council of Public Instruction, to defeat this arrangement, and to get the blame of its defeat thrown on me in the mind of the Government and of the Roman Catholic section of the community, as will presently appear.

Before the meeting of the Council for making the appointments, I requested Professor Young to come to my office and look over the list of candidates, as he knew so much more than I did about their individual character and abilities as school managers and teachers, from his visits to the High Schools as Inspector, and as I was quite at a loss for a Principal, after the withdrawal of his name by Mr. Buchan (High School Inspector), whom I had intended to recommend as Principal. Professor Young kindly went over the list of candidates and their testimonials, giving me the benefit of his opinions and advice, as did Mr. Kirkland, of the Toronto Normal School, the Principal of which was absent on a vacation tour to the Maritime Provinces. The consultation related to the appointments of the Principal, Science Master, and Mathematical Master—I having decided to recommend Mr. John McCabe for English Master. A list of the names of the three proposed masters was written out by Mr. Kirkland—namely, Mr. Oliver, Science Master and Principal, and Mr. Riddel, Mathematical Master (both Presbyterians, neither of whom I had ever seen), and Mr. McCabe, English Master.

On the Council's proceeding to the work of appointments, Archbishop Lynch suggested that they should appoint the Principal first, and then make the other two appointments; but this did not answer the secret policy of the opposition, and it was opposed and not pressed. I then nominated Mr. John A. MacCabe as English Master—he being a graduate of Dublin Normal School, having also subsequently passed the examinations required by the Irish National Board for inspectorship of their schools, having been six years English Master in the Normal School of Nova Scotia, having been recommended to me (though I had never seen him) as an excellent and amiable man and able teacher by the present and ex-Superintendent (both Protestants and Baptists) of Public Instruction of Nova Scotia, and having the highest testimonials from Archbishop Connolly, of Nova Scotia, and other church dignitaries. Strange to say this order of proceeding was objected to and it was insisted that the other two masterships should first be filled up. I then said, "Proceed in what order you please." Mr. Riddell was first elected Mathematical Master, though he was equally at home in the subjects of the Science mastership, and rather preferred them. In proceeding to the election of Science Master, I proposed Mr. Oliver, with a view to his appointment as Principal, he being a Gold Medallist in Science of the Toronto University, having raised two high schools from a low to a high state of efficiency, and being now headmaster of an Union High and Public School with eleven teachers and upwards of 500 pupils under his successful management, and having been appointed by the Senate of the University as Examiner in Chemistry; whereupon Dr. Wilson pitched into Mr. Oliver in his characteristic University style, and apparently on the authority of the Senate, stating things to Mr. Oliver's disadvantage as to competency (things of which I knew nothing), and Mr. Oliver failed to secure the votes of a majority of the Council. It appears, notwithstanding Dr. Wilson's statements, Mr. Oliver is still Examiner in Chemistry in the University by appointment of the Senate.

The opposition seemed to me greatly to enjoy this success against my nomination and evidently thought they had got me in a tight place, that I would now be compelled to abandon my Roman Catholic candidate, in order to select a Principal, and they would gain a double victory over me—having defeated my first nomination to the Principalship, I would now be forced to give up Mr McCabe, and furnish a pretext for their saying that I had never intended to carry into effect what I had professed to recommend in regard to the appointment of a Roman Catholic as one of the masters of the Ottawa Normal School. But they were mistaken. The Archbishop renewed the nomination of Mr. MacCabe, and I urged such reasons for his appointment entirely upon the ground not only of qualifications and high testimonials, but upon the ground of good faith on the part of the Government, and of fairness to a large section of our fellow citizens. At length the opposition were compelled, when the open vote came, to vote themselves for the man whom they had hoped to compel me to at andon.

The question now came up, which of the three masters appointed should be Principal? when it appeared that Mr MacCabe was the only married man of the three, and the only one who had ever been in a Normal School, and therefore the only one eligible to have charge of a Normal School consisting of male and female students. The appointment of Mr MacCabe was, therefore, a matter of necessity, and took place a little before midnight when the Council adjourned until next morning at ten o'clock.

In the meantime I went early to see the Premier, to inform him of what had been done, and to suggest to him to advise his obstreperous friends in the Council not to destroy the prospects of a great and costly institution from sheer opposition to the Chief Superintendent; but the Premier was out of town. On the reassembling of the Council, I called attention to the anomalous state of things by the proceedings of the previous evening; that I had no doubt of Mr. MacCabe's complete success as English master, and I had little hopes of his success as Principal—not knowing anything of his business or governing talents, and he being a stranger to the country and to our school system; that I had never intended or expected his appointment as Principal; that I thought it unkind and unjust to Mr. MacCabe to place him in such circumstances; and that if the Hon. Wm. McMaster (who had spoken strongly and feelingly on the subject) would move the reconsideration of the appointment of the science master, with a view to the reconsideration of the appointment of Principal, I would waive my first choice of Mr. Oliver and recommend the appointment as Principal of Mr. Thorburn, Principal of the Ottawa Collegiate Institute, and recommended by both the High and Public School Boards of Trustees in Ottawa. The Archbishop said he had never proposed or expected the appointment of Mr. MacCabe as Principal, and it would not have been made or proposed had his resignation been accepted, to appoint the Principal first, before appointing the other two masters; that from the proceedings which had ensued after the rejection of his advice, the appointment of Mr. MacCabe became necessary; that he did not think it just or fair to object to Mr. MacCabe upon the ground of his being a Catholic, but he concurred in the views of the Chief Superintendent that it was not wise or just to meritorious teachers of this Province to prefer a stranger to them, and was willing to reconsider the matter, and to do anything fair to correct the mistake which had been committed.

At my and Mr. McMaster's mention of reconsidering the appointment of Science Master, with a view to the arrangement which I suggested, Dr. Wilson did indeed raise a storm, in the peculiar moans of which were distinctly heard the words "injustice," "cruelty," "inhumanity," &c., and the strange proposal was made to leave the Government to disallow that appointment of Principal, when the Council could make another. I said no, it would be dishonourable to shirk the responsibility of our own acts, and place the Government in the position of antagonism both to that Council and to a large section of the community; that I would not be a party to do such injustice to any Government. Various things were proposed, and dropped or rejected; the comedy continued for some two hours, and I confess I rather enjoyed the scene of my adversaries falling themselves into the pit which they had so cunningly dug for me. I at length proposed that all the appointments should be on trial for six months, at the end of which the Council should be perfectly free to reconsider them, and that each master appointed should be explicitly informed of this condition of his appointment. This was a relief on which my adversaries seized with the grasp of a drowning man at a straw.

I have thus given from memory a very imperfect epitome of some ten or twelve hours' proceedings of the Council in relation to the appointment of masters to the Ottawa Normal School. I would have wished they had been public, as they involve important public interests, and on that ground I give this unauthorized account of them. Dr. Wilson and Mr. Goldwin Smith have broken the seals of secrecy in regard to the proceedings of the Council, and have thus rendered necessary as complete a publicity as possible of all its proceedings in order to do justice to all parties, to show how its several members have fulfilled their functions and consulted the interests of the public.

It will be seen from the facts above stated that neither Archbishop Lynch nor Mr. MacCabe is responsible for his appointment as Principal of the Ottawa Normal School. When I officially notified Mr. MacCabe of his appointment, first as English Master, and secondly as Principal of the Normal School at Ottawa, I informed him of the circumstances under which the latter took place. Mr. MacCabe's answer does honour to his head and heart, and when read will secure for him the respect and sympathy of every candid man in Canada. In his letter dated "Prov. Normal School, N.S., 15th July, 1875," after acknowledging the receipt of my letter informing him of his appointments and conditions of them, Mr. MacCabe says:—

"I thank you, sir, and through you the Council, for the high honour thus conferred upon me.

"I accept the English mastership on the condition named in your letter.

"I accept the Principalship also. But taking into consideration the fact that I am a stranger to the Province of Ontario, unacquainted with the country and the minute details of its educational system, I do so with the utmost diffidence, for the time being only, or until the Council can make better provision for filling the office."

I am sure the members of the Ottawa Teachers' Association and all other High and Public School teachers in Ontario, will agree with me that Mr. MacCabe deserves a fair trial; that if he succeeds amidst the difficulties of his unexpected novel position, he will be welcomed by them with open arms as a valuable accession to the first ranks of their profession; and if he should not succeed, he and his Archbishop will be the last to desire his continuance in his present office.

As for myself, I have never bowed to denominational any more than to political party dictation from any quarter; nor have I ever proscribed, nor will I proscribe any man of irreproachable character from any position to which his abilities and qualifications entitle him, merely on account of his religious denomination. I will give to the Principal of the Normal School at Ottawa, equally with the Principal of the Normal School at Toronto, every assistance in my power to promote his success and usefulness; and in doing so, I but feebly give effect to the just wishes of the people of Ontario.

I cannot forbear remarking, in conclusion, that the Globe has at last accomplished its long sought object; it has converted the ever vigilant and ever progressive body of mutual and pendent "Friends in Council" into a bear garden of party and personal contention, in order to pull down the Chief Superintendent of Education and his work. But whether from the character, success, and length of my service to the country, I deserve such a visitation, or whether the school system itself and its cordial supporters have merited such a calamity, I leave others to decide. I will not, however, voluntarily leave my post, except to a Minister of Public Instruction, and when I get the Council doors open to newspaper reporters, and through them get the country for my audience, I may even experience a partial relief from the fruitless vexations of the past year, by holding up my assailants to public ridicule and scorn for their arrogant pretension, their ignorance of school law and school systems, their advocacy of private over public interests, their Globe like enmities and intrigues. But such is not congenial work for any man of work and progress, much less for a man beyond his three score years and ten, nor appropriate to a Council designed to employ all its time and influence for the promotion of sound education and intelligence of the whole rising generation. Nor is it honourable to Ontario, that, in contradistinction to all the other Provinces of the Dominion, and all the States of the neighbouring Republic, such a state of things should exist, to the paralysis of the department which has, for twenty five years, been the radiating centre and arterial life of our everywhere appreciated and progresive system of public instruction.

E. RYERSON.

Toronto, Sept. 1.

THE PREMIER'S RECEPTION IN OTTAWA.—The welcome home accorded to Hon. Mr. Mackenzie by the good people of Ottawa must have been extremely gratifying to his feelings. The non-partisan character of the reception was among its best features. The welcome back to Canada was rendered to Mr. Mackenzie as the chief of a political party nor even in his capacity as the chief of the Canadian Government; but principally as a mark of personal respect and regard, the inhabitants of the capital honoured themselves by bestowing upon Mr. Mackenzie a mark of respect which they have often withheld from men possessed of greater wealth, longer pedigrees, and more sonorous titles. Our worthy Premier must have felt and known and prised this more than he might have valued a reception more political, but less heartfelt and generous.—Montreal Star.

PYRIMONT SEYSSEL ASPHALTE.
THE Compagnie Generale des Mines d'Asphaltes, Who are now the Proprietors of the celebrated Asphalte Mines of Pyrimont Seyssel, Ain, France, are now prepared to supply to contractors and others, the produce of these mines, either in shape of the natural Rock, or in the form of Mastic, for use in the Dominion of Canada, at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.
The whole of the Footpaths in Paris, and a large proportion of the Carriage ways in that City are paved with the above Asphaltes, while for the last 20 years and upwards, the British Government has specified the Pyrimont Seyssel Asphalte, as the only one permissible to be entered into with them.
The Company will also gladly entertain proposals from first class firms or individuals of good standing for agencies in the different cities and towns throughout the Dominion.
Applications for further information may be addressed to W. O. CALLENDER, 70 & 71 Palmerston Buildings, Old Broad street, E. C. London, England. 3810-6l

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS ...for the Unbelieving.—There are but few pre- ...parations of medicines which have with ...stood the impartial judgment of the peo- ...ple for any great length of time. One of ...these is Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Read ...the following, and be convinced:—Thos. ...Robinson, Farnham Centre, P.Q., writes, ..."I have been afflicted with rheumatism ...for the last ten years, and have tried ...many remedies without any relief, until I ...tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since ...then had no attack of it. I would re- ...commend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel ...Keeper, West Shefford, P. Q., writes, "I ...have been troubled with liver complaint ...for several years, and have tried different ...medicines with little or no benefit until I ...tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which ...gave me immediate relief, and I would ...say that I have used it since with the best ...effect. No one should be without ...it. I have tried it on my horses in cases ...of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is ...equally as good for horses as for man."—A. Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, ...writes, "I have sold some hundreds of ...bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pro- ...nounced by the public, 'one of the best ...medicines they have ever used;' it has ...done wonders in healing and relieving ...pain, sore throat, &c., and is worthy of ...the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, ...Township Percy, writes: "I was persua- ...ded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame ...knee which troubled me for three or four ...years, and I never found anything like it ...for curing lameness. It is a great public ...benefit." A. Mr. Hamilton, Warkworth, ...writes: "For weeks I was troubled with ...a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very ...much. Mr. Maybee, of this place, induced ...me to try Electric Oil, and before one ...bottle was used I was cured. It is a most ...remarkable medicine.

NERVOUSNESS.

It affords me great pleasure to bear testimony to the benefits I have received from using Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and it has proved an excellent curative for nervous- ness and general debility.

It is also a first class tonic, enables a person to fatten flesh rapidly, and is free from the constipating effects characteristic of other tonics I have tried.

HENRY JOHNSON, Montreal.

JOB BONES FEMALE PILLS.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Fe- male Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and although a power- ful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of nervous and Spinal Af- fections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a pow- erful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the con- stitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain free, of the agent, a pamphlet, or refer to advertise- ment.

JOB BONES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.

FOWLE'S

PILE AND HUMOR CURE,

For Internal and External Use.

Warranted a SURE and perfect CURE for all Kinds of Piles, Leprosy, Scrofula, Tetter or Ring- worm, Salt-Rheum, and all diseases of the skin. One bottle warranted to cure all cases of Piles; from one to three bottles in all cases of Humors.

This remedy has been faithfully tested, and found to be an almost infallible cure for the above named diseases. In all cases has been so universal, that the proprietor guarantees a cure to those who use the ointment, or in case of failure to refund the money paid. Since it was first introduced he has received many thous- ands of testimonials, proving its efficacy for the cure of the awful diseases it is recommended for. The Pile and Humor cure is entirely vege- table in its preparations, and can be used with perfect safety in infants. There is no danger of it driving the humor in, as it cures on the surface, and the patient's bodily health con- tinually improves while under this treatment.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by all druggists. Dec. 14, 1871.

The Montreal Proprietary School has been established to provide a liberal education similar to that given in the Public Schools of England. The course of instruction, however, will not be exclusively classical, and boys will be specially prepared either for the University and Profes- sions or for Commercial Life.

More eligible premises have been purchased for the School in McTavish street, one of the most healthful localities in the city, and immediately adjoining the grounds of the McGill University.

The course of instruction will include Latin, Greek, Mathematics, French, German, Arith- metic, Writing, English Grammar, Literature and Composition, History and Geography, both Ancient an Modern, Natural Philosophy, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, Gymnastics and Drilling.

A limited number of boys will be received by the Principal as Boarders or Weekly Boarders and, with the view of keeping the pupils from improper influences, it is strongly recommended that all be entered as Day Boarders, who will dine in the house of the Principal.

Further particulars can be obtained from the Secretary, J. W. Holmes, Esq., 78 Victoria street, to whom all applications for admission must be made.

The School will open on MONDAY, the 12th of April, and will be carried on for a few days at 75 Victoria street, the new premises not being quite completed.

WALL PAPER.

INCLUDING THOSE DEDICATED BY THE MANUFACTURER TO

Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Dufferin.

These Paperhangings are imported direct from the best Manufacturing Establish- ments in England, France and United States. Great care has been taken in their selection with regard to colour. The ground tones are soft and pleasing to the eye, especially those toned with silver mica; but above all, they are free from the mineral poisons that many of the tawdry-coloured Paperhangings of the day are surcharged with. The Subscriber's long experience as a colourist, and being thoroughly acquainted with the chemical compound of the pigments used in Painting, enables him to reject, in his selection of Paperhangings, those coloured with poisonous pigments, so deleterious to health. The Public are respectfully invited to examine his STOCK of WALL PAPER before purchasing elsewhere.

As the undersigned is going out of the Room Paper Business as soon as his present Stock is disposed of, the Goods will be Sold at the Lowest Remunerating Prices.

PAIN KILLER.

After thirty-five years trial, it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and re- sponsability. Physicians of the first respec- tability recommend it as a most effectual prep- aration for the extinction of pain. It is not only the best remedy ever known for Bruises, Cuts, Burns, &c., but for Dysentery or Cholera, or any sort of Bowel complaint it is a remedy un- surpassed for efficiency, and rapidity of action. In the great climates of India, and other hot cli- mates, it has become the standard medicine for all such complaints, as well as for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, and other kindred disorders. For Coughs and Colds, Canker, Asthma, and Rheumatic difficulties, it has been proved by the most abundant and convincing testimony to be an inevitable medicine.

It is used Internally and Externally.

BERKELEY, Sept., 1869.—Gentlemen, I feel it a duty I owe to you to express my gratitude for the great benefit I have derived by taking "Norton's Camomile Pills." I applied to your agent, Mr. Peal, Berkeley, for the above Pills, for wind in the stomach, from which I suffered excruciating pain for a length of time, having tried nearly every remedy prescribed, but without any benefit at all. After taking two bottles of your valuable pills, I was quite re- stored to my usual state of health. Please give this publicity for the benefit of those who may chance to be afflicted. LACHINE

Canal Enlargement.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sealed Tenders addressed to the Secretary of Public Works, and endorsed "Tender for the Lachine Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western mails on TUESDAY the Sixteenth day of September next, for the enlargement of this canal, consisting of the widening and deepen- ing of the channel from near the new basin east of Wellington Street bridge, upwards, to the river St. Lawrence at Lachine, embracing the construction of new locks at St. Gabriel and Côte St. Paul, also the taking down and re- building of the upper portions of the present locks at these places; building regulating weirs, culverts, bridge piers; the construction of a new entrance lock at Lachine, and the formation of a channel and basin on the south or river side of the existing entrance.

The works will be let in sections of the respective lengths indicated on a map of the line, which, together with plans and specifi- cations of the various works, can be seen at this office, and at the Lachine Canal Office, Montreal, on and after FRIDAY, the Third day of September next, at either of which places Printed forms of Tender can be obtained.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that Tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and—in the case of firms—except there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same; and further, an accepted bank cheque, or other available security, for the sum of from one to three thou- sand dollars, according to the extent of work on the section, must accompany each Tender, which shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines or fails

Local Intelligence.

HAVE you got one? If not buy a Magee heater at Esmondes'.

CITY COUNCIL.—There will be a regular meeting of the City Council held on Monday night.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Frank Gibson, advance agent for McEvoy's troupe has arrived in town and is staying at the Windsor House.

CHURCH COMMUNION.—The Sacrament of communion will be dispensed to-morrow in St. Andrew's Church. The preparatory services were held last night.

CRICKET.—The Ottawa Cricket Club left last night for Montreal, where they will play the cricket club of that city. They will return home again to-morrow morning.

CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION.—The Committee appointed to act in conjunction with the Advisory Board to prepare articles for exhibition at the forthcoming Centennial at Philadelphia meets this afternoon in the City Hall, at 3 o'clock.

THE NEW POST OFFICE.—The tower on the new Post Office has at last assumed something like the appearance of an established fact. The erection will be a most handsome one, and improve the appearance of the building greatly.

MAIN SEWER.—The material for beginning work on the Main Sewer in Upper Town, has been placed on Slater street in the vicinity of the skating rink. Work will be commenced in the early part of next week.

THE Esmondes' have doubled their staff of workmen this year to meet their customers' demands. 3935 tf.

OFF TO MICHIGAN.—Five men, who have held prominent positions in connection with the lumber trade of this district, left yesterday for Green Bay, Michigan, in pursuit of the same business. They were guaranteed $45 a month and their board before leaving the city.

FIRE ENGINE PRACTICE.—About five o'clock yesterday afternoon the "John Hope" steam fire engine was out for practice in the vicinity of the By Ward Market. The people thought there was a fire, but there wasn't. There was more water and bustle than anything else.

THE GEORGE STREET FIRE STATION.—The quarters of the men at the George street Fire Station have lately been greatly improved. Instead of having sleeping bunks, some iron bedsteads have been substituted, thereby greatly increasing the comfort of the members of the Brigade.

A DECIDED IMPROVEMENT.—A coating of blue clay and gravel out of the main sewer is being put on the sandy soil recently graded on St. Paul street, preparatory to being macadamized. This will make a permanent improvement on one of the most neglected streets in the city.

THE MAIN SEWER.—To anybody who takes an interest in the improvements now going on in the city, it would be interesting to take a walk down York street and see the progress at present being made in the construction of the main sewer. The place is a perfect hive of industry, and the work to be done is pretty hard to perform.

ALARM OF FIRE.—Some unknown hand pulled an alarm of fire yesterday afternoon from Box 32, corner of Rideau and Friel streets, causing the entire brigade to unnecessarily turn out. The key at Mr. McFarland's store was not used in ringing the alarm. Some person lacking discretion must be possessor of a key. Some measure, whereby keys would be given only to responsible men, should be adopted.

THE Gurney base burner is the best coal stove again this year. Only Esmondes have them.

EXHIBITION WEEK.—In order that there may be the most ample facilities given to visitors during exhibition week, to secure comfortable accommodation, the local committee have appointed a sub-committee, with the Hon. James Skead as chairman, to ascertain by actual canvass the facilities which can be afforded by the city, boarding houses, or private families for the lodgment of strangers and a central office will be chosen to disseminate the information. This, if well carried out, as no doubt it will be, will prove of great public convenience. The committee will meet to-day, or Monday, to make the necessary arrangements.

A STAGNANT POND.—There is a pool of stagnant water on the south side of Rideau street, between King and Nelson streets, that is a disgrace to civilization. Year after year this is allowed to remain, notwithstanding that the health officers are armed with the necessary authority to cause an abatement of such nuisances. A number of cases of typhoid fever of a fatal character have infested the locality which possibly owe their origin to this pestilence. People passing along this locality have complained since the recent heavy rains find the stench arising from this place exceedingly disagreeable. A visit from Health Inspector Brown might prove of some advantage to a long suffering community.

GOOD TEMPLARS.—A special meeting was held last night by the members of Elliott Temple, I. O. G. T., in their hall, Upper Town, for the purpose of presenting an address and testimonial to Sister Maggie Gibson, W. V. T., on her departure for the United States. The address, a very flattering and appropriate one, was read by Sister Jackson, and the testimonial, a beautiful lady's work box, was presented by Sister Wilson. Miss Gibson, in a manner suitable to the occasion, thanked the members for the kind expression of their feelings towards her, and seemed much affected at the thoughts of leaving those with whom she had so long been associated. It is a notable feature in the Temple the good will and friendship that prevails among its members (which are rapidly increasing) and the admirable order in which all its proceedings are carried out.

ANOTHER RUNAWAY.—At Eastman's Springs yesterday a horse driven by Mr. Ald. Heney, bolted and precipitated the last named gentleman out of the conveyance, but fortunately without injury either to the animal or the occupant of the vehicle.

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.—The throwing open of the High School free to the pupils seeking admission, has been fruitful of good results. Up to yesterday one hundred and twenty names were enrolled for the current term, just double the number which usually attended the institution.

THE FIRE SYSTEM.—Mr. Brunel, the Chief of the Telegraphic Fire Signal in Quebec, was in the city yesterday, and was conducted around the various stations. He expressed his opinion to the effect that the alarm system in the Capital was about the best in Canada. Mr. G. F. Medade showed him "how the wires were pulled."

DONATION OF A LIBRARY.—A Committee of the Enterprise Temple of Good Templars have selected sixty volumes to present the Directors of the Protestant Hospital, to aid them in the establishment of a library for the new institution. Thirty volumes are of a strictly temperance character, and the other thirty of a miscellaneous character. The presentation will take place on Tuesday next.

A SUCCESSFUL HUNT.—Mr. Coleman, Veterinary Surgeon, Mr. Wm Baldwin, of the Chaudiere, and one or two other gentlemen, went out to Cumberland yesterday for a deer hunt, and were pretty successful. They brought a fine fat buck home in one buggy last evening, and in the other was a young fawn, shot in a mistake by one of the party, who thought it was a fox. Deer are plentiful on the Beartrook this season.

MATRIMONIAL.—Mr. James Smith, of the City Post Office, and well known in connection with the cricket and base ball clubs of this city, was married on Wednesday evening last to Miss E. F. Brown niece of Mr. John Brown, of this city. He was the recipient of a handsome silver cruet stand, a silver butter cooler, a beautiful bronze clock, and several other costly articles from his associates in the Post Office. His cricketing friends accorded him similar favours. We wish the young couple much joy in their new sphere in life.

RUNAWAY.—As Mr. Ira Morgan, Warden of the County, and two other friends, were driving over the bridge last night, their buggy came in contact with another vehicle, costing them the loss of a wheel. One of the occupants of the carriage leaped out, just as the spirited animal they were driving started to run away, and Mr. Morgan and Mr. Cowan, County Treasurer, who remained in the vehicle, were thrown from it, when opposite the London Restaurant. The horse ran at full speed down Rideau Street, until captured near Mr. Coleman's veterinary stables. None of the party were very seriously injured. After the accident the buggy lay a total wreck opposite Mr. Bartlett's confectionery store.

THE BURNS' TRAGEDY.—The police after many days investigation of the alleged murder of the man Burns, have come to the conclusion that his death was brought about by his own hand. A diligent search has been made for the instruments by which the deed was committed, but without result, and it is now the opinion of the most experienced officers in the force that instead of a murder a suicide was perpetrated. No trace of any one has been found along the south side of York street, and the inference to be drawn from the fact of assertions having been made by him leads to the supposition that he took his own life. Further developments may be forthcoming after the deliberation of the coroner's jury on Monday.

DROWNING CASE.—A man named Eugene Cote, an employee in Bronson and Weseton's mill at the Chaudiere, was drowned the night before last in a mill pond in that vicinity. It would seem that after the shutting down of the mill at six o'clock, Cote feeling warm thought he would go in to bathe. The place selected was very deep water with a strong current, and by some unaccountable means he met with a watery grave in it. The body was not discovered that evening, but a search being instituted yesterday morning it was found very near the spot where he went in to bathe. The stoppings were put in at the source of the stream leading to the pond, which had the effect of making it run dry, when the body was found face downward in the bottom. He was removed to the house at the instigation of Coroner Corbett, who was to hold an inquest after he had returned from breakfast. Previous to this some person had sent for Coroner Beaubien who soon arrive and proceeded at once to hold an inquest. A jury having been duly sworn, returned a verdict of "accidental drowning." Dr. Corbett who arrived shortly after was about to hold a second inquest, but after some consideration abandoned this intention.

POLICE COURT.

Before M. O'GARA, P. M.

FRIDAY, Sept. 3rd.

Hector McLean was up for being drunk, for which he was mulcted in $2 and costs.

Thomas Lenihan, for disorderly conduct and wrestling with a policeman, was fined $5 and costs or go to gaol for two weeks.

No Humbug.

We do not wish to inform you, reader, that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures all diseases of mind, body, or estate, and is designed to make our sublunary sphere a blissful Paradise, to which Heaven itself shall be but a side show; but we do wish to inform you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has cured thousands of cases of Catarrh in its worst forms and stages. It may be procured by mail for sixty cents, by addressing R V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y. It is also sold by druggists.

A WALKING ADVERTISEMENT.

LIMESTONE SPRINGS, S. C.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

DEAR SIR,—I am a walking advertisement for your Golden Medical Discovery, Purgative Pellets, and Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, they having cured me of Catarrh of nine year's standing, which was so bad that it disfigured my nose, and, while curing it, your medicines also cured me of Asthma in its worst and most aggravated form. Before using your medicines I had become reduced in flesh from one hundred and fifty five to one hundred and fifteen pounds, and I now weigh one hundred and sixty-two pounds, and am in better health than I have enjoyed for twenty years.

Yours truly,
J. L. LUMSDEN.

The above is but a fair sample of hundreds of letters which are received by Dr. Pierce, and in the face of such evidence who can longer doubt that the Doctor's medicines cure the worst cases of Chronic Catarrh?

THE "WEED."

Written for the TIMES.

The nations war for nature few,
And I am glad, of whom to be;
But there's much mother's work to do
In either sex,
While fed not nature's own cook through,
And nature vex.

The ladies hides their gentle hearts
Must needs indulge in tea and tarts,
When water only best health imparts
They surely know.
But I find not grown at cooking arts
To smoke tobacco.

Some men there are so pure and wise,
The smoke assails their nose and eyes
And then to hear their doleful cries
About the weed,
And see their mortal groans arise
To save its life!

But sooner will despair's pale ray,
Oh! dear, cheer the wife complain,
Organic law transgressed again
By over much food;
That's one link in the temperate chain—
Mine is the weed.

A slender pipe—a piece enough,
As nature formed it in the rough
But pinch'd and squeezed in leathern stuff,
As save feet are;
In lieu of that a pinch of snuff
I much prefer.

Dominion of Canada Rifle Association.

The Rideau rifle ranges are now being put in order for the annual competition of the Dominion Rifle Association, which commences on Tuesday next, the 7th instant, and following days.

The ranges are completed with nine of the new "Bruuel Targets." The iron frames of the targets were manufactured for the Militia Department by Mr. Fleck, of Ottawa, and the embankments and other works on the ranges have been carried on under the superintendence of Mr. Mathews, contractor, Ottawa.

Mr. Bethune, Manager of the Montreal Telegraph Company, has kindly undertaken to lay a wire down the centre of the ranges, to connect the several firing points with the markers in the butts. Under the new system of signalling, a great saving of time will be effected.

The Montreal Telegraph Company will establish an office at the ranges during the days of the competition

The marking at the butts will be performed by men detailed from the Governor General's Foot Guards, Ottawa Field Battery and Brigade of Garrison Artillery, in charge of a non commissioned officer, the whole being under command of an officer, for discipline.

A regular camp will be formed, under command of the D. A. G. of this district. Meals and refreshments will be supplied on the ground, by a person duly authorized.

The arrangements of the competition will be carried out under the following staff of the association, viz:

STAFF OF THE ASSOCIATION.

Executive Committee of Council.—Lieut.-Col. Brunel, Lieut. Col. Wily, Director of Stores; Lieut.-Col. Chamberlain. C. M. G.; Lieut. Col. Ross, G. G. Foot Guards; Lieut. Col. Egleson, O.B.G.A.; Lieut. A large number of competitors from the several Provinces are expected to be present. Those from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick are now on the way, via Portland.

The competition will open on Tuesday, at 10 a.m., with the "All Comers Match."

DISTRICT NEWS.

From the Almonte Gazette.

LUMBER MILLS CLOSING.

It is reliably stated that the lumber mill of Mr. P. McLaren, Carleton Place, will shut down for the season on Saturday, the 14th inst. Over one hundred and fifty men will be thrown out of employment if the suspension takes place, which, if it does not on the day mentioned above, it must necessarily do at an early period. This cessation of the lumber business in Carleton Place, aggregated with that of Caldwell & Co., who closed a few weeks ago, upon which the monetary interests of the town depend to a large extent, will, coupled with the already lethargic times, create a vacuum in the commercial prospects of the place, that an unusually prosperous year following will be necessary to fill.

A SHARPER'S DODGE.

An Ottawa sharper, who has been going around this vicinity lately purchasing farmers' produce, played an old swindling game on a farmer last week. The sharper, it seems, had cut a corner off two five dollar bills and pasted them on a one dollar bill, thus making it look like V. This was passed on the farmer, who soon after discovered the fraud, and seeking the perpetrator of it, found him, and made him hand over the correct amount; and then perfectly satisfied to have got his money back foolishly allowed the swindler to escape without making an effort to have him arrested. We would warn farmers and others to be on the lookout for this sharper, as it is unsurmisable how many more such like pranks he may play on the unsuspecting.

BUSH FIRES.

A great many large bush fires are now raging in the surrounding vicinity. No damage has as yet been done by them, but should the present dry weather continue much longer it is not altogether improbable that we may have a little "Chicago" before the present month is over.

GOLD MEDAL.

Mr. Wm. Todd, Almonte, won the first prize at quoits—a gold medal presented by the Hon. Mr. Skead—at the late Caledonia games, Ottawa. The medal was received by Mr. Todd a few days ago, having been left in Ottawa to be engraved. The design is very handsome and the execution excellent.

SICKNESS.

The medical men of Carleton Place report a great amount of sickness prevailing in that vicinity at present, but say the sick are now nearly all convalescent. Typhoid fever and Canadian cholera are the leading epidemics.

PERSONAL.

Mr. John McBostie and daughter, Carleton Place, returned home on Monday last, after a few months' visit to Scotland. Mr. John McLean, of Carleton Place, returned home on Monday, after making a tour of the Dominion and the United States, touching at the prominent towns on his route, such as Gananoque, &c.

CHEQUERS.

Three gentlemen from Perth—Messrs. Robt. Lochead, A. McArthur and Harry Glenn—visited Almonte on Wednesday, to play chequers with an equal number of Almonters. The principal interest was in the games between Messrs. Lochead, of Perth, and Capt. McDougall, of Rosebank—both excellent players. About a dozen games were played by these two—Capt McDougall coming off victorious in all but the last, which was a draw.

FACTORY ABOUT TO CLOSE.

The woollen factory of Teskey Bros., Appleton village, will cease operations in about two weeks for a short time, while some necessary alterations are made. It is, however, the firm conviction of the employees, who, as a whole, generally know as much, if not more, of their master's business than himself, that the mill will not commence operations until business revives, and the general mercantile depression has passed over.

ONLY A RUMOR.

It has been the prevailing opinion for the past week, and one entertained by the mill owners themselves, that it would be impossible to run the factories beyond a few days more, and that operations would have to be discontinued until there would be a change in trade for the better. We are, nevertheless, happy to inform our readers that the factories will not close, as thought by all parties, but will continue to run on full time, as business has revived sufficiently to enable the mill owners to proceed with their work with their usual vigor.

LADIES OVERTURNED.

On Saturday evening last two young ladies named Tait, and their brother, while sitting in a spring waggon near the Post Office, Carleton Place, came near being seriously injured. The horse, through some unaccountable agency, took fright and madly dashed up the road at a terrific pace. The waggon was soon overturned and the occupants hurled violently on the road. Several parties, who had witnessed the mishap, rushed to the assistance of the accidentalists, who were picked up more frightened than hurt, although one of the young ladies received a black eye by her fall, and her companions received a few slight bruises.

A SUBSTITUTE FOR HOG'S LARD.

Several days ago a number of Almonters were camped out on an island in the vicinity of Appleton village for the purpose of fishing and hunting and having a roaring old time, as the phrase goes, generally. Large quantities of fish were caught, and one evening several of the hunters having returned after scouring the river for ducks naturally felt as if their stomachs thought their throats were cut. The famished hunters therefore thought a repast of fried fish would make an excellent meal for them and immediate preparations were made to cook several of the finny tribe with all the culinary skill possible and to do this it was necessary to have some grease to cook them with. A large piece of lard was in the pork basket from which it was drawn with acclamations of joy. The lard was sputtering in the pan with the fish, and eventually the fish were declared thoroughly cooked and several of the hungry Nimrods sat down to enjoy the piscatorial feast, amid roars of laughter from some of their companions, who refused to partake of the fish, declaring themselves to have dined too hearty a short time previous to eat any more. The hunters who were partaking of the meal appeared, however, to be able to dispose of all that had been cooked, saying during the meal that they had never had such a delicious fish before. To the horror of the parties who were dining the fish were all eaten before the hunters were satisfied, so in order to do as full justice to the repast as possible two of them licked the plates. Judge, however, of their extreme surprise and disgust when they learned from some of their companions that instead of the fish having been cooked in lard, as they supposed, that they had been fried in some white soap, which one of the party with an eye to cleanliness had brought with him to wash his hands and face. As for the fraud not having been discovered by the parties who dined, may perhaps be attributed to some very strong "tea" of which they had drank plentifully both before and during the repast. None of the soap eaters will ever, it is thought, be put to the expense of purchasing emetics when sick, as the words "soap and fish," has even a more telling effect on their stomachs than even ipecacuanha.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

From the Arnprior Review.

Yesterday at noon while Mr. George R. Ryan, merchant of this town, was cooking a bottle of ammonia, the liquid, having through the agitation to which it was subjected, got into a violent state of effervescence, discharged the cork with a loud report, when the volatile ammonia exploding with great force struck Mr. Lyon in the face, nearly blinding one eye, entering his mouth burned his tongue and throat in a shocking manner. Mr. Lyon was almost suffocated with the powerful draught, and remained gasping for over a minute before he could recover breath. The injury to the eye causes intense pain, but we are glad to learn that there is hope of having the sight preserved and unimpaired.

BURNED.

From the Pembroke Observer.

On Tuesday evening, about three o'clock, the barn and all the out buildings belonging to Mr. Wm. Hodgins, of Thorne—who keeps hotel on the Government Road leading to the Pickanock—were entirely destroyed by fire. The fire is said to have originated from a match on which the proprietor tramped, and which had fallen from his pocket while cleaning out one of the buildings. This season's crop not being housed fortunately makes the loss much lighter than it might otherwise have been. We have not learned whether the premises were insured.

Remedies.

Borthwick Springs.

A limited number of boarders can be accommodated at the Borthwick Springs. Invalids wishing to avail themselves of the benefits to be derived from the use of the best Mineral Water on the Continent, and parties wishing to spend a few weeks in the country should visit these Springs.

Comfortable quarters at moderate charges, fitted with all necessary requirements for

SHOWER AND OTHER BATHS.

Pure country air and freedom from excitement give the patient the benefit of hygienic results impossible to be obtained elsewhere. The attention of the reader is particularly directed to the fact that this Mineral water loses none of its virtues by keeping or transportation, and that where freely taken by those in good health, health continues. By invalids who cannot visit the Springs the water can be as well used in their own houses, whilst its low cost places it within the reach of all.

Delivered to all parts of the city in 3 gallon jars, at 10 cts. per gallon; in 30 gallon barrels at $2.50 each, barrels extra. For conveyance to the Springs and other information, apply to Invalids! Attention!

Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Digestive Organs, Dropsy, Diseases of the Skin, Affections of the Liver and Urinary Organs are positively cured by using the water for a few weeks
Rheumatics! Read!
Hundreds of Rheumatics have been cured by the Sulphur Baths. Suffering is alleviated by the lame, and cripples throw away their crutch after about half-a-dozen baths.
TESTIMONIALS.
"Montreal, 28th July, 1876.
"I hereby certify that I entertain a very favorable opinion of the Baths and Waters of the Caledonia Springs in many forms of disease, among which I would especially mention chronic Rheumatism, the Stigmelus of Gout, Neuralgia, some of the varieties of Cutaneous disease, Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, and in carefully selected cases, some of the diseases of the Kidney and Bladder.
(Signed) GEO. W. CAMPBELL, A.M., M.D.
Dean of the Medical Faculty, McGill College.
Dr. Wm. Robertson, of Montreal, wrote as follows, in 1859:—"But the disease above all in which the action of the water is most decided is Rheumatism. * * * I have known a few individuals who suffered much from improper use of mercury who were restored to health by the use of the waters.
ACCOMMODATIONS.
A magnificent new hotel, capable of accommodating 300 guests, will be opened on June 1st for the accommodation of visitors. The grounds have been improved and beautified, and every means for amusement and exercise provided. The trip thither by the Ottawa River is most enjoyable, and a railroad from the river to the Springs is in course of construction. Until the railroad is built, comfortable carriages will be in waiting at the wharf for the convenience of visitors to the Springs. The distance of the Springs from Montreal and Ottawa respectively is 80 and 50 miles.
Mr. W. CHAMPNESS will open a good Livery Stable, providing good carriages, horses, saddles, &c. There is a good race-course on the property of the Company.
The PANACEAN WATERS of these Springs will yet make Caledonia the greatest resort in the world for health and pleasure seekers. Thousands of testimonials might be procured, but the reputation of the Springs renders it unnecessary to go so.

ONTARIO NORMAL SCHOOLS,
TORONTO AND OTTAWA.
These Schools—established for the training of First and Second-class Teachers in the Public Schools—will open at nine o'clock, a.m., on Wednesday, the 15th September next, when all candidates for admission are expected to present themselves at the respective schools. None can be received after Thursday, the 16th September.
The Session will continue until the 15th July, 1876, with vacation from the third Wednesday in December to the second Tuesday in January, and from the Wednesday before to the Tuesday after Easter inclusive.
A prospectus has been published containing the subjects of the Entrance Examination, the General Regulations, and the course of study. Applications for the prospectus, and for admission at Toronto, are to be made to the Education Office, and at Ottawa to the Principal of the Ottawa Normal School.
AYTON GREEN,
August 19, 1875. Secretary.

Hon. W. B. Vail, Minister of Militia, has returned from his recent visit to the Maritime Provinces.

His Worship Mayor Featherstone sailed from Liverpool on Thursday last, so that his arrival home may be early looked for.

The latest news from Varennes respecting the condition of the Hon. Mr. Geoffrion seem to indicate a convalescence from his recent severe illness.

The many friends of Mr. Senator Brown will be pleased to learn that he passed Father Point yesterday in the steamer Moravian, en route from Liverpool to Quebec.

Mr. F. Braun, Secretary of the Department of Public Works, who has been acting as Secretary to the Baie Verte Canal Commission, returned to the city on Saturday.

The Department of Public Works granted on Saturday last the necessary authority to carry the main sewer in course of construction in this city through the Government Reserve at the Rideau Canal Basin.

Tenders for the extension of the Western Block were opened a week from Saturday last. There were a large number of them, we believe, and it is understood that the prices were lower than was anticipated. Now that Mr. Scott, chief architect, has returned, no time will be lost in taking them into consideration.

The Hon. Letellier St. Just returnep to the city from his tour in the North-West, yesterday morning accompanied by Mr. Gerand. The hon. gentlemen looks hale and hearty after his absence, and gives a most favourable account of the country he passed through. He is of opinion that for the production of wheat it cannot be surpassed, and he predicts a most prosperous future for both the Province of Manitoba and those who settle therein. The stay of the Minister of Agriculture in Manitoba extended over fifteen days, during which he visited the principal localities in the Province, inspecting the lands and works, taking information about the grasshopper devastation and other subjects of interests. Mr. Letellier and party left Fort Garry on Friday 27th ult., at noon by special conveyance, and came by the South side of Red River, viewing the line of railraod from Winnipeg to Pembina now under construction by Mr. Joseph Whitehead. Arrival at Pembina was made on Saturday night. The following morning they took the steamer Selkirk and arrived at the Grand Forks on Monday night. On Wednesday morning Fargo on the Northern Pacific Railway was reached after which the journey was by rail, arriving here yesterday morning.

Local Intelligence.

POLICE INSPECTION.—Chief Langrell will inspect the police force this evening, at 5 o'clock.

THE Esmondes' have doubled their staff of workmen this year to meet their customers' demands. 3935 tf.

DOMINION RIFLE MATCH.—The rifle meeting under the auspices of the Dominion Rifle Association, commences to-morrow morning, at the Rideau Rifle Ranges. It promises to be a success, as there are a number of crack riflemen in the city from different parts of the Dominion.

THE SMALL-POX HOSPITAL.—A meeting is spoken of as likely to take place this evening to receive the report of the gentlemen who went to Toronto, to obtain legal advice respecting the Small-pox Hospital, now in course of erection on Sandy Hill. It is said that a site can be had across the Rideau for the sum of $4,000 that will answer all the purposes of such an institution.

THE PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS.—The coping on the eastern portion of the terrace wall in front of the Parliament Buildings has been almost completed, and it is really a very handsome piece of work. The grounds are vastly improved by the building of the wall, and the general clearing up of the chaos which existed there until lately. Yesterday quite a large number of persons visited the place, and expressed their approval of what had been done.

DEATH OF A STALLION.—The well known stallion "Percheron," owned by Mr. Francis McKenna, of Murray, died on Saturday last, in Coleman's veterinary stables in this city, of inflammation of the bowels. He was a very valuable animal, and the owner will lose considerably, owing to his neglect in effecting an insurance on his life. Mr. Coleman did all in his power to save the horse's life, but without avail. He was entered for general purposes at the forthcoming Provincial Exhibition.

EMMANUEL CHURCH SOCIAL.—The ladies of Emmanuel Church will hold a social to-morrow evening in the basement hall of Knox Church, Elgin street. The chief object of the social is to give the members and friends of Emmanuel Church an opportunity of meeting with Bishop Cummins in social intercourse. Addresses will be given during the evening by the Bishop and by clergymen of the city. Tickets can be had at the bookstores on Sparks street, and at the door on the evening of the entertainment. 3936i2

THE EXHIBITION GROUNDS.—Yesterday a large number of persons visited the Exhibition Grounds, and not a few of them were astonished at the rapid progress made within the last few days towards the completion of the various buildings. The main structure has a most imposing appearance, and is probably the most handsome and commodious of any of its class in the Dominion, reflecting great credit upon the taste and ingenuity of the architect, Mr. Mather. The grounds now, instead of being as they once were, an eyesore, are an ornament to the locality.

CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE.—There was no meeting of the committee appointed to act in connection with the Advisory Board of Ontario in the preparation of products for the proposed Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia next year. The injuries received by Mr. Ira Morgan the night before, together with the funeral of Mrs. C. R. Wright in Hull, had the effect of preventing the leading men interested from being present. A formal adjournment took place in consequence until to-morrow (Tuesday) the 7th inst., at the same time and place as previously announced. It is to be hoped there will be a good attendance to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the City Hall.

PROTESTANT HOSPITAL.—The visitors this week are: Directors, Messrs. Ira Morgan and Zach. Wilson; clergy: Revs. Archdeacon Lauder and Rev. J. G. Sanderson; physician, P. A. McDougal.

BAPTIST CHURCH.—The Rev. A. A. Cameron, who has been away on a tour west since his recent severe illness, returned to town on Saturday. He officiated yesterday, both morning and evening, in the Baptist Church, to the great joy of his congregation.

THE POLICE CELLS.—There will be a pretty heavy calendar to be disposed of by the Police Magistrate this morning. The pugilists and drivers, inebriated and disorderly characters, will make their bows before the tribunal, so much, probably, to the benefit of the city coffers.

LACROSSE MATCH.—On Saturday afternoon a lacrosse match was played on Cartier Square between the "Shamrock" Club of Ottawa and the "Star" of Hull, which was won by the former in three straight games. The Hull men had among their team four or five Indians, but they were not such experienced players, and lacked the training of the "Shamrocks." Hence the easy victory of the latter.

CALEDONIA SPRINGS RACES.—The entries for the races at Caledonia Springs, which commence on Wednesday next, have been most satisfactorily filled, and the Secretary, Mr. W. H. Aumond, is perfectly satisfied with the success he has met with in this particular. The meeting promises to be a good one, and in order that intending visitors may not be disappointed in either being late for the sport or obtaining accommodation they had better "take time by the forelock," and go down by the Tuesday evening boat. Mr. Goudin has made ample provision for the crowd which is sure to be there, and if the weather only proves fine, a most enjoyable time may be looked forward to.

THE Gurney base burner is the best coal stove again this year. Only Esmondes have them.

RETURN OF THE GUARD'S RIFLE TEAM.—Most of the members of the Governor General's Foot Guards' team returned to the city on Saturday morning, but it was not generally known that such was the fact. Accordingly in the evening the band of the regiment turned out and marched to the station in order to do honour to their successful comrades. As the train came alongside the platform, the only gentleman belonging to the team who alighted was Major White, the winner of the Elkington Cup. He was warmly congratulated upon his success, and the band played two or three selections for the delectation of the crowd assembled. The gallant major tendered his acknowledgements for the honour done to him, and then retired to his home.

BAZAAR FOR THE CONVENT OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD.—It has been long known to the majority of the citizens of Ottawa that a bazaar in aid of the institution conducted by the Sisters of the Good Shepherd has been in course of preparation. It will open on Monday, 6th September, in the Temperance Hall. The object of this charity must recommend itself to the patronage and support of the humane and benevolent. It is an appeal on behalf of the most helpless, because the most abandoned and condemned class of our fellow beings. "The widows and the orphans, the aged and decrepit, the poor and destitute can tell their own tale of distress to a sympathizing public, or it can be told in their behalf by some eloquent advocate. It is heard, and the many charitable institutions which have sprung, as it were by magic, tell how effectually. But, alas! for the poor victim of misfortune, as for the most part of man's depravity and perfidy, who is to plead her cause, who to tell her tale of sorrow and of misery? Surely their own sex will compassionate such, at least, among their fellow ones as desire to forsake the way of vice and sin, and lead a better life. What more glorious picture could be presented for the admiration of mankind, than the poor maiden or virtuous matron stooping to lift up and console and encourage those penitent Magdalenes. Such was one of the noblest lessons of charity taught by a merciful Redeemer. May it find a happy realization during the Good Shepherd Bazaar. It is hoped that every lady, irrespective of creed, for the sister's harbour, and without regard to religious belief, will visit the Bazaar, and contribute her mite and patronage towards the reformation of her erring sisters.

THE BIRKETT BURGLARY CASE.
Trial of the Burglar—His Conviction—Sent Down to the Assizes.

Napoleon Lahaise, who was taken from Montreal the other day by Detective Hamilton as one of the parties interested in the recent Sussex street burglaries, was arraigned before the Police Magistrate on Saturday morning last. The following evidence was elicited relative to the affair:—
JAMES BIRKETT, sworn:—My shop was broken into about the 1st of August, and nineteen revolvers and about ten boxes of cartridges, also a case of razors, three brandy flasks, and three or four dozen of penknives taken away; (the ten revolvers brought from Montreal with Lahaise were now identified by Mr. Birkett as his property); I do not know where the property was found, but was told that it was found in Montreal.
P. C. PINARD, sworn:—Had a conversation with the prisoner yesterday concerning the revolvers, and he told me that they were taken the same night that Chevrier's was broken into, and given to him by his brother and Hogg; he said they were given to him on the railway track; his brother told him where they got the stuff; the prisoner also stated that they had sold seven or eight of the revolvers. He said he did not know that the robbery was to be committed, but that they told him to wait on the railway track until they brought him some stuff; he said he took the property to Montreal.
P. C. MCKENNA, sworn:—Found the property of Mr. Birkett now produced with Detective Cinq Mars in Montreal on the 28th of last month; the prisoner said nothing to me concerning the burglary, but I understood that he admitted the offence; at the time he was arrested he had a full suit of clothes belonging to Mr. Chevrier.
This closed the evidence, and the prisoner was sent down to stand his trial at the next Assizes.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.
RUSSELL HOUSE.—J Toison, J H Douglas, W D Gilleou, W B Chapman, R J Devlin, John F Nott, R B Hutchison, Montreal; F Shanley, Toronto; Hon T Fournier, Quebec; George W Pierce, Boston: David Bell and Miss Bell, Pembroke; Hon H B Vail, Halifax; W Lucas Shedwell, England; Hon D McDonald, Toronto; Fred Wild, Wm Moffatt, Toronto; John McBean, Chicago.

WHITEHALL.
A $50,000 Fire.
WHITEHALL, N.Y., Sept. 5.—An incendiary fire occurred at Fort Ann this morning, causing a loss of $50,000 which was only partially insured. The losers are Clements Brown & Co., dry goods; Wm. Crosby, groceries; Griffin, harness shop; Finch, Babcock & Co., dry goods; Hall & Co., bankers, and Wm. Brown, dwelling. $30,000.

TELEGRAPHIC.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.
Commercial Items.
LONDON, Sept. 6.—To-days Times in its financial column says the firmness of the market is continued, and of the discount business done at the market rate a large part of the bills were negotiated at a higher figure. Coin is steady. The deliveries of English and foreign wheat continue heavy. The provincial markets are mostly firm, with occasionally an advance in prices. The Hungarian wheat crop is said to be disappointing, but owing to the late harvest there may be still some of that crop available for export. There is little further news regarding foreign crops. The market is without change. The sugar market continues degressed, and prices tending downwards.
The Carlist War—The Belgrade Affair.
LONDON, Sept. 5.—It is reported that an English steamer had succeeded in landing at Motrico a large cargo of war material for Carlists, including four pieces of artillery, 5,000 rifles, and 100 cases of cartridges.
A despatch from Constantinople states information has been received from Belgrade by the Turkish Government, and by foreign embassies, which removes all apprehensions that Servia will, by her conduct, add to the complication of the Hersegovinian question. A solid agreement between the powers and Servian Government has been effected at Belgrade, owing to the pressure brought to bear by the representations of the former. Servia undertakes to restrain the party of action within her borders.
A Strike at an End
The strike at Oldham has ended, the terms of the operatives having been accepted, and work in the mills will be resumed to-morrow.

TURKEY.
The Insurrection—Submission of Rebels.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 5.—Sevia Pasha in a telegraphic despatch dated Mostar, to-day, says that many insurgents have submitted, and the agitation is greatly allayed. The Imperial troops have been traversing all parts of the country for several days without meeting with resistance. He believes order will be restored before the Foreign Consuls begin their work of mediation.

SERVIA.
More Insurrections.
BELGRADE, Sept. 5.—An insurrectionary movement is reported in the neighborhood of Gradeschetz, Bosnia, instigated by bands of Servians. It is reported that whole districts on the south eastern frontier of Bosnia are rising.

HAVANA.
Burnings, Desertions, and Murders Trouble Ahead.
HAVANA, Sept. 5.—A letter of last Monday says some half dozen coffee estates have been burned, and the men who garrisoned one of the largest has deserted and joined the insurgents. The recent murder in cold blood of a French citizen in Guartarannas by Spanish soldiers has caused the French consul at Santiago to send to Martinique for a war vessel, and the British consul there as also sent for a war vessel flying the English flag. The Frenchman's name was Regandeau, and he was killed near his sugar estate, his body being left in the road.

AMERICAN.

NEW YORK.
A Heavy Burglary.
WARSAW, N.Y., Sept. 5.—At 3 o'clock this morning three masked burglars entered the house of Mr. Jas. Bloodgett at Hermitage, Wyoming County, and after a desperate struggle with the burglars Mr Bloodgett was overcome. The thieves decamped with $12,000. The Sheriff is on their track.
A Meeting of Bishops.
NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—The presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church has called a special meeting of the House of Bishops at Grace Church, N.Y., October 28th, at ten o'clock, to elect missionary bishops for Africa and China, and receive the report of the Mexican commission.
Another Failure.
George Burgess & Co., dealers in Scotch linen goods, suspended. They will pay fifty cents on the dollar. The creditors are all in Scotland, and the amount of their liabilities are unknown.
Threatened Outbreak on Blackwell's Island.
The Commissioners of Charities have ordered an extra force of watchmen for duty on Blackwell's Island, in order to prevent an outbreak of the criminals threatened, because of the brutalities of the keepers there.
Charlie Ross Again.
A despatch from Philadelphia states a Mrs. Cummins has letters from a lady friend in Arkansas, who says there is a strange boy out there who answers the description of Charlie Ross, and says his name is Charlie.
More Jesse Pomeroy Outrages.
Some horrible outrages have been recently perpetrated on little children in North Bergen and the woods near Hoboken by a couple of boys of the Jesse Pomeroy stamp. One of them was arrested and brought before the court yesterday, and remanded for examination before a grand jury. A large number of young men scoured the woods to day in search of the other.

ALBANY.
The Dennison, Belden & Co. Case, and a Pardon asked for Stokes.
ALBANY, Sept. 5.—The affidavits and complaint upon which Judge West-Brook granted an order of arrest against Dennison, Belden & Co., and also the papers in the proceedings against Thaddeus C. Davis, were filed this afternoon in the County Clerk's office. A petition for the pardon of Edward S. Stokes has been sent to Governor Tilden.

WASHINGTON.
Judicial Appointment.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Ex-Governor Wells, the recently appointed United States Attorney for the District of Columbia, took the oath of office to-day, thus relieving ex-Judge Fisher. H. H. Wells, jr., was appointed Assistant.

SPRINGFIELD.
An Incendiary Blaze.
SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 6th.—An incendiary fire which broke out in the carriage factory of John Ockington, South Deerfield, on Saturday, destroyed, beside the factory, the livery stable of Frank Warren, the Bloody Brook House, owned by C. P. Alduch, and Hayden's Hotel with barns attached, and the residence of Loren Hayden, while two or three other buildings were considerably damaged. Total loss estimated at $60,000, insurance about $30,000.

TORONTO.
O. R. A. Matches—Found Dead—Drowned—Regatta—Lacrosse Match—Unfounded Rumour—St. Phillip's Church.
TORONTO, Sept. 5.—The Ontario Rifle Association Matches were concluded yesterday. A strong wind was blowing the whole day and firing in consequence was scarcely up to the mark. The cavalry match did not come off. The following are the principal scores in the small bore matches: 1st stage fired at 700 800 and 900 yards, five rounds at each, G. Murrison, 4 Victoria, R. C. Hamilton, 54; Corp. Albert, R. C., 53; 2nd stage, at 1,000 yards, 7 rounds, Maj., Gibson, Victoria R. C. 24; Capt. Masson, Victoria, 22; Capt. Gibson, 21; G. Murrison 2 R. C. 21.
A match between the officers of the staff, 200 and 300 yards, resulted in Sergt. Otter, Q. O. R. winning, with a score of 31; Sergt. O'Brien next, 29. A match between nine of the Toronto and the victors of Hamilton rifle club, was won by the former, with 450 to the latter's 436.
James Stewart, teamster, was found yesterday, at midday, lying in the road near Danville, dead. He had been sent to take some horses to be shod, and while on his return must have dropped down and died at once.
A young man named R. Dennis, a drover, was bathing in the pond in Buckfield, when he took cramps and was drowned.
Yorkville expects to have her new water works finished by the end of October. They are to cost $50,000, and will be entirely independent of the city.
The yacht club regatta, which commences to-morrow in the bay, promises, the wind and weather favourable, to be a big affair. There are six entries for the champion flag, eight for the Prince of Wales Cup, five for the second class yachts and seven for sloops.
The lacrosse match for the championship of Ontario yesterday was won by the Toronto club in 2nd, 3rd, and 4th games, the Ontarios winning 1st. The play was very good on both sides.

SAN FRANCISCO.
The Bank Failure—A Dishonest Manager.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—T. O. Mills authorizes the statement that the defalcation of the late President of the Bank of California will amount to between three and four millions of dollars, and that an over issue of stock has been discovered additional, and will be furnished later. It is not supposed that this will in any way prejudice arrangements made with the bank.
The Bank and the Mint.
It has been reported that the Bank of California was largely indebted to the U. S. Mint here. The bank has been refining for the Mint, and it is supposed the indebtedness was incurred through that channel. The Superintendent of the Mint says to-day that on the contrary the Mint owes the bank $125,000, payable on demand.
The Bulletin publishes an editorial on Saturday evening in which after referring to the course of that paper with regard to the Bank of California and Mr. Ralston, it says, "when the Bank suspended last week, we thought it our duty to protect as far as possible the depositors and all creditors of that institution, we published just so many facts as we believed would best serve that purpose and no more. We then said that the failure was owing to mismanagement of the late president, and that this mismanagement was without any knowledge of the directors. We were in possession of facts which we could not state, because we were most anxious that the directors should if possible contrive some way of extricating themselves. The directors have perfected their plans, and have settled on a basis of action whereby every creditor of the bank will be fully paid. We have full confidence both in the ability and good faith of these men, that they will redeem their pledge, and may ultimately make the bank stronger than it was on the day on which it was suspended. It was time that the bulletin should be relieved from the secrets which it has been abused

OTTAWA, MONDAY, SEPT. 6, 1875.

BRITAIN'S GLORY.—IS IT ON THE DECLINE?

The question above expressed is one which a great many patriotic Englishmen have put to themselves, discussed with others, and written about with a good deal of anxiety, and sometimes with a good deal of misgiving. It is not to be denied that there are some facts—facts which come prominently to the front when any inquiry of this kind is instituted—which would lead to the conclusion that the decline of the British star, if it has not actually begun, is at least imminent. In the first place, there is the precedent set by the great empires of the past, every one of them exercising in the hey-day of its glory an influence similar in many respects, and quite as overwhelming, as was ever exercised by Albion. And yet what is there left of them? Not even in several instances, the ruins of their glory, and but a bare record at best of a few of the great deeds by which their history was distinguished! It is but natural, say the savants, that the modern counterpart of these nations should also similarly decline. What is regarded as another sign of this delusion, or at any rate of its approach, is the pacific policy which Great Britain has of late years uniformly maintained in her relations with Foreign Powers. Indeed, so far had she carried this policy, that there were amongst her own people who professed to believe, as there were many of other countries who would have rejoiced to be able to believe, that nothing would induce her to enter the lists again except it were in self defence, and that even then she would prove incapable of maintaining the prestige of arms. Another and more practical set of men began to count the years when the home supply of coal must give out, and then, they said, the manufacturing interests by which the British people have not only maintained themselves but ruled the commerce of the world, must also fade away, and by the very force of circumstances fall into other hands. The increase in the cost of production, the deviation of trade to other sources in consequence of strikes, and various other phases of the existing condition of things are also pointed to as subsidiary forces which are assisting in bringing about the great crisis. Of course there is another side to the question. Discarding the peace at any price theory as impracticable, there is yet a large number of people who have come to the conclusion—and we think after the most logical course of reasoning—that having won all the laurels on the field of battle which any nation could desire, Britain will next become the pioneer of a peaceful system of settling international difficulties, and thus obtain and maintain a pre-eminence far more glories than when accustomed to demand respect and obedience at the bayonet's point or the cannon's mouth; although still prepared to adopt such means when absolutely necessary. The exhaustion of the coal supply of the British Isles, a very problematical thing at the nearest, is yet a far way in the distance, and it may well be doubted, in view of the progress of scientific discovery, whether they will not in the near future be much less demand upon that supply than heretofore. But should the worst come to the worst, we have an abundant supply of coals in Canada, which will probably not be exhausted till the sands of time have themselves run out—a supply which would provide for all the necessities of this and the mother country, and if it did enrich Canada, so much the better, for are we not a portion of the British Empire too? As to the decline of the great nations of the past the causes that conspired to bring about that end are not at work amongst us. There is much that is rotten in our social system, and a great deal of sham morality and religion, but it is no exaggeration to say that there is less of either now than at any previous period—certainly less open and defiant criminality,—and that the British possessions, Imperial and Colonial, stand better in those respects than any other country under the face of the earth.

To those citizens of foreign countries who visit Britain with a desire to see the effects as they stand, with as little prejudice in favour of their own land as possible, this is quite apparent. Mr. Horace White, of the Chicago Tribune, whose predilections as a journalist are anti-British of anything, has recently been on a European tour, where he has had the opportunity of studying the conditions not only of Great Britain, but of all the leading Powers; and he admits that experience has had a most salutary effect upon his ideas regarding the comparative merits of their military systems, and their ability to maintain their particular standing in the council of nations. He confesses that Britain's standing army amounts to nothing; but then he is convinced she needs none. She maintains some 40,000 men in actual training, because she occasionally wants them to frighten some refractory savage potentate whose territory adjoins a British colony, or for police duty at home. Notwithstanding that Italy with its population of nearly 27,000,000 has a standing army of 40,000, and France with its 30,000,000, and Russia with its 71,000,000 have each a standing army of over a million; Mr. White declares it as his profound conviction that Britain, in any great emergency, could raise more troops to her population than either of them, and none could maintain those troops so long. No other country in the world, he asserts, would submit more cheerfully to a draft if one were needed, "because no other people hold the law-making and the law-executing power so securely in their hands." Nobody, he says, can mix with the British people on their own soil, without feeling that in spirit and tenacity they are the same people that fought with Cromwell, Marlborough, Wellington and Nelson. The British form of Government he regards as more republican in reality than that of the United States; there is no trammelling by a term of office, no undue fencing round of the executive, and a Government only remains in power while it gives satisfaction. This tribute, hearty and not over-coloured as it is, from the pen of a not too favourably disposed critic, must be reassuring to every patriotic British heart. But he goes further, and contrasts the costly uselessness of the immense standing armies of the continent with the inexpensive and comparatively useful army of Britain. In the former case, he is of opinion that if the expense necessary to the maintenance of such vast armaments is not sapping the strength of the several countries in which they prevail they are at least most successfully preventing that rapid accumulation of wealth which is so characteristic a feature of British colonization. If a stranger is thus forcibly struck with the immense inherent power of the British nation, and thus calculates the efforts that nation is capable of making if roused to action, it is hard to see why the sons of the soil should despair. There are several other features of the British people as they are to be seen on British territory at the present day which Mr. White regards as of vast importance to the intelligent discussion of Britain's standing and power, which are worthy of notice in a separate article.

THE INUNDATIONS IN FRANCE

When news reached this city of the devastations caused in portions of the south western district of France, through the overflowing of the Rhone, the gravity of the situation there was at once realised by those amongst us who happened to be acquainted with the district in question, and to remember the misery which resulted from the same cause some few years since. Mr. F. Boncorps, a Parisian gentleman connected with the Architect's branch of the Department of Public Works, at once interested himself in devising means for raising here subscriptions for the relief of the sufferers, and a little committee of workers having been formed, they were successful in obtaining in a comparatively short time a sum of $105.61, as appears from the following letter. Much credit is due M. Boncorps and his associates for their prompt and energetic action in this matter. If their efforts in this city have not, however, met with that success which the cause so eminently deserved, the shortcoming should, we imagine, be attributed to neglect in taking proper measures rather than to unwillingness on the part of the citizens to subscribe. The following is the letter of the committee to the French Consul in Quebec:—

OTTAWA, Sept. 4, 1875.

THE FRENCH CONSUL, QUEBEC.

M. LE CONSUL:—When news reached us of the misery caused in our common country, France, through the inundations which have lately taken place there, I considered it my duty to at once make an appeal to the well known generosity of the people of Ottawa and Hull in aid of the sufferers. I regret to say that the people of Ottawa have been slow in responding to our call. The citizens of Hull, however, organized a committee under the presidency of Mr. C. Delude, with Mr. E. Lemays as Secretary, both of whom, as well as myself, sign this; and by means of a collection in church, a private subscription, and a theatrical soiree, we have been successful in raising $105 61, which we send you herewith for transmission to Madame la Marechale MacMahon, the benevolent patroness of the organization in France for the relief of the sufferers, to be applied as Her excellency may think fit.

When we consider the almost complete stagnation in very many branches of industry, and the general commercial depression under which we labour, it will be acknowledged that the people of Hull have exhibited a noble proof of heartfelt sympathy for those of their dear France in making so creditable an effort in their behalf.

Please acknowledge receipt, and believe me as well as the undersigned,

F. BONCARPS, (Organizer.)
C. DELUDE, President.
E. LEMAYS, Secretary.

NOTICES.

The Secretary of State gives notice of the incorporation of the Bay of Quinte and Oswego Navigation Company.

Notice is given of an application for letters of incorporation for the "People's Darning Machine Company," for manufacturing and selling Hosmer's darning machines and other machines for household use throughout the Dominion of Canada, and for establishing in the several Provinces factories and buildings for their manufacture. The places of business of the company will be in the cities of Montreal, Quebec, Toronto, Ottawa, Halifax and St. Johns, and the town of Brockville. The said City of Montreal to be the chief place of business. The amount of capital stock to be $40,000 divided into 4,000 shares of ten dollars each.

Dancing.

The general estimate of the expressiveness of dancing is a rather high one. Adam Smith, in his essay on the imitative arts, says that it is much more expressive than music, and perhaps more so than any other art. He remarks, indeed, that our dances of the present day have little imitation in them; but he seems to think that these were in some cases derived from more expressive types. Thus he tells us that the minuet, in which the woman, after passing and repassing the man several times, gives him first one hand and then the other, then both, was originally a Moorish dance representing emblematically the passion of love. Most writers, however, while admitting that our modern dances can hardly be said to imitate anything, assure us that anciently all dances were imitative and expressive. Among the Romans it was considered indecent to dance in private, and with them, as with most of the nations of antiquity, dancing was used in connection with religious and warlike exercises, as well as in the more serious departments of public and social life. The Pyrrhic dance of the Spartans seems to have been a sort of mock fight, in which the warlike skill and prowess of the performers were largely called into play. As for religious dances, the incidents of Miriam dancing after the overthrow of Pharaoh, and of David dancing before the ark, will occur to the mind as instances in sacred history. Dancing was also employed in the festivals of Bacchus, Apollo, &c., whilst funeral dances are mentioned in connection with the Romans. In the reign of Augustus, Pylades and Bathyllus, the inventors of the pantomimic ballet properly so called, made their appearance, and the accounts given of their performances represent them as possessed of very marvellous powers. In short, without entering into any minute details, there is a concurrence of testimony in favor of the expressiveness of dancing among the ancients. Adam Smith suggests that the reason of this is to be found in the fact that in early times people danced always to vocal music, which being naturally suggestive and expressive, their dances became so too. We now, on the contrary, dance to instrumental music as a rule, and this having no definite expression, the dancers which it directs and, as it were, inspires, have lost their imitative character. If we admit that dancing is capable of any great expressiveness, the facts adduced may perhaps account for the low ebb to which we must conclude it has fallen at the present day.—Tinsley's Magazine.

PYRIMONT SEYSSEL ASPHALTE.

THE Compagnie Generale des Mines de Pyrimont, who are now the Proprietors of the celebrated Asphalte Mines of Pyrimont Seyssel, Ain, France, are now prepared to supply to contractors and others, the produce of these mines, either in shape of the natural Rock, or in the form of Mastic, for use in the Dominion of Canada, at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

The whole of the Footpaths in Paris, and a large proportion of the Carriage ways in that City are paved with the above Asphalte, while for the last 20 years and upwards the British Government in India has specified the Pyrimont Seyssel Asphalte, as the only one permissible in contracts entered into with them.

The Company will also gladly entertain proposals from first class firms or individuals of good standing for agencies in the different cities and towns throughout the Dominion.

Applications for further information may be addressed to W. G. CALLENDER, 70 & 71 Palmerston Buildings, Old Broad street, E. C. London, England 3920-6

WHAT CAN YOU SAY OR DO? A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations or medicines which have with stood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P.Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried nearly remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all." Mr. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally as good for horses as for man."—A. Mayhee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, 'one of the best medicines they have ever used;' it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throat, &c., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes: "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit." A. Mr. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes: "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee, of this place, induced me to try Electric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine."

Sold by all medicine dealers, price 25 cents.

NERVOUSNESS

It affords me great pleasure to bear testimony to the benefits I have received from using Fellows Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and it has proved an excellent curative for nervousness and general debility.

It is also a first class tonic, enables a person to take on flesh rapidly, and is free from the constipating effects characteristic of other tonics I have tried.

HENRY JOHNSON, Montreal.

JOB MOSES FEMALE PILLS.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain free, of the agent, a pamphlet, or refer to advertisement.

JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.

$1, and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ontario, general agents for the Dominion, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

FOWLE'S
PILE AND HUMOR CURE,
For Internal and External Use.

Warranted a SURE and perfect CURE for all kinds of Piles, Leprosy, Scrofula, Letter or Ringworm, Salt-Rheum, and all diseases of the skin. One bottle warranted to cure all cases of Piles; from one to three bottles in all cases of Humors.

This remedy has been faithfully tested, and found to be an almost infallible cure for the above named diseases. In no case has been an universal cure in proportion to the number who use his medicine, or in case of failure to refund the money paid. Since it was first introduced he has received many thousands of testimonials, proving its efficacy for the cure of the awful diseases it is recommended for. The Pile and Humor cure is entirely vegetable in its composition, and can be used with perfect safety in all cases. There is no danger of it driving the humor in, as it cures on the surface, and the patient's bodily health continually improves while under this treatment.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

The Montreal Proprietary School has been established to provide a liberal education similar to that given in the Public Schools of England. The course of instruction, however, will not be exclusively classical, and boys will be specially prepared either for the University and Professions or for Commercial Life.

Most eligible premises have been purchased for the School in McTavish street, one of the most healthful localities or the city, and immediately adjoining the grounds of the McGill University.

The course of instruction will include Latin, Greek, Mathematics, French, German, Arithmetic, Writing, English Grammar, Literature and Composition, History and Geography, both Ancient an Modern, Natural Philosophy, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, Gymnastics and Drilling.

A limited number of boys will be received by the Principal as Boarders or Weekly Boarders and, with the view of keeping the pupils from improper influences, it is strongly recommended that all be entered as Day Boarders, who will dine in the house of the Principal.

Further particulars can be obtained from the Secretary, J. W. Holmes, Esq., 78 Victoria street, to whom all applications for admission must be made.

The School will open on MONDAY, the 12th of April, and will be carried on for a few days at 78 Victoria street, the new premises not being quite completed.

CHOICE AND BEAUTIFUL
WALL PAPER.
INCLUDING THOSE DEDICATED BY THE MANUFACTURER
TO
Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Dufferin.

These Paperhangings are imported direct from the best Manufacturing Establishments in England, France and United States. Great care has been taken in their selection with regard to colour. The ground tones are soft and pleasing to the eye, especially those toned with silver mica; but above all, they are free from the mineral poisons that many of the tawdry-coloured Paperhangings of the day are surcharged with. The Subscriber's long experience as a colourist, and being thoroughly acquainted with the chemical compound of the pigments used in Painting, enables him to reject, in his selection of Paperhangings, those coloured with poisonous pigments, so deleterious to health. The Public are respectfully invited to examine his STOCK of WALL PAPER before purchasing elsewhere.

As the undersigned is going out of the Room Paper Business as soon as his present Stock is disposed of, the Goods will be Sold at the Lowest Remunerating Prices.

LACHINE
Canal Enlargement.
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sealed Tenders addressed to the Secretary of Public Works, and endorsed "Tender for the Lachine Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western mails on Tuesday the Sixteenth day of September next, for the enlargement of this canal, consisting of the widening and deepening of the channel from near the new basin east of Wellington Street bridge, upwards, to the river St. Lawrence at Lachine, embracing the construction of new locks at the Cabrai and Côte St. Paul, also the taking down and rebuilding the upper portions of the present locks at these places; building regulating weirs, culverts, bridge piers; the construction of a new entrance lock at Lachine, and the formation of a channel and basin on the south or river side of the existing entrance.

The works will be let in sections of the respective lengths indicated on a map of the line which, together with plans and specifications of the various works, can be seen at this office, and at the Lachine Canal Office, Montreal, on and after Tuesday, the Third day of September next, at either of which places Printed forms of Tender can be obtained.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that Tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and—in the case of firms—except there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and places of residence of each member of the same; and further, an accepted bank cheque, or other available security, for the sum of from one to three thousand dollars, according to the extent of work on the section, must accompany each Tender, which shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines or fails to enter into contract for the works, when called upon to do so, at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The amount required in each case will be stated on the form of Tender.

The cheque or money thus sent in, will be returned to the respective parties whose Tenders are not accepted.

For the due fulfilment of the contract, satisfactory security will be required on real estate, or by deposit of money, public or municipal securities, or bank stocks, to the amount of five per cent on the bulk sum of the contract, of which the sum sent in with the Tender will be considered a part.

Ninety per cent only of the progress estimates will be paid until the completion of the works.

To each Tender must be attached the actual signatures of two responsible and sol

Local Intelligence.

CITY COUNCIL.—There will be a regular meeting of the City Council held this evening.

CORONER'S INQUEST.—The inquest on the Burns tragedy will be resumed this forenoon at 10 o'clock, in the General Hospital, before Coroner Lynn.

RETURNED.—Chief Young has returned from Montreal, whither he had gone to attend the funeral of the late Mr. Bertram, Chief of the Montreal Fire Brigade.

LICENSE QUESTION.—This vexed question was up before Judge Ross again on Saturday, but the pressure of work in Chambers necessitated a further adjournment of the case.

THE SUNDAY TEMPERANCE MEETING.—The usual meeting was held in the Temperance Hall yesterday afternoon, and there was a large attendance, to which some very stirring and earnest addresses were delivered.

A THUNDER STORM.—A storm of wind and rain, accompanied with thunder and lightning, passed over this city last night. The conflict of the elements was not of a very serious character, and up to the hour of the TIMES going to press, our reporters did not hear of any damage having been done.

THE LATE RUNAWAY.—Messrs. Ira Morgan and William Cowan are, we are happy to learn, fast recovering from the injuries they received during the runaway of the former's horse a few nights ago. Mr. Morgan has been out, and Mr. Cowan expects to be about again in the course of a day or two.

FUNERAL SERMON.—The Rev. W. J. Hunter, of the Metcalfe street Methodist Church, preached a very affecting funeral discourse yesterday morning in the King street Church on the death of the Rev. Mr. Gordon, its esteemed pastor. He repeated the sermon in Gowan's Opera House in the evening.

ANOTHER ORDINATION.—To-night at half-past seven o'clock, Mr. Wm. Hartley of Rousseau, Muskoka District, will be ordained in Deacon's Orders in Emmanuel Church, the ceremony of course being performed by Bishop Cummins, and doubtless the proceedings will be of a most interesting character.

ARRIVAL OF RIFLEMEN.—On Saturday a large number of officers, non-commissioned officers, and men arrived from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia in order to take part in the Dominion Ride Match. There are some good shots among them, and doubtless they will take to the Maritime Provinces some substantial tokens of their prowess. They are stopping at the Albion Hotel.

THE ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH ORGAN RECITAL.—To-night Professor Mills will give in St. Patrick's Church a grand organ recital on the new instrument recently purchased for the Rev. Father Stenson's Church in Almonte. The price of admission has been fixed at 25 cents, which is low enough to enable all to participate in a musical treat such as they seldom have the opportunity of enjoying.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A young lad aged 3 years, son of Augustin Grindon, residing on Murray street, was run over on Wednesday last by the wheel of an edging cart, and sustained such serious injuries that he died on Saturday. The vehicle was driven by a boy named La Liberte, and like most of these boys, exhibited a great deal of carelessness in driving his horse. It is a wonder that more of such accidents do not happen.

THE TURF.—It would seem that the usual fall races are to be dispensed with this season in Mutchmor's Driving Park. The hard times and general scarcity of money may be attributed as the sole cause. It evinces a good deal of common sense on the part of our citizens to see them economize in the right direction in these hard times. The general public, save perhaps a few blacklegs, will doubtless survive the absence of races this fall.

PRIZE FIGHT.—A prize fight between John Carberry, an Irish giant, and a Frenchman named Garnier, both residents of Murray street, was suddenly nipped in the bud on Saturday last. The encounter was fixed for 1 o'clock p. m., in McKay's Grove, and a large crowd moved thither from Lower Town by the St. Patrick's street bridge. The ring was formed, and the combatants, just in the act of facing for the fray, when Sergeant O'Keefe and a posse of police appeared on the scene and marched the pugilists off to the police station.

VENDORS OF VEGETABLES.—A man was fined before the Police Magistrate on Saturday for peddling vegetables from door to door. Vendors of vegetables should bear in mind that all such stuff has to be now offered for sale on the public market. No licenses are issued this year, for the reason that many took advantage of the privilege to sell butter, eggs and other products, which were usually secreted under the vegetables, and thereby deprived the market lessee of his legitimate tolls. Farmers who make a practice of evading the payment of tolls are closely watched by the police.

MCEVOY'S HIBERNICON.—This splendid show will inaugurate a three night's entertainment in Gowan's Hall, Spark's street, on Thursday evening next, the 9th inst. A matinee will be held on Saturday afternoon. A Montreal Exchange in speaking of them says: "For mirth and melody—" Kindly Irish of the Irish"—the McEvoys with their grand combination troupe have won praise and profit on both continents. In Ireland and the British Isles they are accepted as true interpreters of the national characteristics; and coming with such an endorsement to America, they have in the States as well as in the Dominion been received with much favor." The programme for Thursday night is a varied and extensive one, and is of such a character that it cannot fail to be at once amusing and instructive. We trust to see the entertainment liberally patronized by the citizens of the Capital.

THE REFORMED EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Visit of His Lordship Bishop Cummins—Induction of the Rev. H. M. Collison.

In accordance with arrangements made some time ago His Lordship Bishop Cummins arrived in the city on Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of yesterday formally inducting the late appointed Presbyter, the Rev. H. M. Collison, to his office in Emmanuel R. E. Church. His Lordship was met at the St. Lawrence and Ottawa depot by several of the leading members of the congregation, among whom were noticed Messrs. Johnson, (Commission of Customs,) Messrs. H. Alexander, Burritt, Zachariah Wilson, Jos. Beament, Amos Rowe, J. B. Steacy, McAgy, the Rev. Mr. Collisson, &c., all of whom extended a hearty welcome to the visitor. After a general handshaking had taken place, his Lordship took his seat in a carriage and was driven to the Union House where a suite of apartments had been prepared for him. In the evening after partaking of some necessary rest and refreshment, he received a number of visitors, members of the church, to whom he expressed his satisfaction at the rapid and successful strides the movement had made since its inception.

Yesterday morning the church was crowded not only with its own congregation, but several persons belonging to others, anxious to witness the performance of the ceremony of induction. The usual morning service was said by the Bishop, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Collisson and Mr. Johnson, and the rendering of it was most impressive, the musical portion thereof being most especially well done, under the leadership of Mr. Clarke, who has now got the choir into excellent order. At the conclusion of morning prayer, His Lordship formally, after giving the customary charge to the congregation as to the asserting of any objection to the proposed presbyter, proceeded to read the induction or installation rite, delivering to him authority to act in that church according to its articles, at the same time handing to him a bound copy of the latter, with also the rubric of the church and a volume of the Holy Scriptures. The ceremony, though short, was of the most solemn nature, and was listened to with the utmost fervour by all present. His Lordship then delivered the following able discourse:

ON THE TRUE UNITY OF CHRIST'S CHURCH.

The following was the text:

St. John X, 16, "And other sheep I have which are not of this fold; them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice, and there shall be one fold and one shepherd."

The most solemn prayer ever offered by the Redeemer was uttered in Gethsemane a few hours before His agony on the cross. In the "night in which he was betrayed," he passed from the upper room in Jerusalem to the Garden over the brook Kedron, and there kneeling amidst the shadows of the olive trees, he offered His final prayer on earth for His church; and as the High Priest of old bore upon his bosom the breastplate graven with the names of the twelve tribes of Israel, so Jesus then bore upon His heart in prayer to the Father, His people—not only the little flock who then acknowledged Him, but the whole church, even to the last syllable of recorded time. "Neither pray I for these alone, but for all them who shall believe on me through their word." Then you and I were included, and every soul who believes in Jesus. But what is the burden of his prayer? "That they all may be one—as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they may be one in us." Has that prayer been answered? The world is full of lamentations that it has not been fulfilled. Can that indeed be? Has Jesus been denied His souls Supreme desire? Nay, not so. The prayer has been answered; from the hour in which it was offered, answered in its fullest, truest, highest meaning. The question then, whether the Redeemer's prayer has been answered is to be decided by our conception of the true character of the Church of Christ? 1. What is the Church? and who compose it? Is its essence life—spiritual life? or is it polity? Upon the answer to these questions depends our belief as to the fulfillment of the Redeemer's prayer in Gethsemane. Behold, then, the two opposing theories of the Church which divide the Christian world. 1. According to one theory, the Church is a form of polity or government, divinely established by Christ and His Apostles, and claiming, by virtue of His authority, the submission and obedience of all men. This divinely established community is officered and governed by a Hierarchy, without which it ceases to exist. It is governed by Bishops and Prelates, who are lineal successors of the Apostles, and who have received the Holy Ghost by a tactual succession, and impart to others the same supernatural gift. All organizations, therefore, which possess this polity and order belong to the Church of Christ. All that are without these essentials are without the fold. No matter what may be the conception in doctrine, the apostasies from the faith of the Gospel, the idolatries of episcopally constituted bodies, they are still parts of Christ's Holy Catholic Church. And no matter what may be the purity and integrity of the faith, the love and zeal for Christ, the fruits of the spirit in holy living and dying, the Missionary activity of bodies without Episcopacy, they are no part of Christ's Church. Hence that Church includes the three great communions, the Roman, the Eastern, and the Anglican Communions, and this is the Church to which they adhere when they repeat the words in the Apostle's Creed, "I believe in the Holy Catholic Church." Of all this we can find in the Word of God not an utterance to sustain it. There is no divine prescription in the New Testament concerning the outward form or organization of the Church. Our blessed Lord himself left no rule to guide His followers. The Apostles gave no written commands concerning it. Against this theory which makes the Church of Christ to be identical with one visible organization, we appeal to Scriptures, and find there this true idea of the Church. The Church of Christ is His mystical body of which He is the sole head, and to whom all believers are united as members in a living bod . It is the household of God, the whole family in heaven and earth named after the one name. It is the temple of the living God, and all true Christians are living stones built upon the corner stone, elect and precious, a habitation of God through the Spirit. It is the company of the saved, of the redeemed, of the first born, whose names are written in heaven. Its members are living branches in the living vine, abiding in Him. It is this Church which Christ loved and gave Himself for it that He might sanctify it and cleanse it by His precious blood. It is this Church which is His blood. It is the Church which is His bride, whom He will at last present unto Himself a glorious Church, not having spot or wrinkle, at the marriage supper of the Lamb. It is the light of the world and the salt of the earth; dear to God, the apple of His eye, graven upon the palms of His hand. Let any man try to apply such epithets to any particular or national Church among those claiming to possess exclusively the Holy Catholic Church, and it becomes a mockery at once. The Prayer Book bears strong witness to this true ideal of the Church which we have drawn from Scripture. In the Communion office it is defined as the blessed company of all faithful people," and in one of the collects we are taught to say, "O, God, who hast knit thine elect into one communion and fellowship in the mystical body of thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord." I might fill the hour with quotations from the reformers and martyrs of England, great doctors and divines who have maintained and testified to this truth, Cranmer and Ridley, and Jewel and Latimer, the incomparable Hooker, and the golden mouthed Jeremy Taylor, the profoundly learned Barrow, Archbishop Usher, Bishop Hall, and a great cloud of witnesses who tell us with one voice that this is the true Church of Christ, His spouse and body; this the pillar and ground of the truth, this the Church against which the gates of hell shall not prevail. It is the failure to discriminate between the Church of Christ and the churches of Christendom, between the true, spiritual mystical body of Christ, and its outward manifestation in different forms of organization, that has led to endless confusion. The Church of Christ is only one body in its relation to its greatest head; but in forms of organization necessary for its diffusion it exists under various aspects. And herein it is in harmony with the great law everywhere pervailing the works of God. That law is unity amidst diversity. This is one of the thoughts of God, crystallized, as its were in creation. And like a golden thread it is interwoven into the very texture of the universe. See it illustrated in the human family. The human race is one undergoing all diversities of form, feature, color, habits and civilization. There is a deep, undergoing unity; a common physical constitution; a common mental and moral endowment. Whether it be Caucasian, Mongolian, African or Malayan, there is ever to be found in the human breast a sense of sin, of its alienation from its creator and a yearning for His favor. A common, moral sense, alone, makes the human family a unit. For "Whatever creed be held or land be trod, man's conscience is the oracle of God." 2. See the same truth illustrated in the vegetable kingdom. "What seemingly endless variety of form of structure and of hue marks the foliage and flowers of plant and tree! And yet amidst it all there is wonderous uniformity. There are certain great types from which nature never departs, or to speak more correctly certain architype in the Divine mind by which He who clothes the lily and rears the stately cedar of Lebanon, moulds and fashions all His work. 3. Take yet one more illustration—the heavens above us. Modern science tells us that the telescope has revealed to the human eye over eighty millions of stars, and them Sir John Herschel tells us are but the outposts, the frontier of God's great universe! What almost infinite variety do they present, in magnitude, in movement, in relation, even in colour! Yet all are obedient to one pervading law—all moving in harmony around a central sun, it may be the throne and residence of God! Now it is in the kingdom of Christ that the law finds its highest manifestation. There is but one church—there are many churches. In its true, spiritual conception as the mystical body of Christ, the church is essentially one. True unity resides alone upon union with Christ. The soul that is united to Christ by a living faith is one with every other believer, and thus most truly all Christians are one. Thus has the prayer of Jesus been answered. From the very hour in which it was offered every human heart that embraced Him as a Saviour, became one with every other heart that embraced Him. This unity no earthly power can destroy, no controversies, or separation or dissensions among Christians can break this bond. "In its very essence this unity is indestructible. In the spiritual bond by which it unites the soul to the Saviour, and the Christian to his brother Christian, it is as intangible to the hand of outward events as the soul herself is to the hand of death. It is like the peace and harmony of the firmament above the clouds and storms of earth. Get above these mundane elements and what do we see? The one vast ether, thick-studded with separate star worlds, looking down in the bleedings of one, sweet, noiseless, and most pure brightness upon our dark state; that one shoreless, upper deep, lying calm, silent, moveless, unbroken above the earth, its clouds and storms. The winds and lightnings, and thunders, and volcanic fires, and earthquake throes, which appal our senses, may agitate the air below that high, blue ether, but they have no power to roll up and invade that one eternal calm of heaven light in which it lies. Great emblem of the unity of Christ's one Holy Catholic Church; many members, yet one body; many lights in but one heaven!" "Who are my brethren?" asked our Lord, as he was told that his earthly brethren desired to see him. "Who are my brethren? and then stretching forth His hand towards the little band of His disciples, He added—"Behold my brethren! for whosoever doeth the will of God the same is my brother." We ask the same, "Who are our brethren?" who belong to the Holy Catholic Church? And we answer—every soul of man that has a living faith in Him, wherever found, whatever called. For one, I cannot give up my part in this glorious brotherhood—a brotherhood comprehending all time, overleaping all barriers. If I am a child of God, I am one with every other child of God no matter by what name he be called. If I am united to Christ by a living faith, I am one with every other believer, by whatever form he worships, or in whatever fold he is sheltered. If reconciled to God, I am one with Enoch as he walks with God, with Abraham on the plains of Mamre, with Isaac, as he meditates in the field at eventide, or with Jacob, as he wrestles with the Divine stranger at Penuel. Before the mercy seat I am one with Jerome in his cell at Bethlehem, with Luther at Eisleben, and Wickliffe in his cloister. Despite all the errors of their creed, I am one with such living stones as Pascal and Fenelon, Arnauld and Thomas-a-Kempis. Though worshipping with different forms, I am one with Doddridge and Owen, and Watts and Wesley. I give my heart and hand to Hyacinthe, who at Notre Dame Cathedral, exclaimed, "Let me press to my heart these Protestant Christians," to Dollinger, to Michaelis, to Bishop Reinhew—nay, to every Christ-loving, Christ-trusting, Christlike soul, and say, Brother we are one in Him. This is the true unity of the Church. One body, even Christ's mystical body—one church amid many churches, the church of the first-born whose names are written in Heaven." One Lord, even Jesus the elder brother, one baptism the renewing of the Holy Ghost, one nature, one life, one spirit, one language, one hope, one Lord, one song, one Heaven. But all that has yet been said applies only to the spiritual Church—that known only to God—and the great question yet remains, in what does the unity of the visible Church consist? How can all the churches of Christendom be united? I. Not, we reply, by submission to one earthly head. The theory of a Vicar of Christ upon earth to whom the submission of all is due is a baseless fiction, without a shadow of Scripture to attest it. The attempt to enforce such a claim upon the world has filled Christendom with strife, feuds of bloodshed. The darkest days in the annals of Christianity are those in which this false theory held almost universal supremacy. Humanity itself as moved by the hand of God himself, has fought against it, and shattered it in pieces like a Potters vessel. National peculiarities, and peculiarities of race have contended successfully against it. What causes rent asunder the church into east and west, the Latin and the Greek communions? Not, as has been strangely taught, mere differences of creed, not the question of the procession of the Holy Ghost, or of unleavened bread or of images—these were but the straws floating on the current. Deeper causes divided them, and still divide,—the differences of race—the Eastern, soft, effeminate, loving ease and leisure; the Western, bold, masculine and progressive. The differences of doctrine and of ritual which separate the Latin and Greek Churches are almost trifles; the antagonism of race and civilization are mighty. 2. Nor are we to look for the visible unity of Christendom by sameness of belief, of creed or dogma. It is a fond dream to indulge the hope that all men will ever be brought to believe precisely alike in matters of religion. Such identity or sameness of belief never has yet existed. Not even among the Apostles did it exist. St. Paul withstood St. Peter to the face on a question of doctrine. Nor can such sameness of creed ever exist where the human mind is free for inquire, to investigate, to question. Christendom would become a stagnant lake, breeding death if it were so, instead of the restless ocean, whose agitated waters bring health to the breath of nations. And as the storms that rock the surface of the sea do not disturb the placid depth beneath, so the controversies of Christian churches do not destroy their real oneness. Let no man's heart fail him because we cannot see eye to eye yet. Let Augustine's motto be our rule—"in essential things, unity; in non-essential things, liberality; in all things, "Charity." 3. Nor yet again are we to look for the union of the visible Church by the adoption, on the part of all Christians, of one form of Church government, polity or worship. This was realized once in the ages from the fifth to the fifteenth centuries, one thousand years in which the whole Church on earth had one Polity and one Ministry. And those were emphatically the Dark Ages. The mightiest hindrance to the reunion of Christendom now is the exclusive theory that proclaims that there is but one Divine Polity and order, and demands that all men should submit to that. If there be but one Divine Order of the Church, men reply—then how is it that without it the Kingdom of Christ goes forth to ceaseless conquests, souls are saved, great, fruitful holy characters are built up, charities abound, heathen lands are made glad by the feet of the Missionaries beautiful upon the mountains, and the desert blossoms as the rose? Ah! there is at last but one test of Christianity—"By their fruits ye shall know them!" How, then, is there any unity in the visible Church of Christ, divided and rent and separated as it seems to be? It is in its confession of Christ—in its acknowledgment and maintenance by outward profession of that which constitutes its real spiritual unity—"one Lord, one faith, one baptism." One Lord, even Jesus the Divine and living head, one faith, the Word of God believed with the heart, one baptism, the renewing of the Holy Ghost. Whoever confesses this one Lord, one faith, one baptism, is a part of the one visible Church of Christ: only he who denies this cuts himself off from that body. All that I have said finds its fullest confirmation in the words of our Lord in the text. Unfortunately our English version does not bring out the full force of His words. "Other sheep I have," he said to the disciples, "not of this fold (not among the child-en of Israel); "them also I must bring, and there shall be one flock (not fold) and one shepherd.' There is but one flock of Jesus; there are many folds. His sheep are found in diverse external organizations, but they are all one flock; they know the Shepherd's voice and follow Him. I cannot leave my theme without once more pressing upon you the mighty truth; it is what we are doing for Christ, labouring for Christ, suffering for Christ; that is the surest test of my belonging to Him. Oh! this day of easy, luxurious, fashionable Christianity, church membership which brings no sacrifice, that costs nothing. Christian, do you know the men and women of other days whose name you bear? Look on this picture recently painted by a great artist. It is a scene in the Roman Colosseum in the days of Titus; not in the arena itself but in the arches just outside of the amphitheatre, where the Christian martyrs are awaiting the signal for their conflict with the beasts. The groups gathered there are condemned to die, and a Roman soldier is pointing a group of guards to the next victim. It is a woman, still young and lovely, who stands looking up into heaven with a holy peace upon her face, while kneeling by her side is her husband, grasping her hand as if to keep her a moment longer, while his face is turned away in hopeless agony. Close beside them are their children, a brother and sister; the boy chilled with horror and frozen with fear; the girl vainly seeking support and comfort from her brother. These are the Lord's own people about to seal their love to Him with their blood. Bend down and gaze through the low archway as the scene beyond. A mighty throng crowd the seats, and below them other Christians are in the clutches of the lion and the tiger, and the wild cries of human agony and the roarings of wild beasts seem to break upon your ears. Christians of the 19th century, these were your predecessors! What are you doing for Christ? Sacrificing for Christ to make you worthy to bear His name? Where are "the marks of the Lord Jesus" upon you? Beloved, this Reformed Episcopal Church is a witness to-day to the true unity of all Christ's people. It is a step towards the union or reunion of all Evangelical Christendom. It is a protest and a revolt against the exclusiveness of the dogma that would limit the Church of Christ to one Ecclesiastical Polity, that denies a place and a portion in the "Holy Catholic Church" to all who do not submit to Prelator claiming to rule by Divine Right, as Lords over God's heritage. To-day there is a yearning throughout all Protestant Christendom for organic unity among the Churches of the Reformation. You have seen its happy results very lately in this Dominion. You have seen the representatives of one great Protestant family meeting in London during the past summer, to form an alliance of Reformed churches, and the mightiest barrier to-day in the way of the reunion of Protestant churches, is the unchurching dogma, which demands the submission of all other Christian bodies to its jure Divino claim. There was a day when one of England's greatest and purest Bishops, Bishop Hall, could call the continental churches, "Dear sister churches." May that day soon return to England's church. May this dear church of ours be an instrument in God's hand of bringing all who love the Lord Jesus Christ into closer and truer fellowship.

The Holy Communion was administered at the conclusion of the sermon, and was partaken of by many.

Bishop Cummins preached again in the evening, and during the service it was announced that on Tuesday night next a social would be held in Knox Church, Elgin street, in order to give the congregation an opportunity to become acquainted with the Bishop.

POLICE COURT.

Before M. O'GARA, P. M.
SATURDAY, Sept. 4th.

Daniel Macauley charged with being drunk was fined $2 and costs or a week in gaol at hard labour.

Baptiste Charron was arraigned for selling vegetables on the street in contravention of the market by-law. He was fined $2 and costs.

Napoleon Labaise was next arraigned for burglary, for which he was sent down for trial to the approaching Assizes

Patrick Edwards for deserting employment was remanded till Monday.

Joseph Harmois and Cyrille Lortie were charged with stealing sundry articles from the bar of one A. Larocque. Lortie was discharged but Harmois was sent to gaol for two days.

Richard O'Leary charged with assault had his case adjourned.

Israel Revesault charged with the larceny of a watch and chain from a fellow boarder at Galarneau's Hotel, named Gereau and selling it for $2, was committed for trial at the Assizes.

OTTAWA MARKETS.

The market on Saturday was well attended, and the supply of produce was large, but there was not the slightest alteration in prices since our last quotations, except in hay which was a shade higher. Fruit and garden stuff were most abundant and the demand for both was brisk. Butter was scarce at unchanged prices, and from 20c. to 21c. was readily obtained for pail—21c. being paid for prints. The doubtful look of the weather on Saturday will probably have the effect of lessening the market to-day.

1875. 1875. Caledonia Springs.

Joyful Tidings to Thousands.

The Elysium of the Invalid

is again open

SULPHUR, SALINE and GAS.

The REJUVENATING WATERS so much sought for in years long past.

Invalids! Attention!

Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Digestive Organs, Dropsy, Diseases of the Skin, Affections of the Liver and Urinary Organs are positively cured by using the water for a few weeks.

Rheumatics! Read!

Hundreds of Rheumatics have been cured by the Sulphur Baths. Suffering is alleviated by the first, and cripples throw away their crutches after about half-a-dozen baths.

TESTIMONIALS.

"Montreal, 28th July, 1876.

"I hereby certify that I entertain a very favorable opinion of the baths and Waters of the Caledonia Springs in many forms of disease, among which I would especially mention chronic Rheumatism, the stagnation of Gout, Neuralgia, some of the varieties of Cutaneous disease, Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, and in carefully selected cases, some of the diseases of the Kidney and Bladder.

(Signed) GEO. W. CAMPBELL, A.M., M.D. Dean of the Medical Faculty, McGill College.

Dr. Wm. Robertson, of Montreal, wrote as follows, in 1839:—"But the disease above all in which the action of the water is most decided is Rheumatism. * * * I have known a few individuals who suffered much from improper use of mercury who were restored to health by the use of the waters.

ACCOMMODATIONS.

A magnificent new hotel, capable of accommodating 300 guests, will be opened on June 1st for the accommodation of visitors. The grounds have been improved and beautified, and every means for amusement and exercise provided. The trip thither by the Ottawa River is most enjoyable, and a railroad from the river to the Springs is in course of construction. Until the railroad is built, comfortable carriages will be in waiting at the wharf for the conveyance of visitors to the Springs. The distance of the Springs from Montreal and Ottawa respectively is 80 and 90 miles.

Mr. W. CHAMPNESS will open a good Livery Stable, providing good carriages, horses, saddles, &c. There is a good race-course on the property of the Company.

The PANACEAN WATERS of these Springs will yet make Canada the greatest resort in the world for health and pleasure seekers. Thousands of testimonials might be procured, but the reputation of the Springs renders it unnecessary to do so.

LUNCHES with cup of Tea, Coffee, or glass of ale 15 cents.—NOONANS' RESTAURANT.

THE WELLINGTON WARD MARKET.—The window frames have been put into the building for the Wellington Ward Market, and altogether the work is in a much more forward state than the similar operations in Lower town.

RETURNED.—Surgeon Malloch, of the Foot Guards, who went to Manitoba a few weeks ago in medical charge of the recruits for the Provisional Battalion, returned to town yesterday morning, looking weather-beaten after his long journey.

MORE ROWDYISM.—A contractor named Wm. Greggson, was attacked on Saturday night on his way home to Duke street at the Chaudiere by some roughs, and so seriously injured that he has since been confined to his bed. Rowdyism is truly becoming rampant in our midst.

REMOVAL OF STEAM TRAVELLER.—The steam traveller which has been doing such effectual work on the main sewer in the east end of the city, was yesterday removed to Slater street, at the west side of the Canal Basin. The other appurtenance belonging thereto were also removed. Work will be commenced whenever the frame work necessary to run the traveller has been constructed.

RUNAWAY.—Last night on Wellington street a serious runaway would have occurred had it not been the prompt action of P. C. Foran. A buggy containing a couple of gentlemen was passing a heap of dirt, the horse shied, and one of the gentlemen was thrown out, and the horse was making a bolt when Foran stopped the animal, and served to prevent serious damage being done.

THE DUFFERIN HOUSE.—Mr. E. J. Henry has lately opened on Wellington street, north-west corner of Bank street, a neat and comfortable hotel, well stored with all sorts of creature comforts, both edible and drinkable, all of the most excellent quality, and furnished at reasonable rates Mr. Henry, whose advertisement appears in another column, makes a most genial and obliging host, and is well deserving of patronage.

FOR Oysters in any style, shells or cooked to order go to NOONANS.

ILLNESS OF THE LADY SUPERIORESS.—Rev. Mother Bruyere, the Lady Superioress of the Grey Nuns, Sussex street, is at present lying dangerously ill. A consultation of five eminent physicians of the city took place yesterday, when they came to the conclusion that it was "disease of the heart" and that there was no immediate danger. A good deal of sympathy is expressed for this lady in her present affliction, she having for upwards of 30 years presided over the above institution.

EMMANUEL CHURCH SOCIAL.—The ladies of Emmanuel Church will hold a social to-morrow evening in the basement hall of Knox Church, Elgin street. The chief object of the social is to give the members and friends of Emmanuel Church an opportunity of meeting with Bishop Cummins in social intercourse. Addresses will be given during the evening by the Bishop and by clergymen of the city. Tickets can be had at the bookstores on Sparks street, and at the door on the evening of the entertainment. 3793612

A FINE ORGAN.—Last night in St. Patrick's Church Professor Mills gave a grand organ recital upon the fine instrument recently purchased at a cost of $1,200 from Messrs. Orme & Son by the Rev. Father Stenson, for his new church in Almonte. Of course, it need hardly be said that the play was masterly in the extreme, and well calculated to display the excellence of the organ, the tone of which is at once round, sweet and powerful in the extreme. Messrs. S R Warren & Co., of Montreal, are the makers, and their handiwork is a credit to them. The case is of chestnut and black walnut, and the pipes are richly gilded, and the following is the specification:—One manual and 2 octaves, pedals with 12 stops, viz., principal, 8 feet tone, 56 notes. Harmodic plate 4 feet tone, 56 notes Vial de gamba; 4 feet, 66 notes. Open diapason, 8 feet, 56 notes. Srop diapason. Treble and bass, 56 notes. Trumpet, 8 feet, 56 notes. Fifteenth, 2 feet, 56 notes. Twelfth, 56 notes. Bone dia, 16 feet, 27 notes. Pedal coupler and bellows signal. The whole of the pipes connected with the manual are enclosed in a swell, and there are two composition pedals, one moving the diapason and the other the full organ. In addition to the playing of several fine pieces by Mr. Mills, Miss Willis and Mr. Gourdeau sang some sacred selection. The church was well filled, and the audience appeared to be well pleased at what they had heard. The organ will be taken to Almonte in about a month's time.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Late Firm of Collie & Co.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—William Collie, who, with his brother Alexander, of the late firm of A. Collie & Co., is charged with obtaining money under false pretences, was again arraigned to day. The prosecution said they had not abandoned the hope of capturing Alexander Collie, who has forfeited his bail, and they therefore asked for a further postponement of the case, and it was accordingly adjourned till the 18th of October.

Steamship Arrivals.

Arrived out, the steamships State of Indiana from New York, and the Ohio from Philadelphia.

A Cattle Disease.

ANTWERP, Sept. 6.—A disease similar to the epizootic has broken out among the cattle. Forty have died with in two weeks, and twelve yesterday.

Weekly Review of the Corn Trade.

The Mark Lane Express in its weekly review of the corn trade says the bulk of the harvest has been generally in good order. New samples of wheat show a great variety. The quality is much inferior and in some cases very poor. The crop is short as a whole, and large importations will be necessary. Prices generally have only been firm in Paris and the home market, while in the provincial markets of France they have further declined one shilling per quarter and in some places two shillings. In Germany harvesting has gone well. Prices were generally easier although for future delivery most are above the present rates. In Belgium prices have varied, but mos tly downwards In Holland the movement has been decidedly downwards. At St. Petersburg prices are lower. Harvest in the neighbourhood of Dantizig has been completed under most favourable circumstance. The new product is of a fine grade and good weight although the total average is below that of last year.

OSWEGO.

Escaped from Jail.

OSWEGO, Sept. 6.—Alex. Ducale and Frank Conway, alias Buck Robinson, both young men about 28 years of age, escaped from jail in this city on Saturday night.

NEW YORK.

Arrival of the Leader of the National Irish Party.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—O'Connor Power, M.P., leader of the Irish National party arrived yesterday. He will deliver a course of lectures throughout the United States and Canada, on the political and social condition of Ireland.

The School Question.

A Saratoga special to the Times, says the Republican State platform will be in favour of harmonizing the school question and it will be made prominent; Republicans deciding in favour of the present system and against any division of school funds.

Anti-Three Term Resolution.

It is now certain that an Anti-Three Term resolution will be introduced and that being the case it will be adopted.

Principal Captured.

George Mills, otherwise called Meyers, said to be the principal of the Borre Bank robbers was captured here yesterday.

A Memorial Church.

At a session of the Methodist Ministers this morning resolutions were adopted, approving of the erection of a memorial church in honor of John Wesley at Savannah.

Preparing for a Second Trial.

Ex-Judge Morris, Tilton's counsel, is busy preparing his papers for a second trial in the case against Beecher. Pearsall, another of Tilton's counsel, stated that the action was a bona fide one, and had not been the result of any ill-feeling between the counsel. The case is No. 40 on the calendar, and will be reached about the third Monday in the present month.

Direct Cable Completed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—A despatch from Ryle Beach, N. H., says the direct cable was completed at 10 a. m. this morning, and announces that it is working perfectly since. It has been tested with the most satisfactory results, and is pronounced in good condition.

Arrival.

Arrived: the steamship City of Brussels, from Liverpool, and Novarino, Hull.

A Threatened Famine

A Havana letter says: The surrounding country near Puerto Principe has been so thoroughly devastated that the inhabitants are famishing, and the governor of the city is at Havana, consulting with the Captain General for measures to prevent a famine.

Another small fort has been captured in the interior by the Cuban patriots.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, September 6.—Application has been received at the Treasury Department to-day for the transfer of about one million dollars in gold from New York to San Francisco.

MORRISTOWN.

R. C. Priests and the Public Schools.

MORRISTOWN, N. Y., September 6.—The Roman Catholic priests in this neighbourhood from their pulpits yesterday called upon each Catholic voter to scratch four of the proposed amendments to the State Constitution. They relate to the public schools, and forbidding the appropriation of public monies for sectarian institutions. There is considerable excitement. It is said the Protestants will gather in force to vote in favour of the amendments above specified.

OKMULGEE.

Meeting of Grand Council.

OKMULGEE, CREEK NATION, Sept. 6.—A grand council of the Indian Territory is in session. A full delegation is in attendance from nearly every tribe in the territory. The council will make an appropriation for their subsistence, hoping they will be induced to enter into more intimate and friendly relations. The only business to be considered is the new constitution, providing for the government of the territory, which will probably pass, but with the proviso that it be submitted to the National Council for approval. The Council proposes to attend the International Fair to be held at Muskogee, Sept. 14th to 18th.

ST. LOUIS.

The Duel—An Editor in Trouble.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 15.—Major John N Edwards, one of the editors of the St. Louis Times, and Col. Emery S. Foster, the editor of the Evening Journal, left here last night for Winnebago county, to fight a duel. Affairs has been kept very private. The affair grew out of an editorial on the action of citizens of Winnebago county, in refusing to allow Jefferson Davis to speak at their fair, and a rejoinder by Foster in the Journal next day, in which he cast very severe strictures upon the writer of the Times article. The point at which the duel will be fought will be selected by the seconds after entering Winnebago county.

A despatch from a member of the Edwards party, in regard to the duel between the editors, Edwards and Foster, says the duel took place at 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, at a point five miles north of Rockford, in Winnebago county, and one shot was exchanged, without effect. The matter was then settled without further difficulty.

OMAHA.

Serious Floods and Railroad Disasters—A Brakesman Killed and Several Passengers Injured.

OMAHA, Sept. 5.—The water rose all day yesterday in the Boger River and Logan Creek, on the Chicago and North-western Railroad, and the bed is in many places three and four feet under water. No trains have passed over the road, but all the passengers have been gotten off. The water also rose rapidly all day in the Corn River and Walnut Creek. On the Chicago & Rock Island and Pacific Railroads the track is in many places four feet under water, and the road is badly damaged. The Pacific Express en route west was thrown into a ditch just west of Commerce, Iowa, twelve miles west of Des Moines, last evening. John Hughes, the brakesman, fell between the cars and was instantly killed. Several persons were slightly injured. The water in Walnut Creek is three feet higher than was ever known before. West-bound passengers are laid up at Commerce and Des Moines. East-bound trains left here last evening.

COLORADO.

A Fight with Indians.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 5.—An engagement occurred on the 15th August between Gardner and Gennett's party of Hayden's survey and a band of Serria Lasal Utes near the line between Colorado and Utah and near the north line of New Mexico. The fight lasted twenty-one hours, and resulted in the loss to Gardner and Gennett party of all their baggage and nearly all their provisions. They all escaped without injury.

NORFOLK.

Another Bank Failure.

NORFOLK, Aug. 6th.—The Mercantile Bank of this city suspended yesterday. It is claimed that the assets will cover all liabilities.

MANITOBA

Four Days Competition of the Rifle Association—Fort Hamilton—Important Discoveries Reported—To be Discharged—Governor Morris.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 6.—The third meeting of the Manitoba Rifle Association was held last week. The competitions extended over four days. The attendance was larger than previous years, but the shooting was poor.

J. Hotley, proprietor of Fort Hamilton, trading post at the junction of St. Mary and Belly rivers, is now here, and reports an increased number of settlers, traders and prospectors in that section. There are also important coal, iron and gold discoveries. Buffalo is abundant, the Indians quiet, and the presence of the Mounted Police beneficial.

Time expired volunteers at Winnipeg will be discharged this month. The future total strength of artillery and infantry will be one hundred.

Governor Morris has returned from Manitoba House. He made fresh treaties with six bands of Indians.

The irregularity of the Minnesota Stage Company Mail Service causes complaint.

The weather is fine. No grasshoppers remain.

MONTREAL.

The Money Market—Stock Market—The Guibord Case—The Cotte Investigation—A Swimming Feat—Shipments—Going to Winnipeg.

MONTREAL, Sept. 6.—The money market continues easy to borrowers on stocks, but very stringent to all those who wish to obtain advances on commercial paper, but have not regular accounts with some of the banks.

The stock market was dull and weak. Sales: 3 City at 102, closing 101 to 102; 6 Merchants at 101½, 5 at 101¼, closing 101½ to 101¼; 25 telegraph at 156, closing 155½ to 156; and 3 Peoples at 100. Sellers at short rates; Montreal, 158½ to 159; Jacques Cartier, 28 to 30; Commerce, 126½ to 127½. Sales at the afternoon board:—31 Montreal at 188½; 25 Jacques Cartier at 27.

The latest turn in the Guibord case is that the French Canadians are plotting to attack the Protestant cemetery vault, and steal Guibord's bones. There is great excitement again. The following is what has transpired so far:—Saturday afternoon on the avenue leading from Cote St. Catharine road to Mount Royal Cemetery a great many French Canadians were seen going up and it was feared they might have an intention of attacking the cemetery vault; however no attack was made. Yesterday afternoon a number of men loitered about Mount Royal Cemetery grounds evidently with no good purpose, though they committed no overt act of violence. Spriggins and a body of men stood guard till half past four this morning, the force being divided into squads which patrolled the avenues In the evening some of the roughs fired off guns and the seven barrells of a revolver were also discharged, but no attempt at or an attack on the vault or its guardians was made. A larger body of men will be detailed this evening to protect the Protestant Cemetery from desecration, and a body of police is also to be on the spot. The roughs have stolen great quantities of fruit from the residents in the neighbourhood, and this morning one fired his revolver at one who was conveying away a quantity of fruit. He ran with redoubled energy after that. A gentleman states that the evident intention of the roughs on Tuesday was to burn Guibord's coffin, as they had a pot of grass near the gates, saturated with coal oil, to form a bed on which to deposit it. Seven policemen have been detailed to go out to the Mount Royal Cemetery this evening. They will be armed with muskets, which is the only weapon yet provided for them. Saturday and yesterday the owners of orchards had hot times about Cote Des Neiges. The roughs who had collected about the cemetery visited orchards in crowds. The inhabitants came out and fired off their guns laden with charges of powder in the hope of intimidating them, but uselessly as the roughs pulled out revolvers and fired back. Several persons had narrow escapes. As many as twenty-four men were in Swell's orchard at one time and all appeared to be armed. The firing continued at intervals throughout the day and it is remarkable nobody was shot—among others the robbers invaded Duquettes Lecompte and Simpson's orchards and their French Canadian confreres were disgusted with them. Rev. Cure Marshal warned his people at mass not to go near the cemetery when the burial of Guibord took place and to abstain from any acts of violence. The Bien public, while maintaining that the Guibord case is one that should never have come before the courts nevertheless holds that the decision of the latter must be upheld, and that to oppose by force the execution of their judgment, above all of the decree of the Privy Council, is an act of unpardonable folly. What will be the result of resistance to the interment of Guibord? Does any one believe the authorities will give in? Do they not know that the English Government would send an army if needful to have the judgment executed? Blood may be shed, numerous arrests made and severe punishment inflicted, but no one can hinder Guibord's remains from being interred. Rev. Cure Rousselot has written to the Mayor warning him of serious consequences when the burial takes place.

In the Cotte investigation the assistant cashier of Jacques Cartier Bank was further examined, and stated that after a diligent search with other clerks he had been unable to find the statement of accounts made by Cotte, which is looked on as rather suspicious.

The suit entered by the Quebec Government against John R. Middemiss to annul the Tanner's Land Swap came up this morning before Mr. Justice Johnston; Messrs Ritchie and Loranger representing the Government, and Messrs. Abbott, Bethune & Dorcar for the defence. Mr Ritchie presented his plea giving at length the reason for annulling the exchange and Mr. Dorcar followed on the other side The only witnesses examined were Messrs. Wm. Lunn and J. R. Middlemiss. The examination of Mr. Lunn being merely for a formal opening of the case, and that of Mr. Middlemiss so far eliciting no new facts.

On Saturday afternoon James Polar swam from Island Wharf in the Harbour to Longueiul without fatigue, accomplishing the feat in exactly one hour and thirty minutes, excellent time considering the rough state of the water.

Alderman McShane is shipping 50 head of cattle to Liverpool by the Dominion steamship Ontario. The Allan steamship Canada takes over 70 head on account of John Bell & Son of Glasgow, and will probably leave port on Wednesday next.

It is stated on good authority that the Rev. Mr. Foster will sever his connection with Trinity Church on the 1st of October, having received a call to the rectory of Trinity Church, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

TORONTO

Reception to Mayor Medcalf The Regatta a Great Success—Lecture List—Engineer Johnston.

TORONTO, Sept. 6.—Mayor Medcalf is expected to arrive home on Wednesday afternoon. He will be met at the depot by a large deputation of orangemen and others, and will be escorted to his residence by a grand torchlight procession. A banquet will also be tendered him.

The regatta turned out a great success. Towards the end of the day the wind in dished and sailing was comparatively easy and very pleasant. Several mishaps occurred, but none in connection with the yachts of a more serious nature than a ducking. Colonel Shaw and the sailing master of the Mac were washed overboard and were picked up by the Dauntless, which was following. They were swimming for dear life, and had a narrow escape. This accident caused the boats named to retire from the race. The Standly had carried away her topmast when sailing a good third. In the skiff race, Mr. Kyeron's Seabird upset, which caused her to retire, and the Flatterly gave up, having lost some of her gearing. The first class race was declared no race, on account of a foul, and will be sailed over again to-morrow, simultaneously with the race for the Prince of Wales' cup. The Annie Luthbert, Oriole and Lady Standly only will compete.

Mrs. Morrison commenced her second season last night at the Opera House with unusual eclat. The house was well filled, and the new company bids fair to become as popular as the old.

The following is the complete list engaged for the lecture course at the Mechanics' Institute for next season: P. T. Barnum, Henry Vincent, J. B. Gough, Theodore Tilton, Josh Billings, Rev. Robt. Collyer, Rev. Geo. Dawson. The course opens on October 12th, with a lecture by Tilton.

In the City Council to-night it was definitely resolved to bring charges against City Engineer Johnson before the County Judge.

MR. CROOKS DEFENDED

Mr. A. T. Drummond of Montreal has written a letter to the Globe on the subject of Mr. Crooks' debenture negotiation in London. In brief terms Mr. Drummond offers a defence of the transaction that is by long odds the most conclusive and complete that we have yet read, certainly much more clear than Mr. Crooks himself has ever to our knowledge given. It will be interesting to hear what those journals of the Opposition, especially the Mail, who have never ceased in season and out of season to charge Mr. Crooks with having made a most improvident bargain, and to insinuate that he did so wilfully to benefit a corporation in which he had a personal interest; it will be interesting, we repeat, to learn what defence of their position they will make against Mr. Drummond's assault. It, at any rate, can form no part of their argument, that Mr. Drummond's testimony is to be considered in the light of his strong political sympathies with the Ontario Treasurer, for these are well known to be quite the other way—a fact which makes his testimony all the more reliable, since it is entirely disinterested. We ask our readers, those of them at least who feel an interest in the subject, and those who in their intercourse with political opponents may find it necessary to defend their political relations, to carefully read Mr. Drummond's letter. We venture to say that it is unanswerable.

THE GEORGIA "INSURRECTION"

The telegraph brought us news lately of the discovery of an extensive organization amongst the negroes of Georgia for offensive purposes—an organization which it was thought to be in the interest of the State to suppress quickly and quietly. The affair at first bore a somewhat serious aspect, for it was stated, and stated evidently with perfect truth, that it was the purpose of the leaders to rise in insurrection against the powers that be, and finally kill out the white population. A considerable number of prisoners were made by the authorities, and upon examination they have nearly all so far turned State's evidence. The investigation has revealed that, notwithstanding the pretentious and sanguinary objects of the movement, it was after all a most laughable farce from beginning to end. The great majority of those who belonged to it—the most ignorant of the coloured population—were utterly unaware of its nature, and when they took an oath to be ready at any moment they were called upon, and were afterwards turned out to drill, they did so under the impression that they were acting under some State or Federal law. As to the leaders of the affair, they were undoubtedly villains at heart, but they lacked the brains to carry out their villainous intentions, even in the beginning, with the very smallest modicum of intelligence. Not that their ideas of the work to which they had set themselves were not sublime enough. Although they were apparently not sufficiently informed to be aware of it, they were bent on carrying out the intentions of the Commune on a rather grand scale. They got it into their heads that the soil of the State was their rightful patrimony, of which they were being rudely robbed by the white men, so they proposed to ask for a division of the same at the rate of "forty acres and a mule" to each man. They also wanted a system of public schools to which they could send their children for education along with the children of the whites. As to the first demand, there are not a few more intelligent beings of another colour who insist upon a similar extraordinary doctrine, and have an idea of some day putting it in practice—peacefully if they can, but forcibly if necessary. It will be consolation to these latter to know that they have such distinguished and educated sympathizers in Georgia. The Common School system which these Georgian insurrectionists conceived it necessary to fight for doubtless has its objections in the eyes of the quondam slave holders of the South, but there is to all appearance much need for some way of instructing the race who, no longer the slaves of other men, are still in the debasing bondage of ignorance. The fact is, that the white men of the Southern States stand in their own light when they oppose any movement which would be likely to dispel the thick mental darkness in which their coloured brethren are enveloped, for so long as they remain in their present condition, they will be mere tools in the hands of designing agitators. The grave side to this Georgia business is the probability to which it gave rise, had it not been early and carefully dealt with, of a war of races upon an extensive and bloody scale. General credit is given by the United States press of all parties to Governor Smith, for the tact he displayed in connection with the whole matter.

AN EXTRAORDINARY SUICIDE.

The latest New York suicide, or at any rate one of the latest reported, is probably one of the most romantic on record, rivalling the thrilling episodes to be found in sensational novels, and illustrating very forcibly that, sometimes at least, if not always, truth is indeed stranger than fiction. A rather aristocratic New York party had betaken themselves to City Island on Tuesday last for a day's recreation and festivity. Among those invited were many Congressman residing in the city and vicinity, a fair proportion of whom attended, and prominent citizens were present in considerable force. They were welcomed to the Island by a Captain Horton and Professor R. Ogden Doremus, the latter of whom has a residence there. When the festive board had been duly spread, as the hackneyed phrase puts it, ex Congressman Odell presided, and at the other end of the table was the Rev. Dr. Monselle, who was chosen to welcome the guests on behalf of the Sound pilots. Short and appropriate speeches were made by Congressmen and other gentlemen of note, songs were sung, and the company generally were enjoying themselves very much. Professor Doremus had introduced in the early part of the day a friend of his, a young Italian painter named Vaini, who had for some time been pursuing his art in New York with much more than ordinary success. Vaini, besides being a successful artist, was a member of a prominent European family, and of course an object of considerable attraction in New York; for with all their pretence to democratic feeling, the Yankees, and especially Yankee ladies, have a great fondness for blue-blooded aristocrats. In the course of the afternoon this young gentleman informed one of the guests that he desired the opportunity of saying a few words, which was readily accorded him. Throwing himself into an attitude which for its theatrical effect fixed the attention of the whole audience, he commenced the recitation of an Italian composition. There was something in his manner which fascinated them, and the further he proceeded, the deeper grew their excitement. In the midst of the performance, he exclaimed to one of the guests nearest him, who understood Italian, "God, who judges all, will judge this," and coolly taking a revolver from one of his pockets, he placed the muzzle against his forehead and fired. The great majority of those who witnessed this action, not understanding a word of the language in which the young man spoke, regarded it as merely an incident in the piece he was reciting, and when he fell forward on his face and remained perfectly motionless for a moment or two, so like was his conduct to what it was supposed to represent that they were about to burst out in rapturous applause. But Professor Doremus, divining more correctly the import of the scene which had made such a wonderful impression on all who witnessed it, sprang forward with the startling exclamation—"Great God! gentlemen, he is killed." And so it was. The unfortunate man died on the instant. And, what is still more strange, there is no decided explanation of his extraordinary occurrence; no motive assigned for the act. Vaini was as successful as any young man in his profession could desire or hope to be. He was a rapid worker, a fine artist, and the productions of his brush sold at prices which would excite the jealousy of many a more talented but less appreciated painter. He had his studio in one of the best sections of New York, his private residence on City Island, and was what people term "doing exceedingly well." It has been rumoured since his tragic death that his departure from Rome was occasioned by some "affair of the heart," the nature of which is not known; but it is believed that some new development in connection with it instigated the rash deed. Of course, occurring where and how it did, it has created an immense sensation. The expressions of the public in regard to it, if the New York press may be credited, are not of the most high toned and moral nature. In fact Mr. Vaini seems destined to be a success in his death, as well as in his life. He is rather a hero than otherwise, and there is at least much more sympathy for him than for many a poor devil whom misfortune may be said to have literally hustled out of the world. We have no fellow-feeling with those who would excuse suicide under certain circumstances, but surely the child of misadventure is more justified in laying forcible hands upon a life that is a burden to himself and often a disgrace to all connected with him, than he who, from love of notoriety, or a false idea of the requirements of chivalry, willingly and with pre-meditation throws himself into the abyss of the future. However, the desperate situation has its attractions, and we may expect that Vaini's new departure, if for nothing than its tragic boldness, will have its votaries in the future. It seems that to commit a crime in "good company" has some effect upon the way the public appreciate it in democratic New York, as well as in aristocratic London. The Congressmen and other prominent people who were spectators of the affair, however, if we except the three or four who have been mentioned in this article, have not so far had their names published in any of the leading news papers. It is to be hoped the public may be saved the infliction.

RECKLESS TRADING.

To the Editor of the TIMES:

Sir,—I have this day examined a list of failures issued by one of the Mercantile Agencies and numbering about two hundred and twenty These are all what may be called recent failures, having occurred within, I may say, a few days past. I regard this as a notorious exhibit—as though the bottom were dropping out of the mercantile community. This rush to the Insolvent Court is a marked evidence of widespread dishonesty. A large percentage of these assignments are made in order that proceedings may be had under the old law for fear that the new act may not be so favourable to what is called whitewashing; and in a great proportion of cases for fear that mismanagement, improvidence, extravagance, and fraud will be more severely dealt with under the new than under the old system of liquidation. The state of affairs disclosed by these failures shews that the mercantile community has had a large element of weakness within it, the result of overtrading, which in turn is the result of too easily obtained credit. It is to be hoped that the effect of the new Act will be to curtail business and to make those who contemplate venturing into obligations with or without capital more prudent than heretofore, and, above all, to live within their means. Heretofore no honest trader could compete with those reckless people who were prepared to go into business on any terms without either knowing or caring how they got out of it, or at whose expense. I can name within the last five years some who have compounded three times and now have made an assignment just at the last moment yet so as to have the benefit of the old act. It requires a good deal of cheek to do business in this way and yet hold up one's head in a respectable community, but some people have cheek enough for any occasion. One dry goods merchant here who failed some two years ago, subsequently hired out as a clerk, but regaining his confidence in himself unfortunately he commenced business again about four months ago with a cash capital, it is said, of $2,500. Whether this was borrowed or saved out of the former wreck I cannot say, but to-day he is again figuring in the list of bankrupts. There are not a few whose business it seems to be to get into insolvency, there to fight and cheat their creditors out of as much as possible.

Yet these people, bad as they are, are not responsible for the whole trouble The business men who sold them goods without first ascertaining their character, or knowing it to be unreliable, recklessly sold them goods at all hazards, are little better than they, and deserving of no sympathy. If wholesale men and jobbers were more careful in this matter, there would to day be chronicled fewer failures, and there would be a more healthy tone in business circles. There must be curtailment. No individual can consume more food than the system requires, neither can more goods be forced into consumption than will supply the actual wants of the people. So it is with our great staple article of lumber. If the manufacturer will persist in the madness of rushing into the woods, year after year increasing and extending his operations, it comes inevitably to this, that he must face an overstocked market, where he must sell at a loss, or otherwise hold over his stock, without the certainty of doing better next year, either course being ruinous. Yet this ruinous alternative is being embraced year after year. To-day lumber manufacturers are sending, or preparing to send, men and supplies to the limits, when common sense must show them that it is absolute folly to do so. Surely the timber forests will disappear soon enough; there can be no object in slaughtering them not only without profit but to a dead loss. The excuse they make, when remonstrated with, is, that they have hay and oats and provisions on their farms, and must use these articles, an excuse which might have some force, if hay and oats would not keep, but which there is really nothing in since it would have been more prudent not to have laid in stocks of provisions. There can be no greater folly than to cut timber down with the certainty of losing on it, when its natural growth is better than money at interest and when within a few years it may be manufactured at a handsome profit.

I hope the experience of the past may be a lesson in the future to all engaged in mercantile pursuits. Men should not of their own motion, nor should they be encouraged by the countenance of others, to go into business without adequate capital for their undertaking. All commercial concerns and transactions should have capital at their bottom. If this rule were adhered to we should see much less reckless over trading and fewer dishonourable insolvencies. If the new Insolvent Act will have the effect of leading in this direction it will be a great benefit.

Yours truly,
CHAUDIERE.

MR. CROOKS AND THE DEBENTURES.

To the Editor of the Globe.

Sir,—As one of your morning contemporaries has returned to the attack on Mr. Crooks in regard to the results of his mission to London last year, would you permit me, as one present there at the time, and quite independent of him, to explain a few facts regarding the negotiability of the debentures offered on that occasion, and especially regarding the figures at which they were issued.

The scheme, as presented in the prospectus to the public, included debentures payable in different years and representing fifteen municipalities, each different from the other in population, progress, debt, and resources. Each set of debentures had therefore, necessarily, a different value. This circumstance rendered it impossible to have them quoted as a whole on the London Stock Exchange; and on the other hand, with one exception, the debentures of no individual municipality were large enough in amount to be issued separately. Had the principal and interest been guaranteed by the Province of Ontario, a considerable portion of them would then have had a sufficient unity of character to have been so quoted; but the guarantee given extended no further than their title and validity, and your contemporary is under misapprehension when it supposes that any London broker construed this limited guarantee otherwise than as it was intended. So much the contrary was the case that the two difficulties in the way of the success of the scheme constantly mentioned by money men in London were the want of the Government guarantee and the impossibility of a Stock Exchange quotation.

To the uninitiated the value of a Stock Exchange quotation may not be at once apparent, but such are now the modes of transacting business that to facilitate expeditious sales, and to establish the market value of any security a Stock Exchange quotation has become a necessity. Some years since there was a considerable market for unquoted Canadian municipal securities among the Scottish insurance companies, but the large fires in Chicago and elsewhere compelling them to suddenly realise on some of their investments, they found it difficult to negotiate those securities not quoted on the Stock Exchange; and since then they have regarded all such as undesirable.

Such being the condition of this scheme, it would be difficult to arrange with any financial house to float it. The larger banking-houses to have taken it up would require to have departed entirely from their ordinary course of business In fact, unquotable debentures in quantity would not be bought "firm" by any house, and under ordinary circumstances, when taken by brokers on commission, would be taken with the knowledge that it would require time to dispose of them. I only add that the Colonial Trusts Corporation, which did consent to negotiate these debentures on commission, is from my personal knowledge of it a very respectable institution, and I have no hesitation in saying was as successful in this negotiation as any other house, however large, would under the circumstances have been.

Whether or not it would have been politic for the Province of Ontario to have guaranteed the debentures is not the question under discussion. The reason given by Mr. Crooks for not doing so was good, viewed from the position of the Province in its relations towards the municipalities, and the guarantee not having been given, the sound financial position of the Province did not add to either the value or the negotiability of the debentures. They stood entirely on their own merits.

The issue price of these five per cents was different in each series, but for the great bulk of the debentures it was 85. Under the circumstances, these were most satisfactory prices. To compare them, as has been done, with the quotations of Dominion sixes and Province of Quebec fives is absurd The debentures were the securities of municipalities quite unknown to the English investing public, and which, not having a Stock Exchange quotation, had to depend for buyers entirely upon those permanent investors who had no other intention than of locking them up until due. The merest tyro in finance can understand how slowly large amounts of such bonds would be disposed of at even low figures. But let me compare the prices obtained with those of some municipalities better known, and which had a stock quotation, or the prospect of it. About the same time as the Colonial Trust Corporation's prospectus appeared Messrs J. S. Morgan & Co. floated a St. Louis six per cent. loan at 92, and Blake Bros. tried unsuccessfully a City of Fall River five per cent. loan at 83. Both of these figures are considerably lower than the prices asked by Mr. Crooks. At this time Montreal fives and Ottawa and Toronto sixes, which are well known, and favourite securities in London were respectively 95¼ 102 and 101, but no financier would pretend to expect figures like these for unknown, unquotable municipal bonds. Yet, even Toronto and Ottawa at first obtained relatively less for their sixes than 85 was for five per cents. But the comparison may be made more parallel. Shortly before this some London (Canada) sixes, which are not quoted on the Exchange, were sold with difficulty in the same market at, it was said, as low as 89 to 90. In Canada there have been recently numerous sales of bonds. Toronto and Ottawa sixes have been sold at 95, London sevens at par, Belleville sevens at 95, and Kingston sixes at prices to net seven per cent. Not one of these figures, it will be noticed, is equal to 85—the minimum price of Mr. Crooks' issue through the Colonial Trusts Corporation.

Yours very truly,
A. T. DRUMMOND,

THE ALLEGED ATTEMPTED MURDER.

The Report Unfounded.

In last night's Citizen there appears what purports to be a report of an attempt to commit murder, near the corner of Nelson and St. Patrick Streets, upon a man named Pelletier, by stabbing him in two places in the neck, thereby inflicting injuries which may prove fatal. The direful act is alleged to have been perpetrated by two men, to whom P. C. Martineau gave chase, but was unable to catch, on account of the darkness making them invisible. It is further alleged that P. C. Martineau was two blocks away from the scene when he heard the screams of the wounded man, and ran with another man to his assistance. The last alluded to man's name is not mentioned, neither is that of the medical gentleman by whom his "wounds were dressed." The whole affair appears to have been much exaggerated by the reporter, and perhaps in order to give something like a correct version of it, it would be well to use P. C. Martineau's own words, as spoken in the presence of Sergt O'Keefe, a TIMES reporter and several constables. He says: "On Saturday night about 11 o'clock I was near the corner of St. Patrick and Parry streets, when I saw two men whom I knew go into the gateway of a house of ill fame. I thought they had been doing something, for I heard one say to the other: "You did not do as I told you." They came out again in about fifteen minutes and went to the corner of the street, where it is said the man was attacked. I heard the disturbance, and went to the corner but could see no one; the men were gone. It was last night (Sunday) about eleven o'clock, before I heard anything about the stabbing case, or about his being knocked down." These are Martineau's statements, and they are corroborated by persons in the neighborhood, and also we believe that P. C. Groulx saw the man, Pelletier, who had got into a scuffle with some roughs, and got his neck scratched by the finger nails of his assailants. It was also rumored that he had gone to his work as usual on a boat yesterday morning.

The Provincial
EXHIBITION ANNUAL,
A Guide to the Show Grounds,
AND
HAND BOOK for the CITY OF OTTAWA.
First Edition.
(A Circulation of Twenty Thousand Copies Guaranteed.)

Under the above title the subscriber purposes issuing, in time for circulation, previous to and during the approaching Provincial Exhibition to be held in this city, a Hand Book prepared especially for the use of visitors to the Exhibition and of strangers desirous of seeing the principal objects of attraction in and around Ottawa.
Among its contents will be found:
Accurate Plans of the Exhibition grounds and buildings, with full description of the same, dimensions, uses, &c.
A carefully prepared synopsis of By-Laws and Regulations of the Agricultural and Arts Association so far as they affect exhibitors and visitors to the Exhibition.
Index to the location of the several classes of stock and articles exhibited, colours of prize tickets, and all other matters calculated to assist visitors in intelligently enjoying the display.
Complete programme of the Exhibition week from the opening to the close.
Description of the City of Ottawa, its principal points of attraction, scenery, manufactures and Public Buildings, together with the location, dimensions, etc., of the same.
Complete directory of the various Benevolent, Temperance and other societies, clubs of associations, with nights and places of meeting, for the convenience of visiting brethren.
Postal, Train, Steamboat and other information useful to travellers.
List of public meetings, entertainments, etc., in the city during the exhibition week.
The Government Buildings, the Library, locations of the several Departments and principal public offices.
The Patent Office.—Especial attention will be given to this important office and full information as to the most direct mode of transacting business therewith.

TO ADVERTISERS.

Of twenty thousand copies of the "Exhibition Annual" will be in circulation before the end of Exhibition week, it will furnish an unrivalled medium for advertising. Its pages (the size of this prospectus) will be of a large pamphlet form with coloured paper cover, thus rendering it convenient for preservation and future reference.
The vast amount of information it will contain, and the fact, that it is in contemplation to maintain it as an annual publication in connection with the Ontario Exhibitions—adapting it to each locality wherein they are held—gives its advertising patrons virtually the benefit of a standing advertisement for a whole year.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

From A. McNab, Esq., President of the Provincial Agricultural and Arts Association.

SIR,— * * I have no hesitation in giving your proposed Hand Book my hearty approval, believing it to be interesting to the public generally and particularly to the Agriculturists of the Dominion. Yours, etc.,
ARCHD. McNAB.
A. ROBERTSON, Esq., Ottawa.

From the Hon D. Christie, Speaker of the Senate, and late President of the Upper Canada Provincial Agricultural Association.

MY DEAR SIR,—I have read your letter with great interest and have pleasure in stating my hearty approval of your scheme in publishing a "Provincial Exhibition Hand-book." It will be a work of real value to visitors to the Exhibition, as a reference. I hope you will meet with sufficient encouragement to justify a yearly publication of this Hand-book.
I remain, yours very truly,
D. CHRISTIE.
ALEX. ROBERTSON, Esq.

Encouraged by the hearty approval of Mr. McNab, Hon. Mr. Christie, Hon. M. Cameron, Hon. Mr. Read, Ira Morgan, Esq., and many other gentlemen of distinction, I have secured a copy-right, and under the title of the "Provincial Exhibition Annual," and intend to make of it a yearly publication in connection with our Provincial Exhibitions.

BUSINESS NOTICES

FREE NECESSITY.—For people to allow disease to become seated upon them rather than consult a physician, or to suffer as many do for years with the different kinds of piles, without going at once to the drug giant for Dr. Sin's Pile and Humor Cure, which is an infallible cure. 3729

SCROFULA of whatever nature, are completely eradicated by the use of Dr. Sin's Blood Humour Cure; its effect is marvellous for Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Ring Worm, and even Leprosy; it has proved in almost never failing cure. (See special notice.) 3733

HAVE YOU A HORSE?—If you desire to get a portable horse power from Baskerville & Bros. and have it made to suit your taste they will submit information what you return. Flours, provisions and general groceries are of the best brand.

People's Tea Store,
36 Rideau street.

HEMORRHOIDS (or PILES) are permanently cured by Mathieu's Pile Ointment, or money refunded. Price $1 per pot, or six pots for $5. Sold wholesale and retail by the Wingsord Chemical Company, Montreal, and retail by all druggists, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by Dr. E. Mathieu, 198 Notre Dame street, Montreal. 3762

FURNITURE.—At No. 5, Rideau Street Mr. W. A. Annable has on hand a very large stock of furniture of every description and of the newest style. On Saturday last we paid his establishment a visit and were well pleased with everything we saw. Whether for the drawing room, the parlour, the bed-room, the library, or the kitchen there is an ample choice, and we learned that Mr. Annable is preparing to give up the retail business and deal only by wholesale. Persons desiring really good furniture at very moderate prices will do well by paying Mr. Annable a visit under present circumstances. Of one thing he feels assured, in neither auction rooms' nor elsewhere can he be undersold in the city. 3913—1m

HORSES SAVED.—The lives of thousands of horses have been saved during the past year, and the credit is due to "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." This preparation is being extensively used, and cures from all the highest praise. Nothing of the kind has ever before been half as successful, or given such universal satisfaction; it can not be equalled. We can confidently recommend it, and would advise all who own horses to keep a supply of it on hand—it may be the means of saving your horse's life. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co., is on each package. Northrup & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medical dealers. 3796

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have with a good the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P.Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and since then had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all." J. R. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally as good for horses as for man."—A. Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, 'one of the best medicines they have ever used;' it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throat, &c., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes: "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit." A. Mr. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes: "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee, of this place, induced me to try Electric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine.

Sold by all medicine dealers, price 25 cents.

NERVOUSNESS

It affords me great pleasure to bear testimony to the benefits I have received from using Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and it has proved an excellent curative for nervousness and general debility.

It is also a first class tonic, enables a person to take on flesh rapidly, and is free from the constipating effects characteristic of other tonics I have tried.

HENRY JOHNSON, Montreal.

JOB MOSES FOR MALE PILLS.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain free, of the agent, a pamphlet, or refer to advertisement.

The Montreal Proprietary School has been established to provide a liberal education similar to that given in the Public Schools of England. The object of Instruction, however, will not be exclusively classical, and boys will be specially prepared either for the University and Professions or for Commercial Life.

Most eligible premises have been purchased for the School in McTavish street, one of the most healthful localities of the city, and immediately adjoining the grounds of the McGill University.

The course of instruction will include Latin, Greek, Mathematics, French, German, Arithmetic, Writing, English Grammar, Literature and Composition, History and Geography, both Ancient and Modern, Natural Philosophy, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, Gymnastics and Drilling.

A limited number of boys will be received by the Principal as Boarders or Weekly Boarders and, with the view of keeping the pupils from improper influences, it is strongly recommended that all be entered as Day Boarders, who will dine in the house of the Principal.

Further particulars can be obtained from the Secretary, J. W. Holmes, Esq., 78 Victoria street, to whom all applications for admission must be made.

The School will open on MONDAY, the 12th of April, and will be carried on for a few days at 78 Victoria street, the new premises not being quite completed.

CHOICE AND BEAUTIFUL

WALL PAPER.

INCLUDING THOSE DEDICATED BY THE MANUFACTURER

TO

Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Dufferin.

These Paperhangings are imported direct from the best Manufacturing Establishments in England, France and United States. Great care has been taken in their selection with regard to colour. The ground tones are soft and pleasing to the eye, especially those toned with silver mica; but above all, they are free from the mineral poisons that many of the tawdry-coloured Paperhangings of the day are surcharged with. The Subscriber's long experience as a colourist, and being thoroughly acquainted with the chemical compound of the pigments used in Painting, enables him to reject, in his selection of Paperhangings, those coloured with poisonous pigments, so deleterious to health. The Public are respectfully invited to examine his STOCK of WALL PAPER before purchasing elsewhere.

As the undersigned is going out of the Room Paper Business as soon as his present Stock is disposed of, the Goods will be Sold at the Lowest Remunerating Prices.

PAIN KILLER.

After thirty-five years trial, it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Physicians of the first respectability recommend it as a most effectual preparation for the extinction of pain. It is not only the best remedy ever known for Bruises, Cuts, Burns, &c., but for Dysentery, or Cholera, or any sort of Bowel complaint it is a remedy unsurpassed for efficiency, and rapidity of action. In the greatest extremity of India, and other hot climates, it has become the standard medicine for all such complaints, as well as for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and other kindred diseases. For Coughs and Colds, Canker, Asthma, and Rheumatic difficulties, it has been proved by the most distant and convincing testimony to be an inevitable medicine.

It is used Internally and Externally.

LACHINE

Canal Enlargement.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sealed Tenders addressed to the Secretary of Public Works, and endorsed "Tender for the Lachine Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western mails on TUESDAY, the Seventh day of September next, for the enlargement of this canal, consisting of the widening and deepening of the channel from near the new basin east of Wellington Street bridge, upwards, to the river St. Lawrence at Lachine, embracing the construction of new locks at St. Gabriel and Côte St. Paul, also the taking down and rebuilding the upper portions of the present locks at these places; building regulating weirs, culverts, bridge piers; the construction of a new entrance lock at Lachine, and the formation of a channel and basin on the south or river side of the existing entrance.

The works will be let in sections of the respective lengths indicated on a map of the line, which, together with plans and specifications of the various works, can be seen at this office, and at the Lachine Canal Office, Montreal, on and after TUESDAY, the Tenth day of September next, at either of which places Printed forms of Tender can be obtained.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that Tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and—in the case of firms—except there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same; and further, an accepted bank cheque, or other available security, for the sum of from one to three thousand dollars, according to the ext

The Burns' Tragedy.

THE CONCLUSION OF THE INQUEST.

A Verdict of Murder Found.

The Inquest in the cause of the death of the late Edward Burns was resumed yesterday before Coroner Lynn at 10 o'clock.

Detective Hamilton and Sergt. O'Keefe were present and cross-examined the witnesses.

Hannah Owen, plumber, was the first witness called. He deposed:—Mr. Sallion and myself were going up, York street between 11 and 12 o'clock on the night of Wednesday, the 25th inst., and when about opposite Mrs Farrell's house saw two men, one on each side of the street, the man on the north side had a stone as large as a cab that was passing; heard the stone rattling on the spokes of one of the wheels; heard the other man tell him to come on; they seemed to be going in the direction of Morrison's, where a dance was taking place; we then went to George Washington's oyster depot, when Edward O'Brien came in and informed us that a man had his throat cut and was lying down at Dr. Beaubien's. I think he said it was Bob Burns' father; we then went to Dr. Beaubien's and saw deceased on a stretcher; the men referred to seemed to be under the influence of liquor; was afraid they might throw a stone at me, and consequently left as soon as possible; went to Morrison's after leaving Dr. Beaubien's, and told them what had happened; it was then after 1 o'clock; I cannot describe the men; we recollected at the dance until it was finished; this was about 3 o'clock.

To Sergt. O'Keefe: I was with the police when they examined the locality where the affair occurred, and noticed the footprints in the mud. The search was made for a knife but none could be found.

Chas. Hoar sworn. Am superintendent at the Gas Works; knew the deceased, Edward Burns; last saw him alone on Tuesday evening, before the occurrence; he seemed to be in perfect health; I never saw the deceased under the influence of liquor; I live near where the trouble occurred; I heard my children state that evening that Mr. Burns had locked his front door and gone out at the back door; knew nothing about the manner in which he met his death.

Capt. McCaffrey was next sworn: I did not know the deceased; between 11 and 12 o'clock on Wednesday evening, 25th August, I was in my bar with the bartender, when James Kilby, and one or two others came in; they did not remain long, but went down York street towards Cumberland; shortly after they left two raftsmen came in. One of them was a little the worse of liquor, and the other apparently sober. There was a man by the name of Bennett in the house at the time they came in; Bennett and the taller of the two men commenced fooling, and for fear there should be some row, I nodded to Bennett and he went out; I told the tallest man not to take any any more liquor and advised him to go home; the man who was with him said he was all right and that he would take him home; when they went out they heard music, and they made the remark that there was a dance on Sussex street; I remarked to them that there was also a dance across the road at Morrison's, and the tallest man began to dance on the sidewalk; they then started across the market towards Clarence street; after they went away James Kilby and two other men came up past my door, and asked me if I had seen the police; I told them "no," and asked them what was the matter; Mr. Lawrence said that somebody had cut a man's throat near Dr. Beaubien's and threw him in the creek; Bennett came up and I asked him to go down and see if what I had heard was true; he came back in a short time and told me it was true; I had the house locked up on his return, so I locked the door and went down to Dr. Beaubien's with him; saw deceased stretched on an easy chair, with several persons around him; I did not hear him speak; I knew both the men that came into my place; no strangers came into my place to my knowledge.

Thomas O'Connor was next summoned, but as he stated that he knew nothing about the matter, he was allowed to go.

Edward O'Brien, bricklayer, was next sworn: He deposed: I am a bricklayer; never new the deceased; saw two men take fruit from Mr. Gear on Sussex street; this was on Wednesday night the 25th at between 10 and 11 o'clock; was sitting on corner of Sussex and York street with a friend when they passed; one was drunk and the other sober; one asked the other to go to a dance on the opposite side of the street; the other replied he would go when they came back; saw them come back from fruit store and crossed the street, when they threw apples at some windows; they next went down York street; about half an hour afterwards we started down the same street home; we met two men named Owens and Salmon, who told us to look out as there were two men down there throwing stones; crossed over to the north side and went down as far as McCaffrey's Hotel; saw them in front of Morrison's Hall; one man who was very drunk, was throwing stones and acting in a disorderly manner; stood looking at them some time; they came across to where we stood, near the hay scales; the drunken man passed between us and went back; this was about 11 o'clock; they then separated, one going up towards Sussex street, and the other crossing the Market Square towards Clarence street; one man was dressed in a black coat and black slouched hat; he was a man about five feet ten inches, broad shouldered and stooped, and had a moustache; the other was a slim man nearly as tall; had no whiskers, and wore a white straw hat with dark clothes; he took them to be Irish shantymen.

Chief Langrell was next sworn.—He deposed that: "I did not in any way directly or indirectly interfere with the Coroner, Dr. Beaubien, attending physician, or any other person, to prevent the dying testimony of the late Edward Burns being taken; had no conversation with either Dr. Lynn or Dr. Beaubien relative to the deceased until after his death.

Dr. Beaubien here explained that in his conversation with Chief Langrell he had expressed an idea that a dying deposition was unnecessary, to which the Chief replied that he did not think it necessary, as it could not possibly lead to the identification of the parties.

The Chief admitted that a conversation somewhat to this effect had taken place after the death of Burns.

Stanislaus Laurin, shoemaker, was next sworn. He deposed: Saw the deceased on the night of Wednesday, the 25th, on Dr. Beaubien's gallery. The wound was not dressed at that time; for the police and found them on Rideau street; took them down to Dr. Beaubien's; the deceased stated that it was three young men on the opposite side of the street that cut his throat; he said one had a light side whisker and the other a light moustache without whiskers; the deceased told me he did not see them before, but said if he saw them again he would recognize them; he thought they were from Letter, O.; Sergt. O'Keefe searched Burns for a knife, but he answered he had no knife; when the Sergeant told him that the people thought he had committed suicide, he replied he did not; a diligent search was made for a knife but none was found; heard it said by a man outside that he was afraid that the same thing might happen him, as a man in Letter, O., had a spite at him; would infer from that, that Burns was taken for this man.

The inquest was then adjourned till 3 o'clock, p.m.

The inquest was resumed at 3 o'clock, before Coroner Lynn.

John Fitchell, medicine dealer, was the first witness called. He deposed:—I knew the deceased for about the last 10 years; last saw him alone on the 10th of August: there did not seem to be any trouble with the exception of wanting $5 to pay his rent with, which I gave him; he then went off to pay his rent, seeming quite cheerful and buoyant; he seemed very desirous on the Monday previous to obtain the money as he was afraid of being pressed for it; never knew the deceased to be under the influence of liquor: never heard him say that his life was in danger, nor that it was threatened by any one.

Dennis McGrath was the next witness called. He deposed:—I saw the deceased on the night of the 25th at Dr. Beaubien's; heard him say when he was searched by the police and on Mr. O'Keefe asking him to tell whether it was done by himself or not; he said no, but was done by three men: one of whom he particularly described as being tall, wearing a light coloured slouched hat, black moustache; when his sister asked him when it was done, I heard him answer her and say it was down a little below John Duff's door; on Mrs. Beaubien saying to him if anything was wrong, he answered no, no, I never did it; I heard Mr. Anderson say that the deceased had not been killed by any three men, but that it was his own work.

Dennis O'Keefe, Sergeant of Police, was next sworn. He deposed: I was at Dr Beaubien's shortly after deceased had been brought there; on the bank of the creek, from the appearance of tracks on the mud, we inferred that a scuffle had taken place; I then went back and heard him charge three men with doing it; when I saw him he was quite steady, and did not seem to be a man labouring under the influence of liquor; I asked him why he said those parties were from Letter, O.; he said he saw them somewhere before, but where he could not say, but that it was in Letter, O.; I told him that it was a fearful charge to make against any one, that he would die in a very few minutes, and that it was the opinion of a good many parties that he had done it himself; he again said he did not do it; he told me it had occurred near Duff's, and when I went to look, I found traces of his being there; he said after the parties had assaulted him, they ran towards the middle of the street; on asking him why he did not give the alarm, he said it was so sudden that he could not, and that after his throat had been cut he could not speak; everything he told me in regard to the locality where the assault had been committed was correct; on asking him what they cut his throat with, he said he thought it must have been a razor; searched his pockets, and I also all over the ground where it was most likely for him to have been; there was nothing in the house to lead one to suspect that it had been done there; Anderson denied ever having made use of the remarks alluded to in Murphy's evidence, as to his saying he thought it was a suicide; on seeing him afterwards in the hospital next day, when he still maintained that he did not commit suicide; a patient died in the hospital alongside of the deceased, and as the corpse was being prepared for burial, I again asked him about the attack, and warned him of his late in a few minutes; he then repeated his former statement as to his having been murdered.

Dr. Lynn then addressed the jury, setting forth the leading points in the evidence. He stated, judging from the dying statements of the deceased, which to a certain extent were corroborated by living testimony, that death was brought about by the hands of some unknown person or persons. The statement of the dying man should not be lightly passed over, as the repeated statements never varied, and things stated by him were found by the police true in every particular. Some who were impressed with the idea of suicide, thought if it were a murder noise should be heard; but no importance could be attached to it in this case, as the attack had been so sudden, and the throat having been cut no call could have been made for assistance. The Coroner then read, in support of this view, the following from "Taylors Medical Jurisprudence" a very high authority in such matters:—"There is one circumstance which requires notice in relation to some wounds in the throat—namely that although the individual may have the power of locomotion he may not be able to use his voice so as to call for assistance. It sometimes excites surprise at an inquest how a murder in this way may be committed without persons in an adjoining room hearing any noise, but the fact is well known medically, that when the trachia is divided—as it generally is on these occasions, the voice is lost" He would, however, leave the matter in their hands and also the evidence, which they should carefully weigh before coming to a final decision in the matter.

The jury after deliberating for some time brought in the following verdict: "That the deceased Edward Burns came to his death on the 25th of August from hemmorrhage, caused by a throat wound administered by a party or parties unknown."

THE GUARDS' TEAM.

The Recent Ontario Rifle Meeting—An Excellent Record.

Never since rifle shooting commenced in Canada has any team achieved such remarkable success as that of the Guards at the recent Ontario Rifle Association matches, and this fact should be placed prominently before the public, and justice done to those who have so worthily represented the capital at the tournament. With this view we present to our readers to-day a resume of the scores of the matches, with a few remarks upon each, and by way of enhancing the value of these scores, we may mention that amongst the competitors against whom the Guards were pitted, were most of those who for the past five years have been selected from Ontario to represent the Dominion at the National Rifle Association matches on Wimbledon Common. In this respect the 10th Royals, of Toronto, and the 13th, of Hamilton, were particularly strong, the former embracing in their team Bell, Cruit, Mills, (three Kolapore Cup men), Little and Sheppard, and the latter Major Gibson, Captain Macpherson, the two Mitchells, Adams and Pain. In the face of such odds it was looked upon as impossible for any other team to succeed in carrying off any of the cups. That the Guards did so, redounds highly to their credit, and speaks well, not only of their individual shooting, but of the perfect harmony and unanimity of purpose with which they must have worked. Of the seven cups presented for competition they tied for the first, and brought home the other six. These were the Ladies' Cup for the best association five, the Merchants Challenge Trophy for the best batallion ten, the Sir Peter Tait Cup for the best batallion six, the Brassey Cup for the best company five, the Gzowski Cup for the best District fifteen, the Elkington cup for the best individual score at 500 yards, of competitors eligible to fire in the Nursery stakes, and a silver cup for the highest aggregate score in the first four matches. The tie for the first was occasioned by one of the best and surest men on the team missing his first shot at 500 yards, otherwise a clean sweep would have been made of them all. The others were won by the highest scores that have ever been made for them. Respecting the second, third and fourth matches, we cut the following remarks from the Globe: "Considerable interest was centred in these competitions (the Battalion, Company and Sir Peter Tait, and Brassey Cups,) as they are looked upon as a test of the shooting capabilities of the principal battalions of the Province. The matches were fired simultaneously, and the Battalion match was looked upon as a sure prize for either the 10th Royals or the 13th Battalion, but, as will be seen from the scores, the shooting of the team from the Governor General's Foot Guards was too fine for these two Battalions, both of which had very strong teams. The score of the winning team was 466 points, being 67 points above the score made by the 13th Battalion, the winning team of this prize last year. For the Company prize, consisting of the Brassey Cup and $50, a close contest took place between No. 1 Company of the Foot Guards and No. 9 Company, 10th Royals, the Ottawa men finally proving the victors by two points only. In fact, the Ottawa men made a clean sweep of all the team prizes, winning both the Battalion and Company Prizes, and the Sir Peter Tait Cup. The shooting throughout the meeting has been much above that of last year." In 1874 399 was the highest made in the Battalion match, and 204 was the highest in the Company match. This year the scores stand 466 and 233; last year the highest individual score was 49, this year it was 53.

The matches were open to regularly enrolled volunteers of the Province of Ontario only. Ranges 200, 500, and 600 yards. Five rounds at each range.

For the purpose of comparison, and in order justly to estimate the success of the Guards in each case, it would be of importance to give the scores of all the competing teams, but space forbids it.

In the fifth match the Toronto and Hamilton men joined their forces and selected a splendid team of the crack shots of the two cities to uphold the honour of their district, but, working together with a quietness and unanimity that won the admiration of their adversaries, the Guardsmen, assisted by Captains De Boucherville and Pearson, veterinary surgeon Harris and gunners Morrison and Johnson, added another victory to their list and walked off with Colonel Gzowski's magnificent cup by six points. We clip the following account of the match from the Mail:—"From the appearance of the list of winners it looks as if the men from the Ottawa District will take home by far the greatest number of the prizes. On Thursday the Foot Guards won all the cups, and yesterday in the District Match the team representing No. 4 District, which was composed mainly of officers and men of the Foot Guards, won the silver cup valued at $200, and $100, presented by Col. Gzowski. The firing of the Toronto team was a very little short of that of Ottawa, whilst the Kingston and London men were a long way behind. Last year the No. 2 District team (Toronto) won the match, their score on that occasion falling two points short of the score of the winning team this year."

Private Newby started at 600 yards with the knowledge that he had to make 23 points to win the silver cup for the highest aggregate score. In his first six shots he made an outer, three centres and two bullseyes, which left it necessary to make a bullseye to win. To the excited bystanders the time he took to get off that last shot seemed interminable. At last it went, a few moments of suspense followed then up came the white disc that told that another and the highest honor of the meeting had fallen to a Guardsman.

The following are the scores in the competition for the highest individual aggregate score:—

Name.	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	Tl
1st. Pte. Newby.....	33	33	48	44	158
2nd. Pte. Murison.	33	26	53	45	157

The following were the next highest aggregate scores:—

Capt. Macpherson, F. G.....	32	30	50	39	151
Capt. White, 34th...	30	31	53	37	151

But one cup now remained, and all the team entered for it except Captain Macpherson and Private Cotton, who, by reason of former victories, had become ineligible. Captain Todd was the first to fire, and would undoubtedly have taken the prize, but unfortunately his first cartridge was short of powder, and did not carry up to the target, his next six shots were all bulls eyes. Major White commenced with two centres and finished with five bull eyes, a splendid score, which the others failed to beat, and the last cup joined the others on their trip to Ottawa.

The following are the scores in the competition for the Elkington Cup:—

1. Elkington Cup ($125) and $15, Major White, F. G.....	26
2. $10, Capt. Bailey, 10th Royals	26

19. 4, Capt. Panton, 20th Batt	24
20. 4, Pte. Symes, F. G	24

In addition to the above the members of the team, firing individually, won twenty-four money prizes. The cups are of solid silver, and very beautiful. We believe that it is intended to leave them for exhibition for a few days in Leslie's window, which will afford the general public an opportunity of seeing them.

CITY COUNCIL,

School Funds—Medical Report—Fluidice Report and Budget—The Market Tenders—$500 Report—Increase of the Police Force—Opening of Murray Street.

A regular meeting of the City Council was held in the City Hall last night, Ald. Waller, Acting-Mayor, in the chair. Present—Aldermen Birkett, Robertson, Heney, Rocque, McDougal, Chabot, Groulx, O'Connor, Bangs, Rowe, Christie, Bronson, and David.

PETITIONS, &c.

A petition was presented from Thos Laing and others, praying for a drain from Bank to Hugh Street. Referred to the Fourth Ward Works.

A petition from Donald Robertson and others, asking for a platform on Frank Street. Referred to the Board of Works.

A letter was read from the Chief of the Fire Brigade, relative to the insurance on lives of men, and asking stations to be fitted up before winter. Referred to the Fire and Light Committee.

PUBLIC SCHOOL FUNDS.

A letter was read from Mr. E.C. Barber, Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Board of Public School Trustees, asking that the sum of $10,000 be placed to the credit of the Board to meet pressing obligations.

On motion of Ald. Robertson, seconded by Ald. Bronson, the Acting Mayor was authorized to sign a cheque tor $10,000 in favour of the Public School Trustees, said amount to be charged to the credit of the amount asked by that Corporation for Public School purposes.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

A letter was read from the City Solicitor, stating that a suit had been entered against the Corporation by W. Hodgson, architect, to recover a claim said to be due on account of plans prepared by him for the new City Hall.

On motion of Ald. Christie, the matter was referred to the City Solicitor, with instructions to protect the interests of the city.

CHANGE IN SEWER.

A petition was presented from Thomas Holbrook and others, praying for enlargement of the main sewer on the west side of the canal.

On motion of Ald. Christie, the petition was referred to the City Engineer and Board of Works, to report at a special meeting, to be called by the Acting Mayor.

DR. LYNN'S MEDICAL REPORT.

To the Chairman of the Board of Health:—

Sir,—In submitting this my report for the month ending the 31st ult., it affords me much pleasure to be in a position to state that there is not at present, and has not been for the last six weeks, a single case of small-pox, either in hospital or private dwelling. The city may at length fairly congratulate itself on the complete disappearance of this loathsome disease whose presence has been so severely felt amongst us; and I think it not unfair to attribute in a great measure the circumstance of its disappearance to the unceasing and intelligent exertions of the Health Inspectors, whose arduous and uninviting duties have been discharged throughout to my entire satisfaction and with much credit to themselves. In the last thirteen cases that occurred we were successful in inducing all the sufferers to enter hospital, and their houses having been thoroughly cleansed and disinfected further spread was checked.

The nuisances now existing in our midst which most urgently demand attention, are those caused by pools of stagnant water and lack of domestic cleanliness respectively. My views on these details are set forth in a letter addressed by me to the Times, under date the 27th ult, copy of which I enclose.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

James P. Lynn,
City Medical Health Officer.

Ottawa, Sept. 4th, 1875.

On motion of Ald. Rowe, seconded by Ald. McDougal, the report was received and adopted, and ordered to be printed with the minutes of the Corporation.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

The City Clerk made application for leave of absence for a short time.

On motion of Ald. McDougal the usual leave of absence was granted the City Clerk.

CHAUDIERE BELL.

A petition was read from the Chaudiere Fire Company asking that their bell, destroyed by some means, be replaced by the Corporation. Referred to the Fire and Light Committee.

RIGHT OF WAY.

A letter was read from the Public Works Department stating that the necessary right of way had been given for the main sewer to run through the canal reserve.

THE GAS NUISANCE.

A communication was read from the City Engineer asking for some instructions in regard to preventing the Gas Company draining their refuse into the main sewer.

Ald. Rocque moved that the City Engineer be instructed to have a drain made from the main sewer to Rideau street to close up the present creek, into which the Gas Company are draining their refuse, provided the same do not exceed in cost the sum of $2,000.

Ald Bronson, moved an amendment that the matter be referred to the City Engineer and Board of Works to effect such redress as may be necessary to protect the main sewer.

Ald. Bangs moved an amendment to the amendment to refer the matter to the Board of Works with instructions to construct a box drain to Rideau street.

The amendment to the amendment and the amendment were lost on division, after which the original resolution was carried on the following division:—

Yeas—Rocque, Chabot, Heney, Groulx, O'Connor, McDougal, Robertson, Birkett.

Nays—Rowe, Christie, Bronson, David, Bangs.

Between the above amount of $482,149.95 and the balance required to be provided for, $469,691.83, it will be seen there is a difference of $12,458.12, which is unavoidable, because of the impossibility of getting a convenient fraction on a given amount to raise the exact sum required. The surplus will be credited as follows:

Con. Deb. 172.....	$ 166 66
Bridge Deb. 310.....	500 00

	$12,458 12

It will be seen that this estimate provides for all necessary requirements of the year, at the lowest possible rate, and if not exceeded by the Council will square accounts on the 31st of December.

On motion of Ald. Bronson, the special statement of the Chairman of the Finance Committee was left over for consideration at a special meeting of the City Council, to be held on Monday evening next.

REPORT OF THE MARKET COMMITTEE.

Ald. Robertson presented the fifth report of the Market Committee.

It recommended the asking of new tenders for certain improvements for the Victoria Ward Meat Market, the cost of the same not to exceed $600.

The City Clerk was instructed to give notice in the official Gazette that application would be made at the next session of the Ontario Legislature for an Act to empower the Corporation to mortgage the By Ward Market property, to enable them to complete the proposed new market building.

It also recommended the placing in the estimates the sum of $2,500, to be placed to the credit of the Market Committee, to keep the several markets in an efficient state of repair.

Alderman Robertson moved, seconded by Ald. Chabot, the adoption of the report.

Ald. Rowe questioned the right of the committee to ask any sum to be placed in the estimates for the purpose specified.

Ald. Robertson replied that it was the only correct principle, and that an estimate should be made in advance of all proposed expenditures of money. He contended that if this had been done for the past ten years, there would be no floating liabilities now to be met by the issue of Debentures.

Ald. Bangs moved that the last clause be amended so as to include $2,500 additional for market improvements in Upper Town.

The report, as amended, was then put to the Council and carried on division.

THE MARKET TENDERS.

The tenders for the new market building in By Ward were then opened and read as follows:—

Beckett and Aspell—Section of work, $17,305; entire building, $30,565. Sureties, Messrs. A Baldwin and R. Beckett.

F. X. LeHereux—Section, $17,272; entire work, $31,340. Sureties, Messrs. E. G. Laverdure and A. DeGuise.

Ald. Robertson moved, seconded by Ald. Rocque, that the tender of Donald Masson be accepted, as being the lowest, provided he sign the necessary contract, and furnish satisfactory security within three days.

Ald. Bronson raised the question as to whether the accepting of the tenders was in order, as the amount necessary to complete the building was not provided for.

The Chairman ruled that it was, as the Council had provided the means at a previous meeting, when it was decided that the amount short, should be raised by way of mortgage on the property.

Ald. Christie contended that as notice was only given for an Act of Parliament, the funds were only in anticipation.

Ald. Bangs contended that the resolution was out of order, and even if passed legal steps would be taken to prevent the work going on.

Ald. Robertson regretted the obstructive policy of several Aldermen, who ought only to be too glad to have the opportunity of providing work at a time when labour was so scarce and times generally so dull. He trusted opposition to the proposed market scheme would cease, in order that the work might be proceeded with at once.

Ald. O'Connor moved in amendment, seconded by Ald. Heney, that the tender of Wm. White be accepted, provided he furnish the necessary security within ten days.

Ald. Bronson moved an amendment to the amendment, that the tenders be referred back to the Market Committee, to report at the next meeting of the Council.

Both amendments were lost on division.

The original resolution was then carried on the following division:

Yeas: Rocque, Chabot, Heney, Groulx, O'Connor, McDougal, Robertson and Birkett (8).

Nays: Bangs, David, Rowe, Bronson and Christie (5).

REWARD OF $500.

On motion of Ald. Robertson, seconded by Ald. O'Connor, the Acting Mayor was authorized to offer the sum of $500 as a reward for the apprehension and conviction of any person or persons who were implicated in the supposed murder of the late Edward Burns of this city.

A motion was also submitted asking the Police Commissioners to either increase the police force or to cause such re-organization of the present force as shall establish the men upon regular beats and give more effectual protection to life and property in the city.

A discussion ensued on this resolution, in the course of which the recent murders, burglaries and other crimes, were referred to. The principle was affirmed that further protection was absolutely necessary.

The Acting Mayor having promised to bring the matter to the notice of the Police Commissioners, the motion was withdrawn.

OPENING OF MURRAY STREET.

On motion of Ald. McDougal steps were taken to arbitrate on certain lots necessary to be expropriated for the opening up of Murray street.

The Council then adjourned.

A Western editor returned a tailor's bill, endorsed, "Declined; handwriting illegible."

They tried to set up the scientific name of the potato bug in Delaware, the other day, and it pied the whole form.

Invalids! Attention!

Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Digestive Organs, Dropsy, Diseases of the Skin, Affections of the Liver and Urinary Organs are positively cured by using the water for a few weeks.

Rheumatics! Read!

Hundreds of Rheumatics have been cured by the Sulphur Baths. Suffering is alleviated by the first, and cripples throw away their crutches after about half-a-dozen baths.

TESTIMONIALS.

"Montreal, 28th July, 1876.

"I hereby certify that I entertain a very favorable opinion of the Baths and Waters of the Caledonia Springs in many forms of disease, among which I would especially mention chronic Rheumatism, the stigmas of Gout, Scrofula, some of the varieties of Cutaneous disease, Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, and in carefully selected cases, some of the diseases of the Kidney and Bladder.

(Signed) GEO. W. CAMPBELL, A.M., M.D.
Dean of the Medical Faculty, McGill College.

Dr. Wm. Robertson, of Montreal, wrote as follows, in 1859:—But the disease above all in which the action of the water is most decided is Rheumatism. * * * * I have known a few individuals who suffered much from improper use of mercury who were restored to health by the use of the waters.

ACCOMMODATIONS.

A magnificent new hotel, capable of accommodating 300 guests, will be opened on June 1st for the accommodation of visitors. The grounds have been improved and beautified, and every means for amusement and exercise provided. The trip thither by the Ottawa River is most enjoyable, and a railroad from the River to the Springs is in course of construction. Until the railroad is built, comfortable carriages will be in waiting at the wharf for the conveyance of visitors to the Springs. The distance of the Springs from Montreal and Ottawa respectively is 80 and 50 miles.

MR. W. CHAMPNESS will open a good livery Stable, providing good carriages, horses, saddles, &c. There is a good race-course on the property of the Company.

The PANACEAN WATERS of these Springs will yet make Caledonia the greatest resort in the world for health and pleasure seekers. Thousands of testimonials might be procured, but the reputation of the Springs renders it unnecessary to do so.

ROME, Sept. 7.—Cardinal McCloskey left Florence for this city to-day. The consistory which was appointed for the 27th of this month will be held instead on the 17th or 20th inst.

Arrival of Cardinal McCloskey.

ROME, Sept. 8.—Cardinal McCloskey arrived in this city to-day. He was accompanied from Florence by Monsignor Roncetti. At the depot he was met by Cardinal Franchie, who was specially deputated by the Pope to receive him, and by Father Chatard, Rector of the American College. Cordial salutations were exchanged. Cardinal McCloskey was then conducted to his carriage, and proceeded to the American College, where he will reside during his stay in Rome.

RUSSIA.

The Russian Expedition.

ST. PETERSBURG, September 7.—A telegram has been received from General Kauffman, commanding the Russian expedition against the Kokhand rebels, announcing that a battle was fought on the 24th inst., when the Russians completely defeated the rebels, numbering 30,000, who occupied a fortified position which General Galoortchoff stormed. The enemy was pursued and many of them were killed and drowned in the Arvia Paria River. Several guns and a quantity of other war material were captured. The losses of the Russians were inconsiderable. General Kauffman will continue his advance against the rebels when his means of transportation arrives from Khodfend

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 7.—Order has been again completely established in Bosnia, and almost restored in Persignavia.

Dr. Pierce.

From the Toledo Blade.

"Success is never achieved without merit. A man may make a poor article and sell it once, and there being 40,000,000 people in the United States, the sale to each one would be enough to make a decent fortune. But an article that holds the field year after year, and the sales of which increase regularly and rapidly, must have absolute merit.

Dr R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., occupies our entire eighth page to day with his various articles. We admit it, because we know the Doctor, and know of his articles. We know him to be a regularly educated physician, whose diploma hangs on the wall of his office, and we know that he has associated with him several of the most eminent practioners in the country. We know that parties consult him, by mail and in person, from all the states in the Union every day, and that they are fairly and honestly dealt with.

This grand result has been accomplished by two agencies,—good, reliable articles—articles which, once introduced, work easily their own way—and splendid business management. They have succeeded because they ought to have succeeded."

If you would patronize Medicine, scientifically prepared by a skilled Physician and Chemist, use Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines. Golden Medical Discovery is nutritious, tonic, alterative, and blood cleansing, and an unequaled Cough Remedy; Pleasant Purgative Pellets, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, consitute an agreeable and reliable physic; Favorite prescription, a remedy for debilitated females; Extract of Smart Weed, a magical remedy for Pain, Bowel Complaints, and an unequaled Liniment for both human and horse flesh; while his Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is known the world over as the greatest specific for Cattarh and "Cold in the Head" ever given to the public. They are sold by druggists.

20 YEARS A SUFFERER.—CURED BY THE GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

DR. R. V. PIERCE:

Dear Sir,—Twenty years ago I was shipwrecked on the Atlantic Ocean, and the cold and exposure caused a lage abscess to form on each leg, which kept continually discharging. I was attended by doctors in Liverpool, Havre, New Orleans, New York, and at the hospital on Staten Island (where the doctors wanted to take one leg off.) Finally, after spending hundreds of dollars, I was persuaded to try your "Golden Medical Discovery," and now, in less than three months after taking the first bottle, I am thankful to say that I am completely cured, and for the first time in ten years can put my left heel to the ground. I am at home nearly every evening and shall be glad to satisfy any person of the truth of this information. I am, sir, yours respectfully,

NEW YORK.

Arrested for Bigamy.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Col. Joseph P. Frisbee, Customs Inspector, was arrested yesterday, charged with bigamy, just as he handed his bride into a carriage at the church door, after the ceremony, which gave ground for the arrest. He was divorced by the New York Supreme Court in 1865, on the ground of adultery and forbidden to marry again. His new wife is Mrs. Griffin of Brooklyn. He was taken to the police court, where he was bailed in $2,000.

Died.

Dr. Leverett Bradley, a well known Electrician and inventor and manufacturer of electrical apparatus, died suddenly yesterday afternoon, at his residence in Jersey City.

Applications for Transfer of Gold.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—There are now applications made to the Treasury for the transfer of 17½ million dollars. Arrangements are being made for the transfer of $600,000 to-day.

Another White and Black Riot—Several Persons Killed.

Attorney General Pierpont has received a telegram from the United States District Attorney for Mississippi in relation to a riot on Saturday, between whites and blacks at Clinton, Miss., which resulted in the death of three whites and four negroes, and the wounding of twenty more of the latter. The disturbance was begun by the whites, and the District Attorney and Marshal say there is great danger that the trouble thus begun will continue with increased violence unless the Government interferes in behalf of peace. Attorney General Pierpont has replied, instructing the District Attorney to do everything in his power to preserve the peace. The Government cannot interfere unless a requisition is made by the Governor of the State, who, up to twelve o'clock to-day, had not been heard from.

SAN FRANCISCO.

The Bank Crisis.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—The President of the National Gold Bank and Trust Co., stated this morning that arrangements have been made for the redemption of all their gold notes to the amount of $800,000 at the United States Treasury. The Bank is gradually progressing towards redemption, it has already liquidated over one half its deposits, is collecting, paying out and settling with its customers as rapidly as possible. It is in constant receipt of remittances from its country correspondents, paying its drafts and receiving deposits from city customers and paying checks. Thus gradually resuming and retaining their business prudently, states thoroughly and are supported in this plan by their creditors, almost without exception as being better for general interest than heard coin for formal consumption.

Railway Policy of Quebec Government—Directors of Jacques Cartier Bank to be Arrested—Sicher, the Auctioneer of Stolen Goods—He Jumps Off a Running Railway Train and Escapes Arrest—The Guibord Case—Prince of Wales Rifles—The Land Swap—Stock and Money Markets

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—The Minerve says it has received a despatch from Quebec announcing that there will soon be a short session of the Local Legislature to decide upon the railway policy of the Government.

Information has been received to the effect that the Directors of the Jacques Cartier Bank are to be arrested to-morrow in connection with the issuing of an alleged false statement to the stockholders.

Sicher, the notorious auctioneer of stolen goods, has been heard from. He took the Grand Trunk train at St. Annes last Thursday evening, bound to Toronto. When Sicher got on board he met a friend from Montreal, who states that he knew of the charges made by Messrs. Young & McNaughten, but was ignorant of the fact that a warrant had been issued for Sicher's arrest. The two chatted together for several minutes, when Sicher's friend happened to remark, "I saw two detectives in one of the cars; I wonder what they want." On hearing this Sicher immediately got up from his seat, saying: "My God, they're after me," and walking to the platform of the car, deliberately jumped off the train, which was at this time going at the ordinary speed Sicher was seen to fall sideways, into a sort of culvert, by the conductor and a few others, but as his friend volunteered no information on the subject, it was not known on board who the person was that jumped off. The occurrence took place three miles east of Dickinson's Landing. He broke his collar bone—cut his face and was the most used up auctioneer that ever entered the village. From there he went to the States in a skiff, where he is keeping shady.

Matters are still at a stand still in the Guibord case.

The Prince of Wales Rifles paraded this evening at the Quebec Gate Barracks for the purpose of receiving uniform, arms, &c. Every man was present.

A strong force of police were ordered to the Protestant cemetery this evening, as it is feared a gang of fifty or sixty desperadoes, seen in the mountain yesterday, may make an attack on the vault to-night.

Bailiff Boucher has made his return to the Superior Court of the writ served on the Fabrique ordering Guibord's burial and on it says "the gates of the Catholic cemetery were kept closed notwithstanding my notification to B. Derocher, guardian.

Le Nouveau Monde this evening came out with a most libellous attack on Mr. Doutre. It says what can be said, or rather what can be thought of a man who for the sad glory of giving his fury unrestrained exercise, would not hesitate an instant to expose the life of thousands of his fellow-citizens, to see the blood of his fellow-countrymen shed in a riot, to change this peaceable city into a field of fratricidal carnage.

Among all the sinister figures which surrounded the coffin of Guibord the most repulsive, in our view, is that of the French-Canadian who, betraying every thing, his faith, his race, appears now publicly at the head of the band of infidels, conducts them to the sacred field of our dead, opens it so the foreign troop, and invites it to profane the ground where their remains repose in the eternal peace of the tomb. It is really incredible that this religious city contains such a man within its bounds.

Mr. Joseph Doutre immediately took the initiatory steps to enter an action of damages for $50,000 against the Nouveau Monde.

The papers now being prepared, Middlemiss was examined at length to-day in the Tanneries Land Swap. It is a repetition of his statements before the Parliamentary Committee last winter.

The Herald is to be changed to an eight page paper next month.

Dullness is the prevailing feature in financial matters now. There is no change to note in the general condition of the money markets. Sterling exchange continue at from 109½ to 109¾ for bank 60 days' bills. The stock market was weak and very dull. Sales of City at 101½; closing at 101½ to 102½; Merchants at 101; closing at 100½ to 101; Gas, 126½; closing 126½ to 127; Montreal, 188½ to 188¾; Commerce, 126½ to 127; Telegraph, 155½.

Division Court—Killing his Father—Ontario Prohibitory League—Short Hours—Sailor Drowned—The Montreal Silk Robbers Rumours—Elopement—The Medical Act—Regatta—Fashionable Wedding—Suicide.

TORONTO, Sept. 7.—No less than 127 suits have been entered for recovery of debts to come before Judge Boyd at the present sitting of the Division Court.

Alderman Baxter held a preliminary inquiry this afternoon at the police court into the case of John Steadman, charged with killing his father outside of Norway in a drunken brawl. A witnessed testified to hearing deceased exclaim "I am going to die," and said on his going up and asking what was the matter, deceased stated that Jack had killed him, having hurt him while they were wrestling. He also said that Jack wanted his money. Prisoner was asleep on a bench and on being woke admitted that he asked his father for money, and on being refused had wrestled with him for fun. They were both more or less in drink. Dr. J. Carroll testified to holding a post-mortem examination and said he could find no marks of external violence and that in his opinion deceased died from inflamation of the membrane of the bowels. The case was adjourned till to-morrow.

The annual meeting of the Ontario Prohibitory League commenced this morning. Delegates were present from all parts of the Province. The reports showed that the receipts of the past year had been larger than ever before, and that though there was still a deficit in the gross revenue, it was less than for 1873 and 1874; 40,000 pages of temperance literature have been distributed, and the members have increased 300.

The fourth annual convention of the American Association of Breeders of Short horns is to be held here on December 1st and 2nd next. A letter from the Secretary, S. F. Lockbridge, dated from Indiana, says that essays will be read on the science of short horn breeding, by the best writers of both countries, and that the breeders of Canada have promised to make the affair one of special interest, and to extend a warm welcome to their United States friends. Breeders generally are invited to attend and to prepare essays and addresses for the occasion and to notify the Secretary of the subject chosen.

An inquest was held on the body of another victim of intoxication, last night Daniel McLochlan, a sailor, was on Thursday evening seen to go on a boat for the purpose of getting on board the vessel Enterprise, but he not putting in an appearance the captain reported that he feared the deceased had been drowned, and yesterday the body was seen floating on the bay and was picked up.

About a week ago the firm of Messrs. J. P. Clarke & Co., of Montreal, were robbed of silk goods to the amount of $1,000. The police authorities of that city telegraphed to the detectives here to keep a sharp lookout. The Toronto officials, after some trouble succeeded in getting on the track of suspicious parties, but could discover nothing to warrant an arrest. Detective Newhall and his colleagues followed the movements of the gang from Toronto to various places in the Province, and discovered that one of the suspected parties was peddling silks at Newcastle. Information was telegraphed to Montreal, and the pedler, who gave the name of Franklin, was arrested and taken to that city. Yesterday Detective Newhall arrested a man named Ehrich on suspicion of being implicated in receiving stolen goods. The prisoner will be detained till the arrival here of the High Constable of Montreal.

In re Peel—It is a cross petition against Brynon, the unsuccessful candidate, that has been withdrawn, not that against Kenneth Chisholm, whose case is still before the Court of Error and Appeal.

Considerable excitement was created this morning by the news that the wife of a prominent tradesman had eloped with a young man named Adolphe Grenier, clerk in a grocery store. It is said that between Grenier and the husband there has long been a feud, and that his wife has frequently expressed her sympathy with her paramour.

A petition is being extensively circulated for the amendment of the Medical Act, so as to allow duly admitted practitioners from other countries to register upon simply passing an examination.

The first class race of yesterday, ordered to be sailed over again to-day, and the Prince of Wale' cup, were started simultaneously. The yachts came in as follows: Oriole 2, 21, 50; Annie Cuthbert, 2, 23, 40. Dauntless third; Lady Stanley, fourth; Brunette, fifth; Gorilla sixth; and Geraldine last. The Ripple gave up. The first prize in yesterday's race is therefore won by Cuthbert, the other positions being the same. The cup is won by the Oriole. The interest was small, but the cheers, as the winning boats passed the flag buoy, were loud and hearty.

The marriage of Mr. C. R. W. Boggar City Solicitor, to the eldest daughter of Hon. Oliver Mowat, was solemnized this morning, at the house of the bride's father. Rev. Professor Mowat, of Queen's College, Kingston, officiated.

The Times.

OTTAWA, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 8, 1875.

We direct attention to the communication of Miss Gillmore in another column. If nothing more interesting turns up, we propose to have a few words to say on the same subject to-morrow.

Mr. Henry Kinloch, the newly appointed private secretary to the Hon. the Minister of Justice, arrived in the city yesterday. Mr. Kinloch is well known among journalists, and formerly represented the late Daily Telegraph in the gallery of the House of Commons.

The following visitors are registered as having visited the Library of the Agency of the Canadian Government:—Rev. Dr. Cornish, Ottawa; Dr E. L. Hopkins, do.; John Flett, Esq., Chippewa; J. H. Ryerson, Esq., Yarmouth, N. S.; Major Ricky Evans, do.; John R. Forsyth, Esq., do.; Edwin Bartley, Esq., Belleville; Rev. R. E. Fessant, Sarnia.

The $1,938 paid to Ald. Rowe to indemnify him against the damages incurred by him in destroying private property at the Flats, to prevent the spread of small-pox, is to be the subject of litigation. Mr. Oliver Durocher, shoe dealer, of Lower Town, through his attorney, Mr. Ward, on Monday obtained a rule Nisi from the Court of Queen's Bench, to quash the resolution adopting the report recommending the payment of the above amount. Payments of that nature by Municipal Councils are undoubtedly illegal, and unless there is some peculiarity about this appropriation to bring it technically within the law, Mr. Durocher must succeed in making the individual members of Council refund the money.

A QUEER EMPLOYMENT FOR A CONGRESSMAN.

It is undoubtedly the fact that so long as a man gains his living honestly and in a respectable way, it is a piece of impertinence for the would-be aristocracy to look down upon him. An occupation, trade or profession may be honoured because some great man followed it, but he cannot be dishonoured by it. It will be admitted, however, that a pie stand under the stair-way of the New York Post Office, a grand new structure recently opened for business, is about the [illegible] place in the United States where we should go to look for a Congressman. To find one in the lock-up for being drunk would probably surprise no one, and the popular verdict would be—"served him right." Neither are the legislators of the United States entire strangers to the state penitentiary, for they are if anything less honest than the common herd of Yankee speculators and placemen. But we should certainly expect that the owner of a pie-stand in the Post Office would be the indigent widow of some faithful but unfortunate servant of that Department, to whom the privilege of selling dyspeptic paste and ginger pop to boys and grown-up children would have been granted to enable her to make a living; and when people go looking for a Nebraska legislator at this season, they would certainly inquire further west than New York, and expect to find him, if not in his country room, at any rate in his harvest field. The opening of the new post office of New York, however, revealed an honoured representative of the "assembled wisdom" behind a rough pine stand, piles of pies and tarts, big cans of milk, and dozens of pop, with his coat off and his sleeves tucked up, and "rushing" business amazingly. Indeed, there were no two opinions that he was bound to make a fortune in a very few years, if things went on at anything like the rate at which they started. There was not a restaurant keeper whose cupidity was not excited by the prosperity of the stranger, and to such lengths did their jealousy lead them that they united in demanding the removal of the stand on the ground that it was a nuisance and marred the architectural beauty of the structure. The postmaster, Col. James, after consultation with the supervising architect, acceded to this demand, and Representative Hawes—for such is his designation—has been notified that the edict comes into force on Saturday. According to a statement made by Mr. Hawes to a reporter, he was a loser by the Pacific Mail affair to the extent of $4,000. Probably the United States Government, which Mr. Hawes supports, rightly estimating the value of the pie stand, concluded that he would be able to remunerate himself out of the profits of his sales, for the loss in question. They were about right. The pie stand is evidently one of the most valuable gifts in their patronage, for Mr. Hawes declares himself perfectly willing to put up such an erection as will in every way accord with the architectural grandeur of the building, pay $500 per month rent, and make himself a millionaire to boot. He sold an average of $100 worth of pies per day during the time he has been in occupation, and it may fairly be supposed that his business was only in its infancy. Similar stands existed in the old post office, but they don't seem to have been such a profitable investment, for nobody quarrelled about them. The worthy Congressman, notwithstanding the notice to quit served upon him, hints that he has sufficient influence to retain the stand if he choses, and he advised a reporter who interviewed him on the subject to "just say that the matter is under advisement in the Treasury Department, and will be settled by next Saturday." The fate of the illustrious pie-man will be regarded with some amount of interest, and may go a good distance to settle the fate of the Republican party in the west at the next Presidential election.

THE TEMPERANCE CRUSADE.

The American Temperance Union recently held a very interesting meeting in Robinson Hall, New York. In the course of the proceedings, the proprietors of the New York Tribune came in for a pretty severe castigation. It appears that the basement of the Tribune building is rented as a saloon, which the facetious editor of the Sun has been accustomed to call the "tall tower" gin mill. The newspaper whose proprietors are responsible for this state of affairs has been equally prominent in its advocacy of temperance principles as of all other moral and social reforms which are likely to benefit the general public, and it is very fairly argued that it is anomalous and inconsistent in these gentlemen to reap profit from a business being carried on in one portion of their property which another portion of it is daily denouncing as immoral and criminal. Another feature of the meeting was the introduction of the Rev. Father Maenamara, editor of the Celtic Nation, who is reported as having been received with rapturous applause. The reverend gentleman remarked that Catholics and Irishmen were generally very much afraid of people treading on their toes and he confessed they were a little backward at joining a movement which was essentially Protestant. He yielded not an inch of his Catholic doctrine, but in the cause of temperance he declared himself as one body and soul with those whom he there met. In a cause so righteous, he contended, all bigotry should be laid aside. The rev. gentleman declared his belief that he was the first Catholic priest who had extended his hand to a Protestant temperance association; but in this he was a good deal mistaken. It will be remembered that two years ago there was a grand temperance demonstration at Toronto, and addresses by prominent gentlemen were delivered in the Queen's Park. Among the orators of the occasion was His Grace Archbishop Lynch, whose utterances were reported at length in the newspapers, and will bear record to all generations how thoroughly he was equal to the task, and how well appreciated. It may, of course, be objected that the Archbishop was not addressing an entirely Protestant audience. This is quite true, for the Father Matthew and other Catholic associations took part in the demonstration. This, however, was just one step in advance of the meeting at New York, which appears to have been confined to Protestants alone. A similar occurrence to that which took place in Toronto was witnessed in this same city last year; when, in company with Mr. G. W. Ross, M. P., the Rev. Father Malloy, and, if we mistake not, the Bishop also, addressed a meeting composed of temperance men of all creeds. The union of all Christians upon one common platform, for the gaining of some common object, is a much more praiseworthy thing than the mere advance of one prominent Catholic to meet his Protestant fellow workers in the cause. However, this is not the only particular in which the people of Canada are ahead of their United States friends, although there are others in which, unfortunately, they are behind them.

It may not be inappropriate here to notice the remarkable delay which has taken place in the prosecution of those charged with selling liquor in this city without licenses. Whoever is to blame, it is evident that justice is going to suffer. At each succeeding sitting of the court we are informed that the inquiry has been postponed, on some more or less specious plea. What do the temperance people say to it? We have been told that the Ontario Government offered to take up the prosecution of the case, provided those who have so far taken care of them were so disposed. The Government don't seem to have been saddled with the responsibility, and under its present guidance the case is evidently being prepared to be quietly dropped off the docket. That would not be a very becoming conclusion to a suit which was undertaken with so much professional fuss; it would not be a vindication of the law; and it would be a disgrace to all concerned.

THE GUIBORD CASE.

To the Editor of the TIMES.

SIR,—This case has caused considerable discussion throughout the Dominion within the last few day. Last evening near the Russell House corner I heard several Protestants discussing this matter very earnestly and they seemed to be anxious as to the final issue of the trouble. Now Sir, I do not see why Protestants should trouble their heads with it. It is true, in the abstract, there is a principle involved; but practically it is of that nature that those who are concerned in it may well be left to fight it out. It is a matter between the Catholic Church and a number of her own people, or those who at least profess to be her own people, and it is of very little consequence to other denominations whether the remains of Guibord are buried in the Catholic Cemetery or not, or whether in consecrated or unconsecrated ground. I am glad to find that neither Scotch nor Irish Catholics have taken anything to do with it, and to all appearances do not intend to interfere. If, as has been stated, the Bishop of Montreal has submitted to the decree of the Privy Council, and has no desire to oppose its execution, it is remarkable that the church authorities should allow so many roughs to infest the cemetery. There can be no doubt of it that if the church or cemetery authorities were desirous to rid their premises of this class of people, they would lose no time in setting about it; but in the present case they have as yet taken no steps. If Montreal is to be governed by a mob, let there be no pretence of the supremacy of the civil power, which under such circumstances can be nothing but a mockery. This is the second effort recently in Montreal of mob law to effect a triumph. Of course good citizens of all religious and nationalities will hope that all attempts at rioting and resistance to the constituted authorities will be put down, and that the law of the land will prevail.

Yours truly,
OTTAWA.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL QUESTION

To the Editor of the TIMES.

DEAR SIR,—I notice that the Rev. Mr. Borthwick has been making some rather remarkable statements in a contemporary of yours. Now, sir, I wish to inform the rev. gentleman that he has made a most grievous mistake about my appearing at the examination of July, 1875. He says:—"At the July teachers' examination of 1874, Misses Gilmour and Pilson failed to obtain an advance of certificate, holding only a third. The same happened in the examination of 1875.' The rev. gentleman knows perfectly well that this statement is untrue, as the same did not happen in July, 1875, for I did not present myself as a candidate at the last named examination. He knows, also, I had no intention of appearing again as a candidate until I had attended the Normal School. It is true my certificate expired in December, 1874, but as no examination takes place at that time, Mr. Borthwick sent me an extension of my certificate for six months an action, he says, purely of his own good will and pleasure, equivalent in fact to making me a present of $200. I most certainly thank Mr. B. for his generosity in giving me a present of $200 out of the public funds; but I would ask him did he present me with that money, or did I not earn it as faithfully as any teacher employed in the Public Schools? Again he says "the young ladies have only themselves to blame." By this he means, I suppose, the position we are now placed in by being brought prominently before the public. I may say I do not blame myself but him. Before the Normal School appointments were made known to the public, he thought it would be to my advantage to attend the Normal School, but after the appointments he suddenly changed his mind and thought it best for me to teach till December, as the Normal School would not be a success at least, for six months. I took his advice, and firmly believed it would be a waste of time to attend the Ottawa Normal School. I am very sorry I listened to his disparagement of the Normal, and all this unpleasantness might not have occurred. As I do not intend to answer any letter of Mr. Borthwick's again I may say that our letter to the Board of School Trustees is not a "thorough misrepresentation," whatever Mr. B. says to the contrary. Thanking you for allowing me so much space I remain yours most respectfully,

BELINDA GILLMOR

THE POLITICAL POSITION.

A Letter from Sir A. T. Galt.

MONTREAL, 6th Sept. 1875.

To the Hon. James Ferrier ;—

MY DEAR SIR,—In reply to your inquiry whether it were true that I intend to re enter public life as a nominee for Montreal West of the Liberal Party, and also to your wish that I should give you my views on existing public affairs, I beg to state, that, while willing, if required, to re enter Parliament, it would not, according to my convictions of duty, be possible for me to do so, either as a supporter of the present Administration or as a member of the Opposition under Sir John A. Macdonald.

I continue to belong, with very many others, to that section of the so-called Conservative Party, which regretfully acquiesced in the condemnation passed by the country upon the late Administration, and I cannot blame those members of our party, who found it their duty to sustain Mr. Mackenzie's efforts to carry on the Government, which he would have been utterly unable to do if dependent on the support of his immediate political friends. The exigency of the hour necessitated a breach in the former party, and had I then been in Parliament, Mr. Mackenzie would have received from me all needful support. This necessity has now passed away, and the Administration must henceforth be judged on its own merits, and not supported from any alleged fear that their resignation would absolutely restore Sir John A. Macdonald to power. My conviction in reference to this latter contingency is, that notwithstanding the great and acknowledged public service of that gentleman, it is impossible to ignore the circumstances that led to his defeat. I regard his election as a leader of the regular Opposition in Parliament as a grave mistake, which tends to perpetuate the breach in the party, and must ultimately lead either to the formation of new party lines, or to the final adherence of many of our friends to the so-called Liberal ranks.

With reference to the views which I hold on public policy, I will now frankly state them. To my own mind they appear of sufficient weight to overrule all mere party engagements, and I should gladly act with those to whom they may prove acceptable.

Not to occupy space with minor matters, I may say in brief that the two subjects which must engage the most earnest attention of Parliament are undoubtedly the engagements and expenditure connected with Public Works and the measures intended to provide for the same, including under this latter head the readjustment of the Tariff.

Respecting the liabilities of the country, I look with the greatest alarm at their rapid and enormous increase. Commenced by Sir John, and continued and endorsed by Mr. Mackenzie, they are augmenting in a ratio far exceeding any possible growth of our population or resources, and must inevitably soon reach such a point as will grievously press upon our industry. Though expenditure may for the moment add to the business activity of the country, and be useful at a period of serious commercial depression, yet if such outlay be not reproductive as a very early day, it is evident that the taxation incident to it will prove an intolerable burden.

Much of this proposed outlay has, I fear, reached a point where it cannot be arrested, and, in fairness, this remark must apply to the condition of things which the present Government found on assuming office. But there is one undertaking of stupendous magnitude which may yet be considered as within control. I allude to the Pacific and Nanaimo Railway. On this subject, much as I was opposed to the scheme adopted by the late Government, I confess I view with still greater apprehension the present policy, and I rejoice at the partial check it received in the rejection by the Senate of the Esquimault and Nanaimo Railway.

I entirely adopt the views enunciated by Mr. Blake respecting the Pacific Railway and our relation to British Columbia prior to his joining the Government; and if I could reasonably hope that these opinions would henceforward be those of his colleagues, I should on this subject be their supporter and follower. I consider the proposition perfectly monstrous that for the sake of the sparse population on the Pacific Coast the prosperity of the four millions of people east of Lake Superior should be arrested, and their political independence jeopardized. No one who observes the state of the country can doubt that it is of the least importance Canada should, in its public business, afford a marked contrast to the United States. Cheapness is the set off we have to offer the emigrant against the milder climate of the South. High taxation, which must be by Customs duties, approximates our condition to that of the United States, must exasperate our fellow subjects in Great Britain, and thus by double action weaken the ties that bind us to the Mother Country and also our inducements to maintain our own system of Government as opposed to that of the United States.

I believe nine-tenths of the people of Canada are convinced that the construction of the Pacific Railway is at this time, and will be for many long years, wholly unnecessary; they know the cost will be prodigious, and no one fit to govern the country can be ignorant of the fatal consequences of undertaking such an outlay. The frank and honest course is to tell British Columbia that the engagement was improvident, and its fulfilment impossible; to offer reasonable equivalents for its abandonment, and failing agreement, to intimate our acquiescence in her retirement from the Confederation. She cannot complain that the connection has thus far been injurious to her; she would still remain in the Empire and subject to the Queen. I do not consider between members of the same Empire public faith can be construed to entail the most disproportionate sacrifices by the greater for the less, even if not involving both in common ruin. Public faith, in my opinion, is in a much more sacred way pledged to the public creditor, and it is certain that an enormous increase of debt, attended by exhaustive taxation, would most seriously affect his position.

It is, however, certain that even were the Pacific Railway disposed of, the other engagements made and pledges given respecting the Canal system and other works will task all the resources of the country for years to come. And we are brought to face these liabilities with depressed trade and industry, and consequently a failing revenue. The problem is not an easy one, and as increased taxation appears inevitable, the re-adjustment thereof becomes the leading question of the day.

Free trade and Protection, as abstract principles, are both alike inapplicable to Canada from its situation and circumstances. Without entering upon any argument on their merits, it may be sufficient to point out that thorough Protection would certainly sever the connection with Great Britain, destroy our principal source of revenue, and thus induce direct taxation, while perfect Free Trade would annihilate many branches of industry, and necessarily cause the immediate substitution of direct taxes in lieu of customs duties to an extent that, in my opinion, would be unbearable.

Though a Free Trader theoretically myself, I have always recognized the necessity and advantage of adopting the application of principles, in themselves sound, to the circumstances of our country, the habits of our people, the conditions of our climate, and our political relations to Great Britain and other countries. My views on this subject have ripened, but have been in no respect changed since, in 1859, I then arranged the tariff, and subsequently modified it in 1866. The policy adopted then, and which to a large extent remains in force still, was popularly known as Incidental Protection, though it might more appropriately have been termed Modified Free Trade.

Under this system of revenue, it is well known that our manufacturing interest has grown to its present considerable proportions, and it is in the same direction I consider a readjustment of the tariff should now be made. Sixteen years have, however, elapsed since that tariff was passed, and within that period much has occurred to render a thorough revision necessary. Our Confederation now embraces a vastly greater and more varied area, our relations to Great Britain are happily unchanged commercially; but as regards the United States, their civil war, with its results upon the taxation and currency of that country, have caused most material changes, which may require corresponding legislation on the part of Canada.

Without presuming to anticipate the direction of specific action, I think that it is the duty of our Parliament broadly to lay down the rule that in the imposition of duties to be paid by our own people, the interest of Canada should be the ruling consideration. We cannot and ought not to ignore the interest which our fellow subjects elsewhere have in our revenue policy. But as regards the United States, I frankly declare that they ought to be dealt with in the same purely selfish spirit with which they treat us.

For my part, I am heartily tired of efforts at conciliating the United States commercially. They meet with no response, and even existing treaties and laws are administered by them in a spirit of petty but vexatious exaction. I trust that henceforward the sole consideration will be how our trade legislation is to affect ourselves. Possibly this course may produce a wiser policy on their part, more worthy of a great commercial nation.

I do not myself attribute the present industrial depression to any special cause within the power of our Legislature to remove; it is doubtless the result in great measure of over production elsewhere and among ourselves. But it is certainly the duty of the Government to examine the allegations of the sufferers most carefully with a view to their relief if practicable. And should such relief take the form of differential duties against the United States, I unhesitatingly adopt the position, that we have a distinct and inalienable right to impose such duties if we choose. On this point I will repeat the terms in which I expressed the sentiments of the Canadian Government in answering the remonstrances of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, on the Subject of the Tariff of 1859.

"Respect to the Imperial Government must always dictate the desire to satisfy them that the policy of this Country is neither hastily nor unwisely formed, and that due regard is had to the interest of the Mother Country as well as of the Province. But the Government of Canada, acting for its Legislature and people, cannot, through those feelings of deference which they owe to the Imperial authorities, in any manner waive or diminish the right of the people of Canada to decide for themselves both as to the mode and extent to which taxation shall be imposed. The Provincial Ministry are at all times ready to afford explanations in regard to the acts of the Legislature to which they are party—but, subject to their duty and allegiance to Her Majesty, their responsibility in all general questions of policy must be to the Provincial Parliament, by whose confidence they administer the affairs of the country. And in the imposition of taxation, it is so plainly necessary that the Administration and the people should be in accord, that the former cannot admit responsibility, or require approval, beyond that of the local Legislature. Self-government would be utterly annihilated if the views of the Imperial Government were to be preferred to those of the people of Canada. It is therefore, the duty of the present Government distinctly to affirm the right of the Canadian Legislature to adjust the taxation of the people in the way they deem best—even if it should unfortunately happen to meet the disapproval of the Imperial Ministry. Her Majesty cannot be advised to disallow such acts, unless Her advisers are prepared to assume the administration of the affairs of the Colony, irrespective of the views of its inhabitants. The Imperial Government are not responsible for the debts and engagements of Canada, they do not maintain its Judicial, Educational, or Civil Service, they contribute nothing to the internal government of the country; and the Provincial Legislature, acting through a Ministry directly responsible to it has to make provision for all these wants, they must necessarily claim and exercise the widest latitude as to the nature and extent of the burdens to be placed upon the industry of the people. The Provincial Government believes that His Grace must share their own convictions on this important subject, but as serious evil would have resulted had His Grace taken a different course, it is wiser to prevent future complication by distinctly stating the position that must be maintained by every Canadian Administration."

The above declaration was universally accepted as the sense of the country when submitted to our Parliament, and should in no respect be weakened or departed from, especially with our increased responsibilities, and still larger assumption of imperial duties.

I trust you will find the foregoing remarks sufficiently explicit on the present condition of public affairs. I have only to add that the strength of my convictions on these subjects is such that I could not lightly consent to endorse the views either of the present Government, or of the Opposition, so far as either are yet known.

Believe me, my dear Sir,
Yours very faithfully,
A. T. GALT.

UPHOLSTERING.—At No. 5, Rideau Street Mr W. A. Annable has on hand a very large stock of furniture of every description and of the newest style. On Saturday last we paid his establishment a visit and were well pleased with everything we saw. Whether for the drawing room, dining parlour, the bed room, the library, or the kitchen there is an ample choice, and we learned that Mr. Annable is preparing to give up the retail business and deal only by wholesale. Persons desiring really good furniture at very moderate prices will do well by paying Mr. Annable a visit under present circumstances. Something he feels assured, in furniture auction rooms nor elsewhere can be be undersold in the city. 3913—1m HORSES.—The lives of thousands of horses have been saved during the past year, and the credit is due to "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." This preparation is being extensively used, and exacts from all the highest praise. Nothing of the kind has ever before been half as successful, or given such universal satisfaction; it can not be equalled. We can confidently recommend it, and would advise all who own horses to keep a supply of it on hand—it may be the means of saving your horse's life. WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A Few Facts for the Public.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have with a touch the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Fairbairn Centre, P.Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and since then had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. B. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally as good for horses as for man."—A. Mayhew, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have used some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public one of the best medicines that have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throat, &c., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes: "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit." A. Mr. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes: "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Mayhew, of this place, induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine.

PILE AND HUMOR CURE,

For Internal and External Use.

Warranted a Sure and perfect CURE for all kinds of Piles, Leprosy, Scrofulous Letter or Ringworm, Salt Rheum, and all diseases of the skin. Also used to cure all cases of Piles; from one to three bottles in all cases of Piles.

This remedy has been faithfully tested, and found to be a perfect substitute cure for the above diseases. We have no hesitancy in guaranteeing a cure to those who use it according to directions. In case of failure to refund the money paid. Prices in wrapper, first instructions have received many thousands of testimonials, proving its efficacy for the cure of the several diseases it is recommended for. The Pile of Humor cure is entirely vegetable in its composition, and can be used with perfect safety by infants. There is no danger of it driving the humor in, as it cures on the surface, and the patient's bodily health continually improves while under this treatment.

Price $1, per bottle. Sold by all druggists.
Dec. 1, 1874.

A MAN OF A THOUSAND.

A CONSUMPTIVE CURED.—When death was hourly expected from Consumption, all remedies having failed, a simple cure was discovered by the writer. Thousands have since used it in every case with a perfect cure. Sufferers, I consider it my duty to send (free) a sample recipe to any one who may wish it, with full directions for preparing and successfully using the same. There is not a single ingredient in it that can injure the most delicate lady. Address, Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Brooklyn, New York. Office: 42 Fayetteville Street. Pray Pain in the back, kidneys and loins, is cured in one day by that great remedy, Buchu. Sold by druggists. RADCLIFF & CO., 3rd Race st., Philadelphia.

The Montreal Proprietary School has been established to provide a liberal education similar to that given in the Public Schools of England. The course of Instruction, however, will not be exclusively classical, and boys will be specially prepared either for the University and Professions or for Commercial Life.

Most eligible premises have been purchased for the School in McTavish street, one of the most healthful localities of the city, and immediately adjoining the grounds of the McGill University.

The course of instruction will include Latin, Greek, Mathematics, French, German, Arithmetic, Writing, English Grammar, Literature and Composition, History and Geography, both Ancient and Modern, Natural Philosophy, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, Gymnastics and Drilling.

A limited number of boys will be received by the Principal as Boarders or Weekly Boarders, and, with the view of keeping the pupils from improper influences, it is strongly recommended that all be entered as Day Boarders, who will dine in the house of the Principal.

Further information can be obtained from the Secretary, J. W. Holmes, Esq., 78 Victoria street, to who all applications for admission must be made.

The School will open on MONDAY, the 19th of April, and will be carried on for a few days at 78 Victoria street, the new premises not being quite completed.

WALL PAPER.

INCLUDING THOSE DEDICATED BY THE MANUFACTURER

TO

Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Dufferin.

These Paperhangings are imported direct from the best Manufacturing Establishments in England, France and United States. Great care has been taken in their selection with regard to colour. The ground tones are soft and pleasing to the eye, especially those toned with silver mica; but above all, they are free from the mineral poisons that many of the tawdry-coloured Paperhangings of the day are surcharged with. The Subscriber's long experience as a colourist, and being thoroughly acquainted with the chemical compound of the pigments used in Painting, enables him to reject, in his selection of Paperhangings, those coloured with poisonous pigments, so deleterious to health. The Public are respectfully invited to examine his STOCK of WALL PAPER before purchasing elsewhere.

As the undersigned is going out of the Room Paper Business as soon as his present Stock is disposed of, the Goods will be Sold at the Lowest Remunerating Prices.

PAIN KILLER.

After thirty-five years trial, it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsability. Physicians of the first respectability recommend it as a most effectual preparation for the extinction of pain. It is not only the best remedy ever known for Bruises, Cuts, Burns, &c., but for Dysentery or Cholera, or any sort of bowel complaint it is a remedy unsurpassed for efficiency, and rapidity of action. In the greatest cities of India, and other hot climates, it has become the standard medicine for all such complaints, as well as for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, and other kindred disorders. For Coughs and Colds, Croaker, Asthma, and Rheumatic difficulties, it has been proved by the most abundant and convincing testimony to be an inevitable medicine.

It is used Internally and Externally.

Local Intelligence.

PERSONAL.—Mr. John Forbes, the eminent young artist from Toronto, arrived yesterday, and will probably remain for some time.

MR. F. H. CHRYSLER, Barrister, presents his card in another column. The law firm of Hallon & Chrysler has been dissolved, and the latter gentleman continues practice on his own account.

COUNTY COURT.—Victor Desardins was charged before T. Langrell, J. P., with an indecent exposure of his person on the Richmond Road, yesterday. He was severely reprimanded and sent to jail for two weeks.

IMPORTS FOR OTTAWA.—The following imports appear in the manifest of the steamship Moravian, just arrived at Montreal from Liverpool:—Garland Mutchinor & Co., 4 cases of mdse; Magee & Russell, 4 cases; Kearns & Ryan, 1 case.

ARRIVAL YESTERDAY.—Mr Anderson, superintendent of the grounds in connection with the Provincial Exhibition, arrived in the city yesterday morning from London, and will remain to the close of the fair. He is stopping at the Clarendon

CONFINED TO BED.—Mr. Greggson, the contractor, to whom reference was made the other day as being somewhat severely beaten in the vicinity of the Chaudiere, lies yet in imminent danger from injuries received. The prisoner Cordell is now in gaol pending the recovery of Mr. Greggson

SLEIGH REELS.—Mr. Lepage, of the Fire Department, is busy at present preparing sleigh reels for the use of the brigade in winter. One is just on the eve of completion, and presents a splendid appearance. They will prove of great service to the members of the force during the approaching season.

A CASE DISMISSED.—The case of obtaining goods under false pretences lately brought against Mr. Isaac Ireland, late proprietor of the Grosvenor House, St. Paul street, came before His Honour Judge Lyon, on Saturday last, and was dismissed, the judge stating that the matter should never have been committed for trial.

THE BURNS TRAGEDY.—As will be seen in another column, the sum of $500 is offered by the civic authorities as a reward for the apprehension and conviction of the person or persons who were instrumental in causing the death of the late Edward Burns. It is not improbable that this indicement will be the means of throwing a little light on this mysterious tragedy.

A WELCOME SOCIAL.—The friends of the Rev. A. A. Cameron last evening gave him a hearty welcome home from his tour after his late illness. The affair took the shape of a social in the Baptist Church, Queen street, and it was most largely attended by the members of his flock. The expressions of kindly feeling were felt most keenly by the rev. gentleman and reciprocated by him most cordially. Addresses and music served to make the evening pass very pleasantly.

SMALL-POX GONE.—It will be a pleasing announcement to our citizens to hear that the city has at last been rid of this loathsome disease. Much credit is due Dr. Lynn and his assistants for the effective manner in which they have attended to the interests of the public health. The removal of stagnant pools in one or two parts of the city alone remains to be done to give general satisfaction. The owners of private property, on which such stagnant pools are allowed to remain should at once be made to file an appearance in the Police Court. It is equally as much a nuisance as a filthy yard.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—An adjourned meeting of the Advisory Committee, to make preparations for the great Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia was called for yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, but at the appointed hour there was not a sufficient attendance of members to warrant the transaction of any business. Amongst those present were Messrs. Ira Morgan, Wardell, Mr. Wilson, of Brockville, H. Merrill, G. W. Eaton, A. S. Woodburn, Capt. McClung. The meeting was adjourned until Tuesday, the 21st inst., at 7:30 p. m., to meet in the City Hall. It is thought that the fact of the Exhibition being held here then, will give a fresh impulse to the meeting, and result in something being done towards making a good show at the World's Fair.

OPEN AIR CONCERT.—The Band of the Governor General's Foot Guards will play the following programme on Parliament Hill this evening at 8 o'clock:

PROGRAMME.

1. Quick Step....."Star of the North"....
2. Serio Comic....."Fantasia."....
3. Waltz..."Corpsball Taenze"....
4. Grand Selection..."Genevieve de Brabant"....Offenbach.
5. Quadrille....."Dinorah"....Coote
6. Galop (by particular request)..."The Railroad"....Harting.
7. The Regimental Quick Step. National Anthem....

MISCONDUCT ON THE STREETS.—It would seem as if our city was destined to rival all others in its character for rowdyism. Respectable citizens could scarcely come down Rideau street yesterday evening without being insulted by knots of roughs collected at different street corners. Ladies were grossly insulted and strangers at present in the city in attendance at the rifle match, were made the special object of abuse by these blackguards. Our informant who was in attendance at the Ontario Rifle Match says he could not help noticing the difference in the order prevailing in the two cities of Ottawa and Toronto. It is admitted that the police are willing to do their duty, but they are so few in number that the city would be as well wanting their services.

Dominion of Canada Rifle Association,

SEVENTH ANNUAL PRIZE MEETING.

A Large Attendance, Spirited Competition, and Splendid Weather.

The seventh annual prize meeting of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association commenced at the Rideau Range this morning under the most favourable auspices. The weather was all that could be desired, bright and clear, and just as much wind prevailing from the north-west as kept the atmosphere cool, without interfering with the shooting. The spectators also mustered in good numbers and seemed to take a lively interest in the proceedings, as well they might do, for the scene was a most animated one. The various tents pitched formed quite a little camp, and the Union Jack floated over many of them; the bright uniforms of the military contrasting strongly with the more sombre garments of the civilian competitors, created a panorama of the most pleasing character. Lieutenant Colonel Stuart with Captain Brown Wallis had charge of the Secretary's office and both gentlemen, with Col. Bacon, the statistical officer, were most obliging to the members of the press in affording all the information and facilities that laid in their power. They provided a spacious table in the statistics office for their use, thus they were saved the inconvenience of writing in the open air. The shooting on the whole was excellent, several of the Wimbledon men fully sustaining their reputation as shots. At half past ten o'clock the muster of competitors for the meeting was complete and a general move was made for the 200 yards range in the All Comers' match, when the first shot was fired by Col. Walker Powell, Adjutant General. At this time there were upon the ground besides the officers above named Lieut. Col. Beer, New Brunswick; Major Ritchie, (late Secretary to the Provincial Rifle Association, Nova Scotia), Lieut. Col. Lamontagne, Quebec; Lieutenant Colonel Bacon, Montreal; Lieut. Col. Worsley, Capt. Weatherly, Major Mattice, B. M., Col. Chamberlin, Capt. J. J. Mason, 14th Battalion, Lieut. J. Adam, do., (both Wimbledon men,) Major White, and a host of officers of the Guards, many of the latter acting in the capacity of register keepers at the different firing points. The bugle having sounded "Commence Firing," the targets were hoisted into their places. Col Powell delivered a shot at No. 1 target, scoring a bull's eye. A gun belonging to the Field Battery, stationed on the hill, was fired, and the squads went to their posts and the match commenced in earnest. Most of the competitors from a distance had never seen the Brunel target before, and were loud in their praises of both it and the style of marking. The arrangements altogether this year are much better than they have been in any previous one. A line of telegraph was laid from the butts to the firing point, so that in case of any dispute arising as to the location of a hit, the question can be settled without the delay occasioned by a visit to the target. There was also a telegraph office under the charge of Mr. George Macdonald, for the despatch of messages to any part of the Dominion. Thus those who wished to communicate the results to their friends at a distance, could do so easily. The corps represented are the Ottawa Battery of Garrison Artillery; Governor General's Foot Guards, and the Metropolitan Rifle Association; 10th Royals and 2nd Queen's Own, Toronto; 13th Battalion, Hamilton; 41st Brockville; 42nd, Ramsay; Hastings Rifle Association; 78th Battalion, Nova Scotia; 63rd Battalion, Halifax, N. S.; 8th Battalion, Quebec; Wakefield Infantry; Prince of Wales Rifles, Montreal; Garrison Artillery, Montreal; 50th and 60th Battalions, Eastern Townships; 4th Battalion, Richmond; 8th Cavalry, New Brunswick.

In the All Comers Match there were 135 entries against 115 last year, an increase which shows the increasing popularity of rifle shooting in the Dominion. While the first stage of the match was being shot, a large addition was made to the visitors, among whom were noticed the Hon. the Minister of Militia, Mr. Allan Gilmour, Mr. T. D. Harrington, Mr. J. M. Currier, M.P., Mr. John Langton, Capt. Stewart, Ottawa Field Battery; Dr. Malloch, G.G.F.G.; Dr. Bentley, Ottawa Field Battery; Capt. Grant, Major Macdonald, Mr. E. C. Barber, Major White, winner of the Elkington Cup at Toronto; Capt. Graham, Halifax Field Battery, and several others whose names our reporter was unable to ascertain. By the way, here it may be as well to remark that the very efficient staff of markers was under the charge of Capt. Weatherly, who acted as range officer throughout the day, having with him Sergt Major Keating. Mr. Cawdron was the armourer, but his services in the shape of repairing damages to rifles were not required throughout the day. At noon the first stage of the All Comers was not concluded, and the gun having announced the hour, the bugle sounded cease firing and a general dispersing was made in search of edibles. A capital luncheon, given by Lieut. Col. Gzowski, President of the Association, which was spread in a spacious marquee for the entertainment of a large number of invited guests. The repast was got up by Mr. Kavanagh, of the Queen Restaurant, and it is only sufficient to mention his name as being the caterer to vouch for the excellence of the viands. Col. Walker Powell presided, having on his right the Hon. Mr. Vail, and on his left Mr. J. M. Currier, M.P. Most of the gentlemen before mentioned were present. After a due amount of attention had been paid to the comestibles Col. Walker Powell said as there were several gentlemen present who were obliged to leave in a short time he would request all present to fill their glasses and drink a toast which he felt sure all would honour most loyally. He gave them "The health of the Queen."

The toast was honoured by three most vociferous cheers.

The gallant Colonel then proposed the "Governor General," alluding to the interest His Excellency had always taken in all that pertained to the militia system of Canada.

This toast was also received with enthusiasm.

The next toast from the chair was that of "the Minister of Militia." The chairman said in proposing it, that he had always found the Hon. Mr. Vail during the intercourse he had had with him in the department of which he was the head, to be ready to do all in his power to render assistance to the militia of the Dominion. He therefore called upon them to drink his health with all the honours they could.

Those around the table immediately stated in song that the hon. gentleman was "a jolly good fellow," and cheered him most enthusiastically. On silence being restored,

"The Hon. Mr. Vail, rose to respond. He said when he visited the range that day he did not expect either to make a long stay, or to be called upon to speak, and had there not been so many present, whom he had not had the pleasure of having met previously, he should not have made a speech at all. He felt glad to see so many who had come from the remote parts of the Dominion, as it was a proof that those who composed the Volunteer Militia would not allow difficulties or small affairs to deter them from doing their duty to their country, at cost of their time and their means. He looked upon such meetings as the one at present in progress as being a proof of their patriotism. (cheers). In speaking of the competition for admittance to the Wimbledon team, the hon. gentleman said he was glad to see that it had been decided it should take place this year in Ottawa. He was not in the secrets of the Dominion Rifle Association, and therefore he could not say whether it was the intention to hold the competition every year in Ottawa, but he thought it would be well to hold them over the same range, so that all should compete to the same advantage, that is on the same ground and the same weather. This was a matter, of course, for the association to decide. The Canadian volunteers have now earned for themselves a world wide reputation, and he did not know whether it was wise to send the team to England each year. The money expended in that way might be applied to the uses of the various provincial associations, and he hoped that the requirements of the latter would be taken into consideration. He thought that the sending home of the team once in three years was also a matter worthy of thought, as it would affect a saving to the funds of the Association, to the benefit of those in the provinces. The Wimbledon team had done well, and the people in England knew what they can do and they could afford to forego their trip for a year or two. The hon. gentleman proceeded to say that during the nine or ten months he had been at the head of the Militia Department, he had had reason to be proud of the Canadian forces. He had taken occasion to visit one of the largest camps in the Dominion this summer, that at Niagara, and he was most gratified at what he saw there. The orderly and soldier-like conduct of the whole was most creditable to the officers, the men and the system adopted. The Dominion had reason to be proud of such a force; he also visited the camp at Halifax, N. S., where he had the pleasure of distributing the prizes to the successful competitors in the matches, and he had, in addressing them, pleasure in saying that they were quite equal to the Volunteers of Ontario. He thought those in the Lower Provinces, in a measure, lacked the enthusiasm which characterized those in the Upper. The Nova Scotians had the advantage of having Imperial troops quartered among them, and of course that gave them an opportunity of having a thoroughly well disciplined body of men to copy from. There were a class of persons who characterized the volunteers as playthings, but the very same people were the most glad to fall back upon them on the first sign of a civil disturbance (hear, hear.) He looked upon the force as being a most important one, both as a defensive measure and also as one for the prevention of commotions in the Dominion. For himself he would say that he should be most happy, either as head of the Militia office, or on the floor of Parliament, at all times to do all in his power to further the interests of the volunteer service, and its members, more especially as officers and men devoted so much of their time and money to it, and thereby supplementing the grant made by Government to a very large extent. He concluded by again thanking them for the kind reception of his name. The hon. gentleman at the finish of his remarks was greatly applauded. He then proposed the health of the President of the Dominion Rifle Association, Lieut. Col. Gzowski, to whom he said they were all grateful for the great amount of trouble and expense he had gone to in bringing the association to its present state of prosperity. He made a graceful allusion also to the exertions of the gallant president in bringing to a successful issue, the scheme of sending to England a Canadian team of riflemen, and for his attention to them while there (Hear, hear)

Col Powell on being called upon to respond in Col. Gzowski's absence expressed his thanks to the Hon. Minister of Militia and the gentlemen round the board for the manner in which they had honoured the toast. So far as the Association was concerned there was no person could gainsay the fact that their president whatever he took in hand, he was bound to make it successful, and he had done so in that case. He had a spirit of energy which he had infused into the Association Col. Gzowski had not allowed that spirit to lie dormant in England, and to him was due much of the eclat with which the Canadians had been received in Great Britain. Anything he could do with regard to mitigating the difficulties in bringing teams from all parts of the Dominion to compete for the prizes offered by the Association, he was always ready to assist in, both by giving his time and his money in alluding to the present competition, the speaker expressed his conviction that had the present been at it he would have been highly gratified at seeing the arrangements, as regards the improved system of targets, butts and marking, and the system of telegraphic communication between them and the firing point. He looked upon it as being a great advantage to be able to get through in three or four days a series of matches which heretofore would take a week to complete. With respect to what the Minister of Militia had said in regard to the volunteers in the Maritime Provinces, he could vouch for the fact, that since he (the speaker) had held the office as Deputy Adjutant General and Adjutant General, he had always found the greatest esprit to pervade the corps in both Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. He believed that in the course of a short time the forces of those Provinces would amalgamate with those of the Dominion. (Cheers.)

Mr. J. M. Currier, M. P., in a few brief and complimentary remarks, proposed the health of the "Adjutant General of Canada."

Colonel Walker Powell, in responding, said that when he held the position of Deputy Adjutant General, he never expected to attain to his present position, as for so many years it had always been occupied by an officer of the English Army. However, during the 13 or 14 years he had been connected with the Militia Department he had seen great progress made in the whole system, and he felt a certain amount of pride that such had been the case in that time. He took office with the idea of doing all he could to promote the welfare of the militia service, and he was glad to see it in so efficient a state at present. Every man who was a friend to Canada, must feel that the Dominion was now possessed of a force on which the people could depend, in the event of the arising of any civil disturbance, and also in the case of an actual invasion. It was as natural that a country should take the best means to protect it-self from aggression, as a single man would—hence the maintenance of the force. As the imperial troops had been withdrawn, Canada had only her own now to look to in case of an emergency arising which should require the use of the military. He expressed his opinion that the money granted by Parliament was quite inadequate to the keeping up of the force, and the meeting of the demands made upon both the time and the pockets of the officers and men. Every officer commanding a battalion, and every officer commanding a company, and every man serving in the ranks, alike had to make sacrifices, and it was creditable to their patriotic feeling that such was the case. Justly might they be proud of the sentiments which caused them to act in such a manner for the protection of the Dominion! The gallant Colonel again expressed his thanks for the honour they had done him, and resumed his seat amid cheers.

The Hon. Mr. Vail having a meeting of the Ministers to attend, then took his leave and the party soon after adjourned to the ranges after spending a most agreeable hour.

PROTESTANT HOSPITAL.

The New Library—Presentation of Books—A Credit to the Enterprise Temple.

The members of the "Enterprise Temple" of the I. O. G. T. yesterday presented the Directors of the Protestant Hospital, through their officers, with the 60 volumes recently purchased by them in aid of the proposed new library of the institution. The donation was the result of an entertainment held a short time ago under the auspices of the temple, and the idea reflects credit upon the members of the organization.

The following address accompanied the testimonial:—

ADDRESS.

To the Directors of the Protestant Hospital:—

GENTLEMEN,—We, the undersigned, on behalf of the officers and members of the Enterprising Lodge of Good Templars, beg leave to present you with a small collection of 62 books for the use of the Hospital.

We hope that by God's blessing it may be the means of alleviating and shortening the weary hours of pain.

Trusting that the selection we have made will meet your approval,

We remain yours most respectfully
F. ROGERS, W. C. T.
T. R. BARNETT, P. W. C. T
W. ABBOTT, W. T.

Ottawa, Sept. 7th, 1875.

MR. COUSENS, Secretary of the Institution, on behalf of the Directors thanked the committee for the trouble they had taken in the interest of the sick, and hoped other societies would take a lesson from them, and do the same thing for the hospital. If every society did a little it would be a great help to them.

The delegation after looking through the new hospital retired well pleased with their visit.

POLICE COURT.

Before M. O'GARA, T. M.

TUESDAY, Sept. 7.

George Harris was charged with being drunk on the public streets. He was fined $2 and costs.

James McGuire for a similar offence was ordered to pay a fine of $5 and costs, or in default 3 weeks in gaol at hard labour.

John A. Belanger, for being drunk was relieved of $3 and costs.

Joseph Gagnier was arraigned for being drunk and disorderly. His offence cost him $2 and incidental expenses.

Joseph Guertin was charged with assaulting one Joseph Dealaurier. He was fined $5 and costs.

Lyman Smith was charged with the larceny of a boat from Mr. Ratte at the Queen's Wharf. His case was adjourned till to-morrow.

The Gurney base burner is the boss coal stove again this year. Only Esmondes have them.

DEATH OF 1812 VETERANS.—Major Mattice, R.M., has received information of the death of three of the 1812 veterans, in Lancaster, to whom he but a short time ago paid the bounty. They are named John Lewis Grant, aged 85; John Ferguson, 86, and James Urquhart, 83.

MORE BUSH FIRES.—Yesterday several bush fires, one of them of very large extent, were observed to be raging in the township of Gloucester. The brisk wind fanned them at one time into alarming dimensions, but by evening as the breeze calmed down so did the fires, and but few traces of them were visible by six o'clock.

William Finglane, Official Assignee for Ottawa City and County of Carleton. Office, Hay's Block, Spark St. 3933112

SOCIAL.—A pleasant social gathering took place in the basement of Knox Church, Elgin street, Elgin street, last evening, in order to give the members of Emmanuel Church congregation an opportunity of making the acquaintance of Bishop Cummins. The attendance was large, and altogether the affair was a most enjoyable one.

ACCIDENT.—A man, who was coming down Victoria Terrace yesterday to obtain the services of Dr. Sweetland, met with an accident that might have proved somewhat serious. As he was nearly opposite the residence of the Rev. Dr. Mark, the horse stumbled over a newly closed water works trench, and was seriously injured, the man narrowly escaping a similar fate. The horse had to be taken home and put under the care of a veterinary surgeon. These accidents have been so frequent, and the warnings so repeatedly given, that contractors ought by this time learn to close these drains in a more satisfactory manner.

HAVE you got one? If not buy a Magee Range at Esmondes'.

To be Opened about September 1st,
The Royal Exchange Hotel
Wellington Street, Ottawa,
A First-Class Family and Commercial Hotel, owned by MR. & MRS. GEORGE ACRES,

These premises, lately occupied by the Bank of Montreal and previously known as Dewar's Hotel, have been entirely rearranged, renovated and newly furnished throughout with all modern appointments. The Hotel is centrally situated, in close proximity to the business parts of the city, and contains elegant parlors, spacious Dining, Reading, Commercial and Bedrooms, together with unusually large and airy Bedrooms, all of which have been arranged with a view of promoting the greatest degree of comfort, convenience and attention at moderate charge, to all who may patronize the house. In the bar will be found all the Wines, Liquors, Cigars, &c., usually obtained in first class establishments. Arrangements are being made for the conveyance of guests to and from the Railway depots and Steamboats.

Intending visitors to the Provincial Exhibition will oblige by applying for accommodation as early as possible.

OTTAWA, KINGSTON, AND LONDON DEBENTURES.
$180,600, Six and Seven Per Cents.

Messrs. DRUMMOND, CASSELS & CO., Montreal, are authorized to receive, on or before the 2nd day of June next, Tenders for $180,600 of Debentures of the Cities of Ottawa, Kingston and London, Ont.

Tenders may be for any portion of the Debentures, from $100 upwards, and are to be at a rate per dollar, to which will be added accrued interest up to date of payment.

OTTAWA DEBENTURES $85,000.—These bear date 1st March, 1875, and mature 1st November 1891. Principal and interest are payable in Ottawa—the interest, at 6 per cent, half-yearly, on 1st March and 1st November.

The population of the City is now 21,253. Its debt, exclusive the Water Works Liability, which is itself reproductive, is $720,998. Against this there are, all absolutely liable for the payment of these debentures, assessed property, $11,574,695. Corporation property, excluding Water Works $233,099, and the Sinking Fund for the above debt, already amounting to $189,197.

KINGSTON DEBENTURES $6,800.—These bear date 31st December, 1874, but mature annually as per schedules, in different amounts, from 1879 to 1893. Principal and interest are payable in Kingston—the interest semi-annually at 6 p.c., on the first days of January and July. The interest Coupons, payable 1st July next, are attached.

The total debt of Kingston is $470,000, and the assessed value of property, all of which is absolutely liable for the payment of the Debentures, is $5,108,490.

In cases of more than one tender for the same amount or Debentures, preference will be given to the highest tender, and Debentures of similar amount or less of the next nearest date of maturity will be allotted to the tenderers in order, unless in their tenders they mention a preference for other Debentures.

LONDON DEBENTURES $60,700.—These are all twenty year Debentures, maturing as per schedule, chiefly on 1st June, 1895. Principle and interest are payable, the interest (half-yearly, chiefly) at 7 p.c., in London, Ont.

The population of London is 18,413, and, with its suburbs, is nearly 20,000. Its debt amounts to $1,367,887; but besides a total assessed value of property, amounting to $8,066,660, and real property, belonging to the Corporation, to a very large amount within the City, all of which is absolutely liable for this debt, the Corporation holds first and second mortgage bonds, and other interests in the London and Port Stanley Railway, amounting to $1,111,520, from which an annual revenue is derived, under the lease to the Great Western Railway.

All of these Debentures form securities of the very highest character. To indicate the esteem in which Canadian Municipal securities are held in England, it may be mentioned that Ottawa Six per cent Debentures sold, on 23rd April inst., on the London Stock Exchange, at Seven per cent Premium.

The awards will be made to the highest tenderers, to whom advice will be promptly sent; but the right is reserved to reject any proposals, and to allot a portion only of any bid. The Debentures will be ready for delivery immediately after the awards.

Payments to be exchanged at Montreal for the Debentures, may be made through the Bank of Montreal.

Detailed Schedule of the Debentures, with form of tender, can be obtained at the different Branches and Agencies of the Bank of Montreal, or from Messrs. DRUMMOND, CASSELS & CO., Montreal.

Patent Slate
Roofing Paint.

FIRE-PROOF, ECONOMICAL, ORNAMENTAL, CONTAINS NO TAR, SAVES RE-SHINGLING, PRESERVES TIN OR IRON

STOPS ALL LEAKS!!!

AGENTS WANTED IN EVERY TOWN.

A roof may be covered with a very cheap shingle, and by application of this paint be made to last from 20 to 25 years. Old roofs can be painted and covered, looking much better, and lasting longer than new shingles without the slate, for one third the cost of re-shingling. This paint is practically fire proof against sparks or flying embers, and for iron and iron-ties no equal, as it expands by heat, contracts by cold, and will not corrode in the most exposed places. Roofs covered with Tar Sheathing Felt can be made water-tight at a small expense. The paint is extremely cheap.

Two gallons will cover 100 square feet of shingle roof, or 400 to 800 square feet of tile, iron, felt, matched boards or any smooth surface. Although the paint is heavy in body it is easily applied with a brush, and neither cracks in winter nor runs in summer.

On decayed shingles it fills up the holes and pores, and gives a new substantial roof that lasts for years. Curled or warped shingles it brings to their proper level, and keeps them there. It fills up all holes in felt roofs, stops the leaks, and although a slow dryer, rain will not affect it a few hours after applying. As nearly all paints that are black contain tar, be sure you obtain our Genuine Articles, which are chocolate, purple, dark slate, red, bright red, orange or maroon. The chocolate colour changes in about a month to a uniform slate colour, and is to all purposes slate. On tin roofs our red colour is usually preferred, one coat being equal to five of ordinary paint. For brick walls on the inside of cellars it makes a perf

Invalids! Attention!
Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Digestive Organs, Dropsy, Diseases of the Skin, Affections of the Liver and Urinary Organs are positively cured by using the water for a few weeks.

Rheumatics! Read!
Hundreds of Rheumatics have been cured by the Sulphur Baths. Suffering is alleviated by the first, and cripples throw away their crutches after about half-a-dozen baths.

TESTIMONIALS.

"Montreal, 28th July, 1876.

"I hereby certify that I entertain a very favorable opinion of the Baths and Waters of the Caledonia Springs in many forms of disease, among which I would especially mention chronic Rheumatism, the stigmeal of Gout, Neuralgia, some of the varieties of Cutaneous disease, Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, and in carefully selected cases, some of the diseases of the Kidney and Bladder.

(Signed) GEO. W. CAMPBELL, A.M., M.D.
Dean of the Medical Faculty, McGill College.

Dr. Wm. Robertson, of Montreal, wrote as follows, in 1839:—But the disease above all in which the action of the water is most decided is Rheumatism. * * * * I have known a few individuals who suffered much from improper use of mercury who were restored to health by the use of the waters.

ACCOMMODATIONS.

A magnificent new hotel, capable of accommodating 500 guests, will be opened on June 1st for the accommodation of visitors. The grounds have been improved and beautified, and every means for amusement and exercise provided. The trip thither by the Ottawa River is most enjoyable, and a railroad from the river to the Springs is in course of construction. Until the railroad is built, comfortable carriages will be in Waiting at the wharf for the convenience of visitors to the Springs. The distance to the Springs from Montreal and Ottawa respectively is 60 and 50 miles.

Mr. W. CHAMPNESS will open a good Livery Stable, providing good carriages, horses, saddles, &c. There is a good race-course on the property of the Company.

The PANACEAN WATERS of these Springs will yet make Caledonia the great resort in the world for health and pleasure seekers. Thousands of testimonials might be procured, but the reputation of the Springs renders it unnecessary to do so.

Every Description of HOUSE SIGN, AND ORNAMENTAL WRITING, Gilding on Glass, &c., executed in a superior Style. 3935-y

The Hon. A. B. Foster has returned to town, and is stopping at the Russell House.

Mr. J. E. Perrault, Secretary of the Centennial Commission of the Dominion has arrived in town.

Bishop Cummins leaves for Toronto to-day, to visit the Reformed Episcopal Church in that city and to hold confirmation services.

The Jacques Cartier Bank resumes business on the 11th. The directors were arrested yesterday on the same charge as Cotte, and held to bail.

Mr. Thomas McKay entertained Bishop Cummins, Rev. Mr. Collisson, and a number of gentlemen at his beautiful residence, Elmbank, on the Rideau Canal yesterday.

The annual meeting of the directors of the Canada Central Railway Company was called for yesterday for the election of officers, but they adjourned until the 22nd inst., without doing any business.

The Ottawa County Council at its session in Hull yesterday granted a sum of $1,000 in aid of the forthcoming Provincial Exhibition. The money was handed to Mr. Alonzo Wright, M.P., who has placed the sum in the hands of Mr. A. S. Woodburn, Secretary Treasurer of the local committee.

The question of granting the bonus of $200,000 to the Northern Colonization Railway was again discussed in the Council of the County of Ottawa yesterday. It was decided by one of a majority to delay a consideration of it until the action of the Quebec Legislature is known in connection with the unfortunate road. Should the Government assume the entire control of the railway the bonus will doubtless be cheerfully given.

The Premier and Mrs. Mackenzie gave a dinner party on Tuesday night, for which invitations were issued to Sir A. T. Galt, Hon. Malcolm Cameron, M.P., and Miss Cameron, the Acting Mayor and Mrs. Waller, Dr. Sweetland and Mrs. Sweetland, the Mayoress and Miss Featherston, Rev. Mr. Thompson (of Sarnia) and Mrs. Thompson, the Deputy Postmaster General and Miss Griffin, the Post Office Inspector of the London Division and Mrs. Gilbert Griffin, the Premier's Secretary and Mrs. Buckingham, the President of the Council, the Minister of Justice, the Minister of Finance, the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, the Postmaster-General, and the Minister of Agriculture.

Local Intelligence.

THE STEVEN'S HOUSE.—Last night the spirited proprietors of the Steven's House on York street, received a consignment of splendid York Bay Oysters of the largest style, and hospitably regaled some of their friends thereon, with a view of testing their quality—the fish were pronounced nulli secundum.

FIRE IN RUSSELL.—By a special despatch from Morewood which appears in another column it will be seen that a fire on Tuesday the 7th inst., destroyed the barn, stable and shed, with their contents, of Andrew Purvis in the township of Russell. There was nothing saved, and the loss amounted to eight hundred dollars. There is an insurance in the Agricultural Insurance Company for two hundred dollars.

ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.—We have much pleasure in drawing the attention of our readers to the advertisement in another column of the Ætna Life Insurance Company and pleased to see that our old and respected townsman R. J. Rodden has been appointed manager for this district. The Company has always had a high reputation, its conditions as to premiums being so low, its system of insuring so satisfactory, its policies being non forfeitable; and so light have been his expenses and so large its business that the division of profits in consideration of the premiums paid has been much larger than that of many older companies. Its management has been a great success and now that it is well represented in this section its business no doubt will increase in a satisfactory manner. Mr. Rodden is about closing with one of the companies old agents to make a thorough canvass, and wants a few more to take hold with him.

MACEVOY'S HIBERNICON.—This great dramatic and variety troupe have arrived in the city, and will open this evening in Gowan's Hall, Sparks street. Every attention has been paid to the preparation of a varied and entertaining programme. The panoramic scenes are well painted, and convey a very favourable impression of the Emerald Isle. The St. Louis Times in commenting on the performance says: "The guide, Barney, was personated by Mr. W. F. Lawlor, who, in the eyes of the fair colleens, is surely a "broth of a boy," for he can sing a rollicking song, or a sentimental one too, for that matter; can dance a jig to the liveliest measure, and crack a whip or a joke with equal ease or grace. Added to this, he is a genial, pleasant-faced individual, whose smile is infectious. Mr. Emil Ames as "Fritz, Our American Friend," was irresistibly amusing, as "Old Black Joe," he was inimitable. Mr. Nash was excellent in his songs and specialties, and frequently encored. The young ladies, Misses Hayes and Byrnes sustained their respective parts well, and by their fine acting and singing added very materially to the success of the exhibition. All should attend who wish to spend a pleasant evening."

CALEDONIA SPRINGS.

Steeple Chases.
LARGE ATTENDANCE
A Successful Meeting.

CALEDONIA SPRINGS, Sept 8th.—Early in the morning the gentry and farmers from the surrounding country commenced pouring in. Not only is every yard filled with vehicles, but they line the approaching roads, and every foot of fence is utilized as tether ground. There cannot be fewer than 5,000 persons in attendance. The Montreal Hunt race brought out two starters, Shira and Jack the Barber. The run was gamely contested, but while Jack's chances were best he sulked and Shira won.

There were four entries for the Ottawa Hunt, Austrian being first favourite and Jack on the Green second. The latter led off, closely followed by Austrian, Count Kilrush pressing them hard. At the second round Austrian fell into the water at the jump but recovered. At the third round Jack repeated this feat and caught the Count, which was being splendidly ridden by Esmonde, when both rolled over, and Austrian drew ahead and won, Jack second. The length of the course is a little over three quarters of a mile.

Re-organizing the Bank's Affairs.

The Herald publishes the following communication from the President of the Bank of California, who is at the head of the movement to re-establish it:—"We are re-organizing the bank's affairs with a view to enable it to pay all its debts and supply new capital. Success is now assured beyond any doubt, and we confidently expect to resume regular business in a short time. Rolston was indebted largely to the bank, but he leaves considerable private estate proceeds which will go far towards paying his liabilities. The assets of the bank are now in excess of its liabilities, independent of the new capital now being subscribed. The community here is showing the greatest confidence in our efforts at re-organisation.

Arrived.

Arrived the steamship Amerique from Havre, and Herman from Bremen.

MONTREAL.

The Guibord Case—Freight Car Robberies—New Lodge—Meeting—Marriage of Dr. Tupper's Son—Sentenced—A Suit—Election Trial—Meeting of Police Committee—Money and Stocks.

MONTREAL, Sept. 8.—In the Guibord case, it is rumoured, Mr. Doutre will try and have the burial take place next week, the continued trouble at Mountain Cemetery is very annoying to the trustees, who would be glad to see Guibord's remains taken away. The Guards at the vault are to be doubled to-night, with several civilians who desire to bear a hand in its defence. A scurrilous broadsheet headed "Great Lamentation of Jos Guibord," is being scattered about the city, inciting the French Canadians to prevent the burial of Guibord, to-day.

The sheet is decorated with a dead head, cross and bones. It was printed at the Minerve office, of course. No one knows who wrote it. Mr. Doutre intends pushing his action for damages against the proprietors of the Novean Monde, and especially against Alphonse Desjardin, M. P. for Hochelaga county, the editor who is believed to have written the article.

On the night of the 15th of August last a Grand Trunk car was broden into some where between here and Vedreiul, and cases of goods stolen. Last Friday night three more cases, shipped by Messrs McIntyre & French and by Kennedy, of St. Lawrence, Main street, to Stratford, disappeared in a similar manner. The loss by the latter robbery was about $1,100. From circumstances connected with both affairs it was suspected some person or persons well acquainted with the working of the cars was implicated, but the perpetrators so carefully conducted operations that the Grand Trunk detectives searched in vain for any clue to follow up the robbers. Eventually detective Cullen got a clue and last afternoon arrested Hudon and Chavor, on whose premises were found $3,000 worth of stolen property. It was supposed that the cars were entered at the Tanneries Junction where freight cars sometimes remain for short periods before they are fully made up. The prisoner Hudon was, before his arrest, on bail to answer a charge of altering a one dollar bill to a five.

A new Lodge of Odd Fellows is about to be instituted in this city. It will be called the Albert, No. 5.

This afternoon there was a full meeting of the Harbour Commissioners, at which Hon. John Young was re-elected Chairman.

This forenoon Miss Mary Wilson Robertson, daughter of Andrew Robertson, was united in marriage to James Stewart Tupper, son of Hon. Dr. Tupper, of Ottawa. The happy event took place in Erskine Church in the presence of the largest audience which has been gathered together for years.

John Foley was to-day sentenced by the Recorder to pay a fine of $50 and six months imprisonment for committing an indecent assault on a Mrs. Thompson. The woman was returning from visiting a sick child under protection of Foley, who on getting to her house used her scandalously.

A suit for $10,000 damages is to be commenced to-morrow on the part of the celebrated F. X. Beaudry against the Witness, for damage done his character by the publication of certain police reports. The trial can hardly fail to reveal much of the saddest side of human nature, and possibly bring before the public facts which no efficient means has yet been discovered to put an end to.

The trial of Soulanges' contested election case will begin at Coteau du Lac on the 10th inst., Judge Beaudry presiding.

At a meeting of the Police Committee this evening, after much resistance on the part of the French members, it was resolved to arm the special duty men with revolvers. This is cheering.

The money market continues quiet, and there is no new feature to note. The range for 60 days bank bills in round amounts continues at from 10½ to 10¾, but the market is very quiet. The stock market yesterday was active at easier rates. This morning it has been dull and weak. Sales; Commerce, 126¼, closing at 126½; Merchants 100¼, closing at 101; Jacques Cartier 27, closing at 27; Telegraph 155½, closing at 155½; Montreal 188½ to 188¾.

The Ontario Prohibitory League—A Jewish Synagogue—Reception to Mayor Metcalf—The T. G. & B Railway—Inquest.

TORONTO, Sept. 8.—The Ontario Prohibitory League were again in session to-day. It was suggested and favourably received, that prohibition be made a distinct issue at the polls this year. Identification with either political party was deprecated. A resolution was adopted approving of amalgamation with the Western League and appointing two gentlemen to meet delegates from that body to arrange preliminaries. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mr. Robert McLean; Vice-Presidents Rev. J. M. Cameron, Rev. E. H. Dewart, Messrs. G. A. Ross, M.P., E. V. Bodwell, Thomas McNaughton, Treasurer, Mr. G. M. Rose, Secretary, Mr. Jacob Spence. The delegates to Montreal are Robt. McLean, J. Spence and Thos. McNaughton. The League then adjourned.

Mr. L. S. Samuel having purchased from Mr. Alexander Dixon of the Mail a site on Richmond street for a Jewish Synagogue, the building will be proceeded with at once. The estimated cost of which will be $5,000. A party of men commenced to dig the foundation this forenoon.

The reception to night of Mayor Medcalf on his return from Great Britain by the Orangemen was very enthusiastic. There were six bands and about 1,500 in the procession, the streets were crowded with people along the line of march. Fog signals were fired as the train approached the depot and on its arrival a quantity of fireworks were let off.

At the annual meeting of the Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway it was proposed that the Goverment aid the road to the extent of $500,000 to assist in paying off the floating debt of the Company, or else that the Government issue to the Company five per cent debentures, payable in twenty years, to the amount of $750,000, taking as security second mortgage bonds of the Company.

Mr. John Gordon was re-elected President, and Mr. W. Ramsay Vice President.

At the inquest this morning, on the body of George Edwin Oliphant, a verdict was returned as follows: "That he died from the effects of arsenic, self-administered, while labouring under great excitement, caused by extreme mental depression.

Republican Convention.

THE PLATFORM IN FULL.

SARATOGA, N. Y., September 8.—The Republican Convention in session here to-day was largely attended. Speeches made by prominent men from different parts of the State were well received. The following is the platform in full. Republicans of New York faithful to justice and liberty, to the supremacy of the Constitution, to nationality and the rights of States, make the following declaration of principles:—1st. The National Government should remain in the hands of those who sustain guarantees of an amended Constitution, and in the pursuance of the past action of the Republican party. The good and welfare of the country requires a just, generous and forbearing policy. In the Southern States a firm refusal to power, except for purposes clearly defined in the Constitution, and the local enforcement of the national authority by those who are in sympathy with such a policy and will support it. 2n. We demand honesty and efficiency in every branch of State and national administrations, prompt investigation of all charges of wrong doing and summary exposure, prosecution and punishment of wrong doers. We therefore heartily commend the action of all officers whether of State or National Government, in their honest efforts for the correction of public abuses. We pledge to them our constant and faithful support and we charge every nominee of the Convention to co-operate in every honorable way to secure pure government and to bring offenders to justice. 3rd. The people should nominate for Legislature only men who are judged by their known character to provide and sustain measures calculated to rescue and preserve the State from every form of corruption and mal-administration. 4th. The guilty offenders in the management of canals should be brought to speedy punishment, and the executive under powers already conferred on him should suspend all officers who have violated the law. 5th. The Republican party has proved itself from the beginning the party of practical reform and sound policy in the affairs of this State. It has within the last four years provided for the payment of $70,000,000 of the public debt, and practically a general state of indebtedness, and by this action has made it certain that the tax for the next year will be reduced about five millions of dollars. 6th. further inflation of currency, under any pretence, would be a public calamity. The interests of honest industry and the common welfare demand the speediest possible return to specie payments. (Applause.) 7th. The whole subject of taxation ought to be carefully and wisely reviewed, to the end that its burdens should be fully known. 8th. Recognising as conclusive the President's public declaration that he is not a candidate for re-nomination and with sincerest gratitude for his patriotic services we declare our unalterable opposition to the election of any President for a third term. (Wild applause). 9th. The free public school is the bulwark of the American Republic, we therefore demand the unqualified maintenance of our public school system and and

THE GUIBORD AFFAIR.

The anxiety and excitement manifested in connection with the Guibord case in its latest features, are probably exaggerated. It is nevertheless clear that it bears a very grave aspect. The facts which are prominently in the front are we may say, two in number. The Imperial Privy Council, the highest authority known in British law, except indeed the fountain of all authority itself, has ordered the burial of the body of Guibord in the Catholic cemetery of Montreal, and an infuriated mob defies that authority. It is not necessary to discuss the proceedings which have led up to this crisis. All that it is necessary to know is that the law of the land demands that a certain thing shall be done, and that a lot of excited roughs interpose brute force to prevent its execution. There is absolutely no defence, no palliation for such a course. If the law which makes obedience to this order a mark of loyalty and submission to the constituted authorities is a bad law, there is an easy, peaceful, and constitutional mode of redress; but nothing short of actual injustice and oppression, which had not been removed after every lawful effort had been exhausted, would be a justification for the attitude taken and maintained by those who have prevented the funeral of Guibord. As has been well pointed out by one of the Roman Catholic clergymen of Montreal, the edict must be carried into effect, even if Great Britain should have to send an armed force to do so. It is hardly creditable to the authorities of Montreal that bands of desperadoes should have been permitted, unmolested, to frequent the neighbourhood of the cemetery, to the damage and destruction of the surrounding property, and the disturbance of the feeling of public security. The attitude of one of the newspapers, Le Nouveau Monde, is especially disgraceful, and the language of which it has at various times made use is of the most libellous and incendiary description. In no other country in the world except a British country would such unbridled license be tolerated, and it is very questionable policy to permit it in the present state of public feeling in Montreal. As a correspondent of the TIMES very properly pointed out in yesterday's issue, it is no question as between religious sects, and the fewer exhibitions of sectarian spirit manifested in connection with it the better. It is in its religious bearing a point in dispute between members of the same church; in its moral and national aspect it is a question whether a mob is to set law and order at defiance. It is evident that Guibord must be buried in the Catholic Cemetery as ordered, and opposition on the part of any one is as useless as it is unlawful. There is positively no room for any argument on the subject.

PUBLIC SCHOOL MATTERS.

The Rev. H. J. Borthwick has betaken himself to the columns of a contemporary in order to reply to our strictures on his treatment of three young ladies who have recently had to submit to the indignity of being dismissed from the staff of teachers in the Public Schools. The reverend gentleman has no explanation of his conduct to make, except to say that the statement made by the ladies in question in their letter to the Trustees is a "thorough misrepresentation of what he told them"—a misrepresentation which he 'cannot now unmask," for the overpowering reason that "space is limited." He might have left the conductors of the journal to which his communication was addressed, to put forward this very lame excuse, if it were going to be offered at all; or it might have been the better course still to admit, what appears to be the fact, that there was no misrepresentation to unmask. Mr Borthwick ought never to have permitted himself to stand in the unmanly position of impugning the correctness of a statement subscribed to by three young ladies without offering proof of his assertion, or without at the very least giving to the public what he would desire to be accepted as a truthful representation. Miss Gillmor yesterday reiterated all that was stated in the document laid before the School Trustees, and went something further than Mr Borthwick's ambiguous affirmation that the whole story was a "thorough misrepresentation," and advanced in rebuttal, people will be tempted—by the master tempter, doubtless—to make odious comparisons as to the value and weight of testimony. The strict morality of the school inspector's generosity, if the one specimen for which he claims peculiar credit be at all representative, may very well be doubted. He tells us that the Board of Public School Trustees passed a resolution declaring that teachers holding third-class certificates should advance one grade each year—a very wise resolution we should say, and one which it was to the interests of teachers themselves should be enforced. But how does Mr. Borthwick proceed to carry it into effect? Why, by giving a teacher whose certificate expired in December, 1874, a license to teach till next examination,—an action which he calmly informs us was one of pure good will on his part, and equivalent to a present of $200. Mr. Borthwick, according to his own account, is very liberal with other people's money; very mindful of his friends, but his presents come mighty to his hand. There could be little exception taken to the extension of Miss Gillmor's license, in itself, for the probability is that the experience she had gained during the time she was engaged in teaching was an ample compensation for her want of success before the Board of Examiners. It is somewhat cool, however, in the inspector to inform the public that it was a mere act of good will on his part, which is as much as to say that he corrected the resolution of the Board at defiance, without any regard to the efficiency of the teaching in the schools, whenever he chooses. We do not care to bandy words with Mr. Borthwick regarding those, in themselves, trivial matters. His attacks upon us are doubtless designed to show forth more conspicuously than they would otherwise appear his own virtuous qualifications, and the dignity with which he can defend himself when assailed; but truth to tell, if scurrility, abuse, and insinuation, with all of which he charges us, had the small pox, the city inspector of public schools would be sure to catch it.

What we are most concerned about, and the reason for which we first called attention to Mr. Borthwick's curious conduct, is the interest we feel, in common with the public, for the success of the Normal school. It is satisfactory to know that, notwithstanding the exercise of malicious influences, such as we have exposed on Mr. Borthwick's part, to the prejudice of the school under its present management, over a hundred candidates have already given notice of their intention to present themselves for examination and admission. We are not the champions of the Normal school or its teachers, neither are we a disappointed candidate for the Principalship, like Mr. Borthwick, whose jealousy will not permit him to await the actual results before pronouncing judgment, but impels him to the unworthy course of taking failure for granted in advance. And yet this same gentleman, whose only method of exalting his own qualifications and those of other disappointed aspirants is to depreciate those who have been more fortunate, with all assumed fervour exclaims—"the holders of positions in the Normal School have my best wishes for their success." How beautifully consistent is this assertion with the tone of the school inspector's letters on the subject, and with his general line of policy since the appointments were announced, it is scarcely necessary to say. Mr. Borthwick need not make himself so busy about the matter. When Mr. McCabe, whose humble estimate of his own capabilities is in striking contrast with those whose enmity his selection has excited, resigns his position, which we hope he will not do until he has had a tempting offer from some other quarter, his successor will not be the gentleman who now acts as inspector of the Public Schools of the City of Ottawa. Among all the candidates mentioned in connection with the position by Dr. Ryerson in the letter we published the other day, the name never occurs once.

MR. BORTHWICK AND THE PUBLIC SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

To the Editor of the TIMES

SIR,—It would appear that the existence of a preparatory class in connection with the Collegiate Institute is to the Public School Trustees what the "wooden horse" was to the Trojans; it threatens them from above;" and the trustees of the High School are the cunning Greeks who have stolen a march upon Mr. Borthwick and his henchmen. Mean shifts—whether intentional or not—have been resorted to in order to destroy that eyesore to Mr. Borthwick and his friends, and yet the preparatory class flourishes. When it was organized last fall it was said it could not stand, that none of those who should attend it would pass the entrance examination to the Collegiate Institute; and these predictions were the more confidently repeated, because many of those who were in attendance had tried to pass before and had ignominously failed. He who could infuse life into such unpromising recruits, and lead them to victory, must exert him in many directions. And what made the matter worse was the fact that all those who had been able to make a respectable percentage on the examination papers for the previous term were at once with open arms admitted into the Collegiate Institute, their being able to pass at next entrance examination being a foregone conclusion.

There were then relgated to the preparatory class only such pupils as must exert themselves to the utmost before they could pass. One would reasonably believe that any teacher who should "grind" sufficiently pupils so backward, would deserve some meed of praise, some token of approval from parties like Mr. Borthwick and the Board of Public School Trustees. We shall see.

The preparatory class was organized in September, 1874, and the work of the school room went on quite satisfactorily with a large number of the pupils, who put forth manful efforts to attain the requisite proficiency, and the consequence was that eight pupils passed the entrance examination successfully that is, they were not rejected in Toronto. At this juncture the teacher of the preparatory class was urgently called away from the city, and the opportunity was improved—meanly improved—on the part of the Public School Board, to say that not a single pupil other than such as had been trained in the Public Schools, passed the entrance examination.

The statement that not a single candidate not trained in the public schools passed was triumphantly noised abroad through the newspapers, often the unconscious circulators of falsehoods, and was even sent to headquarters and published in the Journal of Educati n. It would be interesting to know upon what data the Board of Public School Trustees based this statement; for I do not for one moment believe that one of those gentlemen would willingly set his seal to what he knew to be an untruth. The first inference is that the Public School Trustees must have been misled, and the question arises, who misled them?

Well, the preparatory class flourishes again more than ever. Like the sturdy oak it seems to thrive the better the more fiercely the winds assail it. At the last entrance examination, out of the nine boys who passed from those sent up from the city public schools, the preparatory class, and the New Edinburgh school combined, five had been trained in the preparatory class, while of the three or four who had been attending at the High School, and had not been trained in the preparatory class, not one passed. It has been said that some who passed from the preparatory class received private lessons, and this was industriously circulated, on set purpose to damage its reputation. Well, of the three who received private lessons, only one passed, and I have the best reasons for believing that the exceptional one would have passed without a single private lesson! Indeed, had they paid more attention to the work of the school room, perhaps all three might have passed. At all events, this much is certain: the boy who made the next to the highest number of marks was a young lad who had come to the preparatory class on its inception, in 1874, with no higher knowledge than the four simple rules of arithmetic, reading, writing, and the scantiest inkling of grammar, geography, &c. In addition to the above, I may add that not a single pupil from the preparatory class failed in grammar! With such a record as this, how comes it that the Public School Trustees declare that the preparatory class "impairs" (!) "the efficiency of the Public Schools." Of course this is merely an assertion, and people are free to assert; but an assertion based upon nothing, simply exists as an assertion.

The preparatory class can only "impair the efficiency" of the public schools when the public schools cease to have such a number of pupils as is necessary to maintain them in a flourishing condition; and no one will dare to say that such is the case at present. Indeed, I am convinced that the teachers in the public schools think little and care less about any school other than their own, and I am happy to have it in my power to testify to the earnestness, the zeal and the zest with which they engage in their work, and the evident success that crowns their labours. The great point in reference to the preparatory class or the public schools is, Are the scholars well taught? The wealthy citizens of Ottawa have a perfect right to have a school of their own, so that they are willing to pay for it, and as that such schools do not interfere with the well-being of the public schools whose rights are paramount in a scheme for the education of the whole people. I trust that no one will think that I have wished to say a word against Mr. Bothwick as a public school officer. I believe him to be an admirable superintendent and possessed of first rate administrative abilities, but a little too pragmatical.

Yours,
RATEPAYER.

The London QUARTELY REVIEW, New York. Reprinted by the Leonard Scott, 41 Barclay street.

The London Quarterly Review for July is to hand. This sketch opens with a historical sketch of England under the first James, taking for its guide some works of recent date, which differ in the view they take of that period from those of Macauley and other well known historians.

The account of Jamaica gives a vision of a charming country. The beauty of the scenery, manners and customs of the people, products and resources, are all described in glowing terms, and the actual condition and prospects of this interesting island are portrayed by a skilled hand.

"Virgil in the Middle Ages." The book here reveiwed is in two volumes, the first of which is devoted to an explanation of Virgil's reputation as a writer, from the publication of the Æneid to the twelfth century, and the second, to the Virgilian Legends. The reason for the selection of Virgil as Dante's Guide occupy a considerable portion of this essay.

A very interesting paper is devoted to a history of aerial locomotion, including a description of a balloon and its necessary appurtenances, an account of the balloon post established at Paris during the late war, and of various attempts to make dirigible balloons. "The possibility of constructing, on principles analogous to those of aquatic navigation, a buoyant aerial screw ship which shall have a form of small resistance, which shall be stable and easy to manage, and which shall obey her rudder, has been fully established."

The "Theatre Francais" is considered a model of dramatic perfection among the theatres of Europe." It had its origin in 1680, under the patronage of Louis XIV., and we have here a little history of its growth, and sketches of some of the celebrities who have, from time to time, graced its boards.

We have looked upon Falconry as a thing of the past—belonging to the age of tournaments and tennis courts, but the article on Falconry in the British Isles tells of modern falconers and of favored spots in Great Britain where the amusement is still practised.

The Memoirs of Comte de Segur places the personal qualities of Napoleon "in a light which contrasts strongly and pleasingly with our preconceived impression of the intense, concentrated, all prevading egotism of his character." The review is filled with anecdotes and quotations.

Of Tennyson's "Queen Mary," the notice is favourable. It gives the plot and many of the more marked passages, and considers the work of greater literary than dramatic interest.

Ontario Temperance Prohibitory League.

THIRD ANNUAL MEETING.

The President's Address.

Acting Slowly from the Globe of the 8th.

The third annual meeting of the Ontario Temperance and Prohibitory League opened yesterday afternoon in the Temperance Hall, Temperance street; Mr. Robert Maclean, the President in the chair. Among those present were Messrs. G. W. Ross, M.P., Strathroy; Professor Samuels, London; Rev. W. Scott, Smith's Falls; Thomas McNaughton, Cobourg; Rev. Henry Cooker, Georgetown; Thos. Webster, Brantford; Rev. John Dyke, — Laurie, Jos. P. Webb, G. M. Rose, Toronto; James Thompson, John Cameron, James Eddy, Newcastle; Rev. J. M. Cameron, George Flint, Mathew Hughes, Schomberg; Capt. Isaac Blair, Milton; Thomas Carswell, Toronto.

After devotional exercises and the reception of several communications,

The President delivered the annual address as follows:—

Dear Friends,—It affords me great pleasure to see so many of the advocates and supporters of prohibition present at our annual gathering. While thankful to our Heavenly Father for sparing our lives through another year, we are reminded of the uncertainty of life by missing the presence of one who always took a deep and lively interest in the work of the League, and, indeed, in every other good work. We have to lament the melancholy death of a member of the General Council of the League, the Rev. Joel Briggs, under peculiarly painful circumstances. I feel certain that his wife and family, in their sad bereavement, have the deepest sympathy of such of the members of the League as had the privilege of knowing him, as I had, and estimating his worth. I trust the action of the Executive in calling you together a week earlier than the regular time, for the reasons named in the circular sent you, will meet your approval. This League should be represented at the Montreal meeting, and it is for you to say who shall be sent and how many. The reports of the Secretary and Treasurer, which will be submitted to you at an early stage of the proceedings, contain not only a full and explicit, but also a most gratifying and satisfactory account of the work of the League during the past year. Results have been attained well calculated to encourage the friends of prohibition in prosecuting with greater zeal and earnestness the good and patriotic work in which they are engaged. Notwithstanding the unusual stringency in money matters during the past year, the contributions to the funds of the League have been larger than on any former year, and that, too, with a circumscribed territory. The several temperance organizations gave us great aid in circulating petitions in favor of prohibition. I would call special attention to the praiseworthy liberality of the Grand Lodge of the I. O. G. T., and the Grand Division of the S. of T., in giving each a grant of $50 in aid of the petition work. I would also thank the subordinate societies that responded to the appeal made to them for aid. Though not so general as I fondly hoped and believed it would be, it was sufficient to show that much can be done in that way, and that the sympathy of kindred associations are with us to a very great extent in the work of the League. It is not too much to say that the labours of the League, aided by the various temperance organizations, have placed the question of prohibition before the country, as a real, living issue that sooner or later must be squarely and honestly met and grappled with. The petitions to Parliament, year after year, in vastly increasing numbers and influence, have resulted in the appointment by the Government of a Commission to inquire into the working of prohibition in such States of the American Union as have a Prohibitory Law in force. The report of that Commission is full of encouragement and hope. Whoever has read it with care, could not fail to notice that wherever public opinion was in accord with the law—and a consequent enforcement of its provisions carried out; the result was eminently satisfactory and uniformly beneficial and effective—and that, too, beyond the possibility of doubt or cavil. The prevalence of crime, or its absence, indicated a looseness on the one hand, or a stringency on the other, in the enforcement of the law just as certain and unmistakable as does the graduated scale of a thermometer indicate the cold or heat of the surrounding atmosphere, thus demonstrating what temperance men have long affirmed—the close and intimate, if not the inseparable, connection between the traffic in drink and the criminal calendar in the relation of cause and effect. In this connection the thanks of this League are specially due to Mr. George W. Ross, the distinguished advocate of our cause in Parliament, for his able, manly, and persistent efforts in getting the question of prohibition discussed in the Dominion Legislature. As a result of that discussion the following resolution, on the motion of Mr. Ross, was adopted by the House of Commons:—

"That, having regard to the beneficial effect arising from prohibitory laws in those States of the American Union where the same are fully carried out, this House is of opinion that the most effectual remedy for the evils of intemperance would be to prohibit the manufacture, importation and sale of all intoxicating liquors."

Thus we have the Federal Legislature committed to the principle of prohibition. It might not be amiss to refer to the unbecoming levity with which some of the honourable (?) members of the House treated the above motion, by endeavouring to laugh it out of Parliament, and bring its chief promoters into ridicule and contempt. Their unmanly and disgraceful conduct will not only rouse the friends of prohibition to more determined action to secure the speedy passage of a prohibitory law, but to active effort in preventing such men from ever again entering Parliament, and that, too, without any reference to what side or party they may profess to belong. A man that would treat with levity a question involving, as prohibition does, the peace, the happiness, and material prosperity of the Dominion, its moral and religious advancement, is totally unworthy of a seat in the Legislature of his country. In discussing the important question on the programme, this meeting cannot overlook the magnitude of the consideration involved in the action they may propose to take. The question of prohibition is one that requires the greatest consideration on the part of any Government, however strong, before deciding to put a prohibitory law on the statute book. It is admitted on all hands that such a law to be effective must have an undoubted strong public sentiment in favour of the law and of its rigid enforcement. What, then, is the best method of ascertaining what public opinion is on this most important question? Some propose to make it a test question at the polls. The experience of the past shows that very little dependence could be placed on the result of such a test. So many side issues would arise, regarding men and measures, that the question of prohibition would in many cases be either lost sight of, or subordinated to some other issue. Others propose that a plebiscite be taken, thus affording each elector an opportunity of saying yea or nay to that question, irrespective of any other question of public policy. This would still leave the law to be passed by Parliament—which might or might not be done. The best way, in my opinion, would be to ask Parliament to pass a stringent Prohibitory Law at its next session, and submit it for ratification to the electors of the Dominion at the first general election. Ample time and opportunity would be afforded in the meantime for a full, free, and thorough discussion of the measure by the press and on the platform. Should a majority vote in its favor, a proclamation by the Governor-General could bring it into force at some specified time subsequent to its ratification. At this most important crisis of the prohibition movement, nothing is more essential to success than a cordial union of mind and effort among its friends and promoters. Only by such a union can we expect to accomplish the difficult work before us. With the view of attaining this desirable end, I have invited the Executive of the Western League to attend this meeting, and I beg to recommend the appointment of a joint committee, selected from both Leagues, with the earnest hope that they may be able to bring in an unanimous report in favour of an amalgamation on terms just and satisfactory to both. This union once accomplished, we will be able to present a united front, an unbroken phalanx of earnest, honest men, strong in the justice of our cause, unappalled by the magnitude of the work to be accomplished, and determined, with the blessing of God and the aid of all good men, and women, too, to emancipate the Dominion of Canada from the curse and thraldom of strong drink. A letter was received some time ago, and a cable telegram since, from the Rev. J. B. Affleck, who lectured for the league last winter with such good effect, recommending us to engage the services of a Mr. Bell, of Yorkshire, England, for six months, from the 1st of October. This gentleman Mr. Affleck speaks off very higly. The case of Mr. Affleck himself illustrates the wisdom of engaging the very best available talent, though at an increased expenditure. The time of the annual meeting being so near the Executive deemed it advisable to refer a matter of so much importance to your consideration, that you might take such action as might be thought best. The letter and telegram will be laid before you.

In conclusion permit me to thank you for the distinguished honour you conferred upon me a year ago by electing me President of the Ontario Temperance Prohibitory League. The gentlemen associated with me have all worked well and harmoniously. I sincerely trust that my successor may be able to devote more time to the duties of the office than it was in my power to do, and do better service in speeding to a successful termination the great, good, and glorious work in which we are engaged—a work which, with God's blessing, must ultimately triumph. "Truth is mighty and will prevail."

After the reading of the Treasurer's report and other routine proceedings, the question of Prohibition was taken up.

DISCUSSIONS.

The President, in referring to the Montreal Temperance Convention, which takes place next week, said it was evident that the friends of the cause were beginning to work in earnest, and everything was preparing for the liquor question being made a party issue. There were several topics suggested for discussion on the programme, which would probably be considered at Montreal. It would be well for the members of the League not to commit themselves to any definite proposition in reference to these topics, so as to allow their delegates to the Convention perfect liberty to advance their own views. The first topic suggested was—"Would the Abolition of Tavern, Shop, and Saloon Licenses, without interfering with the domestic use of intoxicating liquors, meet the wishes of temperance men at the present stage of the movement?"

Mr. Rose thought that the answer to that question should be an emphatic no. They had no right to license, even for domestic purposes, the sale of any liquor that caused vice and misery. Nothing but total prohibition could be accepted.

Mr. Mark Hughes said the question was fully disussed in his district, and the reply was universally in the negative.

Messrs. Colwell and McCord held the same views.

Mr. Ross, M.P., said it had been suggested that the measure referred to might be an effective step in the right direction. He did not advise, however, that the meeting should come to any resolution on the subject, as it would be fully discussed in Montreal. It was thought by many that if the traffic at shops, saloons, and taverns could be stopped, the trade would be confined to very narrow limits The greater portion of the misery resulting from the use of intoxicants was traceable to the operations of the shops, &c. The proposition, although it did not go far enough for him, would be was told be accepted in the Lower Provinces.

Mr. McNaughton said that it they could not obtain prohibition, the abolition of shop and tavern licenses might be accepted.

Rev. Mr. Scott said it was doubtful whether the Dominion Parliament had power to deal with the license system in the various Provinces.

Mr. Ross said that that point could be referred to the Supreme Court when organized. It was admitted, however, that the Dominion Parliament had power to prohibit the importation or manufacture of beer and spirits.

The discussion was then closed.

The second question for discussion was—"Would a law that merely prohibited the manufacture, importation, and sale of ardent spirits be sufficient just now, as a preliminary step towards total prohibition?"

The President said this was a proposition for the distinguished honour you conferred upon me a year ago by electing me President of the Ontario Temperance Prohibitory League. The gentlemen associated with me have all worked well and harmoniously. I sincerely trust that my successor may be able to devote more time to the duties of the office than it was in my power to do, and do better service in speeding to a successful termination the great, good, and glorious work in which we are engaged—a work which, with God's blessing, must ultimately triumph. The discussion was then closed.

The second question for discussion was—"Would a law that merely prohibited the manufacture, importation, and sale of ardent spirits be sufficient just now, as a preliminary step towards total prohibition?"

The President said this was a proposition for the abolition of the sale of beer and light wines.

The general opinion seemed to be that ale, beer, and wine caused almost as much drunkenness as ardent spirits, and that the compromise could not be accepted. A few members suggested that it might be well to accept the compromise as a step towards prohibition, if nothing better could be obtained. A large portion of the community would be willing to vote for the prohibition of the use of spirits if they would allow light wines and beer or ale.

The third question was,—"Would the passage of a prohibitory law, dependent for ratification upon the decision of a majority of electors of the Dominion by plebiscite, accomplish the object in view?" The discussion on this seemed to indicate that opinion was fairly divided.

The meeting adjourned till 7:30.

EVENING SESSION.

The President took the chair at 7:45.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The Committee on the President's address brought up their report. It made acknowledgment of the able and fearless advocacy of the cause by such true friends as Mr. G. W. Ross, M. P., and Hon. A. Vidal in the Parliament at Ottawa. The Committee recommended that the League should be represented at the Montreal Convention, and suggested the appointment of the President and others as delegates. In regard to the best means of obtaining prohibition, the Committee believed that no definite course of procedure, as to the details, should be decided on until the meeting of the Montreal Convention, as the delegates there should go with freedom to vote for and support those measures that would secure prohibition on the highest grounds, by the best means, and in the shortest time possible. The Committee approved of the prospect of a union with a Western League, and in conclusion tendered their thanks to the President for his earnest work in the cause

The report was adopted.

The Lecture Committee presented their report, which was also adopted.

The Montreal Proprietary School has been established to provide a liberal education similar to that given in the Public Schools of England. The course of Instruction, however, will not be sions or for Commercial Life.

Most eligible premises have been purchased for the School in McTavish street, one of the most healthful localities or the city, and immediately adjoining the grounds of the McGill University.

The course of instruction wi include Latin, Greek, Mathematics, French, German, Arithmetic, Writing, English Grammar, Literature and Composition, History and Geography, both ancient and modern, Natural Philosophy, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, Gymnastics and Drilling.

A limited number of boys will be received by the Principal as Boarders or Weekly Boarders and, with the view of keeping the pupils from improper influences, it is strongly recommended that all be entered as (by) Boarders, who will dine in the house of the Principal.

Further particulars can be obtained from the Secretary, J. W. Holmes, Esq., 78 Victoria street, to whom all applications for admission must be made.

The School will open on MONDAY, the 12th of April, and will be carried on for a few days at 78 Victoria street, the new premises not being quite completed.

WALL PAPER.

INCLUDING THOSE DEDICATED BY THE MANUFACTURER

TO

Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Dufferin.

These Paperhangings are imported direct from the best Manufacturing Establishments in England, France and United States. Great care has been taken in their selection with regard to colour. The ground tones are soft and pleasing to the eye, especially those toned with silver mica; but above all, they are free from the mineral poisons that many of the tawdry-coloured Paperhangings of the day are surcharged with. The Subscriber's long experience as a colourist, and being thoroughly acquainted with the chemical compound of the pigments used in Painting, enables him to reject, in his selection of Paperhangings, those coloured with poisonous pigments, so deleterious to health. The Public are respectfully invited to examine his STOCK of WALL PAPER before purchasing elsewhere.

As the undersigned is going out of the Room Paper Business as soon as his present Stock is disposed of, the Goods will be Sold at the Lowest Remunerating Prices.

Secretary.

HON. A. McKELLAR,
Provincial Secretary,
Chairman of Board.

LACHINE

Canal Enlargement.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sealed Tenders addressed to the Secretary of Public Works, and endorsed "Tender for the Lachine Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western mails on THURSDAY the Sixteenth day of September next, for the enlargement of this canal, consisting of the widening and deepening of the channel from near the new basin east of Wellington Street bridge, upwards, to the river St. Lawrence at Lachine, embracing the construction of new locks at St. Gabriel and Côte St. Paul, also the taking down and rebuilding the upper portions of the present locks at these places: building regulating weirs, culverts, bridge piers; the construction of a new entrance lock at Lachine, and the formation of a channel and basin on the south or river side of the existing entrance.

The works will be let in sections of the respective lengths indicated on a map of the line, which, together with plans and specifications of the various works, can be seen at this office, and at the Lachine Canal Office, Montreal, on and after FRIDAY, the Third day of September next, at either of which places Printed forms of Tender can be obtained.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that Tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and—in the case of firms—except there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same; and further, an accepted bank cheque, or other available security, for the sum of from one to three thousand dollars, according to the extent of work on the section, must accompany each Tender, which shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines or fails to enter into contract for the works, when called upon to do so, at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The amount required in each case will be stated on the form of Tender.

The cheque or money thus sent in, will be returned to the respective parties whose Tenders are not accepted.

For the due fulfilment of the contract, satisfactory security will be required on real estate, or by deposit of money, public or municipal securities, or bank stocks, to the amount of five per cent on the bulk sum of the contract, of which the sum sent in with the Tender will be considered a part.

Ninety per cent only of the progress estimates will be paid until the completion of the works.

To each Tender must be attached the actual signatures of two responsible and solvent persons, residents of the Dominion, willing to become sureties for the carrying out of these conditions, as well as the due performance of works embraced in the contract.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any Tender.

By Order,

Department of Public Works, Ottawa, 9th August, 1875. F. BRAUN, Secretary

Local Intelligence.

ANOTHER BUSH FIRE.—A large bush fire was visible over the Hull mountains last night, burning with a degree of brightness which seemed to indicate a conflagration of more than ordinary dimensions.

THE AURORA BOREALIS.—Last evening, during the performance of the band, the Aurora Borealis was visible in great splendour. Weatherwise folks predict from that atmospheric appearance a rapid approach of cool weather.

BURSTING OF A WATER PIPE.—The bursting of a water main near the corner of Bank and Sparks St. reet, yesterday caused sad havoc in that locality for a time. The break has, however, been repaired, and any further damage has been frustrated.

BOOTBLACKS.—A brigade of bootblacks numbering in all 20 boys, arrived at Belleville station yesterday, en route for Ottawa, to ply their vocation in that city until after the Provincial Exhibition. The young shiners will doubtless arrive by train this afternoon.

ENGLISH MAIL.—An English Mail will close at the City Post Office tomorrow (Friday) the 10th inst., at 12:30 o'clock, p. m., destined for the steamship Peruvian which sails from Quebec for Liverpool on Saturday. A Supplementary bag will close at 1:30 p.m., for the same destination but will contain only unregistered matter.

NEW SIDEWALK.—A new platform is being laid down on the south side of Spark Street, between O'Connor and Bank Streets. Some handsome stone blocks have been recently erected in this locality, and were it for no other reason a new platform should be given as a reward for such enterprise. The old one was in a very dilapidated condition.

OPENING OF SPARKS STREET.—The opening of the West end" of Sparks street has been under way for the last four or five years, and judging from the rate at which the work still progresses it will take as many more years before it is finished. It was a foolish undertaking at best, but now that it is under way some more speedy means should be employed to complete the work. It is to say the least of it at present in a very dangerous condition.

EXPLOSIVE ENTERMENTS.—Some boys are in the habit of frequenting the Rifle Range, and picking up the cartridges rejected by the Volunteers as being non-explosive, they then try to cause them to "go off" by means of hammering them with stones. It may be a well to warn both the youngsters and their parents that the practice is a dangerous one, and by some persistverture one of the pieces of ammunition may "go off" and take a youngsters fingers with it.

"THE EXHIBITION ANNUAL."—This new publication has received the approval of many leading gentlemen connected with the Agricultural Association, and Mr. Alex. Robertson, the publisher is in receipt of a letter from Ira Morgan, Esq., Vice President, authorizing him to issue it with the approval of the Council of the Association. It will be seen by the prospectus elsewhere printed that the President, the Hon. Messrs. Christie, Skead and others have already given it their hearty sanction. Advertisers will find it an excellent medium for communicating with the public.

EN ROUTE TO THE EXHIBITION.—The steamer Otter will run between Merrickville and this city during Exhibition week and carry passengers desirous of witnessing the great Fair. The canal basin, judging from advertisements in our exchanges, will be filled with a flotilla of boats from Western towns during next week and the following week. They will be a great assistance in supplementing the hotels with the necessary accommodation during the approaching Exhibition, which promises thus far to be the largest and most successful ever held in Ontario.

GUARDS BAND.—The usual weekly open air concert by the band of the Governor General's Foot Guards was largely attended last night. The evening was a beautiful one, and thousands of citizens filled the promenade and Parliament Square to hear the sweet strains of an excellent programme. The exetution of the "Railroad Galop was really splendid and at its close was greeted with the most vociferous applause by the immense audience present. Mr. Carter has truly put the people of the capital under a deep obligation for the pleasing entertainments which he turnishes week after week for their amusement.

HUCKSTERS ON THE MARKET.—The near approach of the Exhibition requires that every exertion shall be put forth by the Market Constable to prevent hucksters buying up supplies on the market. Considerable complaint has been made of late at the want of attention to this absolutely necessary regulation. Buyers have gone to the market repeatedly within the last few days, but only to find that hucksters had entirely depleted farmers vehicles of everything that was worth having. The By Law says that hucksters shall not purchase before noon, and it is earnestly to be hoped they will be kept strictly to its terms.

CHURCH APPOINTMENTS.—The Rev. H.M. Collisson, Ottawa, the Rev. Johnston McCormac, Toronto, Messrs. Henry Alexander and Alexander Burritt, of Ottawa, have been appointed by Bishop Cummins the Standing Committee (the Bishop's Council of Advice) for the Missionary Jurisdiction or Diocese of Ottawa, which includes the Provinces of Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba. The Committee has been organized by electing the Rev. Mr. Collisson, President, and Mr. H. Alexander, Secretary. Their first business was to examine the application and testimonials presented by Mr. William Hartley of Muskoka, for Deacon's orders. The Committee found them satisfactory, and recommended Mr. Hartley to the Bishop for ordination. Mr. Hartley was ordained on Monday evening, and was licensed by Bishop Cummins to labour as a Missionary in the District of Algoma.

WATER WORKS TERNCH.—Men have been busily employed for the last week or two in excavating a water-works trench on St. Paul Street, between Besserer and Nicholas Streets, but have met with considerable difficulty in getting through a rough piece of rock, which is likely to delay them for a good while longer. The residents of St. Paul Street, east of Besserer Street as far as Nelson Street, are wondering why the pipes should be laid on both sides of them, especially when their three blocks can be laid in days with little or no expense. have been paying taxes longer than any other portion of the Sandy Hill district, and they naturally feel aggrieved that they should be denied equal comfort in a good supply of wholesome water, by jumping from Nelson to Besserer Street. The Water Commissioners will no doubt attend to the matter forthwith

A PUBLIC PARK.—There is some talk of agitating for a public park for the use of citizens similar to the "Central Park" in New York or the "Queen's Park" Toronto. The idea is not a bad one, and a site can be obtained cheaper now than a few years hence, when property may possibly go to a value beyond the reach of the civic exchequer to purchase. Two streets leading in a southerly direction from the very heart of the city are now being put in a very thorough state of repair, and would make a capital means of transit to and from a Central Park. The ground laying between Patterson's Creek and the Provincial Exhibition, and bounded on the east and west sides by Elgin and Bank streets, has been mentioned as an eligible site, and with good judgment for there is no place surrounding Ottawa which is so well adapted for this purpose. What say the City Fathers to this proposition?

Dominion of Canada Rifle Association.

THE SECOND DAY'S MATCHES

About three o'clock yesterday morning the drizzling rain which commenced to fall seemed to be a precursor of the usual rainy weather which it has been the misfortune of the Association on several occasions of their matches to be visited with. The downpour continued with but little intermission until nearly eight o'clock, when the sun began to gleam forth from behind the dark and lowering clouds, and though its rays shed a some sort of cheering assistance to the weather clearing up, the wind rose and blew in fitful and heavy gusts from the westward, which was clean across the range. "Blank Boreas" seemed to have a particular fancy for that point of the compass for there he remained, with a persistency worthy of a better cause; all through the day, interfering considerably with the accuracy of the shooting, which was not up to the same pitch of excellence as on Tuesday. However, taking all things into consideration, some remarkably good shooting was made. The pool target was in great requisition, and was kept pretty busy the whole day, and some very fair practice was made at it. Major Bell of Brockville made four bull's eyes out of ten rounds, but Capt. Thomas of Richmond, (Quebec) in five shots scored four bull's eyes. The light throughout the hours occupied in the competitions was favorable, and fortunately for the comfort of all concerned the rain kept off, and the only interruption to the shooting was the noon day gun calling every one's attention to the fact that luncheon was ready. Most of those engaged in the matches sought their various places of abode while others sought the friendly shelter of the canteen where a most capital meal was served at a moderate price. The bracing air of the range is provocative of an appetite similar in keenness to that which is popularly supposed to belong to a hunter. At half-past twelve a number of the staff with some invited guests, including the members of the press, sat down to a luncheon given by Col. Gilmor in the large mess marquee erected on the hill above the six hundred yard-range. The viands were as on the previous day provided by Mr. M. Kava agh, and the spread was an excellent one. About fifty gentlemen sat down and among them were several from the Maritime Provinces. Col. Gilmor presided, having on his right Major Ritchie of Halifax, N.S., and on his left Major Morris of New Brunswick. Major McDonald occupied the vice chair, supported by Col Macpherson, seated near whom was the Rev. Dr. Davies of Toronto, Col Chamberlin and Major Wicksteed. Capt. J. J. Mason, of the 13th Battalion occupied a place near the chairman, the remainder of the company being composed of those actively engaged in the management of the general affairs of the competition. After the luncheon had been heartily partaken of, the chairman said he would propose a toast which he was sure all volunteers of Quebec and Ontario would be glad to honour, and they had in Ottawa that day several of the members of the volunteer force from the Maritime Provinces, and he was most heartily glad to welcome them to Ottawa. (Hear hear.) They were well known as marksmen, and all he would further say was "hear it to the riflemen from the Maritime Provinces." (Cheers.) If they (the Maritime Provinces men) did not again visit Ontario, the Ontario men could go there, and measure their skill with those gentlemen. He called upon them to do all justice to the toast.

The company rose en masse, and gave three hearty cheers for their brethren in arms, after which they were proclaimed "jolly good fellows," with a cim which spoke volumes for the strength of the lungs of those who exercised their vocal powers in making the proclamation.

Major Ritchie, on being called upon to respond to the toast, said he was glad to have the opportunity of acknowledging the manner in which the volunteers from the Maritime Provinces had been received by those of Ontario. There had been some difference with regard to the absence of the Nova Scotians from the last Wimbledon team, but he hoped that at in future things would be so arranged as to make all matters in that respect satisfactory. The object was to select the best men in the Dominion, irrespective of province or branches of the service. (Hear, hear.) He made a passing allusion to the inconvenience of travelling such long distances to attend the competitions, hence he thought if the latter were carried on in the Provinces, the results would be found satisfactory. He spoke in high terms of the Brupel target and system of marking, and stated his intention of adopting it on his return to Nova Scotia. (Hear, hear).

Major Morris on being called upon said all who were acquainted with him knew he was no speaker, so he would merely content himself with thanking them for the honor they had bestowed upon the riflemen of the Maritime Provinces in drinking their healths so heartily.

Major Ritchie asked permission to propose a toast, which was that of the "marksmen of Ontario and Quebec," and in doing so he stated that it would give him pleasure to see them in Nova Scotia, and he hoped they would take an opportunity of visiting them.

Col. Henning, of Quebec, briefly thanked the company for the compliment paid the marksmen of his Province. He had some of his men who visited the Maritime Provinces express their desire to repeat the trip. He also paid a tribute to the excellent target system and also the accurate marking.

Captain Mason, 13th Battal on, responded. After thanking them, he said with regard to the competition for admission to the Wimbledon team, the Association had endeavoured to adopt the best and fairest system, it was a good method theoretically, to have the competition take place over the same range and at the same time; but the system they found was not satisfactory practically. Their object was to send the best men they could get, irrespective of Province or any thing else, and it was thought at the last meeting, the system adopted this year was the best. It was, no doubt, a difficult matter to get men to expend their time and money in coming, perhaps, a distance of 1,200 miles to compete for admission to the team. Again he claimed that theoretically the present system was good, but it did not work well in practice. He intimated his opinion that there was a good chance of obtaining better men by having the competitors selected proprietously in the different Provinces, by the respective Provincial Associations. In speaking of the marking and target system pursued on the Rideau Range he pronounced it superior to that in use at Wimbledon, and there could not be the slightest ground for complaint on the part of any one. He was glad to meet his comrades from either the Maritime Provinces or British Columbia, which latter province he hoped to see represented again on the team. He concluded by asking permission to propose a toast, that of "the health of Col. Gilmor (loud cheers)." He paid a just tribute to his liberality and energy in promoting the interests of and encouraging Rifle Associations. (Cheers.)

Col. Gilmor thanked them for the hearty manner in which they had drank his health. He felt he was not entitled to half the praise they had bestowed upon him. He was fond of the sport of shooting, and when he came out to the field that day, he felt like taking up the rifle again, and entering into the contests. (Cheers.) He could assure them that what he had done in the cause of rifle shooting in the past he would continue to do in the future, (cheers.) He regretted the absence of Col. Gzowski the President of the Association, as he would have done the matters spoken of more justice than he could; however he again thanked them for their kind reception of his name, (applause.)

It now being thirty minutes past one o'clock, a move was made for the shooting points.

Col. Gilmour went to the pool target, and showed that his "right arm had not forgotten its cunning," forthwith made a bull's eye at 200 yards.

The following are the results of the day's firing :—

The firing for the Battalion Match has commenced and the first range 300 yards completed. Firing will commence this morning at nine o'clock.

In mentioning the names of those officers who are assisting Col. Stuart, we inadvertantly omitted to mention Capt. Walsh of the G. G. F. G. who rendered most efficient assistance.

OTTAWA COUNTY COUNCIL.

Grant to the Provincial Exhibition—The $200,000 Debentures, Addresses by the Messrs. Wright, the Matter again postponed—Equalization of the Assessment.

The regular quarterly meeting of the County Council of Ottawa was held yesterday in Mr. Archambault's office in Hull. The meetings are usually held in Recorder's Court, but as some cases of importnce were being considered by the Recorder an adjournment was impossible, consequently the Council was forced to retire very reluctantly to the office of the Secretary-Treasurer. Mr Devlin, Warden, presided, and the following councillors were also in attendance, Leduc, Cates, Lavelle, Nadeau, Kelly Biehler, Kennedy, Col bert, McKay, Charlebois, Boivino, Campbell, Moffatt and Cosgrove.

In addition to the members of the Council there were present, Alonzo Wright, M.P., W. McKay Wright, M.P., Mr Peter Aylen, Mr. Rouleau and Mr. E. W. Murray, of Buckingham.

After the confirmation of the minutes of the last regular meeting, the Council proceeded to the transaction of general business. Previous to their adoption however, a motion granting $1,000 to the Provincial Exhibition was expunged as being illegal, the meeting having been called for a special purpose.

A LEGAL GRANT.

COUNCILLOR CATES moved that the Council grant $1,000 in aid of the Ontario Provincial Exhibition to be paid forthwith, the money being withdrawn from the funds now lying in the bank for the unorganized townships.

COUNCILLOR MOFFAT seconded the motion.

COUNCILLOR COSGROVE spoke in favor of the motion and it was put and carried unanimously.

THE DEBENTURES.

The question of granting $200,000 in debentures to the Montreal, Ottawa and Western Railway was next taken up.

Councillor McKAY said they had all doubtless read in the public press of the fact that the Local Government would probably take up the question of siding the Northern Colonization R. R., and if such should be the case, he thought it would be well for the Council to reconsider their action. The members of the Council who had opposed the signing of the bonds, had done so because they were afraid the road would not be built. They might have been right in taking this action, but if the Local Government were to see that the road was carried through, all doubts on this score would be done away with. He intended moving a resolution, therefore, which in the event of the Local Government taking up the matter, would authorize the Warden to sign the bonds. They would thus do away with the legal difficulties in which they were at present engaged. He also addressed the Council in French.

The WARDEN read a despatch to the effect that a special session of the Legislature would shortly be held for the purpose of taking into consideration the railway policy of the Government.

Councillor McKAY then moved, seconded by Councillor COSGROVE, "that whereas by information received through the press of this Province, and from other sources, that the Local Government for the Province of Quebec is about to assume the finishing and building of the Montreal Western and Ottawa R. R. Company (late Montreal Northern Colonization R. R.) and taking the undertaking from the present Company; that in the event of this being the case, this Council will authorize the Warden, and he is hereby authorized, to sign the bonds due the said Montreal, Western and Ottawa R.R., upon the express condition that the debts due by the said company and its employees and contractors, as also the right of way, etc., be paid out of the sale of said bonds, and that the Warden in office for the time being be authorized to see to the matter and get the Government bound to that effect, and that the Warden be, and he is hereby authorized, in view of the new arrangement, to stay proceedings in the suits now pending between this Council and the said railway, and that thereafter no further action be taken in the matter."

Councillors Kelly and Cates opposed the motion, and Councillor Campbell spoke very strongly in favour of it.

ALONZO WRIGHT, M.P., being called upon, thanked the Council for their action in regard to the Provincial Exhibition, and stated that he himself had received no private information as to the matter spoken of in the newspapers. He believed that the Government would stand or fall on this question of railway interests, and he believed they would be sustained. He felt it to be the darkest cloud that ever rested over the county when the interests of the Northern Colonization Railroad were imperilled, and there was a prospect of the road being dropped. Now that there were a ray of light, and there was a probability that the Government would take hold of the railway and see to its completion, he thought their hands should be strengthened by the knowledge that the county of Ottawa would not be remiss in their duty.

McKAY WRIGHT, M. P., next addressed the Council. He stated that a special meeting of the Legislature had been called for the purpose of taking into consideration the railway question. This Government took a great interest in such matters, and imperilled their political existence by the course taken by them. It would be a great argument against its action if it was known that the County of Ottawa, one of the parties most largely interested, should refuse to pay their bonds. He thought they should do away with all sectional feeling in the matter, and consider the railway question as a national undertaking. Unless it was a circular railway it could not pass through all sections of the country. He himself would oppose the railroad if it were to cross at the Chaudiere, and play into the hands of the Canada Central. If this were done, it would in reality be of no benefit. He did not believe for a moment, however, that this would be done. He called upon there presentatives of the County of Ottawa to drop all sectional feelings, and to give the country at large to understand that they were perfectly willing to stand by their guns. He believed that the company at present in charge was in reality dead, and that the Government would take hold of the matter and carry it through. He censured the Council for the action they had previously taken in the matter. The Company had difficulties enough to contend with without their taking the action they did, and he asked them if they did not have some share in the creation of their difficulties. The county had now a chance to retrieve its honour, and he hoped they would take advantage of it. The county was sadly in need of railway communication, and he hoped the motion would carry.

Councillor CATES thought the last speaker could be accused more righteously of sectional feeling than he, as he would oppose the granting of the bonus if the road did not pass through the County of Pontiac.

Councillor KENNEDY then moved that the matter be left over until the next meeting of the Council, until it was seen what action the Quebec Legislature would take on the subject.

Councillor LEDUC, in French, argued that if the $200,000 was granted, and the matter taken hold of by the Government, they would a second time, as a part of the body politic, have to pay their portion towards the expense of the undertaking.

Mr. MCKAY WRIGHT, M. P., asked Councillor McKay to cut out that portion of the resolution in reference to the payment of the liabilities of the company, as if the Government took control of the road they would be obliged to meet all the liabilities.

Councillor McKAY declined to omit that part of his resolution.

After some further discussion the amendment was put, and resulted in a vote of 8 to 7 in its favour.

Yeas—Councillors Leduc, Cates, Lavelle, Nadeau, Kelly, Beihler, Kennedy and Colbert—8.

Nays—Councillors McKay, Charlebois, Boivin, Joubert, Campbell, Moffatt and Cosgrove—7.

Councillor McKAY called upon the Warden to vote, but he declined, and the amendment was therefore declared carried.

The Council then adjourned till 2 o'clock p. m.

In the afternoon the time of the Council was almost entirely devoted to an equalization of the assessment rolls of the County

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 7.

Eugene St. Jean was arraigned for the larceny of a hat. He was sent to gaol for one week at hard labour.

Alexander Stewart, charged with being drunk, was mulcted in $3 and costs, or in default go to gaol for a week.

John Kane, charged with being drunk, was allowed to go with a caution, it being his first offence.

Michael Galissi was relieved of $2 and costs for being found drunk.

Thomas Condell, charged with assaulting Wm Greggson, was again remanded, owing to the inability of the latter to appear.

ONTARIO NORMAL SCHOOLS,

Remedies.

Borthwick Springs.

A limited number of boarders can be accommodated at the Borthwick Springs. Invalids wishing to avail themselves of the benefits to be derived from the use of the best Mineral Water on the continent, and parties wishing to spend a few weeks in the country should visit these Springs.

Comfortable quarters at moderate charges, united with all necessary requirements for

SHOWER AND OTHER BATHS.

Pure country air and freedom from excitement give the patient the benefit of hygienic results impossible to be outdoned elsewhere. The attention of the reader is particularly directed to the fact that this Mineral water loses none of its virtues by keeping or transportation, and that where freely taken by those in good health, health continues. By invalids who cannot visit the Springs the water can be as well used in their own houses, whilst its low cost places it within the reach of all.

Delivered to all parts of the city in 3 gallon jars, at 10 cts. per gallon; to 30 gallon barrels at $2 50 each, barrels extra. For conveyance to the Springs and other information, apply to Joyful Tidings to Thousands.

The Elysium of the Invalid is again open.

SULPHUR, SALINE and GAS.

The REJUVENATING WATERS so much sought for in years long past.

Invalids! Attention!

Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Digestive Organs, Dropsy, Diseases of the Skin, Affections of the Liver and Urinary Organs are positively cured by using the water for a few weeks.

Rheumatics! Read!

Hundreds of Rheumatics have been cured by the Sulphur Baths. Suffering is alleviated by the first, and cripples throw away their crutches after about half-a-dozen baths.

TESTIMONIALS.

"Montreal, 28th July, 1875.

"I hereby certify that I entertain a very favorable opinion of the baths and Waters of the Caledonia Springs in many forms of disease, among which I would especially mention chronic Rheumatism, the sequelae of Gout, Neuralgia, some of the varieties of Cutaneous disease, Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, and in carefully selected cases, some of the diseases of the Kidney and Bladder.

(Signed) GEO. W. CAMPBELL, A.M., M.D. Dean of the Medical Faculty, McGill College.

Dr. Wm. Robertson, of Montreal, wrote as follows, in 1839:—"But the disease above all in which the action of the water is most decided is Rheumatism. * * * I have known a few individuals who suffered much from improper use of mercury who were restored to health by the use of the waters.

ACCOMMODATIONS.

A magnificent new hotel, capable of accommodating 300 guests, will be opened on June 1st for the accommodation of visitors. The grounds have been improved and beautified, and every means for amusement and exercise provided. The trip thither by the Ottawa River is most enjoyable, and a railroad from the river to the Springs is in course of construction. Until the railroad is built, comfortable carriages will be in waiting at the wharf for the conveyance of visitors to the Springs. The distance of the Springs from Montreal and Ottawa respectively is 65 and 50 miles.

Mr. W. CHAMPNESS will open a good Livery Stable, providing good carriages, horses, saddles, &c. There is a good race-course on the property of the Company.

The PANACEAN WATERS of these Springs will yet make Caladonia the greatest resort in the world for health and pleasure seekers. Thousands of testimonials might be procured, but the reputation of the Springs renders it unnecessary to do so.

Meetings of the Foreign Consuls.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—A special despatch from Vienna to the Daily News states that the Servian Pasha presides over the meetings of the foreign consu's at Mostar. Hitherto the discussions have related to the reform of taxation; unequal and oppressive taxes being considered the chief cause of the rebellions. The Turkish government permits the publication of none but official despatches in regard to the proceedings.

Appointed Commander.

Admiral Roze has been appointed commander of the French Mediterranean Squadron in the place of Admiral De LaRanciere le Nauty. This action was taken, probably, on account of the latter's pronounced Bonapartist tendencies, he having written a letter which was read at the Bonapartist banquet at Evreux on Sunday.

The Bonaparte Admiral and his Opinion.

A Bonapartist banquet was held at Evraux on Sunday last, at which a letter was read from Admiral Baron De La Ronciere Le Noury, Commander of the French Mediterranean squadron. This letter was afterwards published in the Courier de L'Eure, and has created great excitement and violent comment among all supporters of the Constitution. The Admiral dates his letter from on board the Magenta, September 2nd, and expresses his regret at his inability to be present at the banquet; he says his constant desire is to associate himself with every manifestation looking to the union of the Conservative party. He says "he is a Conservative in my eyes, whatever faction to which he may belong, who repudiates the doctrine of the Revolutionists of the fourth of September, and of their Secretaries." This passage and the following are bitterly attacked by the Republican and Orleanist journals: "I shall not cease to be a devoted servant of the Government of Marshal McMahon so long as he shall not be borne outside of the Conservative paths in which, to-day, he is concentrating his most ardent efforts, but I assert that when the moment comes France should become free to choose, and thus once more take her place among European hierarchy, which is denied her by her present form of Government. the Conservative element will have my support. Yesterday, when he first learned of the publication of this letter, Marshal MacMahon called a council of Ministers to take cognizance of the matter, and the Minister of Marine, who was absent from Paris, was summoned to return to participate in the council. The Journal Officiale of this morning publishes a decree appointing Admiral Roze Commander of the Mediterranean Squadron, vice Ronciere le Noury, without comment.

Fatal Railroad Accident — A Bridge Washed Away—Sad Tragedies.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Three accidents occured on the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad last night, resulting fatally in each case. The Lawrence bridge was washed away, and the express passenger train leaving Chicago at 9:45 p. m. jumped the track, and the engine, with baggage, express and 2nd class cars were precipitated down an embankment. The baggage master, news boy, engineer and one passenger were killed, and four passengers were seriously injured. The same storm washed out a culvert near Harvard, Ill. causing an accident to a freight train, by which the fireman was killed. Another culvert was washed out two miles from Napier, and a freight train ran into a gap, killing the engineer and fireman. No names have been ascertained.

The Democratic Convention.

A despatch from Erie, Pa., says the committee on resolution at the Democratic Convention by one majority adopted the Ohio platform with a modification of the first resolution which paper money men say will emasculate the whole thing. The clause in the favour of the volume of currency being made equal to the wants of trade is stricken out, and in place of it a declaration is inserted in favour of the principle that gold and silver or redeemable paper are only sound currency. A phrase opposing either the contraction or inflation of the present currency is also added. Inflationist threaten a fight in the Convention.

In the evening there is to be a banquet at the Opera House, to which Governor Tilden and the leading officers of the State National Guards have been invited. After the banquet a reception will be given to the team at the Morgan House.

WASHINGTON.

Directed to Aid.

WASHINGTON, September 9.—President Grant has directed Adjutant General Townsend to instruct the officer commanding troops in Mississippi to give Governor Ames such aid as may be necessary to maintain order and protect life in that State, if the insurrection is too formidable to be suppressed with the means at the Governor's command.

PHILADELPHIA

The Charley Ross Trial.

PHILADELPHIA, September 9.—In the Westervelt trial yesterday Lucretia Spears, a Brooklyn lady, identified Westervelt as the man whom she had seen on a street corner in Brooklyn on July 6, 1874, having with him a child corresponding in age and appearance to the missing Charley Ross. The child was much distressed, and Westervelt was at some trouble to keep him quiet. When she was shown the photograph of Charley Ross she said it bore a striking likeness to the child she saw in Westervelt's charge.

BATAVIA.

Shot by a Tramp.

BATAVIA, Sept. 9.—A tramp was yesterday refused food by a hired girl who was alone in a farm house. Getting near her he shot her with a revolver through the shoulder, and attempted to shoot again but missed. The Sheriff and posse are after the tramp.

BALTIMORE.

Suspense.

BALTIMORE, Sept 9.—W. A. Cumming & Company, flour and grain dealers, suspended yesterday. Their liabilities are generally believed not exceed $50,000. The embarrassment of the firm is said to be owing to speculations in coin.

SHELBURNE FALLS.

Beaten to Death.

SHELBURNE FALLS, Mass., Sept. 9.—Riley Farmsworth, a veteran soldier, was set upon near his home yesterday and beaten to death with hickory clubs, by a gang of ruffians, whose object was to obtain the pension money which Farmsworth was supposed to have just drawn.

RED CLOUD AGENCY.

Seeking a Council With the Indians.

RED CLOUD AGENCY, Sept. 9.—Major Bingham, of the Cheynne Agency; Major Burke, of the Standing Rock Agency, and Major Howard, of the Spotted Tail Agency, yesterday endeavoured to bring the Indians encamped there to this agency to hold a council here. Red Dog came in to-day and had an informal interview with the Commissioners. He favours the sale of the Black Hills, and will have more influence with his people than Red Cloud.

Elected Treasurer.

Students of the State University have elected D. Onill: Treasurer, vice Rolston. The finance committee of the board has reported that the University will lose nothing by the failure of the Bank of California, being protected by the late treasurer's bond for $1,500,000.

Indian Troubles.

Despatches from the seat of the Indian outbreak in Nevada indicate that the trouble is probably exaggerated, but troops are being forwarded to the spot.

Meeting at Union Hall.

The meeting last night at Union Hall was largely attended, the Hall being filled and the crowd filling the street to listen to the open air addresses, which were devoted mainly to attacks on the Bulletin and Call for their course during the recent campaign, and since the failure of the Bank of California and the death of Ralston. Resolutions were adopted condemning their attacks upon Ralston, and calling upon the people to withdraw their support from them. Resolutions were read censuring the Associated Press for telegraphing so called false reports. The meeting was quiet and orderly, although some of the speeches were of rather an inflammatory order. It was evident that many of the audience were present merely as spectators, and that the vote by which the resolutions were adopted did not represent by any means the sentiments of the whole assemblage.

Milligan pleads Guilty—Bengough—New Evening Paper—Silks Stolen—Archbishop Lynch on the Guibord Case—A Horrible Accident—Police Court Cases—The Lieutenant Governor's Levee—A Barbarous and Revolting Crime—Burglary—Bigamy.

TORONTO, Sept. 9—At the police court this morning Archibald Milligan pleaded guilty of appropriating that $5,000 and was remanded till the 11th inst.

Mr. J. W. Bengough, the cartoonist, starts on his fall lecturing tour next week.

Mr. J. Ross Robertson having severed his connection with the Globe contemplates starting a new evening paper shortly.

Early this morning the dry goods store of J. W. Gale, on Yonge street was entered and silks to the amount of $1,300 stolen. It will be remembered that about Christmas last year this store had goods to the amount of $2,000 stolen.

Archbishop Lynch writes a letter to the papers here apropos of the Guibord case. He defends the excommunicating of the Canadian Institute and the action of the Catholic authorities in refusing the remains church burial. He asks would Protestants in the event of their being a Fenian organization here under the ban of the church, and one of their numbers dying, attack the decision of the Church in not affording the body Christian rites.

A man named Knight, employed in Beard's fonudry, jumped on a passing Great Western train, for the purpose of riding to the Union Depot, and on arriding at the station he jumped off, but a Grand Trunk locomotive coming up at the time, before he was able to get off the track, he was knocked down, the engine passing over his chest and legs, and crushing him in a most horrible manner. He was picked up quite dead.

Dr. W. S. Clark, charged with illegally practising medicine, was fined at the Police Court to-day $25 and costs.

The case of Kerr and Wilson was again before the Police Magistrate to day. Nothing was elicited, and at the close of the examination His Worship said he would reserve his decision till Tuesday next.

The levee of the Lieutenant Governor this evening was attended by over three hundred, and among the list of names will be found all the elite of the city, and many from a distance.

A crime more barbarous and revolting than anything which has ever disgraced the annals of this city occurred to-day. At 10 o'clock a.m. two men went to Akroyd's boat house and hired a boat, they rowed to the end of the wharf and there took a man and woman in and then started in the direction of the Island. Shortly afterwards four other men hired another boat and made after them. Akroyd watched the two boats with a powerful telescope, from the sail loft in his boat house. The two parties, seven men and one woman, landed at an isolated spot of the Island in the western channel. One of the men went to a saloon not far off and procured a jug of whiskey, and they all sat down for a while. After a bit they succeeded in making the woman drunk, and then all the men outraged her repeatedly, after which they stripped her naked, and a man stripped and pulled her into the water, where a desperate struggle ensued. They eventually pulled the woman out. About 3 p.m. the men returned to the city, and the three who went in the first boat landed at the Church street wharf. Akroyd told the police what he had seen, and they were arrested after a hard chase. The men in the second boat escaped, being warned by some sailors on a schooner that the police were after them. Detectives went to the island to fetch the woman. They found her in a perfect stupor from whiskey and abuse, just where the fiends left her. She was half naked, and her clothes were saturated with blood. She was brought to shore, and it is extremely doubtful whether she can recover, and if she does, whether she will preserve her reason. The men arrested are J. Leahey, John Griffin and Charles Curley. They are the lowest of the low. The woman is a washerwoman, about 30 years of age, of respectable appearance, and is not known at all to the police. The woman's name is Rachel Rashleigh.

James Burns and James Clark were arrested to-day for breaking into a house which was locked up, the inmates being from home. They had packed up a quantity of plate and other valuables for removal and intended to make a clean sweep. They made the entrance in broad daylight.

John Harper, having a wife and two children in Goderich, was arrested to-day charged with bigamy. He came to this city four months ago and worked as a carpenter. On the 21st of June he married again. He was arrested at the instance of the first wife.

MONTREAL.

The Guibord Case—Reactionary Feeling—The Bishop's letter has a good effect—The Protestant Cemetery Guard to be Increased—The "Sun" attacks Col. Bond—Hon Mr. Geoffrion—Indelicacy of the "Minerve"—Jacques Cartier Bank—The Landswap Case—Bradstreet's Commercial Agency—The Donegana Hotel Seized—Financial Affairs—Stock Market.

MONTREAL, Sept. 9.—In the Guibord case there is a strong reactionary feeling among many Catholics that the deceased's remains should be allowed peaceable burial in the Cemetery and that as soon as possible. The Bishop's letter has had a good effect.

The force of armed men at the Protestant Cemetery is to be increased to-night by many volunteers, who feel from some oft repeated rumours going the rounds that designs on the vault are still meditated. One report is that 800 men, among them several Irish Catholics, have banded together to make an attack one night this week.

A representative of the New York Herald is here awaiting developments.

Mr. Doutre says he is unable to say when orders will be given for a military force to be held in readiness. The authorities will act however as soon as the public peace is threatened. The "Sun" attacks Col. Bond, of the Prince of Wales Regiment, for a speech he made to his men asking them to follow him if duty to their Queen compelled them to go forth.

Drs. Paquett, Painchaud and Rottott held a consultation, yesterday evening, in reference to the sickness of the Hon. Mr. Geoffrion, and all agreed that his situation is most critical.

The Minerve, this morning, had the indelicacy to speculate on Mr. Geoffrion's death and to name his successor.

Wm. McNaughton has discontinued his proceedings against the Directors of the Jacques Cartier Bank. They were never arrested, though the necessary papers were being prepared. It is not known what action the other shareholders may take

In the Land Swap case several witnesses were examined to-day relative to the statements made by Middlemiss relating to the Tanneries job. Paducat, a lawyer, testified that Middlemiss told him they had made $100,000 by the transaction, and before Parliament opened there would be an investigation, after which the Government could not stand a day. Middlemiss also mentioned he was Secretary of the Reform Association. Middlemiss had characterized the Tanneries affair to witness as a job.

A. M. Joly, a rich wholesale grocer, is suing Bradstreet's Commercial Agency for $20,000 damages.

The furniture and effects in the Donegana Hotel are under seizure for debts due traders in the city. The liabilities will amount to over $10,000.

No improvement to note in financial affairs; business continues dull, and the banks are only advancing to regular customers. No change in rates. Sterling exchange quiet, at about 109¼ for round amount of 60 days bank bills, but there has been business done at a fraction less. The stock market is dull and weak. Sales—Exchange 95, closing at 94½ to 98; Montreal 188¼, closing at 188¼ to 188½; Telegraph 154, closing at 152½ to 153½; Commerce 124 to 125¼.

CALEDONIA SPRINGS.

Second Day's Races.

Special Telegram from Our Correspondent.]

CALEDONIA SPRINGS, Sept. 9.—The weather has been all day as fine as could be desired, and the attendance was, if anything, larger than on the first day. Much interest was centered in the county steeplechase, from the fact of the horses and owners being so well known to the local people. The horses were not A1, but afforded, nevertheless, good sport. There were three starters, Kenley's Mary Ann, Labelle's Kitty, and Rocho 's Rosey. Mary Ann first, Kitty second. Much merriment was caused by the manner in which the water jumps were taken. As a rule, the horses either fell into or shied at the water, or waded through. For the Dominion Steeplechase six started, Count Kilrush being withdrawn. It was the principal event of the day, but through a series of accidents resulted in the defeat of all the favourites. Jack the Barber, Jack on the Green, and Shira were each in turn first favourite, and sold alternately in the pools at from $10 to $15 against the field. Shira led, closely followed by the two Jacks, all of whom took the jumps in capital style, and she kept the lead for the first round. At the second water jump Jack the Barber stumbled, throwing his rider, who was unable to regain himself, when Jack on the Green came up. Subsequently all of the horses fell at the water jump, except Young Wagram, whose capital jumping carried him through. Young Wagram first, King Tom second. Williams' collar bone is fractured in two places; none of the others are very seriously injured. The purse for the county race is—first $50, second $10.

OGDENSBURG.

Forest Fire—Farmers Deserting their Dwellings—Fields of Grain Destroyed.

OGDENSBURG, September 9.—Forest fires are raving furiously about one mile east of Massena. The fires started this morning, and now cover a tract a mile wide and five miles long. The wind is blowing a gale from the south, and farmers are deserting their dwellings. Large tracts of timber are being swept down, and the fire runs through swamps and fields of standing grain with incredible rapidity. The season has been unusually dry, and no rain has fallen during the past six weeks. The water in the streams is very low, and the wells are dried up.

The Clarendon cheese factory, in the village of Shawville was completely destroyed by fire on Thursday of last week. The present was only the second year of the factory being in operation.

The farmers are busy at present securing the bountiful harvest that is to be seen at present in all parts of the country. The potato crop in this section is one of the largest, if not the largest, that has ever been bestowed upon us.

A few days since, a panel from a partly broken door fell on a child, about thirteen months, a daughter of Mr. Duncan Campbell, of Admaston. A nail in the panel struck the child on the head, penetrating to the brain. Dr. Ferguson, who has been called in, says there are hopes of saving the little sufferer's life.

Two or three weeks ago as a young man named Box, from White Lake, was out gunning the charge exploded, bursting the gun, which instead of flying into fragments, curled up into three strips, like ribbons. From this style of explosion, the sportsman escaped with little injury, one hand only sustaining a trifling wound.

CATHOLIC PIC-NIC.—A mammoth Catholic pic-nic in connection with the Kitley Church will be held at the Mill Pond Grove, near Toledo, on Thursday, Sept. 16. Addresses will be delivered by several prominent men, including Daniel J. O'Donoghue, M.P.P. for the city of Ottawa. A good time is anticipated.—Brockville Recorder.

SPRINGFIELD.

Safe Robbed.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 9.—The safe in the ticket office at the depot, in this city, was robbed last night of $4,000, of which $1,000 was the personal property of John C. McIntosh, the Ticket Agent. The remainder was railway money.

The Times.

OTTAWA, FRIDAY, SEPT. 10, 1875.

Sir A. T. Galt left town yesterday afternoon for Montreal.

Mr. John O'Donohoe, of Toronto, is in town, and staying at O'Meara's Hotel.

A special telegram states that the Hon. Mr. Geoffroin was a little better yesterday, but was not considered to be out of danger.

Mr. Thomas Murray has commenced work on the Canada Central Extension at Pembroke.

Mr. Æ. Irving, M.P. for Hamilton, arrived in the city yesterday, and is the guest of Mr. R. D. O'Brien, of the Receiver General's Department.

Lieut. Governor Macdonald of the Province of Ontario held his first levee yesterday. The affair was a grand success, and was attended by most of the elite of Toronto.

The officers of the "Governor General's Foot Guards" entertain the Premier, the Minister of Militia, and many of the distinguished military strangers now in town, at dinner at the Rideau Club this evening.

It is arranged that the marriage of Miss Margaret Macdonald, eldest daughter of the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, with Dr. Hingston, Mayor of Montreal, will be celebrated at Toronto by Archbishop Lynch, on the 16th instant. The ceremony will be private, and only a few relations and personal friends will receive invitations to the Government House on the occasion.

Dr. Ryerson, Chief Superintendent of Education for Ontario, arrived in this city yesterday, and is stopping at the Russell House. He is making all necessary arrangements for the opening of the new Normal School, on the 15th inst. The Rev. Dr. Davies, Principal of the Toronto Normal School, is also in the city and is associated with the Chief in making the preparatory arrangements for the opening.

POLICE PROTECTION.

We have frequently called attention ere this time to the necessity which exists for some improvement in the means afforded for the protection of life and property in this city. At the risk of being put down as alarmists, it has frequently been pointed out in this journal how inefficient are the existing arrangements, and that crimes of the worst character might be committed upon the persons of citizens without the slightest probability of the police being able to assist them in any way, or even to bring the offenders to justice. How these predictions have been fulfilled within the last few weeks it is quite unnecessary to say, and it is only due to the peaceable disposition of our own people, and to the absence of criminals, except of the imported kind, that similar experiences have not been much more frequent. If anything were wanted to convince the authorities that some measure of reform—and that no half-hearted one—is actually necessary, it is the unanimity with which the press of this city demand it. True some of our contemporaries are of opinion, like ourselves, that a much better disposition could be made of the materials now composing the force, while another insists that an increase of strength is what is wanted. There is probably some truth in both theories, but the fact that such theories are propounded by all the organs of public opinion in the city is very strong presumptive evidence of the existence of a radical weakness. It cannot be said that we do not pay for protection, and if it is necessary to increase the force permanently, by all means let it be done. It is to be hoped that no precaution will be neglected for the public requirements during the forthcoming Provincial Exhibition. There will be need for a strong and vigilant staff during that period, and it is comforting to know that those upon whom the duty devolves of preparing for the exigency understand what is hoped and expected of them.

It may be added that the idea of keeping men on duty from 7 o'clock in the morning until midnight, making seventeen hours per diem, which we believe is the regular spell, is perfectly ridiculous. The half of that is all that any ordinary mortal is able to accomplish—certainly ten hours is all that any man should be asked to do. It would not be surprising if the men were incompetent for the work expected of them under such circumstances.

A MONUMENT TO A DEFAULTING BANKRUPT.

There are a great many trite phrases that have passed into current adages regarding the treatment meted out to those who, having been once rich and courted and powerful, become bankrupt. They all tend in the same direction—all teach the same lesson—all warn those who are worshipped because they are wealthy that, stripped of their golden tinsel, they would be despised and rejected by the very men who were accustomed to fawn upon them, indeed, by these more than many others. Actual experience tells how real and how terrible is the truth of these adages. Within the last few weeks the whole commercial world has been excited by the news of an extraordinary bank failure in San Francisco, each new developement making it more clear than before that the public had been swindled and cheated to a very uncommon degree. The President of the Bank, a Mr. Ralston, of whom better things had been expected, took guilt to himself by committing suicide, and it has since been proved that his defalcations amounted to some four or five millions of dollars. There was a universal burst of indignation over the discovery of this villainy, which rang from one end of the United States to the other, and was echoed back by the sentiment of every community of every other country where the news was told. And now for the counter-blast, which while it fulfils to the letter another set of popular predictions, as to how thoroughly all a man's evil deeds are forgotten when he dies, and how greatly his better qualifications are magnified, yet says but little for the morality of society in San Francisco, and especially little for its religion. When the whole continent was ringing with execrations of the heartless swindle of which Ralston had been proved guilty, the friends of the dead man were initiating on the very spot where his crimes were committed an agitation of a very different kind, but one which has evidently a good deal of vitality, and commands a good deal of public sympathy. On Wednesday last a meeting was held in Union Hall, San Francisco, attended by a great mass of the citizens, at which addresses extolling the deceased defaulter were delivered, and important resolutions passed. The undisguised object of this meeting is, if possible, to secure the withdrawal of public patronage from the Bulletin and the Call, two newspapers, which have been most unsparing in their criticisms of the rascally transaction and its perpetrator. Those present were asked to pledge themselves to this course, and the report has it that the resolution was carried. That this system of coercion will have any other effect than the exact opposite of what is intended, cannot for a moment be doubted. Both newspapers will benefit by the threatened persecution, and indeed their conduct under the circumstances is about the only encouraging sign given by the City of San Francisco throughout the whole of the sad affair. The Associated Press, whose telegrams have been the source from which people in the east have derived their information regarding the matter, is also included in the condemnation. The meeting at which this important business was transacted was to have been opened by prayer, and we are told that on Sunday last the Rev. Dr. Stone actually spoke so highly of the swindler, that the congregation burst out with applause. This says little for both preacher and audience. But Ralston's friends have gone further, and propose to gather in the way of small subscriptions sufficient to raise a monument to his memory. It is said they are likely to be successful both in the object and in the peculiar manner in which they intend to accomplish it. Whether these subscriptions are bona fide may well be doubted, but they are pouring in liberally from all sides. This style of commemorating the work of Ralston is plainly unnecessary. His death brought ruin to enough households to ensure the perpetuation of his memory without the aid of a monument. Here, however, we have another illustration of how much a certain section of the people of the United States are prepared to admire a successful man, even if his success be in crime. If Ralston had committed the vulgar offence of stealing five dollars from his employer's till, if he had even been content with the theft of a few thousands, and had not added to these the far greater crime of taking away his own life, the penitentiary would have been considered only too good for him. But four or five millions was a really respectable sum, and no man who could swindle such a magnificent amount and move in "good society" could be permitted to have his memory relegated to forgetfulness without some adequate signification of the estimation in which his genius and peculiar talents were held. This must some day come to an end. The cry of the widow and the fatherless, whose mite has gone with other people's stupendous fortunes, will call to heaven for vengeance, and when the great day of reckoning comes, assuredly the wrecked households and blasted lives of thousands will rise up in judgment against this same Ralston. We have heard of fetters for such a criminal—never before of a monument.

IMPROVEMENT OF KING STREET.

To the Editor of the TIMES:

DEAR SIR,—In reading over your report of the last meeting of the City Council I was pleased to observe that steps have at last been taken to improve King Street. Now that the trench is being covered in, it struck me as a good idea that if a platform were run down the centre of this wide street that a good wood market might be established thereon. Vehicles could back on either side of a twelve foot sidewalk as far as York Street, and public convenience generally would be consulted. It would at the same time greatly relieve the other market by keeping teams off York Street.

Caledonia Springs Steeplechases.

FIRST DAY'S EVENTS.

Ottawa and Montreal Hunt Clubs.

[From Our Own Correspondent.]

CALEDONIA SPRINGS, Sept. 8, 1875.—The three days' steeplechases commenced here to-day. Just sufficient rain fell last night to allay the dust; and the sky this morning looked a little overcast. It is difficult to say whether fine weather will prevail throughout the day, as the wind is from the southeast. But should it keep fine, the two events on the programme will, doubtless, be decided under the most favourable circumstances. Although for the past week the weather has been as beautiful as could be wished for, there has been a very noticeable diminution in the number of visitors. The bustle and excitement which continued without abatement during the burning heat of summer, subsided about the first of this month. To such an extent have the ladies "thinned out" that they are hardly here in sufficient numbers to give the necessary touch of grace to life at the hotel, much less to impart tone and interest to the amusements. Why the season should close at this particular time, when the weather is more agreeable than at any other period of the year, when air and out-door amusements are more pleasurable and invigorating, and when the waters can be used with more beneficial effect, it is not easy to understand. True, the younger girls must be taken back to school. But even this can be accomplished without hurrying the elder ones back to the city, to waste in pent up atmospheres the month that might be so usefully employed in laying in a store of health and vigor for the trying winter. Gentlemen there are here still in goodly numbers—some of them fine looking fellows from Montreal and Ottawa—watching the pools (mind you, not betting), sauntering over the course, or assembled in little groups in and around the hotel, discussing the merits of the various favorites, with whose performances they appear to be mostly well acquainted. Not a few are present in the ball alley, while others are playing billiards, or reading or smoking on the balcony, and around the grounds, for want of better entertainment. Nor is the military element wanting. The 18th Battalion, under Lieutenant Colonel Urquhart, consisting of 16 officers and about 230 men, is encamped in an adjoining field. Both officers and soldiers are as a rule muscular, strong-limbed men, in physique strikingly at variance with the sickly, debilitated creatures from whom regiments are largely recruited in towns and cities of Great Britain. But amongst the fine looking civilians, and the gallant soldiers in the neatest of jackets, boots and spurs, there is an air of general depression, not attributable to financial stringency, for they have apparently lots of money, but to the fact that there is but little female beauty around to admire and to pay homage to. Amusements are not wanting, and every comfort and convenience is carefully provided for under the special supervision of Mr. Gouin. But the amusements are robbed of their zest, the comforts of their flavour and the races of half their attraction through the absence of the girls. True there are a few here highly esteemed for talent, amiability, and good looks, but they are very few when compared to the gentlemen.

A large number of guests were expected to arrive by the "Peerless" yesterday, and every preparation had been made for their reception, but beyond a few ladies, half a dozen gentlemen, a person said to be the fattest of her sex, who has been for some time past on exhibition in the neighborhood of Rideau street, and a weird looking little female who formed an important item of the same exhibition. No one landed at L'Original. The arrivals by the night boat were, however, more numerous. In speaking of the latter boat, it may not be here out of place to mention that the polite and courteous captain, with whose name the pleasures of travel on the Queen have been so inseparably bound for the last two seasons, is no longer in command of her. The news will, doubtless, be received with unfeigned regret by such as have had occasion to travel by the Ottawa River line. Amongst these, Captain Macdonnell's many virtures, as a ship's officer and a gentleman, will long be remembered. To day large crowds are expected to pour in from the surrounding country, and the steamers from Ottawa and Grenville will no doubt bring considerable numbers. The race course extends in a circle round the hotel and is a little over two and a quarter miles in length. A large force of men were yesterday employed in preparing it under the superintendence of Mr W. H. Aumond. And to day from early morn the horses have been out exercising over it. The result of the races, I sent you by telegraph.

Second Day—The Winners

CALEDONIA SPRINGS, September 9, 1875.—Shortly after the despatch of your report yesterday morning vehicles of every description began to pour in laden with the people of the surrounding districts. The rain of the previous night and of the morning had cooled the atmosphere and made travel by road as pleasant as it could well be. At almost mid-day not only had every available yard and shed its full complement of horses and waggons, but the latter extended along the fence on either side of the road almost as far as the eye could reach, and a gentleman well accustomed to crowds, and whose opinion is entitled to every credit, assured your reporter that there could not have been fewer than 5,000 persons present. Amongst the arrivals were a number of families from Montreal, Ottawa, L'Original, Hawkesbury, and other places. For some of these seats have been specially reserved in the cupola, whence a complete view can be had of the entire course. With them have arrived a number of ladies evidently with the double intention of seeing the races and enjoying a galop themselves in the evening. And last night the parlor, whose occupants on the previous evening might be counted on your finger ends, presented a scene of beauty and animation when these ladies assembled for the dance. In truth there was quite a mass of cut off coats, and frogged jackets, silks and laces, grenadines, frills and flounces; and dancing was spiritedly kept up till a late hour. There were also present at the races quite a large number of young ladies from the country, wearing hats a la watteau, and armed with umbrellas of a tall and bulbous pattern. So much material had, indeed, evidently been spent in the manufacture of these articles, that were each young lady to come spiritedly forward and make a present of her "gingham" to Mr. Gouin, there would doubtless be found stuff in sufficient quantity to cover in the course. Thus, so far at least as the weather is concerned, might the heats be run during the remainder of the meeting with the most perfect indifference. The weather was anything but reassuring during the morning. Towards nine o'clock the sky became overcast with massive black clouds, and rain accompanied by thunder and lightning, descended in torrents. For a time the most dismal forebodings were indulged in, but eventually the clouds began to disappear, the sun forced his way out, and things once more assumed that bright and cheerful aspect which did not forsake them again during the day. Of the races themselves there is but one opinion prevalent that the performances of riders and horses in both events were eminently satisfactory. The farmers were especially delighted at the display of horsemanship, and gave vent to their feelings in loud cheering; and lovers of the sport declared the two races to be the prettiest, most gamely, and most honourably contested they had ever witnessed. The principal attraction in the Montreal Hunt Steeplechase was the closeness maintained by the two horses Shira and Jack the Barber. No exertion was required to see at any point on which side the advantage lay, and at the jumps both went over at a bound exactly together. Jack seemed, however, to be gaining on the home stretch, when his old complaint, the sulks, broke out much to the disgust of his jockey, who endeavoured, without avail, to bring him on. For the Ottawa Hunt Steeplechase there were four entries, and Austrine was largely backed to win. Jack on the Green, it was generally said, would contest the first place with pretty equal chances of success, and after the start he took the lead, which he maintained until the fall at the water jump. The praises of Esmonde's riding are both wide and loud, and his prospects of winning a place were certainly pretty well assured, had not the accident in question intervened. The course was kept clear by a detachment of the 18th Battalion Dr. Coleman acted as starter, and Captain McCaffrey officiated at the scales. Altogether the stewards may fairly be congratulated on the eminent success which has attended the meeting. Doubtless the races next year will not be excelled by any in Canada. People now a-days seem to have settled down to the conviction that a watering place is incomplete without a good run about this time and a few lively jumps over the gates and ditches. In Europe the custom is time-honored; and were Bath, Cheltenham, or Epsom, Trouville, Nice or Dieppe to omit their annual display of equestrianism, cottagers and hotel guests would speedily thin out.

Steeplechasing was first introduced into the United States, from Canada, in the year 1841, but in the first race one of the jockeys was so severely injured that the sport was made illegal by an act of the New Jersey Legislature. This Act was repealed in the year 1854, on the formation of the Patterson course. So far has it since found favor amongst the people that there is hardly to be found a paper which does not now speak of it as the "national sport." Were the Fall Meeting, say at Monmouth, Atlantic City or Saratoga, to be abolished the glitter of these summer cities would be a thing of the past. The following are to-day's events:—

Hasty Consumption Cured by Follows' Hypophosphites.

CARBONEAR, NEWFOUNDLAND, Jan. 3, 1871

Mr. JAMES I. FELLOWS.

DEAR SIR—I came to this country in May, 1869. I found a countryman of mine laboring under an affection of the lungs. I recommended your Syrup, tried at the druggists in Harbor Grace, but they thought I was inventing the name at their expense. However, in April, 1870, Mr. Edgar Joyce rapidly wasted away with every symptom of quick consumption so that he was unable to walk across the room, having no appetite, pains in the left side, nervous system unstrung, dry hacking cough, &c. Fortunately I learned that your Syrup could be obtained at Mr. Dearin's in St John's, and immediately procured some, (showed one to W. H. Thompson, who ordered a supply from you at once). This was Tuesday afternoon; at night he took the prescribed dose, and in the morning he described the very results notified on the wrapper. His appetite soon began to return, and a voracious one it was, too; the dry, hacking cough changed into loose but violent attacks, finally disappearing altogether; pains left his side, his hand resumed its usual steadiness, and before he finished ten bottles his health was quite restored, and to-day not a more healthy person is to be found on our streets; and it is the opinion of all had he not been fortunate in getting your valuable Syrup of Hypophosphites, he would now be in his grave.

He happened to be in W. H. Thompson's the day your first shipment arrived, and took at once four bottles to the Labrador, which he was very anxious to do, but had no occasion to use them himself. No other medicine will he ever prescribe, recommend, or give but yours.

I also recommended it to another consumptive, but have not heard from him since, as he lives in a distant part of the Island. Hoping this will give you some encouragement,

I remain, yours, &c.,
D. H. BURRON.

FOWLE'S
PILE AND HUMOR CURE,
For Internal and External Use.

Warranted a SURE and perfect CURE for all Kinds of Piles, Scrofula, Serofula, Tetter or Ringworm, Salt-Rheum, and all diseases of the skin. One bottle warranted to cure all cases of Piles; from one to three bottles in all cases of Humors.

This remedy has been faithfully tested, and found to be an almost infallible cure for the above named diseases. Its success has been so universal that the proprietor guarantees a cure in those who use his medicine, or no case of failure to refund the money paid. Since it was first introduced he has received many thousands of testimonials, proving its efficacy for the cure of the awful diseases it is recommended for. The Pile and Humor cure is entirely vegetable in its composition, and can be used with perfect safety in all cases. There is no danger of its driving the humor in, as it strikes on the surface, and the patient's bodily health continually improves while under this treatment.

Price $1 per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

ARCH'D. McNAB.
A. ROBERTSON, Esq., Ottawa.

From the Hon. D. Christie, Speaker of the Senate, and late President of the Upper Canada Provincial Agricultural Association.

MY DEAR SIR,—I have read your letter with great interest and have pleasure in stating my hearty approval of your scheme in getting up a "Provincial Exhibition Hand-book." It will be a work of real value to visitors to the Exhibition, as a reference. I hope you will meet with sufficient encouragement to justify a yearly publication of the Hand-Book.

I remain, yours very truly,
D. CHRISTIE.
ALEX. ROBERTSON, Esq.

Encouraged by the hearty approval of Mr. McNab, Hon. Mr. Christie, Hon. M. Cameron, Hon. Mr. Read, Jas. Morgan, Esq., and many other gentlemen of distinction, I have secured a copy-right, and under the title of the "Provincial Exhibition Annual" and intend to make of it a yearly publication in connection with our Provincial Exhibitions.

ALEX. ROBERTSON.

ONTARIO NORMAL SCHOOLS,
TORONTO AND OTTAWA.

These Schools are established for the training of First and Second-class Teachers in the Public Schools. They will open at nine o'clock, a.m., on Wednesday, the 15th September next, when all candidates for admission are expected to present themselves at the respective schools. None can be received after Thursday, the 16th September.

The Session will continue until the 15th July, 1876, with vacation from the last Wednesday in December to the second Tuesday in January, and from the Wednesday before to the Tuesday after Easter inclusive.

A prospectus has been published containing the subjects of the Entrance Examination, the General Regulations, and the course of study. Applications for the prospectus, and for admission at Toronto, are to be made to the Education Office, and at Ottawa to the Principal of the Normal School.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—The lives of thousands of human beings have been saved during the past year, and the credit is due to "Darley's Constitution Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." This preparation is being extensively used, and exacts from all the highest praise. Nothing of the kind has ever before been half as successful, or given such universal satisfaction; it cannot be equalled. We can confidently recommend it, and would advise all who own horses to keep a supply of it on hand—it may be the means of saving your horse's life. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co., is on each package. Northrup & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medical dealers. 3796

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A Few Facts for the People.—There are but few preparations of merit here which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Parliament Centre, P.Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all." Mr. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally as good on horses as for man."—A. Mayhew, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have used some hundreds of bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines that ever were used; it has done wonders in relieving and relieving pain, and I can, and also, is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit." A. Mr. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. [illegible] of this place, induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine.

Sold by all medicine dealers, price 25 cents.

JOB MOSES' FEMALE PILLS.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever, and although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain free, of the agent, a pamphlet, or refer to advertisement.

JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.

$1, and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ontario, general agents for the Dominion, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

For sale by all druggists.

Manufactured Goods.

"Success is never achieved without merit. A man may make a poor article and sell it once, and there being 40,000,000 people in the United States, the sale to each one would be enough to make a decent fortune. But an article that holds the best year after year, and the sales of which increase regularly and rapidly, must have absolute merit.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., occupies an entire eighth page to-day with his various articles. We admit it, because we know the Doctor, and know of his articles. We know him to be a regularly educated physician, whose diploma hangs on the wall of his office, and we know that he has associated with him several of the most eminent practioners in the country. We know that parties consult him, by mail and in person, from all the states in the Union every day, and that they are fairly and honestly dealt with.

This grand result has been accomplished by two agencies—good, reliable articles—articles which, once introduced, work easily their own way—and splendid business management. They have succeeded because they ought to have succeeded.

If you would patronize Medicine, scientifically prepared by a skilled Physician and Chemist, use Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines. Golden Medical Discovery is nutritious, tonic, alterative, and blood-cleansing, and an unequaled Cough Remedy. Pleasant Purgative Pellets, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, constitute an agreeable and reliable physic; Favorite prescription, a remedy for debilitated females. Extract of Smart Weed, a magical remedy for Pain, Bowel Complaints, and an unequaled liniment for both human and horse flesh; while his Dr Sage's Catarrh remedy is known the world over as the greatest specific for Catarrh, "Cold in the Head" ever given to the public. They are sold by druggists.

30 YEARS A SUFFERER.—CURED BY THE GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

Dr. R. V. Pierce:

Dear Sir,—Twenty years ago I was shipwrecked on the Atlantic Ocean, and the cold and exposure caused a large abscess to form on each leg, which kept continually discharging. I was attended by doctors in Liverpool, Havre, New Orleans, New York, and the hospital on Staten Island (where the doctors wanted to take one leg off). Finally, after spending hundreds of dollars, I was persuaded to try your "Golden Medical Discovery," and now, in less than three months after taking the first bottle, I am thankful to say that I am completely cured, and for the first time in ten years can put my left heel to the ground. I am at home nearly every evening and shall be glad to satisfy any person of the truth of this information. I am, sir, yours respectfully,

The Montreal Proprietary School has been established to provide a liberal education similar to that given in the Public Schools of England. The course of Instruction, however, will not be exclusively classical, and boys will be specially prepared either for the University and Professions or for Commercial Life

Most eligible premises have been purchased for the School in McTavish street, one of the most healthful localities of the city, and immediately adjoining the grounds of the McGill University.

The course of instruction will include Latin, Greek, Mathematics, French, German, Arithmetic, Writing, English Grammar, Literature and Composition, History and Geography, both Ancient and Modern, Natural Philosophy, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, Gymnastics and Drilling.

A limited number of boys will be received by the Principal as Boarders or Weekly Boarders and, with the view of keeping the pupils from improper influences, it is strongly recommended that all be entered as Day Learners, who will dine in the house of the Principal.

Further particulars can be obtained from the Secretary, J. W. Holmes, Esq., 78 Victoria street, to whom all applications for admission must be made.

The School will open on MONDAY, the 12th of April, and will be carried on for a few days at 78 Victoria street, the new premises not being quite completed.

Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Dufferin.

These Paperhangings are imported direct from the best Manufacturing Establishments in England, France and United States. Great care has been taken in their selection with regard to colour. The ground tones are soft and pleasing to the eye, especially those toned with silver mica; but above all, they are free from the mineral poisons that many of the tawdry-coloured Paperhangings of the day are surcharged with. The Subscriber's long experience as a colourist, and being thoroughly acquainted with the chemical compound of the pigments used in Painting, enables him to reject, in his selection of Paperhangings, those coloured with poisonous pigments, so deleterious to health. The Public are respectfully invited to examine his STOCK of WALL PAPER before purchasing elsewhere.

As the undersigned is going out of the Room Paper Business as soon as his present Stock is disposed of, the Goods will be Sold at the Lowest Remunerating Prices.

PAIN KILLER.

After thirty-five years trial, it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Physicians of the first respectability recommend it as a most effectual preparation for the extinction of pain. It is not only the best remedy ever known for Bruises, Cuts, Burns, &c., but for Dysentery or Cholera, or any sort of Bowel complaints it is a remedy unsurpassed for efficiency, and rapidity of action. In the sickly cities of India, and other hot climates, it has become the standard medicine for all such complaints, as well as for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, and other kindred disorders. For Coughs and Colds, Quinsy, Asthma, and Rheumatic difficulties, it has been proved by the most abundant and convincing testimony to be an inevitable medicine.

It is used Internally and Externally.

LACHINE

Canal Enlargement.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sealed Tenders addressed to the Secretary of Public Works, and endorsed "Tender for the Lachine Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western mails on THURSDAY, the Sixteenth day of September next, for the enlargement of this canal, consisting of the widening and deepening of the channel from near the new basin east of Wellington Street bridge, upwards to the river St. Lawrence at Lachine, embracing the construction of new locks at St. Gabriel and Côte St. Paul, also the taking down and rebuilding the upper portions of the present locks at these places; building regulating weirs, culverts, bridge piers; the construction of a new entrance lock at Lachine, and the formation of a channel and basin on the south or river side of the existing entrance.

The works will be let in sections of the respective lengths indicated on a map of the line, which, together with plans and specifications of the various works, can be seen at this office, and at the Lachine Canal Office, Montreal, on and after FRIDAY, the Tenth day of September next, at either of which places Printed forms of Tender can be obtained.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that Tenders will not be entertained unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and—in the case of firms—except there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same; and further, an accepted bank cheque, or other available security, for the sum of from one to three thousand dollars, according to the extent of work on the section, must accompany each Tender, which shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines or fails to enter into contract for the works, when called upon to do so, at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The amount required in each case will be stated on the form of Tender.

The cheque or money thus sent in, will be returned to the respective parties whose Tenders are not accepted.

For the due fulfilment of the contract, satisfactory security will be required on real estate, or by deposit of money, public or municipal securities, or bank stocks, to the amount of five per cent on the full sum of the contract, of which the sum sent in with the Tender will be considered a part.

Ninety per cent only of the progress estimates will be paid until the completion of the works.

To each Tender must be attached the actual signatures of two responsible and solvent persons, residents of the Dominion, willing to become sureties for the carrying out of these conditions, as well as the due performance of works embraced in the contract.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any Tender.

By Order,

EMONDS has 'em—the peach pearer and stoner. See 'em 3940tf

MORE DUTY.—It is said the police have to perform five hours extra duty until after the Provincial Exhibition, this will necessitate seventeen hours work.

MR. BERMINGHAM will sell on Saturday next, opposite the Russell House, a handsome Rockaway, silver-mounted and other harness, an excellent bridle and saddle—all without any reserve.

MAIN BURST.—The main pipe of the water works at the corner of Rideau and Augusta streets burst yesterday, and for a time flooded the locality. The necessary repairs are now being speedily effected.

CLARK leave your orders for steam piping now at Esmonde's. 3940tf

MASONIC.—The annual meeting of the Grand Black Chapter of British America will be held on Tuesday, the 28th day of September, in the city of Montreal, at the hour of twelve o'clock noon. The usual railway and steamboat facilities will be afforded.

NEW ENGINE.—The Managing Director of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Railway, with his usual enterprise and alive to the necessity of such action, has placed another powerful locomotive on this road. It was imported from England and is by far the best engine now on the road.

A PROTEST.—The bootblacks of this city met in solemn conclave yesterday and passed resolutions condemnatory of the action of those in Toronto coming to the city to trespass on their rights. They will doubtless make it hot for the foreign element, who are said to have already arrived in town.

ANOTHER SPILL.—Yesterday morning as Landman's express waggon was being driven through Sparks street to the Canada Central depot, with a load of passengers, en route for the Upper Ottawa, one of the wheels came off, throwing the occupants on the street in a rather lively fashion. The necessary repairs were at once made, when they resumed their journey.

ESMONDS has preserve jars cheap. 3940tf

TAKEN THE HINT.—Those interested in the removal of stagnant pools from different parts of the city have taken the hint and acted on our suggestion made the other day. A drain has just been made leading to the stagnant pool on the south side of Rideau street, which has for years been such a source of annoyance and as a result every drop has been carried off into the main drain of the street. Its accomplishment has been hailed with joy among the residents of that locality.

AN UPSET.—As a lady and gentleman was driving up Sparks street yesterday afternoon, they were run into at the corner of the Russell House by a lumber waggon which was passing at the time. The buggy was upset and its occupants spilled around the street. Strange to say neither of them sustained any injuries, but the shock proved too much for the nervous system of the lady who almost fainted from the fright. A little more care should be exercised by drivers of vehicles in our now somewhat crowded thoroughfares.

PURE IRISH FRIZE from Nire Valley manufactory, arrived ex Canadian this day. Storm proof. T. W. Kenny & Sons, merchant tailors, Sparks street. 3940 l

THE GOOD SHEPHERDS' BAZAAR.—During the bazaar in aid of the Sisters of the Good Shepherds' Home, a sumptuous luncheon has been spread each day, and has been most liberally patronized by many of the leading gentlemen of the city. The excellence of the repast provided may be vouched for when it is mentioned that the tables are under the direct superintendence of Mrs. Audy, Mrs. Brophy and Mrs. Lemoine. To-day His Worship the Acting Mayor, with a number of his friends, including some of the members of the Council, has signified his intention of being present to partake of the toothsome viands provided.

THE HIBERNIA MINSTRELS.—The Mac Evoys appeared before a large and appreciative audience last night in Gowan's Hall. The panorama exhibited some of the finest scenery in the world, together with many points of interest in Ireland. The interior views of cathedrals and abbeys were illuminated, presenting a very enchanting and beautiful appearance. The vocal part of the entertainment was really very pleasing from its varied and amusing character. Mr. W. F. Lawlor as "Barney" the guide, kept the house convulsed with laughter the whole evening. Mr. Dan Nash was warmly received in his character songs and bag pipe imitations, as was also Mr. Emile Ames in his Dutch and Negro songs and dances. Miss Hayes, and Miss Byrnes too, contributed very successfully to this great variety performance. They will appear again to-night, and we would advise all those who wish to spend a pleasant evening to visit Gowan's Hall.

SELBY LEE will not, nor cannot, sell boots and shoes at cost, but will sell ten per cent. cheaper than any other shop in the city. 3940eS

OTTAWA MARKET.

THURSDAY, Sept. 9th.

The markets during the past week have been in all respects large, and purchasers are taking advantage of the plentiful supply of all kinds of produce. Fruit and garden stuff may be said to have formed the staple articles offered, and taken throughout very fair prices have been obtained. Hay and oats have also been in excellent supply, and there has been brisk demand for both. Fowls have not been very numerous, although there was a good demand for them.

Dairy articles have been pretty well supplied, but not nearly to the extent that might have been expected at this season of the year. The following may be taken as the average prices ruling during the week:

FOODER.—Hay, $14 to 16 per ton. Oats, 35c to 40c per bushel.

WHEAT, &c.—$1.10 to 1.16 Fall; 1.05 to 1.08 Spring; Pease, 70c to 90c.

FRUIT.—Apples all prices, from $2 to 2.50 per barrel, and plenty of them at those figures. Common Pears from $1.80 to 2.00; superior, such as Bartletts, about $3 to 3.50. Plums (red) 38 to 40c per pail; better class, such as Green Gages, &c., $1.50 to 2.00 per gallon.

VEGETABLES.—This commodity varies in price considerably, especially in the matter of Cabbages, Cauliflowers, &c. However the following are about the figures: New Potatoes, 30c per bushel, although we saw some to-day sold at 25c. Cucumbers, about 75 to 80c per dozen. Corn, sweet, 7 to 8c per dozen. Cabbages, 5 to 25c each, according to size. Cauliflowers, ditto. Tomatoes, 15c per gallon.

BUTTER, &c.—Tub, 18 to 20c per lb.; prints, 25c. per lb. Eggs, 14 to 15c, per dozen—first price, wholesale; latter, retail.

HIDES, Wool, &c.—Wool, 30 to 33c per lb. Hides, $5; inspected, $5.50.

FLOUR.—$6.26 to 6.50.

POLICE COURT

Before M. O'GARA, P. M.

THURSDAY, Sept. 9.

Mary Ann Welsh was charged with being drunk and making a noise on Rideau street. She was fined $3 and costs or in default three weeks in jail at hard labour."

Mary Ryan was charged with using insulting language to Catherine Hall. She was fined $2 and costs.

Wm. Cox was charged with selling liquor without license. He was fined $20 and costs.

Johanna Sharp was charged with stealing a silk skirt from Adelaide Duclot. She was sent to gaol for one day.

Dominion of Canada Rifle Association.

THIRD DAY.

The 10th Royals Win the Dominion Match.

The "break of day" was anything but encouraging to the marksmen, inasmuch as it was marked by a general gloominess and murky appearance, which seemed to augur a wet day. However, the croaking prophets who, up to the hour of firing, had been executing the part of Job's comforters round the range by predicting rain, had all their prognostications cast to the wind, which latter, by the way, was blowing across the range at one time from the right, and then as suddenly chopped round to the left, bothering many of the best shots on the ground. Towards eleven o'clock, however, the breeze became so light as to almost warrant the assertion that a dead calm prevailed. The light, though somewhat subdued, was much better than it was at gun fire, a stray gleam of sunshine occasionally flashing over the range rather interfered with the least steady of the shots. However, take the day altogether, it was not at all unfavourable for shooting. So soon as the bugle sounded "commence firing," the competition in the Battalion Match was resumed at the 600 yards range, and resulted in the Guards coming out behind, indeed, some of their good fortune seemed to have deserted them, as Private Newby on Wednesday fell off most unaccountably in his score, after having done so well all along. This fact seemed to cast a damper on the expectations of the gallant Guardsmen, but they may console themselves with the fact that they have already won much laurels as marksmen, and that they cannot always come out at the top of the list, the 10th Royals, the winners, have lately made great improvement in their rifle practice, and they are to be congratulated upon the success they have achieved. The 49th Hastings Battalion, the winners of the second prize, have always been noted for their good shooting, and it was rather expected they would have come out the winners, as it is they have done extremely well, being only ten behind the winners. The following are the individual as well as the aggregate scores of the several battalions:

BATTALION MATCH.

The next event upon the programme was the firing for the McDougall Challenge Cup, which brought to the fore 124 entries, being thirty six more men than competed last year The sun, as they commenced shooting, shone out brilliantly, but the wind got up in a brisk manner from the westward, and the marksmen had to change their tactics considerably while taking their aim. The first range was finished just as luncheon was announced by the sharp bark of the nine pounder on the hill, in front of the Secretary's office. Col. Gilmour had deputed Col. Macpherson to dispense the hospitalities on his behalf, in the spacious marquee, which was by courtesy, termed the Council Tent, and a goodly number of guests sat down to one of mine host's, Kavanagh's, best repasts. Col. Macpherson occupied the chair, having on his right Mr. J. M. Currier, M. P., and on his left Dr. Grant; the vice chair was taken by Maj. White, supported on his right by Maj. Macdonald, and on his left by Assistant Surgeon Macdonald of the Welland Field Battery. Among others present were noticed Mr. Grant Powell, Mr. George Brunel, Mr. John Brunel, and several other gentlemen who had received invitations. After the good things had been disposed of, and it did not take long to perform the operation,

The chairman in a few terse sentences proposed the "health of Her Majesty the Queen. God bless Her." The toast it need hardly be said, was responded to in the most enthusiastic style, three rousing cheers greeting its announcement.

The Chairman then rose and said he had a toast to propose which could not fail to find the heartiest response they could give, he alluded to Mr. J. M. Currier, the member of Parliament for the city of Ottawa, (applause.) He said Mr. Currier both in his private capacity and in his public, had always evinced the greatest interest in the affairs of the Dominion Rifle Association, and he was most happy to see him present with them, on the occasion of its annual meeting, in order to give his countenance to the proceedings. They (the Association) were to a great extent, together with the volunteer force generally, dependent upon Parliament for their maintenance and encouragement, and foremost among those who advocated their claims on the floor of the House was Mr. Currier—(hear, hear)—he never omitted when opportunity offered to forward the interests of the militia of the country; therefore, he would without further remark ask them to drink the toast with all the honours, as they were fully deserved (cheers.)

The guests then, after giving three times three in rousing cheers, announced to the world at large, or at least that portion of its inhabitants who were within hearing, that Mr. Currier was "a jolly good fellow," and each one defied his neighbor to disprove the truth of the assertion.

Mr. Currier, who was received with considerable enthusiasm, said he thanked the Chairman for the kindly manner in which he had proposed his health, and the company for the hearty style in which they had received and drank the toast. Though, as he had told them before, he was not a volunteer, he always felt a pleasure in rendering all the assistance that lay in his power to advance their interests. He as fully appreciated the self sacrificing spirit of patriotism shown by the volunteers of this country as any one; he had always, in his capacity as a member of Parliament, been in favour of the supporting of the militia system, and the maintenance of it with the utmost vigour, and he should always vote in favour of such supplies as were indispensible to the keeping up of the Canadian army in its fullest state of efficiency. He thought the Dominion Rifle Association were fortunate in having a President and a Vice President so able and willing to entertain in such a handsome manner the riflemen who came to the city. Col. Gilmour was one of Ottawa's oldest citizens, and also, he thought, one of her oldest volunteers, and no one could take a greater interest in all matters pertaining to volunteering than he (the Col.) did. (Cheers.) For Col. Gzowski there was no occasion for him to say anything, for they all well knew what he was. (Cheers.) After again thanking them for the honour they had conferred upon him, Mr. Currier resumed his seat amid great applause.

Dr. Grant rose to propose the next toast. He said that it gave him much pleasure in rising to propose the health of a gentleman who had on all occasions rendered his best assistance to the Association, both his time and his means always being at its disposal. (Cheers.) He (the speaker) complimented the Volunteers of Canada on the fame and reputation they had acquired, both in this country and the old; they had received the praise of all their fellow marksmen for their skill, which was not only a credit to themselves, but to the whole Dominion. The gentlemen whose health he was about to ask them to drink, had done much to encourage the military enthusiasm of the Volunteers of Canada, and to whom much of the credit was due for its present efficient state. (Cheers.) With him, he must also allude to the support rendered by Mr. Currier, M. P. Such men as these were worthy of being justly termed the friends of the force—(applause)—and they encouraged the people of the Dominion to depend upon the force, as a defence from the assault of an enemy. He looked upon the militia force as being the nucleus of a fine army. It was but a few weeks ago that he had the pleasure of witnessing a review of the Grand Army of France upon the Bois de Boulogne; they were a fine body of men, but still it seemed to him that they lacked the physique of the Canadian volunteers, and the latter might feel proud of the comparison. The French were a fine, well-disciplined, body of men, but he thought the nucleus he had spoken of would, in time to come, be quite equal to the troops he had alluded to in every respect of efficiency. After again alluding to the exertions made on behalf of the gentleman whose health he was about to ask them to drink, he called upon them to drink heartily the "health of Colonel Gilmour and long life and prosperity to him." (Prolonged cheers.) Of course, "For he's a jolly good fellow" followed, the gentlemen leading off that lyrical expression of their feelings in most stentorian tones, the song was caught up along both sides of the table and no one at the upper portion was more anxious to do justice to the sentiment than the gallant Chairman, Col. Macpherson.

The last named gentleman, in rising to respond on behalf of Col. Gilmour, said he was sure the Vice-President would, had he been present, done much more justice to the toast than he could, but he should take an early opportunity of informing him of the very enthusiastic manner in which the well deserved encomiums passed upon him by Dr. Grant had been received. He could only thank them in the name of Colonel Gilmour for the honour they had done him. He could assure them that no one connected with the Association took more interest in its affairs than did their Vice-President; he (the speaker) as Treasurer could state with all confidence that whenever he had had any transactions with Col. Gilmour he had always been most ready to render his aid in a most substantial manner (hear hear), and whatever was wanted, he was ready to give. He again thanked them on behalf of Col. Gilmour, who, he was sure, would be most gratified at the kindly mark of their regard for him. (Applause.)

Col. Beer then gave the toast of Col. Brunel, the inventor of the very excellent target and system of marking—in use at the present competition—and he characterized it as being the very best that could be devised.

The toast having been duly honoured,

Mr. George Bruuel returned thanks on behalf of his father, whom, he said, would have been much gratified at hearing the very flattering testimonials given on all sides as to the efficiency of the invention.

Mr. J. M. Currier, M.P., then proposed the health of Col. Macpherson, who had so ably filled the office of Vice-President in the absence of Col. Gilmour.

Col. Macpherson, in responding, which he did briefly, said it had given him great pleasure to be present at the competition, which from its commencement had been characterized with the greatest success, and he hoped the latter would attend it to its conclusion. He thanked them most sincerely for the manner in which his name had been received.

The luncheon then came to a conclusion, and the firing commenced for

THE MCDOUGALL CHALLENGE CUP—VALUE $200—PRESENTED BY MRS. P. L. MCDOUGALL.

Open to all efficient militiamen in the Dominion of Canada, being members of the Association. Efficiency as in the Dominion Match. The Cup to be the property of the member winning it twice consecutively.

Ranges—400 and 600 yards. Five rounds at each range.

Any competitor not scoring eight points at first range to be disqualified.

Enfield or Snider Enfield Rifles. Government ammunition. Entrance free.

124 entries. The following are the scores of the first four:—

Sergt. Mitchell, 13th Batt., winner of the Cup	44
Sergt. Cotton, G.G.F.G.	42
Sergt. Loggie, 71st Batt.	41
Sergt. Perkins, do	40

At the close of the match, the Hon. the Minister of Militia, accompanied by Col. Walker Powell, Adjutant General, arrived upon the ground, and evinced a considerable interest in the shooting.

The next was

PROVINCIAL MATCH—FOR LONDON MERCHANT'S CUP—WITH $150 ADDED BY THE ASSOCIATION.

To be shot for by five competitors from each Province, to be selected by the Provincial Association, or its duly accredited agent. Where there is no Association, the selection to be certified by the Senior Staff Officer in the Province to which they belong. Names of the five men per Province to be given in to the Secretary on or before noon of second day of the meeting. Efficiency and certificate same as in Dominion Match.

1st prize, to highest aggregate score, Cup, presented by Merchants of London, England, value	$1,000
2nd prize, to highest individual score	75
3rd prize, to 2nd highest individual score	50
4th prize to next highest individual score	25
	$1,150

Snider-Enfield Rifle. Government ammunition. Any position. Ranges—300, 500 and 600 yards. Seven rounds at each range. Entrance Fee—$15 for each Province.

The conditions of the competition for this Cup are, that the Cup shall be held by the President of the winning Provincial Rifle Association for the year, and then returned to the President of the Dominion Rifle Association.

This match with its rich trophies was of course the means of creating considerable excitement among the marksmen, and some excellent shooting was made at all the ranges, especially the 600 yard one, where nearly all the shots being placed in close proximity to the bull's eye. The following is a list of the names of the competitors and the scores:—

NOVA SCOTIA.
Capt. Walsh, 63rd	78
Lieut. Barnhill, 72nd	71
Lieut. McInnes, 63rd	65
Sergt. Corbin, 63rd	71
Sergt. Bishop, 63rd	65

Sergt. Lipsett, 71st Batt	45
Corpl. Patten, N.B.A	73
Pte. Perkins, 71st Batt	63
	326

Thus it will be seen that Nova Scotia has been the victor. There was a tie between Ontario and Quebec, each scoring 330 points. The individual scores are—1st Lieut. Barnhill, 72nd, N. S., 75....675
2nd Sergt. Mitchell, 13th B., 77....50
3rd Lieut. Johnson, 71st, N. B., 75....25

This concluded the shooting for the day, and the rain, which threatened an appearance, had the effect of clearing the range at the double.

Our reporter has to express his obligations to Mr. James Norris, the very efficient assistant statistical officer, for much of the information he has been able to give the public through the columns of the TIMES.

It may be interesting to our readers to know that during the three days of the match 9,990 rounds of ammunition have been fired.

The shooting will commence this morning at 8.30 a.m.

CRICKET.

Montreal vs. Port Hope.

Below is appended a short report of a victory gained by the Port Hope eleven, which appears to be working up again to the eminent position it used to hold in the annals of cricket. Although Ottawa managed to "get away" with the Port Hope men and Montreal beat Ottawa in a most hollow style, the members of the first named team have fully redeemed their lost laurels by the fact that out of three matches with Toronto they have won two out of three played. The following is a copy of the telegram received relative to the last match with Montreal, which speaks well for the prowess of the Port Hope club.

"PORT HOPE, Sept. 8.—In the match to-day, Montreal v. Port Hope, the latter won easily by nine wickets. Montreal, first innings, 68; Port Hope, 59; Montreal, second innings, 57; this left Port Hope 36 to make to win, which they did for the loss of one wicket. Geo. F. Hall, our Philadelphia representative, got 32 and 10 (not out). Read's bowling as usual was very destructive."

Lieutenant Colonel Jackson returned yesterday from Manitoba. He reports the destruction in the North West caused by grasshoppers to be of the most serious character, in some sections every green thing having disappeared before their ravages.—Brockville Recorder.

THE PIERI RIFLE.

An Economical and Serviceable Weapon.

Lieut.-Col. Bacon, the statistical officer at the Rideau Rifle Range, has, during the time the competitions have been in course of progress, had a most ingeniously constructed rifle, the invention of a Major Pieri of the French army on exhibition. The weapon, which is light looking and handsome, is, of what is termed in our shooting phraseology, a small bore, with sights fitted after the style of those on the Snider Enfield, and it has the advantage over the latter by having the degrees of elevation for the different ranges marked on the side of the flap nearest the eye of the person firing. The piece is sighted, we believe, up to 1,000 yards; but its inventor claims it will send a projectile a distance of 3,000 yards. The barrel is grooved most wonderfully, and at the breech, where the cartridge is placed, is a chamber which is perfectly smooth, and the bullet has to proceed a short distance through it before it enters the grooves. This obviates, it is stated, the violent recoil common to many-grooved barrels. Apropos of cartridges, it may be mentioned that they cost one-fifth of a penny less than the Snider Enfield do; this is a considerable item of saving in one's expenditure in ammunition. A small sum in arithmetic proved that out of $249.75 spent in 9,990 rounds of cartridge during the last three day's competition a sum of £8 6s. 6d. sterling would have been saved had the Pieri rifle been used. The ammunition possesses also another advantage, inasmuch as it will keep for any length of time and in any climate; it may be sunk in water and when wanted for use it will be found quite fit, as it is perfectly impervious to wet, there being an inner wrapper of caoutchouc as well as the ordinary one, a sort of inner skin in fact. The advantages of it may be thus briefly stated:—The inventor to obviate the disadvantages that arise from the oscillations produced by pressing with the forefinger on a trigger placed underneath the stock, conceived the idea of placing the mechanism to release the plunger, or striker, on top of the stock, and in a line with the axis of the bore. To discharge the gun, the firer presses with his thumb on a thumb-piece placed in this position, and protected against an accidental injury or blow, by two wings formed by the rear ends of the breach-shoe. It results from this arrangement that instead of the muzzle of the gun being pulled downwards and to the right by the action of the forefinger on the trigger, as in the present system, the pressure of the thumb on the upper surface of the stock, and in a line with the axis, establishes a perfect equilibrium at the line of firing. In addition to this advantage, the position of the trigger on the top of the stock has enabled the inventor to simplify the breech mechanism so greatly that the Pieri system is composed of seven simple and strongly formed parts, connected together by a single screw, on removing which the whole mechanism can be at once taken to pieces. We have heard from the best authority that the cost of the gun, with which any barrel or cartridge can be used, is only the exceedingly small sum of 33 francs ($6.60), male in the Government small arms factories. The great advantages of the Pieri system can, of course, be only brought to light by actual trial, but among the many systems and arrangements now under consideration we certainly think this deserves especial attention. It is expected that a trial of it will be made to day. Practical riflemen are unanimous in their approval of the principle, and if the trial proves satisfactory, its cheapness will make it exceedingly popular.

Rheumatics! Read!
Hundreds of Rheumatics have been cured by the Sulphur Baths. Suffering is alleviated by the first, and cripples throw away their crutches after about half a dozen baths.

TESTIMONIALS.
Montreal, 28th July, 1876.
"I hereby certify that I entertain a very favorable opinion of the Baths and Waters of the Caledonia Springs in many forms of disease, among which I would especially mention chronic Rheumatism, the stigmas of Gout, Neuralgia, some of the varieties of Cutaneous disease, Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, and in carefully selected cases, some of the diseases of the Kidney and Bladder.
(Signed) GEO. W. CAMPBELL, A.M., M.D.
Dean of the Medical Faculty, McGill College.

Dr. Wm. Robertson, of Montreal, wrote as follows, in 1839:—But the disease above all in which the action of the water is most decided is Rheumatism. * * * I have known a few individuals who suffered much from improper use of mercury who were restored to health by the use of the waters.

ACCOMMODATIONS.
A magnificent new hotel, capable of accommodating 200 guests, will be opened on June 1st for the accommodation of visitors. The grounds have been improved and beautified, and every means for amusement and exercise provided. The trip thither by the Ottawa River is most enjoyable, and a railroad from the river to the Springs is in course of construction. Until the railroad is built, comfortable carriages will be in waiting at the wharf for the conveyance of visitors to the Springs. The distance of the Springs from Montreal and Ottawa respectively is 65 and 50 miles.
Mr. W. CHAMPNESS will open a good Livery Stable, providing good carriages, horses, saddles, &c. There is a good race-course on the property of the Company.
The PACIFIC OCEAN WATERS of these Springs will yet make Caledonia the greatest resort in the world for Health and pleasure seekers. Thousands of testimonials might be procured, but the reputation of the Springs renders it unnecessary to do so.

ALL KINDS OF MACHINES ON HAND AT WAREHOUSE.
W. ABBOTT,
Ottawa, Sept. 10, 1875. 3940 Ottawa.

The Premier has gone to Montreal on official business. He will, however, return again to day.

Lt.-Col Jackson, D.A.A.G., arrived in town yesterday, and is staying at the Russell House. He has just arrived from his recent trip to Manitoba.

Rev. Dr. Davies, Principal of the Toronto Normal School, who has been spending a week with his friends in the city on his return from a tour through the Maritime Provinces, leaves to night for Toronto.

His Honour Lieutenant-Governor Macdonald will occupy the Speaker's Chambers in the House of Commons during the Exhibition week. The Sergeant-at-Arms has received instructions to have all necessary preparations made.

New post offices have been opened at the residence of Joseph A. Levis, in the Parish of N. D. des Lourdes, to be called "Lourdes," and at the residence of Henry Wilson, in the N. E. portion of the Township of Hull, under the name of "Wilson's Corners."

Mr. Alexander Begg, Emigration Agent in Scotland for the Ontario Government, arrived in town yesterday. Before returning to Scotland he will pay a visit to the temperance colony, which he was instrumental in establishing a few years ago, in the Parry Sound District.

Rev. Dr. Ryerson, Chief Superintendent of Education for Ontario, who has been in the city for some days in connection with the opening arrangements of the new Normal School, left last night for Toronto. He will return again to take part on the 21st in the formal opening.

Mr. Ira Morgan, Vice-President of the Board of Arts for Ontario, will leave on Monday to attend the Central Fair at Guelph. He will also be present at a meeting of the full Advisory Board for Ontario, to be held in Toronto on Tuesday, the 14th inst., to make all necessary preparations for the Centennial Exhibition to be held in Philadelphia.

We have been informed by the Marine Department that directions were sent from the meteorological office at Toronto this afternoon at one o'clock to have the storm drum hoisted at the following places, viz.: Montreal, Quebec, Father Point, Gaspe, Perie, P.Q.; St. John, St. Andrews, Dalhousie, Bathurst, Chatham, Point du Chene, N.B.; Halifax, Digby, Pictou and Liverpool, N.S.; Charlottetown, P.E.I.; Sydney, Glace Bay, Cow Bay, Louisburg and Hastings, Cape Breton. Intimation of the storm drum being expected at Ottawa has also been sent to the Department.

GREAT BRITAIN.

In Danger of a Complete Collapse.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The financial article of this evening's Echo contains the following paragraphs:—"It is stated that the State Line Steamship Company is in danger of a complete collapse. The directors and a committee of shareholders have concluded that any attempt to carry on the company by borrowing money is hopeless and that the only means of averting the total loss of what remains of the capital as to continue the line by the formation of a new company. They propose to offer their seven ships which cost £462,00 sterling for $255,000. They recommend shareholders to allow the value of stock in trade to be transferred to the new company, and also to apply for a considerable amount of proposed supplementary capital, believing that the winding up of the company at this time would result in the total loss of the capital invested.

ITALY.

Cardinal McCloskey.

ROME, Sept. 10.—A deputation on behalf of American residents, both Catholic and Protestant, visited Cardinal McCloskey to-day, and presented him, as a token of their esteem, a complete Cardinal's dress and mitre, set with precious stones, together with an address expressing their good wishes and veneration.

AUSTRIA

Instructions.

VIENNA, September 10.—It is reported that the Pope has instructed the Catholic Bishops in Bosnia and Herzegovinia to use their influence in calming the people, and to facilitate the pacification of those provinces.

CHICAGO.

Thunder and Rain Storms.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.— Accounts of accidents caused by the terrific thunder and rain storms which have prevailed in the North West for the past 48 hours are numerous. There seems to have been little loss of life other than that reported. On the line of the North Western Railroad bridges have been washed away in many places by torrents.

Accidents.

Several accidents occurred on Lake Michigan last night with no loss of life. Three yachts were sunk off 12th street and one schooner loaded with lumber was also sunk. A large number of small crafts were capsized and destroyed.

ELMIRA.

The Regatta—Good Rowing and Quick Time.

ELMIRA, N. Y. Sept. 9.—The Regatta at Watkins closed to day with great success. There were five races and the attendance was very large. The lake was in fine order. In the single scull professional race, two miles, Edward Powell won, time 15:21; Gilbert Ward, 2nd, time 16:04, Daniel Ward, 3rd, time 16:24. In the single scull amateur race, two miles, Riley of New York won, time 15:10; C. S. Francis 2nd, time 15:23; 3rd race, pair oared professional, won by the Ward Brothers, time 21:15½; Biglin and Kelsley 2nd, time, 23:35. Rochester crew, 3rd, time 23:04. The four oared professional race won by the Wards, Cavet and Smith, time 2:03; Biglin, Kelsby, Powell and Brown 2nd, time, 2:30. Amateur professional single scull race, two miles outside. The regatta programme for a cup given given by General Magee was won by Daniel Ward, in 6:27. It was the last and most exciting race of the day.

AMERICAN.

NEW YORK.

Admitted to Bail.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Dennis Hardy, one of the parties implicated in the death of Michael Connolly on Blackwell's Island, was admitted to bail to-day by the District Attorney in $5,000, and released from custody, pending an action in the matter by the Grand Jury.

Sent to State Prison.

George Walsh was convicted to day in the Court of General Sessions for robbery with violence, and sent to State Prison for seven years with hard labour.

WASHINGTON.

The Indian Commissioners.

WASHINGTON, Sept 10.—The Indian Investigation commissioners met here last night, Professor Marsh, the President, made a written statement calling the attention of the commission to the fact that since he met them in New York and laid before them his evidence as to affairs at the Red Cloud agency, he had published nothing on the subject considering the case in their hands, while the Interior Department had kept up constant attack upon him. He complained in particular of a phamphlet printed by the Department for the instruction of the Commission. This official document he stated was full of misrepresentations and falsehoods, many of which were in the letters of Secretary Delano to the Commission and hence directly calculated to mislead both the commissioners and the public.

A Law Abiding People.

A telegram just received by the Attorney General from a Sheriff of Hindo Co., Miss., reporting that perfect peace prevails throughout that county. Peace officers are not prevented from executing legal process and good citizens the Sheriff telegraphs will aid him in the discharge of his duties, if needed.

Condition of Affairs in Panama.

WASHINGTON, D. C, Sept 10—Despatches have been received at the Navy Department, from Capt E. Simpson Commander of the U. S steamer Omaha, at Panama, detailing at length the condition of affairs there as already published in the press reports. He says he did not request the American consul at Aspinwall to prohibit the landing of the 500 rifles purchased for Bolivar, but on the contrary sent the Consul the following despatch: "Consider whether it will be a proper act for you to see that those arms are not allowed to be diverted from their original destination, or if that cannot be prevented then consider if you have not power to prevent them from being landed subject to instructions from Washington." Subsequently a conference was held between Capt. Simpson and our Consul at Aspinwall and it was decided that the Consul had no right to interfere with the landing of the arms and this ended the question.

FALL RIVER.

Mill Operatives Suffering from a Strike.

FALL RIVER, MASS., Sept. 10—King & Phillips' mill is running to-day, and they have experienced no trouble in securing non-union help. The mass of operatives are evidently anxious to return to work at reduced rates; but are stopped by union men. There is considerable suffering among the strikers and affairs are rapidly approaching a climax. Manufacturers are inflexible, but would undoubtedly open their mills if the operatives would insist on no proviso. The organ of the operatives says to day: "In our judgment the Fall River operatives would make their point if they would return to work, leaving the wages question in the hands of the Committee, and then induce 40,000 operatives of Rhode Island to take a month's vacation to allow a close. After the shutting down of mills in the city such a movement could hardly fail to put the price of cloth up and with cloth advanced to rates that would pay good profits, there can be little doubt if the help then ask the restoration of the ten per cent., they would not be allowed to come out on a strike.

SPRINGFIELD.

In Trouble Again.

SPRINGFIELD, September 10.—The Republican says an enterprising manager of excursions recently engaged Henry Ward Beecher to preach on Sunday, the 19th, at Lake Pleasant, a favorite picnic resort in Franklin county, and began making arrangements for special trains on all railroads reaching the place, which draw in a large section of Western Massachusetts. Other attractions were offered pleasure seekers, in the way of music, &c. The originator of the project has been counting on between 25,000 and 30 000 patrons. The announcement, however, was received with marked disfavor by the better class of the community, and the opposition culminated in a protest against such disrespect of the Sabbath, which was signed by seventeen Congregational Ministers of Franklin county, and presented to Beecher by one of their number, and he has cancelled his engagement.

MILWAUKEE.

Accidents on the Northwestern Railway.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 10.—The following are the additional names of persons killed by accidents on the Northwestern Railway yesterday: Ralph Tolens and Peter McDermott, at Laurence, where the night passenger train was wrecked; Henry Morris, Frank Geet and James Ferris were killed, and Henry Hall, A. Magher and others badly injured, near Harvard, on the Kenosha Division, James Herrick was killed. The train was wrecked at Allen's Grove on the North western Union Road, and one man is missing. Some of the freight cars floated a mile and a half into the fields. The culverts between Clinton and Belert are gone, and it will be several days before trains can move.

NASHVILLE.

Counterfeiters Captured.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 10.—A special despatch from Decatur, Ala., says "by the exertion of the United States Secret Service Force in Alabama and Middle Tennesse, an organized band of counterfeiters with headquarters in St. Louis extending to South Alabama, has been detected. Many prominent men are implicated. Five dollar bills on the Roxton and Canton Illinois National Banks. Twenty and fifty dollar legal tenders and fifty cent currency are the bills counterfeited. Quite a number of those implicated have been arrested and were brought here to-day for trial. It is a gigantic combination of counterfeiters and persons of wealth and social prominence will be involved.

BALTIMORE.

Statue of General Jackson.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 10th.—The steamship Nova Scotian arrived at this port yesterday afternoon from Liverpool, and brought Foley's large statue of General Thomas J. Jackson, the famous Confederate leader, presented to the State of Virginia by the Hon. Beresford Hope, M.P. and other English gentlemen. The statue cost $50,000, and will be erected in the capital square at Richmond, Va., near the equestrian statue of Washington.

CANADIAN.

ARNPRIOR.

Burning of McLachlan's Steam Mill.

ARNPRIOR, Sept. 10.—McLachlan Bros. steam mill and engine house has just burned down. There is a fearful mass of fire and ruins still burning, but the wind is not strong and it is off the lumber yard. Further danger is not apprehended. The Ottawa, Smith Falls, and Almonte steam engines are expected here within two hours. It is now 8 p.m.

LATER.

ARNPRIOR, Sept. 11, 1 a.m.—Steam mills, boiler and engine house are in ruins. The fire is running in the main tramway, one steamer and two hand engines are now working. The authorities have sent for another steamer. Loss so far $75,000. $10,000 insurance.

CALEDONIA SPRINGS.

The Third and Last Day of the Races.

CALEDONIA SPRINGS, Sept. 10.—This being the third and last day of the steeple chases the people assembled en masse from the outlying districts. Trees, house tops and other eminences as far as the eye can reach are crowded. The weather and sport were magnificent. Just now the front of the hotel is crowded with vehicles taking away visitors. In the open race Prodigal Son was first, Wagram second, Jack of the Green third. In the Consolation race King Tom was 1st, Clip second.

MONTREAL.

A New Paper—A Large Gang of Men at Work—Hon. Mr. Mackenzie—An Action for Damages—Well Known Railroad Contractor in Pursuit of Unpaid Balances—The Land Bugs Case—The Guibord Case—A Mass Meeting—The Financial Situation—Money and Stocks.

MONTREAL, September 10.—It is reported a paper, to be entitled the Matrimonial Times, is being started in the city.

Mrs. Culverhouse, formerly carrying on the millinery business on St. Catharine street, is wanted by several anxious creditors. The express wagons drove up to the rear of her establishment late last night, and took away everything, except a few empty show cases. The party who sold her the $500 piano on the weekly instalment plan is particularly anxious to have an interview.

A large gang of men are at work on the railway between Chambly and West Farnham. The Company say they will have the rails laid, and trains running by the first of November.

Hon. Mr. Mackenzie arrived in town this morning, accompanied by the Hon. Mr. Holton. He visited the Court House and had an interview with Chief Justice Dorion.

Philo Lambkin, of the Eastern Townships, has brought an action for $50,000 damages against the South Eastern Counties Railway Company, for physical injuries sustained by the plaintiff in an accident which occurred on this railway last summer.

In 1859 Messrs Duncan and William McDonald, well-known railway contractors did some work on the old St. Lawrence and Atlantic Railway for which they did not get paid. When by Act of Parliament the Grand Trunk Railway acquired the former road it assumed its obligations. The debt of Messrs. McDonald which by arbitration was fixed at $7,300, was eventually sued for and an execution was issued against the company for the amount and seizure made for the unpaid balances on a number of town lots which the Grand Trunk had sold in St. Lambert. Last week the plaintiffs seized the Grand Trunk coal pile, at Point St. Charles, in which are some 30,000 tons, and Mr. Hickson was appointed guardian. The railway company now fyles an opposition maintaining that under the Grand Trunk Railway arrangements Act of 1862 they are entitled to satisfy the debt, in bonds and stock of the company. This is of course not so satisfactory to Messrs. McDonald as cash. The debt has been on interest from Sept 1859, or 16 years, and with expenses will it is said now amount to nearly $15,000.

In the land swap case, Hon. Mr. Chapleau was under examination to-day and said he would not have consented to the Province losing any money in the matter if he had known that the Tanneries property was of much greater value than the farm for which it was swapped. Hon. Attorney General Church is confident the swap will be set aside. The case was adjourned to October for further hearing.

In the Guibord case the feeling is that the Mayor nor the city authorities have done their duty, and that till some arrests of rioters are made, the city's peace will be jeopardised. It is thought the cemetery ought to be guarded by a company of volunteers as roughs could easily surround the 20 men now up there. The keeper's house is being connected with the city by telegraph wires.

It is stated that a mass meeting of Conservatives will shortly be held to ratify the nomination of Thomas White, Jr. The Liberals are resting on their oars and waiting for what may turn up in regard to a candidate.

The financial situation has not improved during the past week, although no decided change is reported in the rates of interest.

The money market is more stringent. Business is quiet at the banks, but there has been no relief from the serious pressure on them. The stock market is weak, except for Jacques Cartier, which sold higher. Sales—Merchants, 100½ to 100¾; closing at 100 to 100½; Commerce, 126; closing, 125½ to 126½; Jacques Cartier, 33; closing, 32 to 35; Montreal, 188½; closing, 188½ to 188¾; Telegraph, 152 to 153.

MADOC.

The First Sod of the North Hastings Railway Turned.

MADOC, Sept. 10.—The first sod on the Belleville & North Hastings Railway was turned yesterday at White Lake near Madoc, in the township of Huntingdon, by Miss Wood, daughter of A. F. Wood, President of the road. After the sod was turned, the large gathering adjourned to a grove near by. After luncheon, which was provided by the company, speeches were made by some of the gentlemen present. Everything passed off satisfactorily, and the prospects are encouraging. There being a large force of men at work on the road, which will be pushed on with vigour.

McPANEE.

Rifle Matches.

NAPANEE, Sept. 10.—The second annual match of the Lennox and Addington Rifle Association opened yesterday. The firing commenced at noon. The wind blew in puffs across the ranges. The number of entries was 42. All Comers Match. Prize, $8 Paymaster Strachan, 47th Batt. 43 points; prize $7 Sergt. M. Strachan 47th Batt. 43 points; prize $6 James Loyst, 48th Batt. 43 points; prize $5 Robert McDonald 42 points; prize $4, Captain Hooper, N G R A. 40 points; prize $3 Sergt. Kincaid, 14th P. W. O. R. 39 points; prize $2 H. Rutten 39 points; prize $1 Lieut. Coburn, 15th A. L. I. 39 points. The ranges were 200, 400 and 600 yards; five rounds at each.

Twenty forts and a large number of provisional camps are being constructed in a circle about twelve miles from Paris, and will be completed in 1876, three years sooner than was anticipated.

SOUTH OXFORD.

Mr. Crooks Elected.

MAJORITY 303!

INGERSOLL, Sept. 10.—The Reform victory, which has all along been anticipated would be great, has been most sweeping. The Liberals accept the position very calmly, but to Mr. Hopkins and his party defeat, which from the beginning has stared them in the face if they would but see it, has come with stunning effect. Not that they had not made up their minds to it, but it is so crushing. Mr. Crooks has the magnificent majority of 303, which may be increased considerably on a more careful count. The demonstrations are to be of the quiet but well satisfied order.

LATER.

State of the Polls at the Close.

INGERSOLL, Sept 10.—The following are the majorities for the different townships: Ingersoll, Crooks majority 43; North Oxford 31; West Oxford 93; East Oxford, 9; North Norwich, 126; South Norwich, 64. Total 371. Tilsonburg, majority for Hopkins 35; Dereham, 33. Total 68. Total majority for Crooks, 303.

TORONTO

Bottom Upwards—Another Robbery—Remanded—Vessel Lost—Entered by Burglars—Relinquished his charge—The Son suspended—Reform candidate—Archbishop Lynch on the Guibord Case.

TORONTO, Sept. 10.—A schooner which arrived this morning states that she saw a yacht off Frenchman's Bay bottom upwards, which she believes to be the yacht Surprise, of Trenton, which left here for home after the late regatta.

Another robbery is reported to have taken place last night. This time the victims are Thomas May & Co., Wellington Street. The employees left at midnight, and at that time all was safe, but between then and daylight this morning silks and velvets of the best description were stolen to the amount of $1,500.

The three men arrested yesterday in connection with the brutal outrage of the Island were this morning remanded till to morrow, to await the recovery of the woman sufficiently to give her evidence.

The base ball match between the St. Lawrence Club, of Kingston, and the Maple Leafs, of Guelph, for the championship of Canada, which comes of to morrow, is looked forward to with considerable interest. The betting is about even, if anything slightly in favour of the Guelphs.

Last night Mr. R. W. Parkinson, owner of the tug Perry, received a telegram from Captain Stanley that that vessel had been

MR. CROOKS' ELECTION.

The election of Hon. Mr. Crooks, Treasurer of Ontario, by a large majority to represent South Oxford in the Assembly, was of course fully expected. The Tory prints admitted as much themselves, but every effort was nevertheless made to arouse sectional prejudices against him. He was denounced as a Toronto lawyer, whose sympathies were in favour of the cities as against the farmers, and his opponent based his claims to the support of the electors entirely upon the fact that he was a local man and personally conversant with agriculture. But Mr. Hopkins went further still in the attempt to alienate from Mr. Crooks the votes of Reformers, and promised a quasi support to Mr Mowat's Government — that is to say, to all their good measures All the scandals originated by the Mail with regard to the disposition made by Mr. Crooks of the municipal debentures were revived, added to, and industriously but quietly circulated. It was also made cause of great complaint that two Cabinet Ministers should represent adjoining constituencies, and a feeling on the subject adverse to Mr. Crooks was stimulated by the Opposition party with every assiduity. It was held to detract from Mr. Crooks' merit as a public man that he was defeated in Toronto—especially in Toronto, said the Tories, where they have the best opportunities of knowing his abilities and general character. In fact, no stone was left unturned, no prejudices not appealed to, in order to defeat the Treasurer, or at least reduce his majority to the smallest possible dimensions,—with what effect the return we publish in another column shows.

THE RECORD OF CRIME.

The proceedings of the criminal courts of this country, and the nature of the cases which they have before them, have of late been a horrible study, yet a study which is not without a grave interest. There has been a growing feeling in favour of greater leniency in the punishment of criminals, especially those of the more serious order, induced, no doubt, by the most humane feelings, and the fact ... not been without its effect upon ... offending classes. It would probably be a slight exaggeration to say that crime is growing more abundant in proportion to the population, but it would be none to say that there has been a manifest increase in those of the more brutal description. Abortion has evidently become a regular profession, which needs to be put down with a high hand, and in connection with it no further clemency can with safety be exercised. The results of the practice of one man in Toronto within a few weeks of the end of his career are in themselves perfectly appalling. What, it may well be asked, have in all probability been the fearful consequences, and how far-reaching, during the years over which that practice is well known to have extended? Had the body of Miss Gilmour not been found upon the roadside, had the murderers been successful in hiding away the evidences of their guilt according to the plan they had formed and were in the act of executing when they were disturbed by approaching noise, in all human likelihood two or three more would have gone the same way since, and it would have been believed for all time by the world that Catherine Laing of Hamilton died of typhoid fever. These were two victims of the abominable system who came to a horrible and violent death by the same hand and in the same house within a week or two of each other. "Dr." Davies and those in his line don't live upon nothing. On the contrary, they usually live well and make money, and to do so they must have extensive practice. How many unfortunates they send unprepared into eternity it is not permitted the outside world to know. It is clear, however, that no effort should be spared to stamp them out. If the Ontario Medical Association feel equal to the task, and succeed, the public will be prepared to pardon any apparent harshness or injustice which may here and there arise out of their prosecution of quacks, and the efforts of the Globe to influence public feeling against their proceedings will be fruitless. Indeed, the probability is that these will be fruitless anyhow.

It will be remarked also that the crime of rape, especially upon the persons of little children, and also the less aggravated offence of indecent assault, have been remarkably—we ought to say revoltingly—prevalent within the past few months. The first mentioned is in Canada a capital crime, although the extreme penalty is seldom, if ever, administered. The very prevalence of it shows how inadequate is the punishment, usually meted out to those who have been convicted. Let there be such examples made as will deter others from the perpetration of such horrible deeds. Of all the crimes in the calendar, this is probably that which reflects the greatest amount of disgrace upon society. Let it be put down with a strong hand also. As we have already said, it is a very humane and merciful feeling which induces men to appeal for leniency in favour of such hateful miscreants, but the exercise of that leniency, or indeed any relaxation from the stern letter of the law, but teaches the criminally inclined to regard with less dread the consequences of those acts which their gross passions and depraved dispositions inspire them to commit. The lash, with all its torture, when administered by a willing and powerful hand, is next to death the most appropriate reward for their brutality. It is probable there is no case of crime which reflects more deeply upon the demoniacal baseness of which some specimens of mankind can become capable, than that telegraphed from Toronto and published in the columns of this journal yesterday. That such a desperate tragedy should have occurred within a stone's throw of a Christian city like Toronto, and that it should have been continued without molestation to the perpetrators from early morning throughout the entire day, with a powerful magnifying glass taking in the whole scene, is perfectly incredible; but that four of those who were engaged in the deed should have escaped is still more extraordinary. It is scarcely conceivable that Mr. Ackroyd could have witnessed all this without feeling it his duty to inform the police, and still less conceivable, had the police been so informed, that they took no steps to prevent it, but quietly waited on shore till the ruffians should return. And then to let four of them slip. Out upon such justice as this! It is, of course, possible that the reports so far are exaggerated, but, making due allowance for all such possibilities, the case is a most extraordinary one, and calls for some mark of condemnation not usually resorted to. Justice and the credit of the country require that there should be no tenderness in dealing with demons in human form, such as the seven in question.

THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION.

The Total Entries.

From the Mail.

This morning we are enabled to complete our list of the entries for the approaching Provincial Exhibition. It shows the total number of entries to be 6,655, a falling off of 1,159 from the number for the exhibition last year in Toronto. Of course it was not expected that they would be as numerous at Ottawa as here, but if we compare them with those of the latest exhibition held in the eastern portion of the Province, viz: that at Kingston, in 1871, and make due allowance on the one hand for the comparative ease with which the great mass of the articles can be sent to Kingston, and on the other to the advantage which Ottawa possesses in point of time, it will be seen that the number of entries for the forthcoming show is gratifyingly large. The number of entries for that Kingston exhibition was 6,291.

On Friday next, the Secretary of the Agricultural and Arts Association, Mr. Hugh Thompson, will leave for Ottawa with his staff of assistants, so as to be on hand in good time to prepare for the work of the ensuing week. His staff will consist of Mr. R. L. Dennison, Jr., an experienced and courteous official, and of Messrs. Charles Wright and Robert Vanright two new hands.

The programme for the exhibition week is as follows:—

MONDAY, Sept. 20 will be devoted to the final receiving of articles for exhibition and their proper arrangement. Officers and members of the Association, judges, exhibitors, delegates, members of the press, and necessary attendants will be admitted on presenting the proper credentials, badge, or ticket of admission. Other persons will be admitted on payment of twenty-five cents each time. The rules for admission will be the same throughout the exhibition.

TUESDAY, 21—The judges in all the classes will meet in their respective committee rooms at ten a.m., and will make arrangements to commence their duties. On receiving the class books they will be also furnished with the blank prize tickets, which they shall fill up and affix in each section so soon as they shall have finally determined their awards. The first prize tickets will be red, the second blue, the third yellow, the fourth white, extras green, the "highly commended" and commended" tickets white. On completing the class the judges will report to the Secretary. The main exhibition building will be closed till four p.m., for the purpose of discharging their duties properly. Non-members admitted to the ground on payment of twenty-five cents each time. The annual meeting of the Fruit Growers' Association will take place at the Court-House at seven p.m.

WEDNESDAY, 22.—The judges of the various classes will complete their awards as early in the day as possible. All the buildings and grounds will be open to visitors. Admission the same as on Monday and Tuesday. The annual meeting of the Entomological Society will be held at 3 p.m. at the Court House. The annual meeting of the directors of the Provincial Agricultural Association, for the purpose of electing auditors, deciding upon the place of holding the next exhibition, and other business, will take place at 7 p.m., at the Court House

THURSDAY, 23.—Admission, 25 cents. The prize animals will be exhibited in the prize ring at 2 p.m. The annual meeting of the Mechanics' Institute Association will take place at the Court House this evening at 7 o'clock.

FRIDAY, 24.—Admission the same as on previous days, till 2 p.m. At 2 p.m., the exhibition will be considered officially closed, after which no one will be admitted into the Crystal Palace, and exhibitors may commence to take away their property.

SATURDAY 25.—The Treasurer will commence paying the premiums at 9 a.m. Exhibitors will remove all their property from the grounds and buildings The gates will be kept closed as long as necessary, so that none will be admitted except those who can show that they have business to attend to.

All the railways will issue return tickets to Ottawa to exhibitors, employees, &c., good from the 15th to the 28th inst., both inclusive for one fare, and to visitors they will sell tickets at single fare rates, good during the exhibition week only The St. Lawrence and Ottawa Railway Company have, for the convenience of exhibitors, constructed a landing for live stock at Billings' Bridge, about three-quarters of a mile from the show ground.

The Transportation of Peaches.

From the New York Journal of Commerce.

The shipment of a load of peaches from Philadelphia to Liverpool by the steamer Ohio, is a new venture in which we will have more faith when we hear of the safe arrival of the perishable cargo. This experiment is made under conditions as promising of success as any that could be desired. The fruit is loosely packed in crates and placed in the steerage, which for this occasion is converted into a vast refrigerator. It is surrounded by ice, which keeps the air at a uniform moderate temperature, while fans worked by steam supply a steady current of cool air. The peaches are all of good varieties—Reeve's Favourite, Oldmixon's and Crawford's Early—and were picked in the afternoon of the day before sailing. If they arrive out fresh, they will find a ready market at remunerative prices, and the tickled palates of the English people will crave a better acquaintance with the plump and juicy strangers. In that event, another year may see a large trade in peaches with England. The cost of fitting out steerages after the method of the Ohio is not great, and the rates of transportation are usually low in the season most productive of peaches. As for the effect of the new trade on the home market, that would not be considerable, peaches being generally a most abundant crop. This year they are rotting and thrown away by the thousands for lack of a ready sale at paying prices. New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland can supply enough of this delicious fruit for the United States, and all that England and the Continent are likely to get under the best possible system of transportation. There may be something in the free air of the ocean conducive to the preservation of grapes, for aught we know. But careful packing and cold temperature alone will not save them from decay. This is proved by the failure of the effort to land fresh peaches in Detroit, thirty-five hours from New York. Two car loads of peaches were sent to that point lately on speculation. The cars were patent refrigerators, well supplied with ice, and thought to be fully equal to the test. On their arrival at Detroit the peaches were in an advanced state of decay. The failure is ascribed to the melting of a large part of the ice It is now said that the peaches should have been re-packed in ice at Albany and then at Suspension Bridge. Perhaps that would have saved them and perhaps not. One good result has come from the trials made this year to extend the area of the peach market. Boston has been made to pay tribute to the Delaware peach growers. By fast trains, in cars built for the purpose, the Delaware peaches are now delivered in Boston in prime condition. This is quite an important development of trade for Delaware, the receipts in peaches at Boston alone from that source last week having been about 29,000 crates.

BOOK NOTICES.

We are in receipt of a copy of the regular semi annual extra edition of the American Grocer, a 32 page trade journal, published weekly at 141 Chambers street, New York, for $4 a year. The American Grocer has won a deservedly high place among commercial papers by the fullness and accuracy of its market reports and prices current, embracing all kinds of merchandise and country produce, as well as for its bold and successful advocacy of trade reforms in the interest of honesty and fair dealing among merchants. It is proving an invaluable assistant to dealers throughout the country, in giving them information concerning qualities and prices of goods. The specimen copy sent us is printed with an illuminated cover, and presents a very handsome appearance.

The Chinese in four own country used to eat their opium chiefly from India, but latterly they have consumed a native article, which is said to be less rapidly enervating in its effect. Indeed, the British Consul at Canton, Mr. Robertson, asserts with regard to the latter: "The truth is, it is a stimulant of a harmless character when used, as it generally is, moderately; and to those much exposed to the weather, such as boat people, it is a necessity. That it may be abused is probable, but excess carries with it, among the Chinese, the same amount of moral degradation as inebriety does with us."

Hasty Consumption Cured by Follows' Hypophosphites.

CARBONEAR, NEWFOUNDLAND, Jan. 3, 1871
Mr. JAMES I. FELLOWS.

DEAR SIR—I came to this country in May, 1869. I found a countryman of mine laboring under an affection of the lungs. I recommended your Syrup, tried at the druggists in Harbor Grace, but they thought I was inventing the name at their expense. However, in April, 1870, Mr. Edgar Joyce rapidly wasted away with every symptom of quick consumption so that he was unable to walk across the room, having no appetite, pains in the left side, nervous system unstrung, dry hacking cough, &c. Fortunately I learned that your Syrup could be obtained at Mr. Dearin's in St. John's, and immediately procured some, (showed one to W. H. Thompson, who ordered a supply from you at once). This was Tuesday afternoon; at night he took the prescribed dose, and in the morning he described the very results notified on the wrapper. His appetite soon began to return, and a voracious one it was, too; the dry, hacking cough changed into loose but violent attacks, finally disappearing altogether; pains left his side, his hand resumed its usual steadiness, and before he finished ten bottles his health was quite restored, and to-day not a more healthy person is to be found on our streets; and it is the opinion of all had he not been fortunate in getting your valuable Syrup of Hypophosphites, he would now be in his grave.

He happened to be in W. H. Thompson's the day your first shipment arrived, and took at once four bottles to the Labrador, which he was very anxious to do, but had no occasion to use them himself. No other medicine will he ever prescribe, recommend, or give but yours.

I also recommended it to another consumptive, but have not heard from him since, as he lives in a distant part of the Island. Hoping this will give you some encouragement,

I remain, yours, &c.,
D. H. BURRIS.

ALEX. ROBERTSON,
412 Rideau St., or "Standard Office," Ottawa.

From A. McNab, Esq., President of the Provincial Agricultural and Arts Association.

SIR,—I have no hesitation in giving your proposed Hand Book my hearty approval, believing it to be interesting to the public generally and particularly to the agriculturists of the Dominion. Yours, etc.,

ARCH'D. McNAB.

A. ROBERTSON, Esq., Ottawa.

From the Hon D. Christie, Speaker of the Senate, and late President of the Upper Canada Provincial Agricultural Association.

MY DEAR SIR,—I have read your letter with great interest and have pleasure in stating my hearty approval of your scheme. In publishing a "Provincial Exhibition Hand-book." It will be a work of real value to visitors to the Exhibition, as a reference. I hope you will meet with sufficient encouragement to justify a yearly publication of the Hand-Book.

I remain, yours very truly,
D. CHRISTIE.

ALEX. ROBERTSON, Esq.

Echo raged by the hearty approval of Mr. McNab, Hon. Mr. Christie, Hon. M. Cameron, Hon. Mr. Skead, Ira Morgan, Esq., and many other gentlemen of distinction, it is intended to copy-right, and under the title of the "Provincial Exhibition Annual," and intend to make of it a yearly publication in connection with our Provincial Exhibitions.

ALEX. ROBERTSON.

$500 REWARD

Will be paid by the Corporation of the City of Ottawa to any person or persons (not being the actual perpetrator or perpetrators of the offence) who will give such information as will lead to the detection and conviction of the person or persons who are alleged to have murdered one Edward Burns in this city on the twenty-fifth day of August, 1875.

WM. H. WALLER,
Acting Mayor.

Ottawa, Sept. 8, 1875. 3939

NOTICE.

The Corporation of the City of Ottawa will apply to the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, at its next session for an act to enable the said Corporation to mortgage the By-ward Market property in the City of Ottawa, for the purpose of raising the necessary sum of money to complete the new market building in said By-ward.

Ottawa, Sept. 7, 1875. W. P. LETT,
City Clerk.

NOTICE is hereby given that application will be made at the ensuing Session of the Ontario Legislature for an Act to further amend the Act (36 Vic. cap. 97) to incorporate L'Institut Canadien Français de Ottawa, and the Act (37 Vic., cap. 159) amending the same; so as to extend the powers of said Association hereafter to hold any sum of money by way of loan, for the purpose of building a hall or halls for the instruction of the members and also for building on any spot in the City of Ottawa, other than the site of the present Hall, should the members think proper to do so.

BUSINESS NOTICES

KING'S MOUNTAIN.—For people to allow disease to become seated upon them rather than consult a physician, or to suffer as many do for years with the different kinds of piles, without going at once to the drug store for Fowle's Pile and Humor Cure, which is an infallible cure. 3729

SKIN DISEASES, of whatever nature, are completely eradicated by the use of Fowle's Pile and Humour Cure; its effect is marvellous for Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Ring Worm, and even Leprosy; it has proved itself an almost never failing cure. (See special notice.) 3733

HOUSE KEEPERS! If you desire to get a good table tea call on Baskerville & Bros. and have them to select for you. If the tea is not pleasing to your taste they will refund the money for what you return. Their wines, liquors and general groceries are of the best brand.

People's Tea Store,
36 Rideau street.

HEMORRHOIDS (or PILES) are permanently cured by Mathieu's Pile Ointment, or money refunded. Price $1 per pot, or six pots for $5. Sold wholesale and retail by the Wingate Chemical Company, Montreal, and retail by all druggists, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by Dr. E. Mathieu, 198 Notre Dame street, Montreal. 3742

HORSES SAVED.—The lives of thousands of horses have been saved during the past year, and the credit is due to "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." This preparation is being extensively used, and exacts from all the highest praise. Nothing of the kind has ever before been half as successful, or given such universal satisfaction; it cannot be equalled. We can confidently recommend it, and would advise all who own horses to keep a supply of it on hand—it may be the means of saving your horse's life. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co., is on each package. Northrup & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medical dealers. 3796

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have with stood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P.Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and since then had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. B. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and find it is equally as good for horses as for man."—A. Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one and all, the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throat, &c. . . is worthy of the greatest confidence." Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes: "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which trouble me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit." A. Mr. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes: "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee, of this place, induced me to try Electric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine.

Sold by all medicine dealers, price 25 cents.

NOTE.—Electric—Selected and Eclectic used.

JOB MOSES FEMALE PILLS.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and altough a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics and Whites, those Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain free, of the agent, a pamphlet, or refer to advertisement.

JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.

$1, and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ontario, general agents for the Dominion, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

For sale by all druggists.

Dr. Pierce.

From the Toledo Blade.

"Success is never achieved without merit. A man may make a poor article and sell it once, and there being 40,000,000 people in the United States, the sale to each one would be enough to make a decent fortune. But an article that holds the field year after year, and the sales of which increase regularly and rapidly, must have absolute merit.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., occupies our entire eighth page to-day with his various articles. We admit it, because we know the Doctor, and know of his articles. We know him to be a regularly educated physician, whose diploma hangs on the wall of his office, and we know that he has associated with him several of the most eminent practioners in the country. We know that parties consult him, by mail and in person, from all the states in the Union every day, and that they are fairly and honestly dealt with.

This grand result has been accomplished by two agencies,—good, reliable articles—articles which, once introduced, work easily their own way—and splendid business management. They have succeeded because they ought to have succeeded."

If you would patronize Medicine, scientifically prepared by a skilled Physician and Chemist, use Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines. Golden Medical Discovery is nutritious, tonic, alterative, and blood-cleansing, and an unequaled Cough Remedy; Pleasant Purgative Pellets, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, constitute an agreeable and reliable physic; Favorite prescription, a remedy for debilitated females; Extract of Smart Weed, a magical remedy for Pain, Bowel Complaints, and an unequaled Liniment for both human and horse flesh; while his Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy is known the world over as the greatest specific for Catarrh and "Cold in the Head" ever given to the public. They are sold by druggists.

A SUFFERER.—CURED BY THE GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

DR. R. V. PIERCE:

Dear Sir,—Twenty years ago I was shipwrecked on the Atlantic Ocean, and the cold and exposure caused a large abscess to form on each leg, which kept continually discharging. I was attended by doctors in Liverpool, Havre, New Orleans, New York, and at the hospital on Staten Island (where the doctors wanted to take one leg off.) Finally, after spending hundreds of dollars, I was persuaded to try your "Golden Medical Discovery," and now, in less than three months after taking the first bottle, I am thankful to say that I am completely cured, and for the first time in ten years can put my left foot to the ground. I am at home nearly every evening and shall be glad to satisfy any person or the truth of this information. I am, sir, yours respectfully,

The Montreal Proprietary School has been established to provide a liberal education similar to that given in the Public Schools of England. The course of instruction, however, will not be exclusively classical, and boys will be specially prepared either for the University and Professions or for Commercial Life.

Most eligible premises have been purchased for the School in McTavish street, one of the most healthful localities in the city, and immediately adjoining the grounds of the McGill University.

The course of instruction will include Latin, Greek, Mathematics, French, German, Arithmetic, Writing, English Grammar, Literature and Composition, History and Geography, both Ancient and Modern, Natural Philosophy, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, Gymnastics and Drilling.

A limited number of boys will be received by the Principal as Boarders or Weekly Boarders and, with the view of keeping the pupils from improper influences, it is strongly recommended that all be entered as Boy Boarders, who will dine in the house of the Principal.

Further particulars can be obtained from the Secretary, J. W. Holmes, Esq., 78 Victoria street, to whom all applications for admission must be made.

The School will open on MONDAY, the 12th of April, and will be carried on for a few days at 78 Victoria street, the new premises not being quite completed. 3815

INCLUDING THOSE DEDICATED BY THE MANUFACTURER

TO

Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Dufferin.

These Paperhangings are imported direct from the best Manufacturing Establishments in England, France and United States. Great care has been taken in their selection with regard to colour. The ground tones are soft and pleasing to the eye, especially those toned with silver mica; but above all, they are free from the mineral poisons that many of the tawdry-coloured Paperhangings of the day are surcharged with. The Subscriber's long experience as a colourist, and being thoroughly acquainted with the chemical compound of the pigments used in Painting, enables him to reject, in his selection of Paperhangings, those coloured with poisonous pigments, so deleterious to health. The Public are respectfully invited to examine his STOCK of WALL PAPER before purchasing elsewhere.

As the undersigned is going out of the Room Paper Business as soon as his present Stock is disposed of, the Goods will be Sold at the Lowest Remunerating Prices.

LACHINE

Canal Enlargement.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sealed Tenders addressed to the Secretary of Public Works, and endorsed "Tender for the Lachine Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western mails on THURSDAY the fifteenth day of September next, for the enlargement of this canal, consisting of the widening and deepening of the channel from near the new basin east of Wellington Street bridge, upwards, to the river St. Lawrence at Lachine, embracing the construction of new locks at St. Gabriel and Côte St. Paul, also the taking down and rebuilding the upper portions of the present locks at these places; building regulating weirs, culverts, bridge piers; the construction of a new entrance lock at Lachine, and the formation of a channel and basin on the south or river side of the existing entrance.

The works will be let in sections of the respective lengths indicated on a map of the line, which, together with plans and specification lists of the various works, can be seen at this office, and at the Lachine Canal Office, Montreal, on and after Friday, the 13th day of September next, at either of which places Printed forms of Tender can be obtained.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that Tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and—in the case of firms—except where attached to the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same; and further, as accepted bank cheque, or other available security, for the sum of from one to three thousand dollars, according to the extent of work on the section, must accompany each Tender, by which shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines or fails to enter into contract for the works, when called upon to do so, at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The amount required in each case will be stated on the form of Tender.

The cheque or money thus sent in, will be returned to the respective parties whose Tenders are not accepted.

For the due fulfilment of the contract, satisfactory security will be required on real estate, or by deposit of money, public or municipal securities, or bank stock, to the amount of five per cent on the bulk sum of the contract, of which the sum sent in with the Tender will be considered a part.

Ninety per cent only of the progress estimates will be paid until the completion of the works.

To each Tender must be attached the actual signatures of two responsible and solvent persons, residents of the Dominion, willing to become sureties for the carrying out of these conditions, as well as the due performance of works embraced in the contract.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any Tender.

By Order,
F. BRAUN,
Secretary

Department of Public Works, Ottawa, 9th August, 1875.

OTTAWA BUSINESS COLLEGE.—This institution, established in this city in 1866, has lost none of its old prestige for a first-class commercial education. It is conducted by D. McArthur & Co., to whom all applications, as to terms &c., must be made.

THE WESTERN BLOCK.—The contract for the completion of the Western Block Extension has been awarded as follows: Masonry to Mr. J. W. Webster, Carpentry and Joiner Work to Messrs. Beckett and Aspell, Plastering to Mr. J. Strachan.

GOOD FEELING.—The members of the Foot Guards' Band kindly offered their services to play at the party given by the popular Band President, Major W. White, to the officers now taking part in the rifle matches. The Major is greatly respected by the bandsmen.

RETURNED.—Mr. W. P. Lett, City Clerk, who has been enjoying a few days recreation from the labours pertaining to his office, in duck shooting, has returned. He has been somewhat disappointed in his expedition and says the sport is not as good as in past years.

CONVALESCENT.—Mr. Greggson, the contractor who was confined to his house for several days through rough treatment received at the hands of one Condell, has at last so far recovered as to be able to be out. The matter will be fully ventilated to-day in the Police Court.

PLEASE leave your orders for stove piping now at Esmonde's. 3940tf

NEW BY WARD MARKET.—The contract for the new Market Building in By Ward has been signed by Mr. Donald Masson, and ground will be broken to-day. It is expected the building will be roofed by the first day of January next and ready for occupation by the first of May following.

RESURGAM.—The Cigar business formerly carried on by Mr. Buffy, corner of Sussex and Rideau Streets, has been resumed under the management of Mr. A. Tannenheiz. The choicest brands of cigars, tobacco, and pipes of every description will be found there, at purchasable rates.

NEW BRASS BAND.—Steps have been taken by the members of Lodge No. 41 of Orange Young Britons to organize a new brass band in connection with the order. So far their endeavours have been attended with success, as a large amount has been subscribed in furtherance of the object.

BROADWAY TAILORING.—Mr. P. C. Auclair, who has moved his Broadway Tailoring and General Outfitting Establishment to Wellington street, opposite St. Andrew's church, is now open with a complete assortment of cloths suitable for the fall and winter trade. Those desirous of securing a good fit and a well made suit should give Mr. Auclair a call.

NORMAL SCHOOL APPOINTMENTS.—The following gentlemen have been appointed to subordinate positions on the staff of Masters of the new Normal School:—Writing and Bookkeeping, Mr. J. McKay, of Brantford; Music, Mr W. G. Workman, Ottawa; Drawing, Mr. J. Foster, of Ottawa. The institution organises for work on Wednesday next the 15th inst., but the official opening will not take place till the 21st inst.

THE LICENSE QUESTION.—This almost interminable legal question was up again before Judge Ross yesterday morning. Mr. Bell appeared for the prosecution and Mr. Gibb for the defendants. Judge Ross stated that he had not yet fully investigated some legal points that were raised, and was, consequently, not quite ready to deliver judgment. He, therefore, adjourned the case till Tuesday next, when the matter will in all probability be finally decided.

HEAVY WIND STORM.—One of the heaviest wind storms that has visited this section of country for years took place at an early hour yesterday morning. Frail tenements were forced to yield to its sway, and signs and shutters lay scattered around the city yesterday morning in every direction. News of its devastating effects in the surrounding district have also come to hand, the details of which are not yet known. It has occasioned a decided change in the atmosphere from the sultry weather of the last few days.

GUARDS' BAND.—The Band of the G. G. F. G's will give two more open air concerts this season, and on the last Wednesday of this month the Band gives a Grand Concert and Social, in the Rink Music Hall. It is to be hoped that the kind efforts of the bandsmen in providing these weekly concerts during the summer months will be duly appreciated, citizens attending en masse at the Music Hall on Wednesday, Sept. 29th, at 7:30 p. m. The Band will play a select programme from 7:30 to 8:30, after which Marier's splendid Quadrille Band will play for dancing. Tickets can be had from the members of the Band.

THE HARVEST.—The crops in this section of the country are later in harvesting than usual, but this has not deteriorated in any way from the abundance of cereals and other products. Fall wheat was slightly winter killed, but sufficient has been harvested to make it an average crop. The hay crop will exceed general expectations. Spring wheat is now nearly harvested and exceeds an average yield. The coarse grains are a full crop, and with a little more fine weather will be securely harvested. Root crops are also said to be good, even potatoes, notwithstanding the prevalence of the Colorado beetle, will be over the average of other years. It was thought the recent rains would have proved fatal to the work of harvest, but at the time most spring cereals were not ripe and consequently no injury was done. The fine weather that has since set in has enabled farmers to secure their crops with little or no loss.

Dominion of Canada Rifle Association.

FOURTH DAY.

At four o'clock yesterday morning Jupiter Pluvius shed his tears most plenteously over the face, so far as Ottawa was concerned, and more especially bestowing his aqueous blessings over the neighborhood of the Rideau Rifle Range. It rained and blew like great guns, and the dwellers in tents, who chose rather to stop on the field under canvas, were very much like Artemus Ward when he got his "moral shu" demoralized at Utica, N. Y. They "—hed they hadn't kum," but the rain came nevertheless, and that there was no doubt about. No trenches had been dug around the tents, and the consequence was that those pitched on the slope of the hill were nearly inundated, and a bedstead raised about eighteen inches from the ground would have been worth that fabulous value generally attached to the visual organ of an Israelite Vulgus, a Jew's eye. Fortunately, however, there was a plentiful supply of blankets, and Gunner Stackpole of the O. F. B., an old campaigner, managed to keep himself and his comrades dry, inside at least, although there was anything but a drought outside (this is sarcastic). About six o'clock the wind was due north, and held that way until ha f-past eight, when the gun fired, then it chopped round to the N.N.W., and after that throughout the day it blew in fitful gusts, sometimes amounting to a whole gale of wind from all points of the compass, so that it was next to impossible for the best of marksmen to make sure of making their accustomed average of points. Although a visit to the range was one which anyone had they not business to transact there, would not have cared to undertake. Those who had on all the warm days taken their overcoats with them, and had left them at home, found themselves something in the fix of the Dutch Skipper when he wanted his lower anchor—non est when most needed! It was bitterly cold and the shelter of the tents and the marquees was most diligently sought, and a friendly shelter it was. The most cheering results of the firing at the pool target on the previous day, brought comfort to the heart of Gunner Gray of the O tawa Field Battery, who scored three bull's eyes out of six shots. The consequence was that he realized 99 points on each occasion he literally "made his mark," in the proper place. In yesterday morning's report it was stated that Ontario and Quebec, in the Provincial Match, had tied—so they did in point of numbers, each scoring 330 points, but on the score being revised it was found that Quebec had come out three points ahead, they having made the best score at the longest range, although the numbers were the same. This puts Quebec in the premier place instead of being equal with the sister Province. The first event of the day was commenced under most adverse circumstances, old Boreas being more than ordinarily blustering, and the shooting made was not up to the average, some of the best men being at fault. At half-past twelve o'clock the gun fired for the noontide meal. The lunch in the staff tent was presided over by Col. Worsley, the vice chair being occupied by Major White, G.F.F.G. Speeches were dispensed with, business being the order of the day. So soon as the luncheon was finished, the firing for the following match, which commenced in the morning, was resumed with the following results:

THE M'DOUGALL CUP

Sergt. Mitchell of the 13th Battalion will receive a full-sized photograph of the cup, and on the latter will be inscribed his name. The present is the second time Mitchell has won the cup, but unfortunately for him, ill health precluded him from competing the two years consecutively, hence, he for the present is not the absolute owner of the cup, which he would have been had he made the top score last year.

THE SECOND STAGE OF THE DOMINION MATCH, 500 AND 600 YARDS—FIVE SHOTS AT EACH RANGE.

1st. Lieut.-Col. Morris, 71st, N.B.....		40
2nd. Pte. Murison, 13th Batt.....		40
3rd. Capt. Anderson, 10th, Batt.....		38

This finished the day's work, which had to be commenced yesterday at 8:30 a.m. The weather throughout the day was very cold and not at all to be agreeably compared with that of the previous ones. A nasty chilly north wind prevailed and it neither contributed to the comfort or the equanimity of the temper of either competitor or spectators.

FIRE ON RIDEAU STREET.

Nearly a Serious Conflagration.

A fire broke out near the corner of Rideau and Nicholas streets between 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday, which at its inception threatened to be a rather serious affair. It originated in the carving and gilder's shop of Messrs. Cockburn and Mathieson, wher a large fire had been put in a stove to melt some glue, which the men intended using when they returned to work after dinner. They had not gone long, when flames burst out in regular volumes from the upper flat of the building. The alarm having been given, No. 3 reel was promptly on the spot, and was soon followed by the other appliances of the brigade. Chief Young soon had his men to work, when the fire was speedily extinguished, in less than 15 minutes the place was completely deluged, so much so that there was perhaps more injury done by water than fire. The alacrity with which the firemen got to work saved the city at least a $20,000 fire, for the entire block would have inevitably succumbed to a fearful conflagration, under the old fire system. As it was only some four or five merchants partially suffered. Mr. Friedrick the owner of the building will be a loser to the extent of about $800 on house and stock. His stock which is a somewhat valuable one is insured in the Victoria Mutual for $1,200, and the Beaver Mutual for $1,200, and the house in the Provincial for $600. Cockburn and Mathieson's loss will amount to about $400, but their stock was insured for $1,100 in the Toronto Mutual. The roof of Mr. Yielding's building adjoining also took fire and for a time looked bad. The parties occupying it, however, suffered more from water than from fire. Mr. Turner, who occupied the top flat as a photographic gallery, sustained considerable loss, and was insured. Mr. Johnston, who occupied one of the shops below, is a loser to the extent of $400 by water and removal of stuff, but he has an insurance in the Stadacona of $500. Mr. Stott, who keeps a fruit store in the adjoining shop, escaped with very little damage, and luckily for him as he was uninsured. Just as the fire was out a second alarm was sounded from Dalhousie street, and the rapidity with which the reels were again under way excited the astonishment of all present. There was however no occasion for their services at the second place. The steamers "Conqueror" and "John Heney" were also out at the first fire and rendered valuable assistance. If any fault was to be found it was putting the whole brigade to work, without leaving a reserve in case of an emergency, as might have been in the sounding of the second alarm

A SECOND FIRE.

An alarm was sounded from Box 62, shortly after eight o'clock last night, for a fire in rear of an unoccupied dwelling near St. Anne's Church. The early arrival of the reels upon the scene, prevented any thing more than the kitchen being partly burned. The fire is said to be the result of incendiarism

A THIRD FIRE.

Shortly after ten o'clock the city was again startled with an alarm of fire from Box 41. A very short while revealed the fact that it was in McCaffrey's hotel adjoining the Market Square. It would seem that some of the servants allowed some clothes in a wardrobe in the upper flat of the building to catch fire, which, had not an early discovery been made, might have ended in the entire building being consumed. The burning clothes were hurled out on the Market Square, where they were allowed to burn out. The services of the brigade were deemed unnecessary, and they consequently returned to their several stations. The loss is estimated at $500.

FALSE ALARM.—An alarm of fire was rung from Box 17, on the Richmond road, shortly after midnight last night, but apparently for mischief. When the box was examined it was found open, and no clue could be got to the perpetrator of this vile trick. It only proves the necessity of placing keys in the hands of responsible parties.

FIRE IN ARNPRIOR.

Loss $75,000—Insurance $10,000.

A serious fire has been raging all night in Arnprior, in McLachlan Brothers' steam saw mill and lumber piles. A telegram came to Acting Mayor Waller last night, about eight o'clock, praying for help. He immediately consulted with some of the Aldermen whom he met, when it was decided to send the "John Heney" up by a special train, secured by Messrs. E. McGillivray and the Cashier of the B. N. A. Bank. The Mayor and Alderman Robertson drove to the Chaudiere, and with the assistance of Alderman David endeavoured to obtain the assistance of the "Union" steamer, but the owners were afraid to let her go. The 'Chaudiere" steamer is at present without her suction, it having been out of repair. Ald. Birkett and Chief Young in the meantime had the "John Heney" ready and up at the Canada Central depot in less than half an hour. In the absence of Capt. McCaffrey, who is at present down at Caledonia Springs, Mr. D J O'Donoghue, M.P.P., took charge of the steamer and a detachment of the company which accompanied her to her destination. Alderman Birkett also proceeded to Arnprior in his capacity of Chairman of the Fire and Light Committee. Although fully 8:30 p. m. before the train left, they reached Arnprior at 10 o'clock, and immediately got to work. It would seem, however, that the fire has got great headway, and further assistance has been demanded by the authorities of the village. As we write, Chief Young has the "Conqueror" ready, pending a call from Ald. Birkett. The destructive character of the fire can easily be imagined, when the loss thus far is put at $75,000. The insurance is only given as $10,000.

Gold opened at 115¾, and closed at 116¼. State bonds dull and nominal; railroad and Governments firm and strong. Erie was carried, and after selling at 19¼, declined to 18¾ on a break in London. The whole market was weak in late dealings, closing at a decline of from ¼ to 1¼ per cent under the highest quotations of the day.

The Italian Senate is about to sit in judgment on one of its members, Signor Satriano, a Neapolitan. Many years ago he borrowed 20,000 fire from a lady living in Cosenza in Calabria. On her demanding repayment two or three years ago they had an interview. It is alleged that the creditor brought a receipt unsigned, and that Satriano got possession of this, and on returning home forged the lady's signature. She sued Satriano, who produced the forged receipt. Experts hesitated as to the genuineness of the signature, but Signors Satriano, who apparently possesses properly separate from her husband, intervened and paid the money. This put an end to the suit, but the Senate will now investigate the matter.

Invalids! Attention!
Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Digestive Organs, Dropsy, Diseases of the Skin, Affections of the Liver and Urinary Organs are positively cured by using the water for a few weeks.

Rheumatics! Read!
Hundreds of Rheumatics have been cured by the Sulphur Baths. Suffering is alleviated by the first, and cripples throw away their crutches after about half-a-dozen baths.

TESTIMONIALS.

"Montreal, 28th July, 1876.
"I hereby certify that I entertain a very favorable opinion of the baths and Waters of the Caledonia Springs in many forms of disease among which I would especially mention chronic Rheumatism, the sequelæ of Gout, Neuralgia, some of the varieties of cutaneous disease, Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, and in carefully selected cases, some of the diseases of the Kidney and Bladder.
(Signed) GEO. W. CAMPBELL, A.M., M.D.
Dean of the Medical Faculty, McGill College."

Dr. Wm. Robertson, of Montreal, wrote as follows, in 1839:—But the disease above all in which the action of the water is most decided is Rheumatism. . . . I have known a few individuals who suffered much from improper use of mercury who were restored to health by the use of the waters.

ACCOMMODATIONS.
A magnificent new hotel, capable of accommodating 500 guests, will be opened on June 1st for the accommodation of visitors. The grounds have been improved and beautified, and every means for amusement and exercise provided. The trip thither by the Ottawa River is most enjoyable, and a railroad from the river to the Springs is in course of construction. Until the railroad is built, comfortable carriages will be in waiting at the wharf for the conveyance of visitors to the Springs. The distance of the Springs from Montreal and Ottawa respectively is 60 and 50 miles.
Mr. W. CHAMPNESS will open a good Livery Stables, providing good carriages, horses, saddles, &c. There is a good race-course on the property of the Company.
The PANACEAN WATERS of these Springs will yet make Caledonia the greatest resort in the world for health and pleasure seekers. Thousands of testimonials might be procured, but the reputation of the Springs renders it unnecessary to do so.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Financial.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The Times in its financial article this morning has the following paragraph:—The defalcations of the secretary of Hooper's Telegraph Works, which were announced yesterday, consist in the forging and negotiation of a bill for $35,000. This appears to have brought matters to a crisis. We believe an appeal will be at once made to the shareholders, there being no more capital to call up.

GERMANY.

Betrothed to a Civil Servant.

BERLIN, Sept. 11.—The daughter of Prince Bismarck has been betrothed to Count Vendlesuenlenberg, of the Prussian Civil Service.

TURKEY.

The Belgrade Row—Mediation Offered.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 11.—The foreign consuls acting as mediators will leave Mostar to-day, and endeavour to see the insurgent leaders, when they will inform them that there is no hope of any foreign aid, and will advise them to submit their grievances to Servian Pasha. The consuls will reassemble again on Wednesday or Thursday at Holatz, and will inform Servian Pacha of the result of their mission. If the result is unsatisfactory Servian Pacha will issue a proclamation promising redress of all grievances on condition that the insurgents submit within a certain time.

The Turkish Insurrection—Turkish Massacre of the Bosnians.

BELGRADE, September 12.—Skuptscheina has elected a committee to draft a reply to the speech of the Prince at Milan; this committee is wholly composed of members of the party of action, but the Government is privately using its influence for a moderate address. Skuptscheina has laid on the table a Bosnian petition for aid. One thousand Turks recently encountered sixty Bosnians and killed them all.

ITALY.

The Celebration of Michael Angelo's Birthday—Honour to the Memory of a Great Painter.

FLORENCE, Sept. 11.—To-morrow will be the first day of the festival commemorating the 400th birthday of Michael Angelo. The celebration will last three days, and will include services at the tomb of the great artist, and the inauguration of a monument in a square to bear his name.

ROME, Sept. 11.—There has been many arrivals here to-day of distinguished Italians and foreigners to attend the celebration to-morrow, marking the occurrence of the four hundreth birthday of Michael Angelo.

SPAIN.

More Difficulties—The Carlists at it Again.

MADRID, Sept. 11.—Dissensions have arisen among the so-called Conciliation Coalition Cabinet Council of six hours' time duration. The members were unable to agree notwithstanding the efforts of Canovas Del Castillo to prevent rupture. The whole Ministry have resigned. It is believed that Senor Malinos, the Spanish Ambassador at Paris, has also resigned. It is probable that Senor Canovas Del Castillo will form another Cabinet, and that only changes will be made in the Ministers of Justice, Public Works and Foreign Affairs.

NEW YORK.

The Erie Railroad.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Judge West Crooks decision denying the motion on behalf of J. Richards and John Livingston to vacate the election of the Erie Railroad Directors held July 13th 1874, was filed in the County Clerk's office to-day.

Banking House Suspended.

The Evening Post, announces the suspension this morning of the banking firm of F. Schyard & Son.

Turkish Village Burned and Turks Massacred—War Inevitable.

A special to the Herald from Cettinge Lontegro says, all the country between Servia and Montelgro is in full revolt. Fully 10,000 insurgents have taken the field. The towns of Priserpol and Plealie have been sacked. All the Turkish villages have been burned and the Turks massacred. The Christian inhabitants have taken refuge in the mountains. The Turkish troops are demoralized and the insurrection is spreading on all sides. Montenegro is prepared for war, and the wildest enthusiasm prevails. A general war is regarded as inevitable.

CHICAGO.

A Sad Lake Disaster—Several Persons Drowned—The Result of the late Gale.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11th.—A terrible disaster occurred on Lake Michigan early yesterday morning, and which has just been reported here. The propeller Equinox on her way from Chicago to Bay City (Michigan) with salt, and towing the schooner Emma E. Ways, with lumber, was overtaken by the storm about two o'clock yesterday morning, near Point au Sable, 280 miles north of Chicago. Capt. Woodworth of the Equinox came to the stern of the propeller at that time and called out to cut the lines. This was done, and the propeller careened and sunk in a few minutes. She had on board a crew of 19 men and Capt. Dwight Scott, of Cleveland, a well known lake captain, who was accompanied by his wife and granddaughter, making 22 persons in all. The first intimations the schooner had of the catastrophe were the shrieks of the drowning. The Ways could render no assistance whatever on the terrible sea running at the time, and the crew of the Equinox went down. The schooner arrived here this morning.

The Equinox Disaster Twenty-five Lives Lost.

The Equinox, which met such a terrible fate, was owned by the Grand Trunk and Sarnia Line. The vessel is very old, and rated very low in point of safety. In 1873 the Company overhauled her, and put work upon her to the amount of about $13,000, and was valued at from $26,000 to $30,000; the insurance, if any, is not known. Besides a large cargo of salt, nearly 6,000 barrels, there was a deck load of lumber, more than she was capable of carrying. Her engineer, Preston, had protested against overloading her, but was induced to go with the vessel in spite of his conviction that she was unsafe. The cargo is valued at $8,000. It is believed there 24 or 25 persons on board, and it is believed that not one could have been saved.

CINCINNATI.

Large Fire—$35,000 Damage—$18,000 Insurance.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 12.—A large fire this morning destroyed Parker & Harrisons Spice mill on Kall street between Vine and Walnutt street. Loss $35,000. Insurance $18,000.

MONTREAL.

Accidentally Shot—Mr. Cotte Arrested—Libel Suit Settled—Petitions to the Queen—The Guibord Case—Lacrosse Match—Insolvency—Three Rivers Election—Robbers Arrested—&c., &c.

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—This afternoon a son of Charles Selby, cashier at the Custom House, was fatally shot on Nun's Island. He seems to have been in company with several other youths who had fire arms. The shot which proved fatal to young Selby was accidental.

Honore Cotte, late cashier of the Jacques Cartier Bank was again arrested this afternoon. This time his arrest is at the instance of the Federal Government, which charges him with issuing false monthly reports, thereby deceiving the public. The prisoner was liberated on bail, on furnishing two securities, Mr. P. E. LeClaire and his father, Mr. P. E. Cotte, for £500 each, and giving his personal recognisance for £100.

A St Paul Street huxter has lost a young wife who disappeared two days ago with an old acquaintance.

The action for damages by Victor Hudon against the Sun has been settled, the proprietors of the latter paying costs.

The petitions begging the Queen to respect the rights of her Catholic subjects in the Province of Quebec, and allow the Privy Council decree to rest pro forma as concerns Guibord, will be circulated tomorrow for signatures.

Nothing has yet been done in regard to the arrest of the ringleaders in the late riot. Several of them have cleared out. Paquette was seen at an early hour one morning last week, driving out along the Back River road on his cart laden with provisions. Being asked where he was going at such an early hour, he made an evasive reply. Mr. Doutre, while arguing the case in the Court of Appeals to-day, in referring to the pretensions of the Corporation of Montreal, said he believed in the supremacy of the Court over the Corporation, as well as over the Church, no matter how powerful these bodies believed themselves to be. It is said he will serve Cure Rousellot with a new mandamus next week, ordering burial at a certain date, and that if he is again molested he will place the matter in the hands of the Federal Government. This, however, cannot be corroborated from his own lips, as since the riot he is most reticent on the subject of burial. The proprietors of the Witness have received two threatening letters.

This afternoon a lacrosse match for the championship of the world and $500, came off between the Shamrock club and a team of Indians, said to be Caughnawagas, but which good judges declared to be others who were inferior players. The Shamrocks won easily in less than half an hour. There were 4,000 people present and cries of "fizzle," "gull," and "put up job," saluted the players at the close. Large sums of money were staked by spectators and many declared all bets off in consequence of the report. In the evening Alderman McShane entertained the victorious team to a sumptuous supper at the St Lawrence Hall. The clown having been removed the toasts of "The Shamrock club and its officers," alderman McShane and Mr B. Devlin, M. P., were proposed and enthusiastically received.

The estate of Killert & Friedman was to day put into compulsory insolvency. The debts are about $120,000, and the assets nominally $100,000

The Three Rivers contested election case, Mon. H. G. Malhoit of the local Government respondent, has been argued and a special report states that there was every liklihood of the respondent being unseated.

Ehrich, a notorious New York receiver of stolen goods, who on things becoming too hot for him in the States flew to Toronto and set up on Simcoe street is now in gaol here accused of plotting and aiding in all the numerous large and successful robberies which have lately occurred here. Facts are daily brought to light which show that the mercantile community, particularly wholesale dry goods dealer, have suffered largely at the hands of a numerous gang of thieves and shoplifters. Leavitt, the boss burglar in these depredations, has escaped across the lines.

The money market is becoming more stringent, chiefly because of the value of gold in New York, it being worth a quarter per cent per day there. Some small shipments of sovereigns have been made from here this morning. Seven per cent has been paid for call loans on stocks and it is becoming more difficult to procure commercial discounts.

The Stock Market is more active, at lower prices, and barely steady at close. Sales: 28 Montreal, at 187½, closing 187 to 186½; 153 Ontario, at 106, closing 106 to 106½; 25 Toronto, at 185, closing 185 to 185½; 50 Jacques Cartier, at 35, closing 33½ to 35; 350 Merchants, at 99½, and 62 at 99½, closing 99½; 125 Commerce, at 125½, and 124 at 125, closing 124½ to 125½; and 156 Telegraph, at 151, closing 150½ to 151½.

SECOND DESPATCH.

5,000 People Visit the Cemeteries—A Warning—Suspicious—A Serious Row.

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—Over four thousand people visited the two cemeteries to-day. After seeing the now famous vault in the Protestant cemetery in which are Guibord's bones, they would walk over to the Catholic burrying ground and visit the intended Guibord grave. Very many French Canadians were amongst the crowd; and this evening about 2,000 hardened persons many well known to the police, were seen climbing the mountain steps. This movement being considered suspicious the police on duty at the vault were notified and double pickets are now out on the avenue leading to the vault. Last night at 11 p.m. fifty volunteers, under Captain Wright, marched up to offer their services to Sergeant Richardson in command of the police, but he refused to admit them to the cemetery, keeping the gates locked, saying he had ample force to defend the place. This incensed the volunteers, who declared they would not again offer their services, when so little valued. The affair causes some talk, but it is believed the cemetery trustees are adverse to any large number of armed men being stationed there, till necessity compels. The clergyman officiating in St. James Roman Catholic Church to-day warned his hearers not to molest the Protestant cemetery vault on pain of moral and civil punishment. He did not allude to the Guibord case as touching the burial.

A serious row occurred this morning early on board the steamship Antarte. The water police secured three of the ringleaders after a desperate resistance.

HOBOKEN.

Suicide of a Husband.

HOBOKEN, Sept. 11.—Charles Jorlinkee, a wealthy resident of Hoboken, who was separated from his wife, and who was living alone, was found dead in his bed last evening. A post mortem examination proved a suicide by the taking of arsenic.

LOUISVILLE.

Robbery and Restitution.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 11.—Louis Rehm, late teller of the Planters National Bank, which he robbed of some hundred thousand dollars a week ago, has been released on three thousand dollars bonds, the money stolen having been restored.

TORONTO

Mulligan Sentenced—the Rape Case—Demonstration to Hon. Mr. Crooks—Base Ball Match.

TORONTO, Sept. 11th.—Archibald Milligan, charged with appropriating $4,000, was sentenced to one month's imprisonment this morning.

The three men, John Griffin, Charles Curley, and John Leahey, charged with the rape of Rachael Rashley on the Island, were before the police magistrate this morning and were further remanded till Monday. The woman gave her evidence, and detailed the circumstances under which she was induced to accompany the prisoners. She stated that she had resisted them to the utmost of her power, and it was not till she was completely stupefied by the whiskey which they made her drink, that they succeeded in accomplishing their purpose. She fainted giving her evidence, and became so weak that the magistrate was forced to adjourn the case till Monday.

A grand demonstration is promised to welcome the Hon. Adam Crooks on his return from South Oxford to-night, and to celebrate his victory in that constituency. Over fifteen hundred people arrived in this city this morning, on purpose to witness the championship base ball match this afternoon. Five hundred came from Kingston alone.

SECOND DESPATCH.

Base-ball—Hon. Adam Crooks Reception—Lacrosse—Pastoral Letter.

TORONTO, Sept. 12.—The championship base-ball match played on Saturday last ended in the withdrawal of the St. Lawrence, of Kingston, after six innings each had been played, the score then standing four to three in favour of the Maple Leafs, of Guelph.

The reception and torchlight procession held on Saturday night to celebrate the return of the Hon. Mr. Adam Crooks for South Oxford, ended in confusion. A platform was erected at his house, but the crowd was boisterous and would not listen to the speeches.

A lacrosse match was played on Saturday between the Tuscarora Indians and Toronto, ending in a victory for the latter in three straight games.

Sir John and Lady Macdonald arrived home from River Du Loup on Saturday morning.

A pastoral order was read in all the Catholic Churches this morning from Archbishop Lynch in reference to the Council to be held at St. Michael's Cathedral, in this city, commencing Sept. 26th

The Times.

OTTAWA, MONDAY, SEPT. 13, 1875.

Hon. Mr. Cartwright has secured his passage for England on the steamer sailing on the 29th instant.

We understand that Dr. de St. Georges, M.P. for Partnouf, will shortly lead to the hymeneal altar the daughter of a well-known Liberal M.P. from the Quebec District.

Mr. Thomas Moss, the popular representative of West Toronto in the Commons, who arrived in town on Saturday morning, returned to Toronto the same evening.

The Army and Navy Gazette says that Major Cameron, at present in this country as Chief of the North American Boundary Commission, will shortly rejoin his regiment at Woolwich.

Sir Charles Stuart, eldest son of the late Chief Justice Stuart, of Lower Canada, has been staying at the Russell House for the past few days. Sir Charles, who is a Barrister of the Inner Temple, and resides permanently in England, is here solely on private business.

Owing to pressure of private engagements, the Right Hon. H. C. Childers has been compelled to throw up the P. E. Island Land Commissionership and return to England. He has been replaced by Lieutenant-Governor Wilmot, of New Brunswick, who, with the other Commissioners, Messrs. Haliburton and Jenkins, are now continuing the labours of the Commission.

Mr. G. W. Ross, M. P. for West Middlesex, is in town. He is on his way to Montreal to take part in the forthcoming Prohibition Convention. He was a prominent speaker at the meeting of the Ontario Temperance and Prohibitory League at Toronto last week, where a vote was unanimously passed expressing approval of his conduct in Parliament as leader of the Temperance movement. A vote, it may be added, which was well deserved. Mr. Ross has been the first member of Parliament to raise the advocacy of temperance and prohibition above the commonest mediocrity. He is a man of great ability and a fine speaker.

CANADA FIRST IN SOUTH OXFORD.

The contest in South Oxford was marked by the resurrection, if that term could properly be applied to such a weak manifestation of life, of the "Canada First" party. It is quite unnecessary to say that those "Canada First" people are not in accord with either of the existing political parties, for one of the planks of their platform is "no party." They are a breed of political Ishmaelites, whose hands are against every man, and every man's hand is against them. Of course it was an evidence of weakness—moral as well as intellectual—on the part of the so-called Conservatives of South Oxford to open their arms and welcome to their circle the few surviving remnants of this clique, yet it was just what they did. There are few people of either party who do not condemn the continual strife kept up between the Globe and Mail, and Mr. Goldwin Smith's newspaper, the Nation. The warfare in which these journals and the gentlemen who conduct them are engaged is of the most personal and splenetic order, and abuse of the lowest caste is copiously exchanged. If Goldwin Smith and his heterodox notions are kept always before the public, as the two leading journals appear determined they shall be, it would be strange indeed if they did not attract some loose fish, and stranger still if the inequality of the combat in which he is engaged did not win for the Professor himself some amount of sympathy from the lovers of fair-play and justice. But these feelings obtain altogether independent of politics; and when the Tories of South Oxford sought to condemn the Globe for a policy in which the Mail participates equally, and sought to include Mr. Crooks in the condemnation, they counted without their host. The resolution is the most extraordinary composition we have ever come across, and for the very peculiarity of its reasoning, we reproduce it at length, only remarking that out of a very large meeting of the electors it received two votes. Here it is:

"That in view of the tyrrannical conduct of the Globe newspaper, the organ and controlling force of the Mowat Administration, in adopting the tactics of the old Family Compact, by endeavouring to suppress all freedom of political expression by the use of such epithets as 'Traitor' and 'Rebel,' the Liberal electors of the South Riding of Oxford cannot sustain themselves by supporting the candidature of the Hon. Adam Crooks, a member of the said Administration."

THE ENGLISH FARM LABOURERS' UNION.

It would appear that the strength, which is the product of unity, desirable and even necessary as it is to the success of a movement like that in which Mr. Joseph Arch has been a leading spirit, is unattainable amongst the farm labourers of England. No one who is at all acquainted with the condition of that class will deny that the need for improvement was pressing. A more contented, more disunited body of people is not to be found on the face of the earth. Their faithfulness to their employers has ever been remarkable, and has only been equalled by the intensity of their love of "Old England." Hodge has always been sincerely attached to his master, his home and his native soil. It cannot be said that he owes much to either of them; yet, if he had been but moderately well treated, he would have been the last man in England to complain. In every other department of industry, during the last quarter of a century, wages advanced rapidly. The hours of labour were shortened, occasional holidays were granted, and the relations between employer and employed were so altered as to be in accord with the spirit of the times. Until within the last two or three years, however, there was no appreciable difference between the condition of the farm labourer then and fifty years ago. It may have been from the force of the contrast which he presented to everybody and everything around him, but it really appeared to the intelligent observer as if he were worse rather than better. He worked as long a day, and every bit as hard, for about the same remuneration. The hut which he called his home was if anything more miserable than ever; and as for the education of his family, generally speaking, it was out of the question, for his wages barely sufficed to provide for them the merest necessaries of life. His employer, whose income had increased as the products of the farm became more valuable, grew insolent and imperious in proportion to his wealth, and in fact a more dependent, more abused being than the average farm labourer did not exist. There is no exaggeration in this feature, although it was long before the labourers, as a body, had the courage to declare themselves aggrieved. Mr. Joseph Arch was probably the first man to give consistence and vitality to the movement for redress. He is human, and therefore not without his feelings, but his counsels as a rule were wise and worth following. His cure for the evils from which his fellow-labourers suffered was one which struck the disease at the root. With a sagacity which could scarcely have been expected in a man of his education, he foresaw the failure which must inevitably be the result of a struggle with the employers, by combination or otherwise, in the present crowded state of the British labor market. His advice was, emigrate; and if the moderate emigration policy which he advocated had been adhered to, the best of results, both to those who emigrated and those who stayed at home, might certainly have been expected. It is true that Mr. Arch, in his conception of what ought to be done on behalf of those of his fellow-countrymen who should come to Canada, was rather exacting, rather impracticable, indeed; but the experience of a few years would have cured him of that. The pressure on the labour market would have been removed, the supply and demand more nearly equalized, and Canada and England would have profited.

Unfortunately for the labourers themselves, the spirit of discord and disunion has got abroad amongst them. It has been prompted in some measure by jealousy of Mr. Arch on the part of several competitors for the leadership of the agitation, whose aspirations the more politic of the employers have fanned, well knowing how fatal to success the existence of contending elements within the ranks of the union would be. Already the fruits of these tactics are becoming apparent. A combination, headed by men of education and capital, whose interests are not identical with those of the farm labourer, has been called into existence. It is styled the "National Farm Labourers' Union," and while it has several objects in view, professedly in the interests of the farm labourers, its more conspicuous one is to abuse and destroy the aims and usefulness of Mr. Arch and those associated with him. What the new union proposes to do is thus stated:—

"To accelerate the solution of the land question by the purchase and hire of land, so as to procure small holdings for the occupation and ownership of farm labourers, and thus secure to them a participation in the profits of the soil, improve the wages and increase the proper independence of the labourer.

"To form a National Sick Benefit Society on the soundest financial basis.

"To promote such co-operative schemes as shall promise immediate benefit to the labourer. To watch Parliamentary proceedings in the interest of and to aim at the acquisition of waste lands, for the creation of a class of peasant farmers."

The means by which it is proposed to carry this project into effect may thus be briefly summarised. The members of the new union are asked for a sixpence as an entrance fee (to be raised to a shilling after Nov. 1) and two pence weekly. This twopence is to be apportioned as follows: One penny weekly to the land fund, one halfpenny to a mangement fund, and one halfpenny to a lockout fund. The first money will be placed in the hands of the trustees and set apart for the purchase of land, a weekly ticket being given to the investor. When these tickets amount to one pound's worth of subscriptions a share for that sum, bearing interest at from 2½ to 5 per cent., as the investment will allow, will be given to the holder in exchange for his tickets. Other land tickets, price 2s, 4s, and 6d, will also be purchaseable at the option of the members. All interest is to be paid out of the yearly profits of the land investments, and all excess of profit, after interest is paid, is to be added to the land fund. The Central Committee is empowered to hire land for the purpose of reletting it to the members of the union; such land being hired on the security of the real estate and land fund and let at a profit rental. All land purchased by the union is to be let to members at such a rental as will permit an interest of at least five per cent. to be paid to the holders of land shares. All lands purchased or hired is to be apportioned into small farms of from one to five acres, or into allotments of one acre or less. The privilege of occupying a small farm belonging to the union is to be ballotted for by the members of the county in which the farms are situate. Allotments are to be disposed of in a similar manner. As a security for the due payment of rent from those occupying land under the union, each tenant of one acre must have two £1 shares, to be forfeited by non-payment of rent; or give a guarantee from shareholders of that amount; security being afforded in this proportion for all land held, and the rent paid half yearly. All such tenant members are also to furnish satisfactory testimonials of their thrift, industry and ability. The land shares are to be held only by members, and tenant members may purchase the land they occupy at the price originally paid for it. The management fund is to be at the disposal of the executive for general expenses, but that body pledges itself to the strictest economy, and from ses that all the money that can be spared shall be added to the land fund. The lockout fund is to serve as a provision against any petty persecution to which members may be subjected on account of their connection with the union. The amount not used will be added to the land fund.

Professor Marsh, the President of the new union, is a gentleman whose philanthropy has never been doubted. He is also the best known man of the lot, although never heard of before in the same connection. Mr. Vincent, editor of the Labourer's Union Chronicle, and his wife, are both well known in connection with the old combination. It is remarkable, however, that Mr. Gibson Ward, who is the life and soul of the new movement was always conspicuous for his jealousy of Mr. Arch, and took the cowardly advantage of that gentleman's absence in this country to attack him violently in the public press. The most important feature in the new organization, so far as Canada is concerned, is that it not only does not propose to induce emigration but discourages it by holding out what must prove the vain hope of the labourer becoming owner of a small patch of land for himself. The "one to five acres" spoken of are intended to present a counter attraction to the hundreds of acres of free land which could be obtained in Canada; but it is very safe to predict that even these small blessings are not to be enjoyed as a result of the subscription of two pence a week. Limited as the advantage of the possession of these little lots would be, even Professor Marsh concedes it would be a fatal error to teach the peasant that two pence a week would secure it for them. His idea is to procure for them copyhold estates, on the condition of paying a quit rent. He will find that there is a vast difference between this beautiful theory and the practical fact.

Dr. Howe's Testimony.

PITTSFIELD, ME., March, 1872.

MR. JAMES I. FELLOWS.

DEAR SIR,—During the past two years I have given your Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites a fair though somewhat severe trial in my practice, and am able to speak with confidence of its effects. In restoring persons suffering from emaciation and the debility following diptheria, it has done wonders. I constantly recommend its use in all affections of the throat and lungs. In several cases considered hopeless it has given relief, and the patients are fast recovering. Among these are consumptive and old bronchial subjects, whose diseases have resisted the other modes of treatment. For impaired digestion, and in fact for debility from any cause, I know of nothing equal to it. Its direct effect in strengthening the nervous system renders it suitable for the majority of diseases.

I am, sir, yours truly,

A. ROBERTSON, Esq., Ottawa.

From the Hon D. Christie, Speaker of the Senate, and late President of the Upper Canada Provincial Agricultural Association.

MY DEAR SIR,—I have read your letter with great interest and have pleasure in stating my hearty approval of your scheme to publish a "Provincial Exhibition Hand-book." It will be a work of real value to visitors to the Exhibition, as a reference. I hope you will meet with sufficient encouragement to justify a yearly publication of the Hand-Book.

I remain, yours very truly,
D. CHRISTIE.

ALEX. ROBERTSON, Esq.

Encouraged by the hearty approval of Mr. McNab, Hon. Mr. Christie, Hon. M. Cameron, Hon. Mr. Read, Dr. Morgan, Esq., and many other gentlemen of distinction, I have secured a copy-right, and under the title of "The Provincial Exhibition Annual," and intend to make of it a yearly publication in connection with our Provincial Exhibitions.

Ottawa, Sept. 8, 1875. 3939-1

NOTICE.

The Corporation of the City of Ottawa will apply to the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, at the next session for an act to enable the said Corporation to mortgage the By-ward Market property in the City of Ottawa, for the purpose of raising the necessary sum of money to complete the new market building in said Ward.

W. P. LETT,
City Clerk.
Ottawa, Sept. 7, 1875.

NOTICE is hereby given that application will be made at the ensuing Session of the Ontario Legislature, for an Act to further amend the Act (29 Vic., cap. 97) to incorporate L'Institut Canadien Français de la Cité de l'Ottawa, and the Act (39 Vic., cap. 139) amending the same, so as to extend the powers of said Association to raise a larger sum of money by way of loan, for the purpose of building a hall; and also to be authorized to erect that building on any spot in the City of Ottawa, other than the site of the present Hall, should the members think proper to do so.

Miscellaneous.

PYRIMONT SEYSSEL ASPHALTE.

THE Compagnie Generale des Mines d'Asphaltes, who are now the Proprietors of the celebrated Asphalte Mines of Pyrimont Seyssel, Ain, France, are now prepared to supply to contractors and others, the produce of these mines, either in shape of the natural Rock, or in the form of Mastic, for use in the Dominion of Canada, at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

The whole of the Footpaths in Paris, and a large proportion of the Carriage ways in that City are paved with the above Asphaltes; while for the last 25 years and upwards the British Government has specified the Pyrimont Seyssel Asphaltes, as the only one permissible on contracts entered into with them.

The Company will also gladly entertain proposals from first class firms or individuals for good standing for agencies in the different cities and towns throughout the Dominion.

Applications for further information may be addressed to C. O. CALLENDER, 70 & 71 Palmerston Buildings, Old Broad street, E. C. London, England

BUSINESS NOTICES.

DYSPEPSIA.—For people to allow disease to become seated upon them rather than consult a physician, or to suffer as many do for years with the different kinds of pills, without going at once to the druggist for Fowle's Pile and Humor Cure, which is an infallible cure. 3729

SKIN DISEASES, of whatever nature, are completely eradicated by the use of Fowle's Pile and Humour Cure; its effect is marvellous for Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Ring Worm, and even Leprosy; it has proved itself an almost never failing cure. (See special notice.) 3733

HOUSE KEEPERS.—If you desire to get a good table tea call on Baskerville & Bros. and have them to select for you. If the tea is not pleasing to your taste they will refund the money for what you return. Their wines, liquors and general groceries are of the best brand.

People's Tea Store,
36 Rideau street.

HEMORRHOIDS (or Piles) are permanently cured by Mathieu's Pile Ointment, or money refunded. Price $1 per pot, or six pots for $5. Sold wholesale and retail by the Wingate Chemical Company, Montreal, and retail by all druggists, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by Dr. E. Mathieu, 198 Notre Dame street, Montreal. 3742

HORSES SAVED.—The lives of thousands of horses have been saved during the past year, and the credit is due to "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." This preparation is being extensively used, and exacts from all the highest praise. Nothing of the kind has ever before been half as successful, or given such universal satisfaction; it cannot be equalled. We can confidently recommend it, and would advise all who own horses to keep a supply of it on hand—it may be the means of saving your horse's life. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co., is on each package. Northrup & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medical dealers. 3796

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of merit which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Packham Centre, P.Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and since then had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally as good for horses as for man."—A. Mayhee, Merchant, Wentworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used," it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throat, &c., is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes—"I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit." A. Mr. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes: "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Mayhee, of this place, induced me to try Electric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine.

Sold by all medicine dealers, price 25 cents.

The Montreal Proprietary School has been established to provide a liberal education similar to that given in the Public Schools of England. The course of Instruction, however, will not be exclusively classical, and boys will be specially prepared either for the University and Professions or for Commercial Life.

Most eligible premises have been purchased for the School in McTavish street, one of the most healthful localities of the city, and immediately adjoining the grounds of the McGill University.

The course of instruction will include Latin, Greek, Mathematics, French, German, Arithmetic, Writing, English Grammar, Literature and Composition, History and Geography, both Ancient and Modern, Natural Philosophy, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, Gymnastics and Drilling.

A limited number of boys will be received by the Principal as Boarders or Weekly Boarders and, with the view of keeping the pupils from improper influences, it is strongly recommended that all be entered as Day Students, who will dine in the house of the Principal.

Further particulars can be obtained from the Secretary, J. W. Holmes, Esq., 78 Victoria street, to whom all applications for admission must be made.

The School will open on MONDAY, the 12th of April, and will be carried on for a few days at 78 Victoria street, the new premises not being quite completed.

INCLUDING THOSE DEDICATED BY THE MANUFACTURER

TO

Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Dufferin.

These Paperhangings are imported direct from the best Manufactoring Establishments in England, France and United States. Great care has been taken in their selection with regard to colour. The ground tones are soft and pleasing to the eye, especially those toned with silver mica; but above all, they are free from the mineral poisons that many of the tawdry-coloured Paperhangings of the day are surcharged with. The Subscriber's long experience as a colourist, and being thoroughly acquainted with the chemical compound of the pigments used in Painting, enables him to reject, in his selection of Paperhangings, those coloured with poisonous pigments, so deleterious to health. The Public are respectfully invited to examine his STOCK of WALL PAPER before purchasing elsewhere.

As the undersigned is going out of the Room Paper Business as soon as his present Stock is disposed of, the Goods will be Sold at the Lowest Remunerating Prices.

Indeed, when we think into how many homes it penetrates every month, we must consider it as one of the educators as well as entertainers of the public mind, for the vast popularity has been won by no appeal to stupid prejudices or depraved taste.—Boston Post, &c.

PAIN KILLER.

After thirty-five years trial, it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and respectability. Physicians of the first respectability recommend it as a most effectual preparation for the extinction of pain. It is not only the best remedy ever known for Bruises, Cuts, Burns, &c., but for Dysentery or Cholera, or any sort of Bowel complaint it is a remedy unsurpassed for efficacy, and rapidity of action. In the greatest cities of India, and other hot climates, it has become the standard medicine for all such complaints, as well as for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, and other kindred disorders. For Coughs and Colds, Canker, Asthma, and Rheumatic difficulties, it has been proved by the most eminent and convincing testimony to be an inevitable medicine.

It is used Internally and Externally.

BERKELEY, Sept., 1869.—Gentlemen, I feel it a duty I owe to you to express my gratitude for the great benefit I have derived by taking "Norton's Camomile Pills." I applied to your agent, Mr. Read, Berkeley, for the above Pills, for wind in the stomach, from which I suffered excruciating pain for a length of time, having tried nearly every remedy prescribed, but without any benefit at all. After taking two bottles of your valuable pills, I was quite restored to my usual state of health. Please give this publicity—for the benefit of those who may thus be afflicted. I am, sir, yours truly, HENRY READ. To the proprietors of "Norton's Camomile Pills."

LACHINE

Canal Enlargement.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sealed Tenders addressed to the Secretary of Public Works, and endorsed "Tender for the Lachine Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western mails on Tuesday, the Sixteenth day of September next, for the enlargement of this canal, consisting of the widening and deepening of the channel from near the new basin east of Wellington Street bridge, upwards, to the river St. Lawrence at Lachine, embracing the construction of new locks at St. Gabriel and Côte St. Paul, also the taking down and rebuilding the upper portions of the present locks at these places; building regulating weirs, culverts, bridge piers; the construction of a new entrance lock at Lachine, and the formation of a channel and basin on the south or river side of the existing entrance lock.

The works will be let in sections of the respective lengths indicated on a map of the line, which, together with plans and specifications of the various works, can be seen at this office, and at the Lachine Canal Office, Montreal, on and after FRIDAY, the Third day of September next, at either of which places Printed forms of Tender can be obtained.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that Tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and—in the case of firms—except there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same; and further, each accepted bank cheque, or other available security, for the sum of from one to three thousand dollars, according to the extent of work on the section, must accompany each Tender, which shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines or fails to enter into contract for the works, when called upon to do so, at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The amount required in each case will be stated on the form of Tender.

The cheque or money thus sent in, will be returned to the respective parties whose Tenders are not accepted.

For the due fulfilment of the contract, satisfactory security will be required or real estate, or by deposit of money, public or municipal securities, or bank stocks, to the amount of five per cent on the bulk sum of the contract, of which the sum sent in with the Tender will be considered a part.

Ninety per cent only of the progress estimates will be paid until the completion of the works.

To each Tender must be attached the actual signatures of two responsible and solvent persons, residents of the Dominion, willing to become sureties for the carrying out of these conditions, as well as the due performance of works embraced in the contract.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any Tender.

MCEVOY'S HIBERNICAN. — This troupe had a very successful Matinee in Gowan's Hall, Sparks street on Saturday afternoon and appeared again in the evening to a large audience. They were accorded a hearty reception in their excellent Minstrel and variety entertainment, and all were loud in their praises of the beautiful panoramic views of Ireland exhibited and graphically described by the exhibitors. The show altogether is one that we can highly commend to the public of any place where the McEvoy's may chance to visit.

VERY IMPORTANT AUCTION SALE.—Mr. Birmingham advertises to-day one of the most extensive and important furniture sales perhaps ever held in Central Canada. For a long time past he has been endeavoring to get American furniture manufacturers to send consignments here as they do to Montreal, which is the only place in Canada where such extensive and elaborate furniture is offered at auction, and by great exertions and some expense he has succeeded. The furniture is now in town, several car loads having arrived by the Railway on Friday and Saturday, and will be on exhibition at the large store formerly occupied by Dufresne & McGarity, Sussex street, on Wednesday and Thursday next. The sale which is an experimental one will be without reserve, as the stock cannot be returned, and will come off on Friday and Saturday next. Such a chance to purchase some of the finest and richest furniture made should not be lost sight of. Mr. B's enterprise is certainly well worthy of encouragement. We are also informed that he has now in transit from New York a consignment of $15,000 worth of quadruple plate silverwares and $4,000 worth of oil paintings all to arrive next week.

MUSIC.—The well known music publisher, Messrs. J. M. Stoddard & Co., are now engaged in the publication of a collection of unabridged international and vocal music, by the best American and foreign composers, selected and arranged for the piano or organ. Their editor, Septimus Winner, Esq., is one of the most noted composers of the day, and from long experience, well acquainted with the wants and wishes of the musical world, professional and amateur. We have received four of the first parts issued, consisting of waltzes, mazourkas, anthems, songs, fantasias, and indeed every style and variety of music, got up in a degree of excellence much superior to anything of the kind we have hitherto met with. In the numbers before us are portraits of Adelina Patti and Richard Wagner, Christine Nilsson, Robert Shumach, Beethoven, Parepa Rosa, Mendelssohn-Bartholdy and Clara Louise Kellogg. They are beautifully executed. For the most part, if not wholly so, the music is quite new and of a high order of merit. The publishers' chief agent, Mr. J. Ralph Brown, is to be found at No. 41 St. Sacrament Street, Montreal; but there are travelling agents all over the Dominion, to receive orders and deliver numbers as they appear. The music is not obtainable at the ordinary music shops and is sold, notwithstanding the excellence of its getting up, to use a vulgarism, very much cheaper than even the hum-drum melodies of the hour. The publication is, in truth, marvellously cheap, each number containing sheet music which, if bought at a store, would cost at least $2.50 or $3.00. The work will be complete in 24 numbers or parts, at 50 cents each, served monthly to subscribers, and payable only on delivery. One thing, however, it may be particularly remarked, no subscription is taken for less than the complete set of numbers. All the standard new music, as it appears, will be given in this publication, which we have much pleasure in recommending to all who have either a taste for or a knowledge of music.

DRAINAGE.—Mr. John Regan, Foreman and Inspector of Works for the Public Works Department of the Dominion, has brought to perfection a new system not of drainage, but of drainage material. Instead of iron, or tile, or brick, earthenware or terra-cotta pipes laid down in trenches and joined together in sections, Mr. Regan has obtained a patent for what he terms an "Endless Pipe," which is composed of Hull Cement, one part of the cement to one part of sand with fine gravel intermixed. His plan of operations is to mark out in a trench a place for his drainage mould with a semi-round stamping mould, leaving a space between the ground and his zinc-covered mould, say of two or three inches which, when the pipe cement is filled in making the encasement of a tube, is pulled out, and the pipe is complete and is so hard in one or two days as to resist frost and pressure of any kind, and indeed has become harder than a stone without being brittle. Mr. Regan, having satisfactorily completed on his own premises and at his own residence, a six inch diameter drainage pi[illegible] rather a series of pipes, was induced to undertake a similar kind of drainage for Mr. Trudeau, the Deputy of the Minister of Public Works, and succeeded so admirably that there is an intention of superceding the present open wooden trench at the foot of the slope of the green sward inside of the railed wall of the Parliament Buildings, by Mr. Regan's endless pipe of Hull cement, having hydrants at regular distances for any required purpose. It is proposed too to construct a promenade over the pipe parallel with the Nicholson pavement outside, enabling the public to have a pleasant walk all round the grounds immediately inside of the Parliament Buildings. Mr. Regan experimented with a 9-inch pipe successfully on Saturday afternoon last, near the Government Workshops, although there was some difficulty experienced in withdrawing the mould of the main on account of the moulder having forgotten to fasten the core to the zinc by means of screw nails or otherwise. It came out however, and a most perfect tube connected with a hydrant appeared. It is worthy of remark that a 9-inch pipe can be put down for $1 a yard, and that two men can put down 160 feet in a day. The cement costs $2 a barrel, and everybody knows the invaluable properties of Mr. Charles Wright's Hull cement.

Dominion of Canada Rifle Association.

FIFTH DAY.

Saturday was an agreeable contrast to its predecessor, and fine, calm weather prevailed—almost too calm to suit the wants of the shots, who had been utilizing all their scientific arrangements as to wind gauges, &c., all through the competition, ergo, many of them were puzzled, and as a sailor would say, "lost their reckoning." A bright sun, and consequently a mirage arising from the swampy ground lying between the firing point and the targets, made, in the early part of the day, the shooting somewhat uncertain, but still the practice was, all circumstances considered, good. The long ranges of the All Comers' Match in the second stage opened the ball, the 800 and 1,000 yards with small bores being opened. There was much competition at each range, but so many were the competitors that there was not time enough before dusk set in to complete the stage, and the competition will be resumed this morning at half-past eight o'clock. There are thirty-five men to fire at the 800 yards with the Martini Henry rifle, of which a case arrived on Saturday afternoon. The new weapon, which is rapidly superseding the Snider Enfield in the English service, is said to be most effective at long ranges, but those who have used it say that it kicks like a mule. The cartridges are most beautifully made, and the expedition with which a man can load and fire is something wonderful. But then again the cartridges are expensive, and it remains to be seen whether as a military arm it will be as generally serviceable as the weapon at present in general use. The result of the long-range of the

ALL COMER'S MATCH

will be made known to-morrow. Before proceeding farther it may be as well to state that by an inadvertant oversight of the Clerk in the statistical office, the Times reporter was made to say that in the

PROVINCIAL MATCH

Quebec was three points ahead of Ontario on the tie, whereas it should have read, "Ontario having made the largest score at the longest range was two points ahead of Quebec. This explanation is made on the authority of the chief statistical officer, Col. Bacon, to whom our reporter is indebted for much valuable information — conveyed in the accounts given of the matches. While the several ranges were being shot at for the last mentioned prize, some of the preliminary ones for the Wimbledon competition were in progress, but the firing for the following much coveted trophy attracted much of the attention of the spectators.

THE GOVERNOR GENERAL'S PRIZE.

To be open to competition to all winners of prizes at the meeting of 1875.

1st prize.....Gold Medal.
2nd prize.....Silver Medal.
3rd prize.....Bronze Medal.

Range—500 and 600 yards. Five rounds at each range. Rifle—Snider Enfield. Government ammunition. Position any. Entrance free.

There were thirty-six entries for this match, which resulted as follows:

1st, Lieut. Macnachtan, Cobourg, G.A...41
2nd, Bombardier Crome, Welland F. B.37
3rd, Capt. Anderson, 10th Royals.....37

The remaining thirty-three were left out in the cold. Lieut. Macnachtan, who lost the gold medal last year, was determined to win this time, and succeeded. His perseverence does him the greatest credit. The next event was the first stage of

THE WIMBLEDON MATCH.

Open to all competitors making the three highest scores in each competition, to winners of the Governor General's prizes and to winners of aggregate prizes, together with not exceeding:

8 men named by the Ontario Rifle Asso'n.
6 " " " Quebec " "
4 " " " Nova Scotia "
4 " " " New Brunswick "
2 " " " Prince Ed. Isl'd "
5 " " " Dominion "

Qualifications being the same as in the Dominion of Canada match, in addition to which each competitor shall sign an agreement to proceed to Wimbledon as a member of the Canadian Team in 1876, at such time as the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association may require under the usual conditions, or such modification thereof as the Council of the Association may determine.

Ranges—200, 500, and 600 yards, with Snider Enfield Rifles and 800 yards with Martini-Henry Rifles.

Martini Henry to be supplied by the Dominion Rifle Association.

The competition will be in two stages, which shall not be carried on on the same day.

First stage—Ranges 200, 500, and 600 yards. Rifles—Snider-Enfield.

Wimbledon targets and Wimbledon regulations. Entrance fee—$2 00.

In this stage there will be 30 prizes amounting in the aggregate to $1,255, divided as follows:

1st prize	$100
2nd "	75
3rd "	50
7 prizes, each $20	140

The following are the names of those who are eligible to shoot in the second stage. Some of them may have left the city, but at all events if such is the case, their places will be filled up by notable marksmen remaining here. A competent authority in matters of shooting informed our reporter yesterday that out of the thirty-five in the second stage, twenty could be picked out as being quite perfectly able to represent Canada at Wimbledon. The names are (giving the scores):

Lieut Fitch, 78th	64

Apart from the above are what are termed the

who will be expected to take the places of those who are prevented from taking part in the final competition. This team of "waiting men" comprises some of the best shots in the Provinces, and peradventure their efforts might do equal service to the rifle shooting reputation of the marksmen of Canada, as those who are ranked among the first 20. The 'waiting men," or reserve, as they should be more properly termed, consist of

The following shows the proportion of men representing each Province to represent the

LAST STAGE IN THE WIMBLEDON MATCH:

Ontario, 12 competitors; Quebec, 7; New Brunswick, 6; Nova Scotia, 5.

During the progress of the matches some curious cases of honesty were made manifest. Two watches were picked up on the ranges, and being returned by the honest finders to the secretary's office, were severally restored to their owners, a notice as to their having been found being posted in a conspicuous place. Sergt.-Major Keating however lost a pair of opera glasses, which had been presented to him by the committee of the last Prince's promenade, and of course they are valued most highly by him. They had been left, in the care of an officer keeping the register, and during his absence they were either stolen or "taken care of," whichever was the case the glasses should be returned to the rightful owner, or a reward will be paid to any person who sends them to this office. It may be as well to mention that they were seen after they were missed, in the hands of a person who is well known in the city.

To day the shooting commences, at half past eight o'clock a.m., and it is expected that the most points of "who's for England," will be settled before to-night. More than thirty-five men left to compete in the second stage of the Wimbledon match, and out of that number, there are at least, upon the word of a well known officer, 20 fit to go to the great English match.

SUNDAY TEMPERANCE MEETING.

The usual Sunday afternoon temperance meeting was held in the Temperance Hall, yesterday, at 4 o'clock p.m. More than the ordinary interest was attached to the meeting from the fact that the Hon. M. Cameron, Mr. G. W. Ross, M. P. and other well known temperance men were to be present and address the meeting. There was a large attendance.

MR. J. P. TAYLOR, President of the Association, occupied the chair, and on the platform were the Hon. Malcolm Cameron, G. W. Ross, M. P., Prof Samuels of London, Ont., Messrs E McGillivray, A Begg, J M. T Hannum, E Storr, H. S Watson and Hector McLean.

After the usual singing and devotional exercises the chairman called upon Mr. Begg, Emigration Agent in Scotland for the Ontario Government, for an address.

MR. BEGG in coming forward said he had no idea that he would be first called upon to speak, but now that he was up he would offer a few observations on the great question that had been the means of bringing them together on the present occasion. He gave a description of the new temperance colony that he had established in the Parry Sound District, a short distance north of Toronto. It comprised twenty families, among whom the principle of prohibition was already acknowledged, and none would be admitted to its privileges who did not totally abstain from the use of intoxicating drink. The speaker returned thanks to the various temperance organizations of Ontario for the heavily assistance they had given him in connection with the work. He next adverted to the pleasure it afforded him to be present with them at so large and important a gathering of the friends of temperance. When in Scotland he had received the papers and read with much gratification the happy results that had been achieved through these Sunday meetings in the Capital of the Dominion. In Scotland the temperance people did not warm up to the work of temperance as in Canada, yet considerable progress was being made. The principle of total abstinence was difficult to a lyance there from the inveterate habit people have of keeping the whiskey bottle in almost every house. He thought by diligent work the temperance people would eventually succeed in enacting a measure to prohibit the sale and use of strong drink in Canada. He would not detain them longer but simply return thanks for the opportunity of raising his voice in support of the temperance movement, (applause.)

THE HON. MALCOLM CAMERON was next loudly called for. In response he said he had intended to address them at some length relative to a recent publication by Mr. G. E. Hall of London, England, on the evils of intemperance, but as Mr. Ross and other prominent gentlemen in connection with the cause were present, he would reserve his comments till some other occasion. In regard to the proposed convention to be held at Montreal, he at first looked upon the idea with considerable disfavour, as his experience of such meetings was, that they were fruitless of good results. Present indications, however, pointed to the coming convention being a success. The people generally throughout the country took an interest in it, and it was altogether probable that some tangible work would be accomplished, and not mere buncombe resolutions. Viewing things in this light, he was now prepared to withdraw his former opposition, and to be also present to aid the movement by his presence and influence. The cause of temperance was at the present time making rapid strides all over the universe. The influence of the learned professions and the churches was now beginning to recognize the righteousness of the work, and to give active aid. Hitherto these interests were either against them or were inactive in the great cause of temperance. The wealth of the enemies of intemperance who could always contribute handsomely to Christian enterprises paralyzed the efforts of the churches to stay the evils of intemperance. He did not hesitate to express the belief that if the churches had all along assisted in the work prohibition would have been an accomplished measure to-day. He looked with abhorence on the recent crimes committed in our own city, and thought the larcenies, burglaries and even murders that had of late occurred were all attributable to the prevalence of so many grog shops in our midst. He trusted that with the assistance of the Church and additional legislation the efforts of temperance men would eventually be crowned with success. (Applause.)

THE CHAIRMAN, after the singing of another hymn, called upon Mr. G. W. Ross to address the meeting.

MR. ROSS in coming forward said he scarcely intended addressing the meeting on the present occasion, but as he was in the city, he could scarcely deny himself the pleasure of being present at an assembly where he usually heard much to the advantage of the great work of temperance. He had looked forward with pleasure to the great Convention at Montreal, but when he heard that his old friend, the Hon Mr. Cameron, was not in accord with the movement, his expectations were to some extent disappointed. He had regretted this state of matters very much, but it was pleasing news to be informed by that gentleman himself at a meeting such as the present that he had changed his mind, and would be present to lend his assistance at the deliberations. This was a good sign, and was a happy and cheering inauguration of the great temperance week in Montreal. If this initiatory success continued throughout the convention it must prove a success There was every reason to expect that the approaching convention would be fruitful of good results, representative men from all temperance organizations in the Dominion would be present, prominent men connected with the Christian Church, several members of Parliament and Neal Dow, the great pioneer of temperance in America, as well as other eminent persons would lend their assistance at this great assembly of temperance people. He hoped the advocates of temperance would not at this important stage relax their efforts in pushing forward to a successful issue the great movement. The object of the proposed convention was to get the deliberative opinion of temperance people throughout America, as to the best means of bringing about prohibition. He felt satisfied that when Mr. Cameron returned from Montreal he would be able to report favourably of the proceedings of the convention. He concluded by expressing the hope that the week so auspiciously begun would end successfully, and do something to stem the tide of intemperance. (Loud applause.)

PROF. SAMUELS of London next addressed the meeting. He believed in constant work in the cause of temperance principles, and the more practical it was the better chance for success. He dwelt principally upon the necessity of inculcating temperance principles in the minds of the youth of the country, which he contended could be best done by means of Sabbath schools and juvenile temperance associations.

MR. E. MCGILLIVRAY next followed and delivered some very appropriate remarks pertinent to the great cause of temperance.

The singing of the Doxology and the pronouncing of the benediction, brought an interesting and successful meeting to a close.

THIRTY crates of crockery will be opened this week, bought at a bargain, and sold the same, by T. H. Harrison, all this week. 82 Sparks street.

PROTESTANT HOSPITAL.—The visitors this week are: Directors, Messrs. Amos Rowe and W. H. Butler; clergy, Revds. W. Moore and F. Codd, physician, Dr. P. A. McDougal.

KNOX CHURCH.—The Rev. Mr. Thompson, of Sarnia, son-in law to the Hon. Mr. Mackenzie, officiated in this church yesterday evening. Mr. Thompson is one of the foremost preachers of the Presbyterian body in Canada.

T. H. HARRISON, 80 and 82 Sparks street, opens to-day six cases of cutlery, plated spoons, forks, &c., for to night's sale. His sales are now held nightly in store, late European Dining Saloon. Private sale next door.

THE EMMANUEL CHURCH.—The Rev. Mr. Collisson yesterday preached his inaugural sermon before a very large congregation. His discourse was an excellent one, and his subject was ably treated.

The George Washington Restaurant, York street is now open for guests, and meals can be had at all hours. 3915-6w.

EARLY FROST.—For the past three nights light frosts have visited this section of country. Its visitation at so early a date will in all probability be attended with hurtful consequences to vegetables and other garden products.

EASTMAN'S SPRINGS.—Quite a large number of persons visited these celebrated Springs yesterday. They had concluded to do so no doubt from the fact that such visits hereafter, for this season, will be few and far between.

THE MAMMOTH FURNITURE SALE.—Messrs. Rowe and Erratt to day announce the largest furniture sale ever held in Ottawa, commencing next Wednesday. They have received instructions from Mr. G. R. Russell, to dispose of $15,000 worth of the choicest household furniture in black walnut and ash. Just fancy what a sacrifice there will be.

CITY COUNCIL.—There will be a special meeting of the City Council held this evening for general business. The increase in the size of the main sewer in Upper Town and an additional grant to the Provincial Exhibition are the special questions likely to come up for consideration.

RETURN OF THE JOHN HENRY.—The steam fire engine "John Henry" returned from Arnprior on Saturday evening at 5 o'clock, by the Canada Central. The men look much fatigued after their exertions of the night before in fighting the fire at the M'Lachlan Bros.' Mills. Mr. D. J. O'Donoghue, M.P.P., and Ald. Birkett also returned.

William Finglan[illegible], Official Assignee for Ottawa City and County of Carleton, Office, Hay's Block, Spark St. 3933l2

BASE BALL.—The match between the Maple Leaf, of Guelph, champions of Canada, and the St. Lawrence, of Kingston, played at Toronto on Saturday, was undecided, owing to the Kingston men claiming a foul decision on the part of the umpire in the seventh innings, when the game stood 5 to 4 in favor of the Maple Leaf.

I WILL sell every night this week and every day and night next week the consignments of domestic goods from England. No reserve whatever. Rooms crowded every night, and goods sold for half cost, said to be the only unreserved sale seen for a long time, and a great boon to the public, whose purses are generally in a debilitated, consumptive condition. T. H. HARRISON, 80 and 82 Sparks street.

PLEASE leave your orders for stove piping now at Esmonde's. 3940tf

ANOTHER FIRE.—Another fire took place about three o'clock a.m., on Saturday, the alarm having been given from Box 24, corner of Rideau and Sussex streets. It was found to be a two story wooden tenement on the corner of York and Dalhousie streets, owned by Mr. Choquette Veterinary Surgeon. The fire had gained considerable headway but the early arrival of the fire brigade soon settled its fate by a speedy extinguishing of the flames, not, however without a great deal of difficulty, as it was hard to get at. The upper storey was pretty well gutted, and altogether Mr. Latremouille, who occupied the building will be a loser to the extent of $600. This is covered by only a small insurance. The members of the family, who were sleeping in the house narrowly escaped with their lives. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to be the result of incendiarism. The reel belonging to No. 4 station was pretty well used up by the horse running away with it while the fire was in progress. The animal nearly lost his own life by coming in contact with a telegraph pole on Nicholas street.

OTTAWA, KINGSTON, AND LONDON DEBENTURES.

$180,000, Six and Seven Per Cents.

Messrs. DRUMMOND, CASSELS & CO., Montreal, are authorized to receive, on or before the 2nd day of June next, Tenders for $180,000 of Debentures of the Cities of Ottawa, Kingston and London, Ont.

Tenders may be for any portion of the Debentures, from $100 upwards, and are to be at a rate per dollar, to which will be added accrued Interest up to date of payment.

OTTAWA DEBENTURES $35,000.—These bear date 1st March, 1875, and mature 1st November, 1891. Principal and interest are payable in Ottawa—the interest, at 6 per cent, half-yearly, on 1st March and 1st November.

The population of the City is now 24,258. Its debt, excluding the Water Works Liability, which is itself reproductive, is $720,888. Against this there are, all absolutely liable for the payment of these debentures, assessed property, $11,574,695, Corporation property, exclusive Water Works $233,000, and the Sinking Fund for the above debt, already amounting to $186,187.

KINGSTON DEBENTURES $70,000.—These bear date 31st December, 1874, but mature annually as per schedule, in different amounts, from 1879 to 1901. Principal and interest are payable in Kingston—the interest semi-annually at 6 per cent, on the first days of January and July. The interest Coupons, payable 1st July next, are attached.

The total debt of Kingston is $470,000, and the assessed value of property, all of which is absolutely liable for the payment of the debentures is $5,186,690.

In cases of more than one tender for the same debenture or Debentures, preference will be given to the highest tender, and Debentures of similar amount or less of the next nearest date of maturity will be allotted to the tenderers in order, unless in their tenders they mention a preference for other Debentures.

LONDON DEBENTURES $60,700.—These are all twenty year Debentures, maturing as per schedule chiefly on 1st June, 1895. Principle and interest are payable, the interest half-yearly, chiefly at 7 p.c., in London, Ont.

The population of London is 18,413, and, with its suburbs, is nearly 30,000. Its debt amounts to $1,097,507; but besides a total assessed value of property, amounting to $8,092,060, and real property, belonging to the Corporation, to a very large amount within the City, all of which is absolutely liable for this debt, the Corporation holds first and second mortgage bonds, and other interests in the London and Port Stanley Railway, amounting to $1,111,559, from which an annual revenue is derived, under the lease to the Great Western Railway.

All of these Debentures form securities of the very highest character. To indicate the esteem in which Canadian Municipal Securities are held in England, it may be mentioned that Ottawa Six per cent Debentures sold, on 3rd April last, on the London Stock Exchange, at Seven per cent Premium.

The awards will be made to the highest tenderers, to whom advice will be promptly sent; but the right is reserved to reject any proposals, and to allot a portion only of any bid. The Debentures will be ready for delivery immediately after the awards.

Payments to be exchanged at Montreal for the debentures, may be made through the Bank of Montreal.

Detailed Schedule of the Debentures, with form of tender, can be obtained at the different Branches and Agencies of the Bank of Montreal, or from Messrs. DRUMMOND, CASSELS & CO., Montreal.

A roof may be covered with a very cheap shingle, and by application of this slate be made to last from 20 to 25 years. Old roofs can be relaid and covered, looking much better, and lasting longer than new shingles without the slate, for one third the cost of re-shingling. This paint is practically fire proof against sparks or flying embers, and for tin and iron has no equal; as it expands by heat, contracts by cold, and will not corrode in the most exposed places. Roofs covered with Tar Sheathing Felt can be made water-tight at a small expense. The paint is extremely cheap.

Two gallons will cover 100 square feet of shingle roof, or 400 to 600 square feet of tin, iron, felt, matched boards or any smooth surface. Although the paint is heavy in body it is easily applied with a brush, and neither cracks in winter nor runs in summer.

On decayed shingles it fills up the holes and pores, and gives a new substantial roof that lasts for years. Curled or warped shingles it brings to their places, and by its use all holes in felt roofs, stops the leaks, and although a slow dryer, rain will not injure it in a few hours after

SULPHUR, SALINE and GAS.

The REJUVENATING WATERS so much sought for in years long past

Invalids! Attention!
Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Digestive Organs, Dropsy, Diseases of the Skin, Affections of the Liver and Urinary Organs are positively cured by using the water for a few weeks.

Rheumatics! Read!
Hundreds of Rheumatics have been cured by the Sulphur Baths. Suffering is alleviated by the first, and cripples throw away their crutches after about half-a-dozen baths.

TESTIMONIALS.

"Montreal, 28th July, 1876.

"I hereby certify that I entertain a very favorable opinion of the Baths and Waters of the Caledonia Springs in many forms of disease, among which I would especially mention chronic Rheumatism, the sequelæ of Gout, Neuralgia, some of the varieties of cutaneous disease, Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, and in carefully selected cases, some of the diseases of the Kidney and Bladder.

(Signed) GEO. W. CAMPBELL, A.M., M.D.
Dean of the Medical Faculty, McGill College.

Dr. Wm. Robertson, of Montreal, wrote as follows, in 1839:—"But the disease above all in which the action of the water is most decided is Rheumatism. * * * I have known a few individuals who suffered much from improper use of mercury who were restored to health by the use of the waters.

ACCOMMODATIONS.

A magnificent new hotel, capable of accommodating 400 guests, will be opened on the 1st for the accommodation of visitors. The grounds have been improved and beautified, and every means for amusement and exercise provided. The trip thither by the Ottawa River is most enjoyable, and a railroad from the river to the Springs is in course of construction. Until the railroad is built, comfortable carriages will be in waiting at the wharf for the conveyance of visitors to the Springs. The distance of the Springs from Montreal and Ottawa respectively is 60 and 30 miles.

Mr. W. CHAMPENESS will open a good Livery Stable, providing good carriages, horses, saddle s, &c. There is a good race-course on the property of the Company.

The PARAGEAN WATERS or these Springs will yet make Canadoula the greatest resort in the world for health and pleasure seekers. Thousands of testimonials might be procured, but the reputation of the Springs renders it unnecessary to do so.

The Mark Lane Express on the Corn Trade.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—The Mark Lane Express, in its review of the Corn trade for the past week, has the following:—There has been but little change in the Wheat Markets generally, which, with new produce, have only been moderately supplied, the best quality mostly maintaining its previous value, while inferior has tended downward. The general average now is within six pence of last year, though amounts then sold were double those now, but foreign imports still being free, the country has been amply supplied at rather lower rates. Flour has recovered a franc in Paris, and fine old Wheat has risen one shilling per quarter. The French markets generally have been calm and unchanged, but in some of the country places there has been a further decline. Belgium and Holland have given way in new qualities about a shilling per quarter. In Germany the tendency from fineness of weather has been downward. The same is true in Hungary for inferior qualities, though the yield is scarcely an average one, but at Odessa holders maintain prices greatly to the detriment of export trade, in confidence that they will eventually be paid for their patience, as the season advances and the general deficiency is known. Still looking at the present yield as only an average one in quantity, and as from this a large deduction must be made for its general lightness in actual amount of flour produced, say on three-fourths of from 5 to 10 per cent. We may possibly count on a further deficiency of 750,000 quarters at a time when our population is mostly on the increase. We have no doubt that the imports will meet our necessities, but we expect as the season terminates it will be a close run.

Withdrawal of Gold.

The London evening Globe reports that gold to the amount of £27,000 sterling was withdrawn from the Bank to day.

FRANCE.

A Violent Gale.

PARIS, Sept. 13.—There was a violent gale yesterday in the Mediterranean and around its coast. The Cette Railway station was flooded, and railway traffic interrupted between that town and Beziers. Other parts of France were similarly visited on Saturday. Several of the rivers in South France were swollen to such an extent that they overflowed their banks. The rich plains of Vignobles between Beziers and Narbournes were inundated and the vines covered with water. Many houses were destroyed.

TURKEY.

The Insurrection.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 13.—Serious fighting occurred on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday last, in which the Turks were defeated. This has resulted in a renewal of the siege of Treebiegne by the insurgents.

SERVIA.

Opposing Troops.

BELGRADE, Sept. 13.—On account of the threatening concentration of Turkish troops on the frontier, the Servian Government has ordered the mobilisation of six frontier brigades, aggregating 24,000 men. Each soldier must be supplied with 100 rounds of ammunition, and special precautions are to be taken during the night.

SPAIN.

A Policy of Peace.

MADRID, Sept. 13.—General Jovellar, the new Premier, has repeatedly stated that Spain's most urgent need is an end of civil war. The question of a new constitution should be left to the Cortes, and the efforts of the Ministry at present will be directed to the pacification of the Kingdom.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Collections.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 13.—Responses to enquiries this morning seem to indicate that while there is a feeling that collections are somewhat harder to day than on collection day two weeks ago. Nevertheless a general sentiment of confidence prevails, and no disaster is apprehended in commercial circles. In grocery and produce and dry goods lines a good state of affairs is reported, and most parties are able to collect largely in preparation for to day. A prominent grain dealer says the prospects are favorable for foreign collections in that business, and no fears are entertained of anyone being pushed to the wall. The same accommodating course pursued on last collection day will undoubtedly prevail to-day. The Bank of California people report affairs as progressing slowly but surely, with nothing new to remark as to the condition of the Bank.

A Wrestling Match.

A wrestling match, for $2,000 and the championship of America, between John McMahon, of Vermont, and R. Gardener, California, took place on Saturday, and was won by McMahon in one hour and minutes.

TERRE HAUTE.

Appointed Receiver.

TERRE HAUTE, Sept. 13.—Yesterday in Edgar County the Circuit Court, on a petition of R. G. Havey, President, and a number of creditors of the Illino s, Midland Railway, Col. George Dale, of Paris, was appointed Receiver of the company.

TRENTON.

The Sectarian School Question.

TRENTON, N.J., Sept. 13.—The counties of Camden, Bergen, Middlesex, Ocean, Mercer, Salem, Warren, Morris and Cumberland gave 50 791 majority for the amendments proposed by the Roman Catholics.

OSWEGO.

Ashore.

OSWEGO, Sept. 13.—The schooner J. J. Hill went ashore in a gale on Friday night four miles east of Big Sodus, laden with coal from Oswego to Youngstown.

T. H. HARRISON, 80 and 82 Sparks street, opens to day six cases of cutlery, plated spoons, forks, &c., for to night's sale. His sales are now held nightly in store, late European Dining Saloon. Private sale next door.

NEW YORK.

The Temperance Union Vigilance Committee.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The Temperance Union Vigilance Committee yesterday procured further evidence against the rum shops for violating the Sunday excise law.

A despatch to the London Daily News contradicts the New York Herald despatch of yesterday, that hostilities in Bosnia had broken out afresh and Turkish villages sacked and Turks massacred; on the contrary everything was quiet and so far as known the probabilities are in favour of peace.

Negotiating for the Black Hills.

A special to the Tribune from Red Cloud says Spotted Tail has consented to attend the council; Sitting Bull and Crazy Horse refuse to attend under any consideration. They announce their intention of making war this fall. Spotted Tail, in private council with his people yesterday, announced his price as six million dollars for the Black Hills, or an annuity of one hundred dollars a year for grown people, and twenty five dollars for squaws and children. Half of that would stick to white hands, and any such proposition will not be entertained by the commissioners.

Perished.

Eleven perished last night from poisonous gas, in Donnington Wood colliery, Shepshire.

AUBURN.

A Bloody Tragedy

AUBURN, Sept. 13.—A bloody tragedy occurred in the town of Venice, in this County, yesterday, at about 6 a.m. Harrison Andrews, aged about fifty years, went to the chamber of his son, aged nineteen years, and dealt him two murderous blows with a hatchet. The last crushed the skull and it is thought injured the brain. He then aroused his daughters, and shot Mary through the abdomen with a revolver, inflicting a severe, but not necessarily fatal, wound. The two girls escaped from the house and aroused the neighbours. Andrews then poured a quantity of oil on the carpet and set fire to the house afterwards committing suicide by shooting himself through the head. The son is not expected to recover. No motive for the deed is known. Deceased had a violent and ungovernable temper.

Fatal Results of an Explosion.

The boiler of the steam saw mill of Clotham Brothers, in Shaneatel, in Onindaga County, exploded this a.m., killing A. P. Clotham and son, and John Price and son, and fatally injuring a person unknown.

PORTLAND.

Republican Victory.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 13.—Sixty towns gave Connor, Republican, 15,102; Roberts 13,730. Last year the Republican vote was 13,357, and the Democratic vote 10,385.

COMMERCIAL.

Discounts—Bullion—Consols.

LONDON, Sept. 13—4 p.m.—Rates of discount in open market is 1⅞ to 1⅞ per cent, which is ⅛ to ¼ per cent below the Bank of England rate. The amount of bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance is £21,000 Consols, 94 9-16 for money and account. United States bonds, 67 to 108; Erie shares, 16 1-8; do preferred, 34 1-8.

Liverpool Markets

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 13—2 p.m.—Breadstuffs quiet and steady. Lard 38s 3d to 58s 6d. Pork, 77s 6d. Tallow, 46s.

Utica Market.

UTICA, N. Y., Sept. 13.—4,000 boxes of Cheese sold here to-day at 9¾ to 10⅜c per pound, the average price being 10⅛c per pound.

Money Market Excited and Unsettled.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Money easy; sterling quoted at 481 and 484½. Gold opened at 16¼, closed at 16⅛. Governments were firm; State bonds steady; Railroad's firm. The Stock Market opened firm, and advanced but on first call, became weak, and prices declined ¼ to 2 p.c. During the last hour of business the market was rather agitated by rumours of failures which in some cases gave names, but on inquiry it was found each rumour was wholly untrue. The president of the gold room shortly before the close of business publicly announced that the reported suspension of the house of Williams & Garon, which had been rumoured, was untrue. The most reckless use of names in gold standing was made this evening, and without doubt for the purpose of depressing the speculative shares.

New York Markets.

NEW YORK, September 13.—Cotton weak. Flour steady and in moderate demand; receipts, 11,000 barrels; sales, 130,000 barrels; quotations unchanged. Rye flour steady and in fair demand, $4.60 to $5.75. Wheat a shade firmer; receipts, 128,000 barrels; sales, 72,000 bushels; $1.26 to $1.29; No. 2 Chicago, $1.32; No. 2 Milwaukee, $1.36 to $1.43; No. 1 Spring, $1.38 to $1.42; winter red western, $1.44 to $1.46; amber do. Rye dull and nominal. Corn a shade firmer and in moderate demand; receipts, 113,000 bushels; sales, 65,000 bushels. Barley scarce and firm; receipts, 2,000 bushels. Oats steady; receipts, 62,000 bushels; sales, 38,000 bushels from 57c to 58c; old mixed, 58c to 60; old white do., 45c to 53c for new State. Pork, heavy, $20.70 to $20.82. Lard, 13¼c. Butter, 22c to 30c for State and Pennsylvania. Cheese, 21c for State and Pennsylvania.

Chicago Markets.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Flour dull and unchanged. Wheat buoyant but unsettled; No. 1 Chicago, Spring, $1.20; No. 2 do., $1.15½; on the spot, $1.15½; September, $1.11⅞; October, $1.11¼ to 1.11⅜; all year, 3 do., $1.03 to 1.04½; rejected, 95c to 95½c Corn irregular, but in the main lower, No. 2 mixed, 59½c; bid October, 53c; November, 50½c; bid all year rejected, 58½c. Oats—demand fair and prices advanced; No. 2, 37c; on the spot, 36; bid September, 34; bid October rejected, 31½c to 32c. Barley in good demand, but at lower rates; sales at $1.12 on the spot; $1.10 Sept; $1.05 to 1.06 October Rye—demand good at fall prices; sales at 76c per bushel for spot; 75½c per bushel for September. Pork opened firm, and closed dull, at $21 50 to 21 60 per barrel. Lard quiet and weak, at $12 85 to 12 90. Whiskey in fair demand, at lower rates, with sales at $1 16 per gallon Lake Freights—Corn to Buffalo, 2¼c per bushel; Wheat, 2½c per bushel. At afternoon call of Board Wheat steady at $1 15 to 1 15 1-8 per bushel for September; $1 12 per bushel for October. Other articles unchanged. Receipts—112,000 bushels Corn; 38,000 bushels Oats; 29,000 bushels Barley; 5,000 bushels Rye. Shipments—4,000 barrels Flour; 110,000 bushels Wheat; 442,000 bushels Corn; 113,000 bushels Oats; 14,000 bushels barley; 400 bushels Rye.

CANADIAN.

MONTREAL.

Nominated as Reform Candidate—The Cotte Case—Forged Orders—Preliminary Exceptions—Suspended—Embezzlement by a Bank Teller—Bishop Bourget's Pastoral.

MONTREAL, Sept. 13.—The pastoral letter of Bishop Bourget read at the French Church yesterday is the general subject of comment. Some of its clauses are important. The following is all that refers directly to the burial:—"It is for us our very dear brethren a necessity as well as a duty to raise our voices to-day to endeavour to appease a certain agitation which has taken hold of the minds, and which in fermenting from day to day, may lead us to some fatal catastrophe. We have not to recall to you the lamentable faith which has caused to you so bitter a grief, for its so well known to each of you and so strongly engraved with all its unhappy circumstances that it will transmit itself without doubt to latest posterity. What we are going to tell you of it is reduced to a very simple explanation, which we hope will suffice to calm your fears and dissipate certain prejudices by which it is sought to excite bad passions and no arm against each other those who have hitherto lived in peace and faithfully fulfilled the duties imposed by their religion and their country; to maintain the public peace and to live tranquilly in the bosom of their families; for that which hath roused you up in such large numbers is the fear that your graveyard, which you justly venerate as a holy place might be profaned by the burial of a man who died in disgrace and under the anathema of the Church. These tidings rightly alarmed the religious feeling of the Catholic population, and therefore was it why one felt himself obliged to a public but peaceable demonstration, to prevent the profanation of the sacred place where repose in peace our religious ancestors, waiting the great day of the resurrection. By this spontaneous demonstration, to which your heart alone has inspired you, you intended to testify to your religious feelings for the holy place which the Church has blessed, because after your decease your bodies will be laid there, beside those of your fathers, to peaceably await the sound of the terrible trumpet which will awaken the human race from the sleep of death to bring forth all men from the dust of the tomb. We had, dear brethren, to examine with care the religious conviction which attaches us to the cemetery as to a holy place. We have had at the same time to admire the calm and moderate conduct which you manifested at a moment when everything induced the fear lest some might come to blows, and lest blood might have been shed, which would have been considered by all parties as a very great calamity. For our part, we would have supremely regretted this calamitious conflict for many reasons which you can, dear brethren, divine and appreciate. Let it be sufficient for us to remark to you that this effusion of blood would have been a fresh profanation of a holy place, although we might have taken measures so far at least as was in our power to avoid this clamity; but if on the one hand we have managed all things so that the public peace was not troubled, we were on the other occupied by means to be taken so that the Honour of the Holy Church might be respected and that the Holy place should not be profaned; this was to declare in virtue of the devine power which we exercise in name of the Pastor of Pastors that the place where the body of this rebellious child of the church would be deposited should be made separate from the rest of the consecrated cemetery; without it would only be a profane place, for we do not need to prove to you that in the solemn fact of our consecration to God, full power was given to us to bind and to loose, to bless and to curse, to consecrate persons, places and temples, and to interdict them, to separate from the body of the church members who dishonour and outrage, to hand over to Satan those who hear not the church, in order that they may henceforth be considered as Pagans and Publicans, so long as they return not to God by sincere penitence. It is upon these incontestible and uncontested principles of this divine authority, that desiring to maintain in all its integrity the discipline of the Church concerning the burial of its children, and to prevent at the same time all disorder for the future, we declare by these presents in order that no one may be able to plead ignorance, that the part of the cemetery where the body of the late Joseph Guibord should be interred, if ever after this it is buried there, in any manner whatever, will ipso facto remain interdicted and separated from the rest of the cemetery. Such is, dear brethren, the declaration we have to make in order that you may not have to fear that in the present case your cemetery can lose its benediction, or that the sacred right which the Church has over places which she sanctifies and blesses, can be sacrificed and trodden under foot. It follows from this that there remains no pretext for any person to offer violent opposition to the body of this unfortunate brother being deposited in any part whatever of the cemetery since by the same, that part will become interdict and separated from the holy place. You can therefore dwell in peace our dear brethren, since you will be continued the bliss of having a consecrated cemetery, as in the past. After referring to their satisfaction in still having an unpolluted cemetery, he adds: But in sadly extending your regards towards the tomb of this brother whom death has taken from this world without giving him time to make his peace with the Church which he has so deeply afflicted by his disobedience, you will not fail to deplore his unhappy fate and penetrated with just fear you will form the generous resolution to do nothing which might draw upon you so terrible a punishment. In conclusion, he orders the letter to be read from the pulpits of all the churches of this city and of its environs in which public service is celebrated the first Sunday after its reception. This bending of the Bishop, however unwilling, is greeted with joy by all classes of liberal Catholics and Protestants generally. For the first time a hope is expressed that there will be no blood shed at the funeral, which, it is now believed, will take place next week under the auspices of the sheriff. On the latter being made known, the guard on the vault in the Protestant Cemetery was withdrawn.

OTTAWA, TUESDAY, SEPT. 14, 1875.

Mr. Sandford Fleming returned to the city last night from the Maritime Provinces.

His Worship Mayor Feather[illegible], who was a passenger by the steamship Sarnian, will reach Ottawa this morning by the steamer Queen Victoria from Montreal.

His Lordship the Bishop of Ontario has been registered as one of the visitors in the library of the Canadian Agency in London for the week ending first of September.

Mr. G. W. Ross, M.P., left by the two o'clock p.m. train yesterday for Montreal to attend the great temperance convention, which begins its deliberations in that city to-morrow.

M. Prieur, formerly a director of penitentiaries under the old system, who was lately superannuated, left this afternoon with his family for St. Polycarp Quebec, where he will take up his residence.

The following persons are recorded as having visited the library of the General Agency in London in the last week in August:—Messrs. J. Travers Lewis, of Ottawa; F. W. Kerr, and John Montgomery, M.D., of Toronto.

We publish this morning the first instalment of a story—a Canadian tale, written by a Canadian of some literary repute—to which we direct the attention of our readers. It is the aim of the publishers of this journal to produce a newspaper which will continue in the future as it has been in the past, to be a desirable daily visitor to the family and fireside. It is with this idea that the publication of a story has been commenced. It is to be hoped that its merits will be such as to render any further introduction, rather, to the writer or his creation, unnecessary. We will vouch in advance that its tone shall be unexceptionable: as to its success, time and the reader shall be left to judge.

DR. McCOSH'S SUCCESS IN PRINCETON.

Dr. McCosh, the venerable and esteemed President of Princeton University, who has completed the seventh year of his connection with that institution, has just been giving a very interesting account of his stewardship. He begins by reminding the students of the physiological theory that every particle of matter in the body is renewed every seven years, and he thinks by an analogous course of reasoning that he may now fairly consider himself an American, which he declares he feels every inch. He disclaims, in offering a short review of the progress of the University under his guidance, any desire or intention to demand any merit for himself or his colleagues, except that they have devoted themselves thoroughly to their work. To those who by their wise counsels and liberal benefactions had sustained and encouraged the institution, all the credit of its success belonged, he contended, and in proof of what had been done in this way, he quoted the fact that about $1,250,000 in the shape of donations had been received within the seven years. The number of buildings had been doubled, two fine museums completed, and over $4,000 worth of books had been added to the library. There were six new professorships established, and twelve new branches of study in the various departments of science and literature. The status of the University had been raised, and so had the standard of the entrance examinations, and an extensive system of fellowships and prizes inaugurated, to which about $5,000 a year had been devoted. One hundred and seventy-four students have up to the present, this year applied for entrance, which was not anticipated in view of the greater difficulty of passing the examinations, and more are expected to come yet. Half a million more money is wanted to complete the plans which have been laid, part of which are the addition of two professorships, a tutor, and the necessary buildings, but where the money is to come from the venerable principal says he does not yet know. However, he feels certain it is going to come, and he points to the fact that whereas in the past the greater proportion of the funds contributed have gone to the erection of new departments, in the future they will be aimed solely at the direct promotion of learning. The record is a good one, and the experience of the past fully justifies Dr. McCosh's hopes of liberality towards the college on the part of the American public.

HON. MR. GEOFFRION.

Mr. Geoffrion, who has been hovering between life and death for the past three weeks, is likely, according to the latest accounts, to be spared to further usefulness. The utmost sympathy has been expressed on all hands for the friends and family of the hon. gentleman than whom there is no more popular man in public life on either side of politics at the present day. His case has been most critical, especially during the last week, when every hour the public and his own physicians expected he would breath his last. Yesterday and the previous day, however, the symptoms have been more favourable, and there is now hope that under Providence his recovery is assured. It was with pain and horror Conservatives learned that a journal published in their interests in Montreal had the indecency to speculate upon the changes which his prospective removal by death might necessitate in the Government of the country—an outrage upon the feelings of the family which no precedent could excuse and no course of reasoning could serve to palliate. We had hoped that the Minerve, the newspaper which was guilty of this unfeeling conduct, would have offered some apology to the public, which was the very slightest reparation that could have been made in the circumstances. The conductor of a newspaper might be led into committing an indiscretion of that kind without meaning any injury, and without having actually realized the offance against decency he was committing; but having made the unfortunate error, no gentleman would have refused or neglected to express his regret for it; and, notwithstanding political asperities, we believe that the conductors of the organs of public opinion in Canada are, as a rule, sensitive and high toned gentleman. Unfortunately, however, we have not seen or heard of any apology on the part of the Minerve, and are therefore forced to some conclusions which had probably better not be expressed. Attention may also be directed to the fact that, out of the many English Conservative journals in Canada, only one was found to follow the example of the Minerve, and that one in Ottawa. We can scarcely credit the assumption that the action of our contemporary was so entirely heartless as it looks to be. We rather regard it as one of the results of that silly disposition to "reconstruct" the Cabinet, which the organ in question has for some time manifested. The attempt to excuse the offence would scarcely be worthy of a man of honour in his private capacity, and when a newspaper draws aside the veil that shields any family from the vulgar public gaze, and speculates upon the probable results of the life and death struggle of the person whose privacy is invaded; no empty platitude about the good qualities of that person or the estimation in which he is held will turn aside from it the indignation and resentment of all right-minded people, or compensate afflicted relatives for the shock given to their tenderest and most sacred feelings. The Montreal Gazette, believing also that these disgraceful discussions have arisen from thoughtlessness, is yet as strong as language permits in condemnation of them. The Gazette, among other things very pertinent and in good taste, says:—"There is an apparent want "of feeling in this, which cannot but be "shocking to the friends of the honourable gentleman, and which almost "creates the impression that our political dissensions are of so bitter a character "that even the grave itself cannot make us forget them. We should be sorry to believe that this was true of any of our contemporaries. We prefer infinitely to believe that the illness which has prostrated Mr. Geoffrion is as much regretted by those who differ from him in political opinion as by his party and political friends; and that all unite in the earnest prayer that it may please God to restore him to health, and to his family and his country.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN KELLEY.—We chronicle this week the death of one of our oldest, most popular and most respected citizens, Capt. J. R. Kelley, born at Prescott, A. D., 1828. There are not many who leave behind them so large a circle of attached and sorrowing friends. As captain of one of the Royal Mail Line of steamers for many years, he enjoyed a wide acquaintance with the travelling public, and was both a popular and experienced commander. His frequent exposure to stormy weather in the discharge of his duties brought on a severe attack of rheumatism, under which his constitution sank after eighteen months of painful sickness, borne with much patience. He died on Sunday morning last, the 5th inst., leaving besides his numerous friends, a widow and six children to mourn his loss. They have the sincere sympathy of all in their bereavement.—Brockville Recorder.

Different Ways of Stealing.

MODERN THIEVES OF THE SHARPER CLASS.—EASY MODES OF MAKING A FORTUNE.—BY BISHOP CLARK OF RHODE ISLAND.

[From Mr. Bonner's New York Ledger.]

There are twenty seven names by which the vocation of a thief is designated. In modern times we have invented a new set of titles—such as repudiator, defaulter, and defalcator—as descriptive of some of our more popular modes of cheating. Give to any vice a gentle name, and it is said to lose half its grossness. And so, instead of using the good old Saxon, which meant something, even if it was coarse, we say of one who has robbed the bank, that "there is a deficit in his accounts," and of the man who spends money that does not belong to him, that he is "obliged to compromise with his creditors." I do not think that there is much gained by this. Carrion meat may be called high, but it does not smell any sweeter for that. If a man has robbed me, I do not feel any better to be told that "he has appropriated my property to his own use." Let us call a spade a spade, an itch a rascal a rascal, and we shall know better where we stand.

If I should enter into details upon all the various modes in which we are now cheated, I could fill all the forty columns of the Ledger. As it is, I shall confine myself to a few, which are just now most prominent.

Highest in the scale of thieves, and altogether the most respectable, is the professional burglar, who calls his vocation by no fictitious name, and is prepared to meet the consequences fairly and squarely, if he happens to be caught. He has probably been trained to his business from childhood, and as a matter of taste prefers it to any other. A lawyer in London once asked the captain of a band of English burglars if, with his skill as an accountant and other accomplishments, he could not do better by earning his living in some honest way; to which he replied: "Certainly, sir; was it not upon the whole a paying business? but do you suppose that it is the pecuniary return which makes it attractive to me? by no means; it is the pleasure that I take in bringing my wits to bear, so as to circumvent the plans of others for the preservation of their property."

The elevation of burglary to the rank of a mental science is somewhat novel, but the intellectual pre-eminence of the professional robber may be justly disputed by the accomplished swindler, who never breaks a lock or strikes a blow or uses a tool. House breaking requires only a certain amount of mechanical skill, but to get possession of another man's property by hoodwinking him, or playing upon his feelings, it is necessary that one should study something more than the mysteries of iron bolts and bars. Take, for instance, the mendicant thief—not one of the ragged regiment of beggars who are always ready to pilfer whatever is not to be had in other ways—but a well-dressed traveller, who has lost his wallet or had his pocket picked, or failed to collect a bill upon which he relied to meet the expense of his journey. Now it is only by the exercise of considerable ingenuity that any of these stale devices can be made effective.

A pleasing young man with an inimitable address, calls upon me in some such distress, and asks for a simple loan of ten or twenty dollars to reach his home. "Now," he adds, "I have been sufficiently familiar with clergymen to know how liable they are to be imposed upon by such stories as mine, and for this reason I would not like to take the money without leaving in your hands a few books which I brought with me from home as security for the loan." "What are the books?" I inquired. He then mentioned the titles of three or four religious works of the highest character lying at the hotel in his trunk, such as only a very good man would be likely to read, and the bait took. The youth kept his books—if he ever had them—obtained the loan, and that was the last I ever saw or heard of him. This is a very ordinary specimen of the ingenious deceipts by which the tribe of mendicant swindlers obtain a living.

Cheating the Government by evading the payment of duties and taxes, by smuggling, and buying goods known to be smuggled, and various other modes of fraud, is popularly regarded as a somewhat venial crime. So far as the abstract morality of the deed is concerned, I do not see the difference between putting my hand into the public treasury and taking out a hundred dollars that do not belong to me and abstracting the same sum from my neighbour's pocket. The derangement of certain branches of trade, as well as the loss of revenue occasioned by this evil, have recently aroused public attention, and the conviction of a few conspicuous criminals may tend to abate the fraud.

The rascalities of contractors have never been exceeded or equalled in any former generation. One fat job is a fortune, and an easier way to make a fortune can hardly be conceived. Only get the papers signed, secure the money, and underlet the work at half price, and the thing is done. How the work will be done, and with what sort of materials, is another matter.

Of the numberless other ways in which the community are cheated, the formation of stock companies based upon a tissue of lies, where the little savings of hard-working men and the patrimony of orphans and widows, are systematically swallowed up—railroad bonds, floated for a while by large dividends, paid with borrowed money, by which honest people are enticed to invest their capital, and where it soon sinks out of sight forever—certificates issued by ex-governors, senators, and foreign ministers to beguile the unwary into some valueless scheme—of all this I have no room to write.

This, however, is the conclusion of the whole matter. Fraud is the crying sin of the nation, in high places and in low places. The freedmen deposit their earnings in a national savings bank, and their money is filched from them. Yes—place your funds in the hands of a respectable citizen, and suddenly he is off for parts unknown. You buy a hundred shares of railroad stock guaranteed by the most saintly men, and secured by public lands, and find that it is not worth a penny. You hold a righteous claim upon the Government, and are obliged to sacrifice half the amount in order to obtain the moiety.

How long shall this state of things be allowed to continue?

Dr. Howe's Testimony.

PITTSFIELD, ME., March, 1872.

MR. JAMES I. FELLOWS.

DEAR SIR,—During the past two years I have given your Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites a fair though somewhat severe trial in my practice, and am able to speak with confidence of its effects. In restoring persons suffering from emaciation and the debility following diptheria, it has done wonders. I constantly recommend its use in all affections of the throat and lungs. In several cases considered hopeless it has given relief, and the patients are fast recovering. Among these are consumptive and old bronchial subjects, whose disease has resisted the other modes of treatment. For impaired digestion, and in fact for debility from any cause, I know of nothing equal to it. Its direct effect in strengthening the nervous system renders it suitable for the majority of diseases.

I am, sir, yours truly,
WM. S. HOWE, M.D.

The Fischer Piano.

The American Trade Journal writing up the piano trade says: "Messrs. J. & C. Fischer, are, as we have said, not only the oldest and most experienced makers of fine instruments for the trade, but sell hundreds of their pianos to out-[illegible]." About 17,000 of them are now in use. They are certainly the best medium priced piano in the country—all have agraffe treble:

The Provincial
EXHIBITION ANNUAL,
A Guide to the Show Grounds,
AND
HAND BOOK for the CITY OF OTTAWA.
First Edition.
(A Circulation of Twenty Thousand Copies Guaranteed.)

Under the above title the subscriber purposes issuing, in time for circulation, previous to and during the approaching Provincial Exhibition to be held in this city, a Hand Book prepared especially for the use of visitors to the Exhibition and of strangers desirous of seeing the principal objects of attraction in and around Ottawa.

Among its contents will be found:
Accurate Plans of the Exhibition grounds and buildings, with full description of the same, dimensions, uses, &c.
A carefully prepared synopsis of By-Laws and Regulations of the Agricultural and Arts Association so far as they affect exhibitors and visitors to the Exhibition.
Index to the location of the several classes of stock and articles exhibited, colours of prize tickets, and all other matters calculated to assist visitors in intelligently enjoying the display.
Complete programme of the Exhibition week from the opening to the close.
Description of the City of Ottawa, its principal points of attraction, scenery, manufactures and Public Buildings, together with the location, dimensions, etc., of the same.
Complete directory of the various Benevolent, Temperance and other societies, clubs of associations, with nights and places of meeting, for the convenience of visiting brethren.
Postal, Train, Steamboat and other information useful to travellers.
List of public meetings, entertainments, etc., in the city during the exhibition week.
The Government Buildings, the Library, locations of the several Departments and principal public offices.
The Patent Office,—special attention will be given to this important office and full information as to the most direct mode of transacting business therewith.

TO ADVERTISERS.

As twenty thousand copies of the "Exhibition Annual" will be in circulation before the end of Exhibition week, it will furnish an unrivalled medium for advertising. Its pages (the size of this prospectus) will be a large pamphlet form with colored paper cover, thus rendering it convenient for preservation and future reference.

The vast amount of information it will contain, and the fact, that it is in contemplation to maintain it as an annual publication in connection with the Ontario Exhibitions—adapting it to each locality wherein they are held—gives its advertising patrons virtually the benefit of a standing advertisement for a whole year.

From A. McNab, Esq., President of the Provincial Agricultural and Arts Association.

SIR,—I have no hesitation in giving your proposed Hand Book my hearty approval, believing it to be interesting to the public generally and particularly to the agriculturists of the Dominion. Yours, etc.,
ARCH'D. McNAB.

A. ROBERTSON, Esq., Ottawa.

From the Hon D. Christie, Speaker of the Senate, and late President of the Upper Canada Provincial Agricultural Association.

MY DEAR SIR,—I have read your letter with great interest and have pleasure in stating my hearty approval of your scheme to publish a "Provincial Exhibition Hand-book." It will be a work of real value to visitors to the Exhibition, as a Souvenir. I hope you will meet with sufficient encouragement to justify a yearly publication of the Hand-Book.

I remain, yours very truly,
D. CHRISTIE.

ALEX. ROBERTSON, Esq.

Encouraged by the hearty approval of Mr. McNab, Hon. Mr. Christie, Hon. M. Cameron, Hon. Mr. Read, Ira Morgan, Esq., and many other gentlemen of distinction, I purpose issuing a copy-right, and under the title of the "Provincial Exhibition Annual," and intend to make of it a yearly publication in connection with our Provincial Exhibitions.

ALEX. ROBERTSON.

LUKE TRAVERS,

OR

A Tale of the Dominion. Commencing 30 Years Back.

On a beautiful day in August, 1836, the brig Pride of London, after a tedious voyage from a port on the Thames of eight weeks, arrived at Halifax, in Nova Scotia. On board of the Pride were some recruits to join the companies of artillery then in the Lower Provinces, about half a dozen of women, wives of men of the Royal Sappers and Miners, a company of which corps, now styled Royal Engineers, had for some time been stationed in Halifax. A lieutenant Colonel in the army, on the staff, who had obtained the very unimportant position of Inspecting Field Officer of Provincial Militia, a young gentleman from the Royal College of Surgeons, London, intending to practice surgery and medicine among the Blue Noses, and a merchant of Prince Edward's Island, with one or more ladies. The voyage, though tedious, had been a pleasant one, and Luke Travers felt on leaving the vessel a sensation not unlike that of quitting, for the first time, the home of youth. Although there were some squalls and one or two brawls during the voyage, on the whole the time passed pleasantly, and Luke felt sore at heart on leaving shipboard. Everything was novel, too. The faces were all strange, and not by any means all of one color. There seemed to be as many black, and brown, and yellow faced people as there were white. There were negroes and Indians, Yankees and Europeans, and soldiers and sailors, in far greater numbers than tinkers or tailors. There were no manufactories, and the churches and dwelling houses were all of wood. About the dockyard were stone quays and a stone house in which the Admiral dwelt, and stone offices in which the dockyard business was transacted. The North Barracks, and the South Barracks, and the Sappers' Barracks and the Artillery Barracks were all of wood, and the glacis of the citadel were not yet graded. The chief edifice, rather a tasteful looking structure, and besides Dalhousie College, the only one of stone within the city was the Province Building. The private wharfs were built of round logs, with interstices of a log's width from top to bottom, filled with loose stones and gravel, and the bark huts of the Mic-Macs might be seen at Dartmouth on the opposite side of Chebucto Bay. The day was, as has been already stated, beautiful, but the weather nevertheless was oppressively hot. The sky was unclouded, the sun shone full upon the trees, the grass, the water, and upon man and beast. The unruffled waters of the bay were as molten lead, the roads and streets were dry and dusty, and the only active life was that of insects. Not far from the narrow entrance of the great basin at the head of the harbour, which is 27 miles in circumference, the flag ship, a vessel carrying 74 guns, lay at anchor completely motionless, and here and there a merchant brig, topsail schooner, or shallop, might be noticed at different wharfs, with a few boats going hither and thither, but with so little seeming motion that the whole seemed more like reflections on a mirror than anything else to which so picturesque but still a scene might be likened. The waters and any thing moving upon the face of them, seemed to be lying as still and stationary as the fortified island in the centre of the harbour, McNab's Island, a little lower down York Redoubt, on the seaward side of the Northwest Arm, or any other piece of terra firma which helped to fill up the picture of Halifax and her surroundings on this particularly hot day. So quiet a country to a stranger, since the invasion of Juan Fernandez by Mr. Alexander Selkirk, whose mishaps Defoe availed himself of in "Robinson Crusoe," ever set foot upon. Yet Mr. Joseph Howe was then in active correspondence with Mr. Louis Joseph Papineau, and perhaps with Mr. William Lyon Mackenzie, for these gentlemen had not yet been guilty of defying the authority of England, and were only legitimate reformers, demanding rights which since have been conceded, but, unfortunately, not until blood was shed, ill-feeling created, rebellion aroused, homesteads ruined, patriots exiled, and all those calamities had befallen which are ever consequent upon domestic strife. Yet Sir Colin Campbell in Nova Scotia, and Sir John Harvey in New Brunswick were struggling against those demands for that political freedom which Canada was on the very point of obtaining without the necessity of a shot being fired in anger, and which, unfortunately, through culpable mismanagement or maladroitness was not really obtained until the chiefs of the Reform party in the inland provinces had openly resisted and fled to foreign lands, their victims being exiled or strangled according to circumstances.

Luke Travers, after a painful march up hill to the artillery barracks, a queer West Indian looking arrangement of verandahed-wooden huts, with gun-sheds forming one side, the hospital and officers' quarters other sides, and the soldiers' barracks the fourth side of a great square, in the centre of which stood a 24-pounder gun, en barbette, in the immediate neighbourhood of a flag staff, from which perpetually waved, from sunrise till sunset, the Union Jack, and, like others of his class, soon settled down into the ordinary routine of a soldier, knowing nothing of and caring less about Colonial grievances, although not without some idea of what political grievances were, as William, the sailor king, was still upon the throne, and the Alton Lockes, in his short but memorable reign, were neither few nor far between. That something was unsatisfactory to the home authorities, the presence of three Inspecting Field Officers of Militia in Halifax was some proof. These officers were not, apparently in any way under the control of the civil authority of the Province; but were directly amenable for their acts to the Lieutenant General Commanding, who was the Governor; and their acts were not many, for besides taking turn as Field Officers of the Day, with the other Field Officers of the garrison, their special duty only occupied one day in the year.

What the Americans call training day, or the militia turn out for inspection, I, Luke Travers, gunner and driver in the Royal Regiment of Artillery, can never forget. The parade took place on the Common behind and below the Citadel, and such a motley assemblage could scarcely be conceived. One man was dressed in a hussar uniform, with a monstrously tall crowned hat and laced jacket, saber-tache and sword with sky-blue coloured trousers very similar to that worn by the figure in the group surrounding Sir John Moore, in a travelling wax-work exhibition under canvas, which I had seen when a boy at school some years before; another had plain black clothes upon him, with white unpipeclayed buffs, and a brown bess which might have seen service during the war of American independence; a third had light clothes on, and black buffs; a fourth had a cap or bonnet on, the officers had mostly swords, and were anciently and singularly dressed, the only soldierly looking personage being the I. F. O., whose cocked hat and white plume, scarlet coat and silver lace, and finely caparisoned horse, made the contrast between the army and its immediate commander more strikingly and ludicrously apparent. But notwithstanding the irregularity of the "present", these were reliable men as they are now. These were the bone and sinew of Nova Scotia—the men whom no political trickster can hope to dupe into disloyalty to their mother country or to themselves.

There was and is a settlement of the Sons of Ham about ten miles from the city, called Hammond's Plains. How the Hammites came there or growed there, or continue to remain there, has not been clearly explained. But they visibly darkened with their presence the streets of Halifax, and were to be found, male and female, in all capacities except those of steamboat proprietors, shop owners, or merchants, everywhere. They kept hotels and served in hotels, they blacked boots and washed linen. They were carters, and they were boatmen, but they were not artists like the Italians or traders like the Jews.

The Nova Scotian proper did not live in Halifax. He lived all round about. He lived on the road to Windsor. He stayed at Dartmouth, on the road to Pictou, or in Cape Breton, or Digby, on the opposite side of the Peninsula, but not in Halifax. He was not contaminated by garrison influences as were the merchant and storekeeper, who fattened on the troops and sailors of the squadron, and were as greedy and as consequential as are the civil inhabitants of Woolwich, Greenwich, Portsmouth or Plymouth. He was the Bluenose, acute but loyal, independent and knowing, whom Haliburton in himself so well and truly represented.

These are not all the inhabitants of Nova Scotia other than the Indians. There is an along shore class of Acadians—people of French extraction, with all the natural politeness of the Frenchman, kind, courteous, economical, cleanly, unchanging creatures, whose shallops are neat but small like themselves, whose dress is ever the same, generation after generation, who have the features and the manners and habits of their brethren on the St. Lawrence as distinctly recognizable as if they had only yesterday come around by water from L'Islet. They sell potatoes, gannets' eggs, oats and farm produce generally. They do not, however, fish. The fisherman is another class or race of Nova Scotians, apparently springing from the Celtic followers of Wolfe, and who are chiefly to be met with at Louisbourg, or on the coast all round the Peninsula—with perhaps a sprinkling of the Yankee element.

In the immediate vicinity of the city there was enough of forest remaining to Americanise, in European eyes, the country. From every swamp, in the summer time, that peculiar harmony was emitted which only frogs can produce. In winter the snow was deep enough and the cold severe enough to impress a new comer from the British Isles with the idea that he was decidedly from home, and "the barber," rising on the surface of the water and covering the sides, and masts, and sails and ropes of the beautiful packet ship, with the mails on board, as she glided gracefully through the cold, sticky and penetrating ice-fog, suggested the idea of Davis' Straits rather than the English Channel.

A summer and winter soon passed over in the garrison routine of Halifax, summer coming again the ordinary troops appearing in white trowsers, the Rifles with their black plumes, and the 34th, the 83rd, and the 85th Regiments of the line, commanded by Colonels Airey, Dundas (now Lord Melville) and Mousell, and the Royal Artillery commanded by that excellent man Colonel, familiarly known as "Paddy," Brough—the Sappers had gone home, and the earthworks of the citadel were being completed by the soldiers of the line on working pay marching past day after day, previously to guard mounting, when an incident occurred which set the philanthropist of the town in motion. A vessel, the Panther, from some port in Ireland for New York, with immigrants on board had put into the harbour in distress. She was dismasted and short of provisions, and had sickness on board.

St. George's Island was at once placed at the disposal of a Committee of the Benevolent Haligonians on which to land the people from the ship, to wash and air themselves until some repairs could be done to the Panther to make her again seaworthy.

The island is nearly circular. On its summit is the fort, which is completely circular, surrounded by a dry ditch and entered by a draw bridge. There were a number of guns—24 pounders on traversing platforms—all round, just peering over the curtain of earth and stone which protected the gunners, a well of fresh water—fathoms deep—in the centre, and outside of the fort on the northerly beach was a wooden barracks, which the emigrants were permitted to occupy, order being maintained by a military police force, under the command of Bombardier Lacey of the Artillery, but there was little need for the enforcement of order. The poor people were orderly enough and kindly to each other, and more, these people did not all become Irish-Americans and Fenians, but after going to New York found their way to Canada, and one young lad—not then out of his teens—is now a reverend and a rector in a thriving part of Ontario.

While this vessel was in quarantine, news reached Halifax of the death of King William and the accession of Queen Victoria, the customary salutes being fired from the island, and when the vessel sailed, the military detachment left the island, and towards Autumn, under the command of Captain Mark Evans, of whose company he formed a part, Luke Travers was en route for the sister Province of New Brunswick, and matters in Canada were beginning to look particularly squally.

That march was memorable. A conceited little wretch of a trumpeter strutted at the head of the company, and spirted out viciously four or five notes of what was fondly supposed to be music. Captain Evans, with drawn sword and silk oil skinned covered shako, and Lieutenants Denis, Pack and Robertson in their proper places, walked proudly beside the men, laden with heavy knapsacks and a light-locked flint musket, the arms being kept at the slope, and close order preserved until "the lodge" in which Prince Edward Duke of Kent, once lived at the head of "the Basin," was reached when the word was given to march "easy," which was easier said than done, the weather being very warm and the knapsack and brown-bess being very heavy. The road ran through burnt woods and stumpy land of recent clearance, and at the first country inn we came to, near a little bit of water which, by courtesy, may be called a lake, we rested, breakfasted, and drank a little rum with the water, which we swallowed before starting, the rum being suggested as an antidote to the evil consequences of pure water on the bowels in so particularly hot weather. It was still early in the morning. By noon the company had arrived at a clearance, dined at the inn, at the expense of the Province of Nova Scotia be it understood, slept in a stable among straw or hay for the night, and set off again at daybreak en route for Windsor, which we reached on the afternoon of the third day, sleeping there in a house and on the floors thereof, much less comfortably but more respectably than we did in a stable on the previous night.

SECRETARY:

J. W. HOLMES, Esq.,

The Montreal Proprietary School has been established to provide a liberal education similar to that given in the Public Schools of England. The course of instruction, however, will not be restricted to Classics, and Boys will be specially prepared either for the University and Professional or for Commercial Life.

Most eligible premises have been purchased for the School in McTavish street, one of the most healthful localities of the city, and immediately adjoining the grounds of the McGill University.

The course of instruction will include Latin, Greek, Mathematics, French, German, Arithmetic, Writing, English Grammar, Literature and Composition, History and Geography, Book-keeping, Algebra and Modern, Natural Philosophy, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, Gymnastics and Drilling.

A limited number of boys will be received by the Principal as Boarders. Weekly Boarders and, with the view of keeping the Lunch from improper influences, it is strongly recommended that all be entered as Day Boarders, who will dine in the house of the Principal.

Further particulars can be obtained from the Secretary, J. W. Holmes, Esq., 78 Victoria street, to whom all applications for admission must be made.

The School will open on MONDAY, the 12th of April, and will be carried on for a few days at 75 Victoria street, the new premises not being quite completed.

CHOICE AND BEAUTIFUL

WALL PAPER.

INCLUDING THOSE DEDICATED BY THE MANUFACTURER

TO

Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Dufferin.

These Paperhangings are imported direct from the best Manufacturing Establishments in England, France and United States. Great care has been taken in their selection with regard to colour. The ground tones are soft and pleasing to the eye, especially those toned with silver mica; but above all, they are free from the mineral poisons that many of the tawdry-coloured Paperhangings of the day are surcharged with. The Subscriber's long experience as a colourist, and being thoroughly acquainted with the chemical compound of the pigments used in Painting, enables him to reject, in his selection of Paperhangings, those coloured with poisonous pigments, so deleterious to health. The Public are respectfully invited to examine his STOCK of WALL PAPER, before purchasing elsewhere.

As the undersigned is going out of the Room Paper Business as soon as his present Stock is disposed of, the Goods will be Sold at the Lowest Remunerating Prices.

PAIN KILLER.

After thirty-five years trial, it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its value from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Physicians of the first respectability recommend it as a remedy of great efficiency, a ration for the extinction of pain. It is not only the best remedy ever known for Bruises, Cuts, Burns, &c., but for Dysentery or Cholera, or any sort of Bowel complaint it is a remedy unsurpassed for efficiency, and rapidity of action. In the greatest cities of India, and other hot climates, it has become the standard remedy for all such complaints, as well as for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, and other kindred disorders. For Coughs and Colds, Canker, Asthma, and Bronchial affections, it has been proved by the most abundant and convincing testimony to be an inevitable medicine.

It is used Internally and Externally.

BERKELEY, Sept., 1869.—Gentlemen, I feel it a duty I owe to you to express my gratitude for the great benefit I have derived from the use of your valuable pills. I was quite recently confined to my room, in a state of health, from which I was unable to move, suffering excruciating pain for a length of time, having tried nearly every remedy prescribed, but without any benefit at all. After taking two bottles of your valuable pills, I was quite restored to my usual state of health. Feeling this public method for the benefit of those who may be afflicted, I am, Gentlemen, yours truly, ANN ADAMS. To the proprietors of "Morson's Canadian Pills."

Local Intelligence.

LOOK HERE.—For the Exhibition. For sale or to lend, one hundred dozen Knives and Forks, very cheap, at "Variety Hall," Sussex street. 3943 tf

FOR THE EXHIBITION.—Mr. Greaves, of Sandy Hill, has prepared some splendid specimens of melons, peppers, egg plants, etc., for the Exhibition. His collection is A No. 1, and he cannot fail to secure a prize.

NEW WHARF.—Captain McNaughton yesterday obtained permission from the local committee of the Provincial Exhibition to erect a wharf adjoining the Fair grounds. Passengers visiting the Exhibition by boat on the Rideau Canal will land thereon, and enter by turnstiles to the grounds. This will afford a ready and pleasant means of transit to the Exhibition.

CITY COUNCIL.—There was a special meeting of the City Council called for last night, but at the appointed hour there was no quorum. The City Clerk called over the names, when the following responded:—Alds. Waller, Chairman; Christie, Bronson, Rowe, Birkett and McDougal. The acting Mayor, therefore, declared the meeting adjourned for want of a quorum.

THE NEW BY WARD MARKET.—A large force of men were yesterday engaged in excavating for the foundation of the new By Ward Market. The City Engineer and Architect were on the ground along with the Chairman of the Market Committee, and laid out the site of the proposed building. It will, when completed, be one of the finest market edifices in the Dominion. The contractor means business, and will push the work on with vigour so an early completion.

GENDREAU'S shaving and haircutting saloon, No 3 Raiqtte's Block, Wellington street. Adele M. Gendreau, proprietor. 3923 tf

IN CAMP.—The 18th Prescott Battalion of Infantry, now in camp performing their annual drill at Caledonia Springs, will be formed up for muster parade to-morrow. The inspection, by Colonel Jackson, D. A. G., and Major Mattice, B. M., will take place on Wednesday, and on Thursday a board, consisting of the two above named officers, and Colonel Urquhart, will assemble for the purpose of examining those officers of the Battalion who are desirous of fitting themselves for promotion.

A COTTON PLANT.—Mr. George Sheldon of this city has succeeded in raising in his garden this season three stalks of the real Southern cotton plant. He sowed the seed in June, and at present the little balls of cotton are just beginning to form. Had the seed been put down a month earlier, it would have been ripe ere now. This is, we believe, the first experiment at raising this plant in this section of the country, but the apparent success which has attended this effort will, no doubt, prompt others to a trial. Mr. Sheldon has had a good deal of trouble in raising this foreign product on Canadian soil.

ST. LAWRENCE AND OTTAWA RAILWAY.—As will be seen by an advertisement in another column, the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Railway will run six trains daily each way during the week of the Exhibition. This will be a great convenience to the travelling public. A landing at which passengers can alight, and freight and live stock be unloaded, has been erected on the line near Billings' Bridge. Distance from Exhibition ground about three fourths of a mile, over an excellent road. All trains stop at the Exhibition landing. This shows commendable enterprise on the part of this railway company.

A CURIOSITY.—Mr. Mathew Heron of Gloucester, is the possessor of an apple tree, which at the present time bears both ripe fruit and blossom. The tree is a Siberian Crab and was grafted a couple of years ago to the root of a Montreal Beauty. The original was a decayed tree, and had lost all apparent vitality; but the present unnatural action of the grafted tree, must in time way be owing to its connection with the old root. This curiosity has excited a good deal of interest in the locality where it is situated. Bloom appeared under similar circumstances on another tree in the same orchard about three weeks ago.

HANDGUIDE TO OTTAWA.—A very excellent work, intended as a hand-guide for st angers visiting this city, has just been published by Mr. A. C. Burgess, of the Russell House News Depot. It gives a very full and interesting sketch of all the public buildings and points of interest in the city, besides other valuable information for those visiting the city. A fine chart of the city is also annexed to the volume and will prove an invaluable guide to strangers. In addition to this, a full description, together with a plan of the forthcoming exhibition and grounds is given, that adds additional interest to the publication. Our chants have apparently duly appre the work, judging from the liberal patronage that has been accorded the publisher. It is offered for sale in all the bookstores and newsdealers shops in the city, and can also be had at the news depot of the publisher at the Russell House.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND LADIES' SCHOOL.—We are very happy to be able to announce that this school will re-open on Wednesday next in the new premises, Wellington street, which have been fitted up with every convenience necessary for carrying on the school work. This school has done good service in Ottawa for the past five years, affording an education of the highest order, mentally and morally, to the young ladies who have attended it. Miss MANN, the lady principal, is an English lady of high culture and large experience in teaching. She has succeeded in winning the confidence of the parents whose children were under her care during the past year, and by them is held in an esteem and respect of which she may well be proud. Having selected a staff of accomplished teachers for English, French and music, Miss Mann re-opens the school under the most encouraging auspices, and we hope that she will meet with the success which her efforts deserve.

Dominion of Canada Rifle Association.

SIXTH AND CLOSING DAY.

Yesterday saw the close of the annual meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association at the Rideau Range. The day was fine and all that could be desired for shooting. The wind was light and pretty steady, so that on the whole good practice was made. The number of competitors and also spectators had dwindled considerably, and beyond the serious business of shooting, there was but little excitement for outsiders to indulge in. The second stage of the All Comers was the first event on the programme, and it resulted as follows:—

	200 yds.	500 yds.	600 yds.	800 yds.
Sergt. Saucier, 18th					56
Capt. Mason, 13th					56

THE WIMBLEDON MATCH.

The second stage of the Wimbledon match was closed, and to the benefit of those who feel interested in the affair, we append the conditions and the scores; it must be remembered that the two last mentioned names are only conditional on hearing from British Columbia and Manitoba.

The second stage will be open to all winners of prizes in the first stage, and not exceeding 15 additional competitors to be selected by the Executive Committee of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association. Entrance fee—$2.00. Wimbledon targets and regulations. Ranges —200, 500, 600, and 800 yards. Snider rifles at 200, 500, and 600 yards. Martini-Henry Rifles, as used by the Association, at 800 yards. In this stage there will be 20 prizes amounting to $800, as follows:—Presented by the President of the Association, Lt.-Colonel Gzowski, $250, distributed as follows:—

1st prize	$100
2nd "	80
3rd "	70
	$250
Seventeen prizes, amounting to	550
Given by the Association, to be divided among the 17 competitors making the highest scores, after the first three, in proportion to the scores made.
	$800

The prizes in the second stage will not be paid until the winners report themselves at Quebec en route to Wimbledon as accepted members of the Team.

During the competition there were 2,880 sight shots fired, 16,840 rounds of ammunition issued from the magazine.

No competition has ever been completed with so much eclat since the Association was established. Every arrangement was complete, and every facility was given to the reporters by Col. Bacon, the statistical officer, Col. Stuart, the Secretary, and all the other officers connected with the range. Mr. Byshe, who had the control of the officers' mess, gave every satisfaction, and each day provided a good meal. Altogether the affairs of the meeting were conducted most satisfactorily, and all who were concerned in the competition, express themselves well satisfied at all the proceedings.

RETURNED FROM THE UPPER OTTAWA.—Mr. Michaelscoff, one of the civil engineers recently sent out by the Russian Government, has returned to the city from his visit to inspect the Ottawa river works in the vicinity of Pembroke.

A DISGRACEFUL ROW.—The Police Court yesterday revealed the fact of a saloon in Rideau street having been the scene of a disgraceful row on Sunday afternoon. The place in question would seem to be anything but an enviable spot for those desirous of avoiding difficulties that are incident to the free use of common whiskey. The proprietor was mulcted a few days ago in $20 and costs for selling liquor without a license, and since then it would seem that considerable smuggling has been indulged in, which culminated in the disgraceful row on Sunday. William Cox, the proprietor of the establishment in question, set upon and beat in the most frightful manner one Edward Martin, and it is more than suspected that another man named Patrick Lennox lent a helping hand. A revolver was used by Cox in the most threatening attitude, and a knife was also found on the floor of the hall where the bloody encounter took place. The cause of the row could not be very clearly ascertained. Two of the parties, Cox and Martin, were fined $5 and costs each yesterday by the Magistrate, and Lennox was discharged. It is to be hoped there will be no repetition of such disgraceful conduct on Sunday hereafter, as the city has hitherto borne a very good reputation of being free from Sabbath desecration.

POLICE COURT.

Before M. O'Gara, E. M.
MONDAY, Sept. 13.

Thomas Hearon was charged with being drunk and disorderly in the vicinity of the "Palace," Bolton street. She was mulcted in $10 and costs or three weeks' in gaol.

Andre Lachrim was arraigned for disorderly conduct. The case was dismissed and the policeman reprimanded for being over zealous in the discharge of his duty.

William Cox, Edward Martin and Patrick Lennox were charged with a breach of the peace in a saloon in Rideau street. A revolver and knife were said to have been used in the bloody scuffle that took place. Lennox was discharged and the other two fined $5 and costs each. Mr. Gibb defended the prisoners.

James McCoukey was charged with being disorderly on the public street. He was fined $5 and costs, or go to gaol for a week.

Jeremiah Evans was charged with using insulting language to Sergt. Hornidge while in the discharge of duty. A fine of $5 and costs was imposed. A notice of appeal was given.

William Scarlett was charged with assaulting James Whittey. He was fined $5 and costs or two weeks in gaol.

Andrew Beauchamp was arraigned upon a charge of larceny. His case was adjourned till Wednesday.

Joseph Corisse was charged with the larceny of a cap from the hat store of Mr. Brobery, on Sussex street. He was sent down for trial to the Assizes.

TEMPERANCE DELEGATE.—The congregation of the Baptist Church of this city have decided to send its pastor, the Rev. A. A. Cameron, as a delegate to the great temperance convention about to sit in Montreal.

Y. M. C. A.—A special prayer meeting will be held in the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association this evening, beginning at eight o'clock, to be continued every evening of the week, beginning at the same hour. All are invited to attend.

GUARD'S BAND.—The citizens of Ottawa were treated to an extra open air concert by the Guard's band last night on Parliament Square. Although previous intimation had not been given, yet a large throng graced the promenade to enjoy the execution of the excellent programme.

PLEASE leave your orders for stove piping now at Esmonde's. 3940tf

BAND COMPETITION.—The Guards band have entered for competition for the prizes offered at the forthcoming Provincial Exhibition, for the best musical bands. The following prizes will be given for instrumental bands, the competition to take place on Wednesday, and the successful ban is to play on the grounds on Thursday of the Show week under the direction of the Committee:—First prize, $150; 2nd, $100; 3rd, $50. The band of the Governor-General's Foot Guards will no doubt give a good account of themselves on the occasion.

I WILL sell every night this week and every day and night next week the consignments of domestic goods from England. No reserve whatever. Rooms crowded every night, and goods sold for half cost, said to be the only unreserved sale seen for a long time, and a great boon to the public, whose purses are generally in a debilitated, consumptive condition. T. H. HARRISON, 80 and 82 Sparks street. 3912 2

CRICKET.—Rev. T. D. Phillips has returned from Toronto, where he had been organizing and completing a team to represent Canada at the Philadelphia Tournament. They left Toronto on Saturday, and comprised the following gentlemen: F W Armstrong, Orillia, Captain; C B Brodie, Ottawa; J V Eberts, Chatham; A J Greenfield, Toronto; G T Hall, Port Hope; G Kearney, Halifax, N S; J Lang, Whitby; C McLean, Montreal; Lieut Col Morris, Fredericton, N B; Dr Spragge, Toronto; W B Wells, Chatham; J Whelan, London; J Powell, Ottawa, umpire; C S Scott, Ottawa, scorer.

The George Washington Restaurant, York street is now open for guests, and meals can be had at all hours. 3915-6w.

THE CLISBY HOUSE.—This magnificently finished house was opened to the public last night, and thousands were attracted thither by the gorgeously fitted up bar, which is not excelled, if even equalled in America for style and neatness of finish. The Guards band played immediately opposite in Parliament Square, and gave the inauguration of the house a somewhat imposing character. The workmanship reflects great credit upon the artistic skill of those who did the work. The costly French mirrors, brackets, &c., that so adorn the place were supplied by Messrs. H. & J. Gowan, of this city. The painting graining, gilding and general decorations were done by Mr. John Shepherd, of Rideau street, and as a work of art is not surpassed in the city. Mr. Thomas Kean is also deserving of great praise for the excellence of the carpenter and joiner work which does so much to contribute to the splendid appearance of this grand saloon. The accomplishment of the work is due altogether to the enterprise of Mr. L. K. Clisby, the courteous and obliging proprietor of the establishment. Mr. Clisby has our best wishes for success in his new undertaking, and if attention to business and urbanity of manner are elements of prosperity in any business, then that gentleman's exertions will be duly rewarded.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of mdicines which have with stood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P.Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and since then had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all." —J. B. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally as good for horses as for man."—A. Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throat, &c., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes: "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit." A. Mr. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes: "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee, of this place, induced me to try Electric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine.

Sold by all medicine dealers, price 25 cents.

Liver Complaint.

The liver is the great depurating (purifying) organ of the system, and has very appropriately been termed the "housekeeper" of our health. I have observed in the dissecting room, and also in making post-mortem examinations of the bodies of those who have died of different diseases, that in a large proportion of cases the liver has given evidence of having at some time been diseased. Liver affections are equally prevalent in beasts. Every butcher knows that the livers of cattle, sheep and swine are often times as frequently diseased as any other organ. A healthy liver each day secrets about two and a half pounds of bile. When it becomes torpid, congested, or if, from any cause, it be disabled in the performance of its duties, it is evident that the elements of the bile must remain in the blood, thus irritating, poisoning, and perverting every vital process. Nature attempts to rid the system of these noxious materials by means of other organs, as the kidneys, lungs, skkl, etc., which become overtaxed in performing their additional labour, and are unable to withstand the pressure.

The brain, which is the great electrical center of all vitality, becomes overstimulated with unhealthy blood, and fails to normally perform its functions. Hence there is dullness, headache, impairment of the memory, dizziness, gloomy forebodings, and irritability of temper. When the blood is dis ased, the skin manifests discoloured spots, pimples, blotches, boils, carbuncles, and scrofulous tumors. The stomach and bowels, sooner or later, become affected, and constipation, piles, dropsy, dyspepsia, or diarrhœa, is the inevitable result.

SYMPTOMS OF LIVER COMPAINT.

A sallow colour of the skin, or yellowish-brown spots on the face and other parts of the body; dullness and drowsiness, with frequent headache; dizziness, bitter or bad taste in the mouth, dryness of the throat, and internal heat; palpitation of the heart, a dry, teasing cough, sore throat, unsteady appetite, sour stomach, raising of the food, and a choking sensation in the throat; sickness and vomiting, distress, heaviness, and a bloated, or full feeling about the stomach and sides; aggravating pains in the sides, back or breast, and about the shoulders; colic pains and soreness through the bowels; constipation, alternating with diarrhœa; piles, flatulence, nervousness, coldness of the extremities, rush of blood to the head, with symptoms of appoplexy; numbness of the limbs (especially at night), and chills, alternating with hot flashes; kidney and other urinary difficulties, dullness, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings. Only a few of these symptoms will be likely to be present in any case at one time.

TREATMENT.—Take Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, with small doses of his pleasant Purgative Pellets, which act as an alterative on the liver. For Liver Complaint and the various affections caused by a diseased liver, these remedies are unsurpassed. The Golden Medical Discovery does not simply palliate the disease, but it produces a lasting effect. By its use, the liver and stomach are changed to an active, healthy state, the appetite is regulated, the blood purified and enriched, and the entire system renovated and restored to health.

FALSE MODESTY.—For people to allow disease to become seated upon them rather than consult a physician, or to suffer as many do for years with the different kinds of piles, without going at once to the druggist for Fowle's Pile and Humor Cure, which is an infallible cure. 3729

HORSES SAVED.—The lives of thousands of horses have been saved during the past year, and the credit is due to "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." This preparation is being extensively used, and exacts from all the highest praise. Nothing of the kind has ever before been half as successful, or given such universal satisfaction; it can not be equalled. We can confidently recommend it, and would advise all who own horses to keep a supply of it on hand—it may be the means of saving your horse's life. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co., is on each package. Northrup & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medical dealers. 3796

ULTEUR, SALINE and GAS.
The REJUVENATING WATERS so much sought for in years long past.

Invalids! Attention!
Dyspepsia, Derangement of the Digestive Organs, Dropsy, Diseases of the Skin, Affections of the Liver and Urinary Organs are positively cured by using the water for a few weeks.

Rheumatics! Read!
Hundreds of Rheumatics have been cured by the Sulphur Baths. Suffering is alleviated by the first, and cripples throw away their crutches after about half-a-dozen baths.

TESTIMONIALS.
"Montreal, 28th July, 1876.
"I hereby certify that I entertain a very favorable opinion of the baths and Waters of the Caledonia Springs in many forms of disease, among which I would especially mention chronic Rheumatism, the stagnation of Gout, Neuralgia, some of the varieties of Cutaneous disease, Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, and in carefully selected cases, some of the diseases of the Kidney and Bladder.
(signed) GEO. W. CAMPBELL, A.M., M.D.
Dean of the Medical Faculty, McGill College.
Dr. Wm. Robertson, of Montreal, wrote as follows, in 1839:—But the disease above all in which the action of the water is most decided is Rheumatism. * * * I have known a few individuals who suffered much from improper use of mercury who were restored to health by the use of the waters.

ACCOMMODATIONS.
A magnificent new hotel, capable of accommodating 300 guests, will be opened on June 1st for the accommodation of visitors. The grounds have been improved and beautified, and every means for amusement and exercise provided. The trip thither by the Ottawa River is most enjoyable, and a railroad from the river to the Springs is in course of construction. Until the railroad is built, comfortable carriages will be in waiting at the wharf for the conveyance of visitors to the Springs. The distance of the Springs from Montreal and Ottawa respectively is 80 and 50 miles.
Mr. W. CHAMPNESS will open a good Livery Stable, providing good carriages, horses, saddles, &c. There is a good race-course on the property of the Company.
The FANCIKAN WATERS of these Springs will yet make Canadonia the greatest resort in the world for health and pleasure seekers. Thousands of testimonials might be procured, but the reputation of the Springs renders it unnecessary to do so.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Resolution of the Constitutional Party.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—A special despatch from Paris to the Daily News reports that the Constitutional party in France have resolved to force Mr. Buffet to break openly with the Bonapartist at the next meeting of the Permanent Committee or to convene the Assembly before the appointed time.

Arrival.

Arrived out the steamships Columbia from New York, and China from Boston.

The Socialist Movement.

The Standard this morning says that 612 men and 158 women have recently been indicted in Russia, of whom five were arrested for participating in the socialist movement. The Procureur General in his indictment says that socialism is rapidly spreading throughout the Empire. The most ardent of the prograndest movement belong to the upper class and among whom are retired officers, professors, justices of the peace, officials of all grades, and several ladies of high family. He says socialists only await an opportunity such as a foreign war to organize a revolution at home and put into operation their extravagant ideas.

Attempt to Arrange a Conference.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The Times in a leading article this a.m., says it understands that Prussia will attempt to arrange a conference representing the signatories of the treaty of 1856, with the object of influencing the Porte regarding the future government of the Sclavonic Provinces.

Doncaster Races.

To-day was the first day of the Doncaster September meeting. The great feature was the race for the great Yorkshire handicap, which was won by St. Ledger, Charles 2d, Adventurer 3rd.

Ambition.

Despatches received here state that Don Carlos reviewed General Darrergay's soldiers yesterday, at Elizondo. He delivered a speech in which he told them to follow him trustfully until they hoisted the flag on the walls of Madrid.

BELGRADE.

The Insurrection.

A message to the Times dated Cattaro, Dalmatia, Sept. 8—"Says the importance of the Insurrection in Lower Herzogovina diminishes on the near approach, while in Bosnia, there is nothing worth mentioning except a panic and disorder with an exodus of women and children. In that part of Herzegovina lying west of a line drawn from Niksick to Mostor insurgents appear only as bands without coherence or discipline or purpose. They are even without communication with the eastern portion of the Province. The Herzegovinian parts of these bands are more inclined to pillaging and petty thieving than fighting. Even the foreign volunteers who make the fighting nucleus suffer from their predatory propensities. They number in all apparently between 1,000 and 2,000, but the majority are generally absent during fighting, and only reappear when there is some booty to be taken, as not above 300 men mean fight.

An Appeal.

VIENNA, Sept. 14.—In response to an appeal from the Prince of Montenegro, the Austrian Government has sent a staff of surgeons to attend to a large number of wounded insurgents who have been brought into the Montenegrian Territory, and the Governer of Dalmatia has been instructed to forward supplies of food for 30,000 refugees now in Montenegro in great distress and destitution.

FRANCE.

A Newspaper.

PARIS, Sept. 14.—A newspaper is to be started in this city entitled Indicature de Exposition Universelle de Philadelphia, for the purpose of furnishing all possible information about the centennial celebration.

The Inundations.

Marshal MacMahon gives an audience to Admiral Ronciere le Noury, then leaves for the Loire to witness the autumn manoeuvres.

The number of deaths at St. Cherteun foot up to 88. One hundred and twenty houses were destroyed. Disastrous inundations have occurred in Department of Lozene, accompanied with great loss of life and property. The river Tarn has risen prodigiously, carrying away several bridges. The Allier also overflowed its banks, but the rains have ceased.

TURKEY.

Submitting to the Government.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 14.—Server Pasha telegraphs that sixty-five families in the neighbourhood of St. Olatz, Herzegovina, have given in their submission to the government.

MONTENEGRO.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The Daily Telegraph published a special telegram from Vienna in which it is said that Montenegro has definitely informed the insurgent leaders that she cannot make war against the Porte.

SPAIN.

The Carlist War.

MADRID, Sept. 14.—Regarding the recent ministerial crisis it has transpired that three of the ministers who represented the old party, being opposed to universal suffrage resigned, contrary to the wishes of Canovas Del Castillo, who urged that the Government ought to respect the state of affairs legally established, and leave to future Cortes the task of modifying the electoral laws, if any alteration was then considered necessary. The King thereupon requested Senor Canovas del Castillo to form a new ministry. He declined on the ground that having long presided over a cabinet which represented conciliation of old parties, he ought not to remain head of one party only; the King then entrusted General Jovellar with its formation, with the present cabinet, which is more homeogenous and Liberal than its predecessors, was constituted with the concurrence of Canovas del Castillo.

Religious Unity.

The Papal Nuncio has sent a circular to Bishops, asking them to support the restoration of religious unity, declaring that any other course would jeopardize the good understanding between Spain and the Vatican.

BOSTON.

Great Stallion Races.

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—A great stallion race took place at Mystic Park to-day in the presence of 7,000 people, for a purse of $10,000 and the championship of the United States and Canadas; open to all stallions; $4,000 to 1st; $2,500 to 2nd; $2,000 to 3rd, and $1,500 to 4th; mile heats, three in five, to harness. There were six starters, and was won by Thos. Jefferson; Commonwealth, 2nd; Defiance, 3rd; Parks' Abdallah, 4th; Ned Wallace, 5th; W. H. Allen distanced. Time, 2:27, 2:26, 2:25½, 2:26.

AMERICAN.

NEW YORK.

A Fatal Experiment.

NEW YORK, September 14.—A party of firemen were experimenting with a patent fire ladder in Rettger Square this morning. The ladder was raised 120 feet in the air, and eight men mounted it, Wm. H Nash, chief of the fire battalion, being at the top. While the firemen were going through their evolutions the ladder cracked, and without scarcely a moment's warning broke off at the second section, and those upon the top were precipitated to the ground. Nash was instantly killed, and two of his companions, Phillip Morse and Wm. Hughes, were mangled. They died while being conveyed to the station house. Several other persons were more or less injured.

Arrival.

Arrived, steamship Hommaria from Hamburg.

The Beecher-Moulton Libel Case.

District Attorney Brutton, of Brooklyn, addressed letters to the Rev. H. W. Beecher and Francis D. Moulton, suggesting that the public interest would be best served by entering a nolle prosequi in the case of Henry Ward Beecher against Francis D. Moulton for libel. Beecher in reply concurs on the disposition of the case suggested by the Dist. Attorney,
Moulton says he cannot acquiesce in the action proposed, and concludes his letter as follows: "I am indicted of libel in charging the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher with criminal intercourse with a female member of his congregation. The charge is true. He knows it to be true, and whatever may be the imperfections of man's tribunals, the Supreme Ruler will some day reveal the truth and vindicate the right for speaking the truth and nothing but the truth, and that too under challenge and in defence of my own character and the character of her whose good name, is dearer to me than life itself. I have been arraigned as a criminal, with uplifted hands, subjected to the ignominy of bonds against an escape from justice, loaded with obloquy by the public press, frowned upon and avoided by society, and now after the indictment against me has served its purpose by discrediting in advance a witness of the Rev. Mr. Beecher's guilt. It is apparent to you as it is to the world that I am innocent and must be acquitted. At this moment and under these circumstances I am requested to acquiesce in nolle prosequi and to suffer my accuser to escape the penalty of his perjured prosecution. Never sir, never, I demand a trial and shall be ready on any reasonable notice to make good my defence.
Signed Very respectfully,
FRANCIS D. MOULTON.

CHICAGO.

The Wrecked Propeller—Statement of Stephen Burr, the only Survivor.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Reuben Burr, who is supposed to be the sole survivor of the wreck of the propeller Equinox, which foundered off Point Au Sable, Lake Michigan, on the morning of the 10th inst, reached this city yesterday afternoon by the schooner Haven, Capt. Ross, having been picked up by that vessel. After floating thirty-one hours on the pilot house of the wrecked propeller. Burr was helmsman. He was picked up eighty miles south south-west of Moniton Island on Saturday last. He stated to the Tribune reporter substantially the following facts:—The sea was very rough all night preceding the catastrophe, and the vessel sprung a leak. While he was at the wheel at one o'clock on Friday morning an inspection of the vessel disclosed that her after bulworks were stove in. Burr and the mate attempted to stop the leak, but their efforts were fruitless, and it was decided to lower the boats. At this time a schooner in tow of the Emma E. Mayes, was hailed and asked to come along side but either the persons on board did not hear the request, or their vessel was unmanageable. At all events, the schooner did not respond. Signals were made and lights displayed but without avail. A boat was then lowered from the port side of the propeller, and the mate, watchman, and five deck hands, one engineer and two firemen got into it when the ship went down almost immediately. Burr swam for a long distance side by side with the captain, and they finally reached a spar, but afterwards got separated. Subsequently Burr caught the pilot house and occupied that with the second cook, but the latter after nearly a day's drifting became exhausted, then unconscious, and slipped off. Burr was picked up by the Haven in an exhausted condition on Saturday morning, but he is now feeling quite comfortable.

Wreck of the Steam Barge "Mendota."

Seven passengers of the steam barge Mendota who were picked up by the schooner Addie off Monckton, arrived here yesterday. One of the crew states that at 1 o'clock on Friday morning the waves began breaking over the Mendota, and she parted the line by which she was towing the barge Morning Star. The water kept gaining till 5 o'clock, when the other barge was thrown off. Soon after the boats were lowered, and the captain, his son, 1st mate and some of the crew climb into the long boat and the smaller one was taken by some of the crew who almost immediately pulled away. The father and wife of the captain were left. The father was 70 years of age and tried to reach the boat when last seen. The steward stood with his wife and went down with her. A story is related also by another of the crew, who speaks in terms of praise of the conduct of the captain and officers. The Mendota was 18 years old and was owned by Wm. Cross of Buffalo. She carried a large cargo of coal and was valued at $30,000. The cargo was insured but the vessel was not. It is feared that the barge Evening Star is also lost. She had six men on board. The names of the lost and saved in the Mendota disaster as given by the Chief Engineer, are as follows:—Mr. Crow, owner's son, who acted as clerk; F. Fairbanks, the captain's father, who was on a pleasure trip; E. Fairbanks, the captain's wife; Chas. Dean, steward, and his wife, of Bay City; Ed. Hughes, of Buffalo, single; P. Ryan, 1st wheelsman, of Bay City, Mich; Wm. Frankford, watchman, of Bay City; Ed. Magnelon, Ed. Durou, Ed. Mulligan, and John Carsell Dicklands. Saved:—Albert Fairbanks, Capt. Franklin Fairbanks, the captain's son; John McKinny, 1st mate; Amos Ness, Chief Engineer; W. Scott Crone, fireman; Thos. Murphy, fireman; Joseph Smith Spencer, L. Sage, and George McKenny, Dicklands.

MONTREAL.

The Guibord Case Quiet—An Action Threatened against the Bishop—Another Fly shed—Another Supposed Bank Robbery The Nichols—Erich Bailed—Mr. Workman—Appointment—The Prohibition Convention Money and Stock Market.

MONTREAL, Sept. 14th — All is quiet in the Guibord case. Sheriff Leblanc is expected to be the prime mover at the next attempt to effect a burial. An action of damages is talked of against the Bishop for cursing the grave of Guibord, and thus causing it to be unconsecrated. The Queen's decree expressly declares that he is to be buried in consecrated ground. Another hideous fly sheet is being sold along the purlieus of the East End. It is a ribald song to the effect that the Queen and Parliament have combined to insult le bon Canadien peuple. It is decorated with skull and crossbones and pick and shovel, and entitled "Burial of the excommunicated Guibord. It meets with a rapid sale. The cemetery is still guarded.
The Merchants' Bank officials became suspicious that all was not right with their messenger, J. A. Edward, a middle-aged man, of a family. About the middle of June a package, $5,000, was missed, and despite enquiries remained lost till a short time ago, when it was discovered hid in the vaults, but it is $1,000 short, $4,000 having been returned to the bank, but the balance never turned up. Edwards was called before the manager a short time ago, and on enquiry, dismissed or suspended on the 4th of September, since which time he has remained at St. Lamberts. Edwards friends urge him to vindicate his character if he can. His salary is stated to be $500 a year. He bought property some time ago on Hypolite street for ten thousand dollars. Mr. Irish, manager of the Montreal Branch Express Company, states he met Nichols and his son at St Albans Railway refreshment rooms on Saturday evening. They sat facing one another at the same table, and Nichols, sr., bowed to Mr. Irish. The latter asked if he was going far. Nichols never replied, and paid no attention when a similar question was repeated. Mr. Irish then gave over further efforts at conversation, remarking Nichols conduct to a Montreal friend sitting at his elbow. He thought the colour of Nichol's face was as a deeper hue than usual, and noticed him talking to the young man alongside of him, who undoubtedly was his son. Mr. Irish never suspected anything was wrong, and lost sight of the pair after supper.
Erich, the notorious New York "fence" and receiver, was, after desperate exertions on the part of his counsel, Hon. J. A. Chapleau, bailed out this Bliny on two bails of $300 each. He, a few months ago, jumped his bail of five thousand dollars in New York, as the parties who, according to declaration of the counsel for the defence, had been telegraphed for to New York, failed to put in an appearance.
Two carters were taken off Jacques Cartier stand, and accepted as sureties. The carters were paid for their services, and the farce ended. The greatest indignation prevailed among detectives and others, who were in the court when the proceeding was finally consummated, and there was but one opinion expressed that the ends of justice were being defeated by this admission to bail. Of course it is difficult to account fully for this transaction, which in view of the world-wide notoriety of the prisoner is inexplicable, but to outside appearances the magistrate was forced to take the steps he did against his will.
It is rumoured that Mr. Thomas Workman has accepted the nomination tendered him by the Reform party to act as a candidate at the forthcoming election for Montreal West. Mr. Workman is not new to public life, as he was before member for the Centre Division. It is said in presenting himself anew for the suffrages of the public, he will come out squarely in favour of a fair play tariff and protection to home manufactures.
Desaulles, the defaulting Clerk of the Crown, having sent in his resignation to the Provincial Government, it has been accepted, and Mr. Shiller, who has heretofore been Joint Clerk of the Crown, has been appointed sole incumbent of the office.
The Prohibition Convention opened this morning in the Association Hall, with a grand public demonstration. The hall was jammed and hundreds could not gain admission. Addresses were delivered by W. Bradly, of Washington, a most Worthy Patriarch; Carlton, of Portland; Hon. N. Don, of Maine; Mr. G. W. Ross, M.P., of Ontario; Hon. Malcolm Cameron and others.
No new feature in the money market. The defalcations at the Bank of Commerce is the chief topic in financial circles. Exchange quiet at previous rate stock, weak owing to sales for non fulfilment of contracts and prices generally lower. Sales—Montreal 156½, closing 187 to 187½; Merchants 99, closing 98½ to 98¾; Ontario 106, closing 105 to 105½; Commercial 124½, closing 124 to 124.

QUEBEC.

Return of Mr. Smith—Washington Treaty Commission.

QUEBEC, Sept. 14.—Mr. Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine, who has been in England for some time, returned in the Polynesian. During his visit there he purchased for the Canadian Government the steamer Newfield, late of London, 785 tons, for light-house service.
Mr. Ford, Her Majesty's Charge d'Affairs at Darmstadt, who has been appointed agent of the Commission, which is shortly to meet at Halifax, under the Washington Treaty, to determine the amount to be paid by the Americans for the use of our fisheries, and Mr. Bergue, of the Foreign Office, who has been appointed Secretary to Mr. Ford for this Commission, were also passengers on the Polynesian. Both these gentlemen will go to Ottawa to-morrow, where they will make the necessary arrangements for preparing the case on the part of Great Britain, to be submitted to the Commission.
A demonstration took place yesterday at the St John's Church, on the occasion of the appearance at High Mass of the late cure, the present Bishop of Sherbrooke.
The Louise arrived in port yesterday, making no

OTTAWA, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 15, 1875.

The Hon. Mr. Huntington is expected to arrive here on Saturday next.

The Hon. Mr. Burpee, Minister of Customs, is expected to arrive to-day from Toronto.

Col. Fletcher, late Secretary of His Excellency the Governor General, has been created a C. M. G.

Col. Shaw, one of the Dominion Emigration Agents to Scotland, is at present in the city and staying at the Russell House.

The Hon. O. Mowat, Premier of Ontario, will be present at the opening of the new Normal School in this city on Wednesday next, the 22nd instant

Judge Wilmot, of New Brunswick, who assumes the position on the Prince Edward Island Land Commission, vacated by the Hon. Mr. Childers, has arrived in the city, and is stopping at the Russell House.

On and after to-day the cable rates in connection with the Montreal Telegraph Company, will be reduced to 25cts per word, and the name of a place from which a message is originally sent will be telegraphed free in addition.

The Chief Superintendent of Education gives notice that the public opening of the Normal School at Ottawa will take place on Wednesday the twenty-second inst., at two p.m., instead of Tuesday the twenty-first as heretofore intimated.

Lieut. Col. Jackson, D. A. G., accompanied by Major Mattice, B. M., left town by the Peerless yesterday morning for Caledonia Springs, where they will inspect the 18th Battalion, now in camp at that place, under command of Lieut. Col. Urquhart.

Hon. Mr. Mackenzie and Mrs. Mackenzie proceed to Toronto by the 11 o'clock train this morning, to be present at the marriage on Thursday of Miss Macdonald, daughter of His Honour Lieutenant Governor Macdonald. Major Macdonald left town yesterday evening to be present on the same occasion.

The Quebec official Gazette of Saturday contains the following nominations:—To be Commissioner for the summary trial of small causes, in the township of Mansfield, county of Pontiac: Hon. George Bryson, M. L. C., Thos. Bryson, William Gillis, Theophile Soucis, Germain Leclaire, Alexander Proudfoot and John Young.

His Worship Mayor Featherston returned to the city yesterday morning by the steamer Queen Victoria from his recent trip to England. He was met at the wharf by the City Council and other friends and escorted to his residence on Sandy Hill. He looks well after his brief sojourn on the other side of the Atlantic.

The Dominion Telegraph Company announce that they have secured connection with the Direct Cable Company. This extended connection will enable the Dominion Company to greatly strengthen itself, and to increase its usefulness, and it will be a guarantee against its amalgamation with its powerful rival, which is an event that has been predicted and feared more or less constantly ever since the former company entered upon its somewhat unequal contest.

The Brockville Recorder says: "We are glad to know that Mr. Page, Chief Engineer of the Public Works is recovering. The state of his health, however, requires rest. The amount of labour performed of late by Mr. Page in connection with the Public Works of the Dominion, has been immense, in consequence of the preparation of plans, &c., necessary in regard to acceptance of tenders. The fact is, he has been over worked, and rest for a short time is actually necessary. He has suffered considerably from bronchitis, but as we have said, he is happily recovering."

The Chief Messenger of the House of Commons, with his staff, is busily engaged in preparing the Speaker's quarters for the reception of His Honour, Lieutenant-Governor Macdonald. The splendid apartments are being fitted up with excellent taste. The Commons and the Senate Chambers also, and the corridors and committee rooms, are being swept and dusted. The canvass covering in which the Senate Chamber is enveloped during recess will be removed so that the gorgeous furnishings of the room will be shewn to the best advantage. All this is highly proper, since there will be probably thousands in the city next week who will have come here to see the Government Buildings as well as to see the Fair.

THE INDIAN DIFFICULTY IN THE UNITED STATES.

The people of the United States and their successive governments have ever been notorious for their bad treatment of the aboriginal inhabitants of this northern continent, and for the uniform absence of anything like good faith they have displayed in carrying into effect the privileges guaranteed by treaty to the redskins. They regard treaty obligations somewhat lightly with whoever they are entered into; but so far as the Indians are concerned, it has always been enough that Uncle Sam wanted some piece of reserved land, and he took it. Sometimes the revenge taken by the savages has been fearful, but it was generally the result of what to them was the most aggravating provocation. Ever since the discovery of gold in the Black Hills, it has been evident that the Yankees were determined to possess themselves of the valuable property, and that, too, at little cost. The Indians, on the other hand, made up their minds that they would not give it up it without a struggle, and for a long time even refused to name a price. At last, so the Associated Press telegrams inform us, Spotted Tail, and Red Cloud have agreed to dispose of the proportion of the reserve which belongs to their respective tribes, for six millions of dollars, or an annuity of one hundred dollars per annum for adults and twenty five for squaws and children. The other chiefs refuse to attend the Council at all, and are preparing for war. On the other hand, it is admitted in advance that the United States Commissioners would never agree to the terms of those who propose going to the Council, if they are anything like the sum mentioned, and in view of the value of the reserve, it is hard to see how a less sum could have been asked. There need be little doubt as to the result. The Americans, disregarding their solemnly made treaties, will lay forcible hands upon the property, eject the Indians, and the settlers will afterwards pay the penalty in the way of massacres. It is no wonder that poor Lo regards with a sort of spiritual awe and adoration the great mother who reigns on British soil, or that under her sway he is a quiet and usually inoffensive person. The United States press have frequently predicted that trouble would also arise in Canada, and they are doing so yet, but their predictions have so far proved vain, and are likely to do as long as the Government and the people are prepared to maintain intact the engagements into which they have entered with them.

BRITAIN WASTED SOURCES OF SUPPLY.

We have always been accustomed to think and speak of Great Britain as a country where every available inch of space is monopolized, and where people jostle each other out of the way in the race for the ownership of the smallest and most barren patch of land put into the market for sale. To a considerable extent this assumption is correct. The possession of land is the acme of the wealthy merchant's ambition. His money can bring him almost anything, but only rarely can it make him owner of a landed estate. He sees around him lords and dukes and titled gentry whose possessions he could buy up body and bulk, whose every inch of property is burdened with debt, and to whom and their successors broad acres and ancient titles are nevertheless ensured in spite of all encumbrances by the mischievous law of entail. The very difficulty of becoming an owner of landed property makes possession of it the more coveted, and when the moneyed city man cannot positively attain that object, he does the next best thing,—he rents a farm. It is the fact, however, notwithstanding all this rush and crowding of the landed estates market, notwithstanding that a man of limited means cannot hope to enter the lists of competition at all, even although the cultivation of the soil be his forte, that there is an immense quantity of moderately fertile soil in the British Empire which is actually lying waste, contributing to no appreciable extent to the production of ought that would afford sustenance to the people. Mr. John Stuart Mill has many valuable and forcible remarks upon this general fact in several of his works on political economy, but no writer or speaker of the century has dealt so practically and effectively with the subject as the late lamented Mr. Jones, whose death just on the eve of his election to parliament some six years ago was so widely regretted. Mr. Jones' letters in the Edinburgh Reformer, in which he computed the waste lands of England, Scotland, and Ireland—waste lands which would recompense cultivation—as sufficient to provide direct employment for nearly ten millions of people, attracted a good deal of attention at the time, and have since been published in book form. They will be monuments to the industry with which he studied one of the most pressing questions of the day, and the ability he displayed in applying the result of his studies to the practical facts, when his connection with the Chartist agitation and his imprisonment in that connection, long as these are certain to be remembered, shall have been forgotten. It is not necessary now to tell many people in Canada that the system which received such thorough condemnation at the hands of Mr. Jones was the preservation of game, and the consequent immense tracts of land which the willing hand of the husbandman dare not touch. We say it is not necessary to inform many settlers in Canada and their descendants that the custom of evicting farmers from the homesteads which their ancestors occupied for centuries, for the purpose of converting them into deer forests and sheep walks, was unsparingly condemned by one who was always the friend of the injured, and the scathing critic of the heartless policy so generally pursued by British landlords. Many a good, honest farmer in Canada at the present day can give personal testimony to the sorrowful results of that policy—can remember, as if it were but yesterday, when the whole north and west of Scotland were swept of their entire population, in order to provide hunting grounds for the capitalists of London and Manchester and the lordly heirs of the soil. Those are days which have been written indelibly upon the black calendar of the Highlands. But it is probable that not even the persons directly affected by those evictions had the remotest conception of the extent to which the productive soil of Scotland was being monopolized for the purposes of pleasure and enjoyment by the aristocracy. The Aberdeen Free Press, however—a journal largely devoted to agriculture—has been at the trouble to get up some statistics bearing upon the point, and the results are not merely surprising — they are positively alarming. The first thing that strikes us in these statistics is that not less than two million, acres of land are devoted exclusively to the rearing and preservation of deer. It is estimated that if this area were set apart for the grazing of sheep—and it is well known even that would be for less profitable to the community than if all that could be tilled of it were put under crops—there would be a net value of £492,927 sterling worth more of meat produced for the consumption of the people than is produced in the way of venison. This is a very serious matter, when the scarcity and price of meat in British cities are taken into consideration, and the comparative uselessness of venison as an article of diet is remembered. The statements made in regard to hares, rabbits and other ground game are of equal importance, especially when it is calculated how destructive these little creatures are to all kinds of crops, and how much of what would otherwise be utilized in furnishing sustenance to the population they damage and render useless. From evidence led before the Game Laws Parliamentary Committee it is estimated that 27,000,000 rabbits, 3,000,000 hares, and 8,980 deer are killed annually in the British Islands. It is also an ascertained fact that in hills where grouse are found and preserved—they are found almost everywhere, and preserved wherever found—only about fifty per cent. of the number of sheep which the pasture would support are permitted to be kept—a direct loss of 7,000,000 pounds of meat per annum, which would go a great way to bring down prices, and relieve the distress which in many of the larger cities is so prevalent among the working, but only partially employed classes. Taking the whole loss arising from the preservation of game as compared to the rearing of sheep, which is the least remunerative system of utilizing land known to the farmer—at least when resorted to exclusively and without intermission—it could not be less than a million, and probably a million and a quarter pounds sterling. But what would the difference be if all that was sufficiently productive of the land were put under cultivation, and the products were freed from the destruction now caused by game? The question is a grave one, of national moment so far as the mother country is concerned, and it is not surprising that with the British farmer the Game Laws are becoming a subject to be settled at the polls on the earliest opportunity.

The Provincial
EXHIBITION ANNUAL,
A Guide to the Show Grounds,
AND
HAND BOOK for the CITY OF OTTAWA.

First Edition.
(A Circulation of Twenty Thousand Copies Guaranteed.)

Under the above title the subscriber purposes issuing, in time for circulation, previous to and during the approaching Provincial Exhibition to be held in this city, a Hand Book prepared especially for the use of visitors to the Exhibition and of strangers desirous of seeing the principal objects of attraction in and around Ottawa.

Among its contents will be found:
Accurate Plans of the Exhibition grounds and buildings, with full description of the same, dimensions, uses, &c.
A carefully prepared synopsis of By-Laws and Regulations of the Agricultural and Arts Association so far as they affect exhibitors and visitors to the Exhibition.
Index to the location of the several classes of stock and articles exhibited, colours of prize tickets, and all other matters calculated to assist visitors in intelligently enjoying the display.
Complete programme of the Exhibition week from the opening to the close.
Description of the City of Ottawa, its principal points of attraction, scenery, manufactures and Public Buildings, together with the location, dimensions, etc., of the same.
Complete directory of the various Benevolent, Temperance and other societies, clubs or associations, with nights and places of meeting, for the convenience of visiting brethren.
Postal, Train, Steamboat and other information useful to travellers.
List of public meetings, entertainments, etc., in the city during the exhibition week.
The Government Buildings, the Library, locations of the several Departments and principal public offices.
The Patent Office.—Especial attention will be given to this important office and full information as to the most direct mode of transacting business therewith.

TO ADVERTISERS.

As twenty thousand copies of the "Exhibition Annual" will be in circulation before the end of Exhibition week, it will furnish an unrivalled medium for advertising. Its pages (the size of this prospectus) will be a large pamphlet form with coloured paper cover, thus rendering it convenient for preservation and future reference.

The vast amount of information it will contain, and the fact, that it is in contemplation to maintain it as an annual publication in connection with the Ontario Exhibitions—adapting it to each locality wherein they are held—gives its advertising patrons virtually the benefit of a standing advertisement for a whole year.

SIR,— * * I have no hesitation in giving your proposed Hand Book my hearty approval, believing it to be interesting to the public generally and particularly to the Agriculturists of the Dominion. Yours, etc.,

ARCH'D. McNAB.

A. ROBERTSON, Esq., Ottawa.

From the Hon D. Christie, Speaker of the Senate, and late President of the Upper Canada Provincial Agricultural Association.

MY DEAR SIR,—I have read your letter with great interest, and have pleasure in stating my hearty approval of your scheme in publishing a "Provincial Exhibition Hand-book." It will be a work of real value to visitors to the Exhibition, as a reference. I hope you will meet with sufficient encouragement to justify a yearly publication of the Hand-Book.

I remain, yours very truly,

D. CHRISTIE.

ALEX. ROBERTSON, Esq.

Encouraged by the hearty approval of Mr. McNab, Hon. Mr. Christie, Hon. M. Cameron, Hon. Mr. Skead, Dr. Morgan, and many other gentlemen of distinction, I have secured a copy-right, and under the title of the "Provincial Exhibition Annual," and intend to make of it a yearly publication in connection with our Provincial Exhibitions.

LUKE TRAVERS,

A Tale of the Dominion. Commencing 80 Years Back.

[illegible] night of Windsor I well remember as being particularly pleasant. There was quite a revival look about it. The [illegible] rained entirely over, and the [illegible] was of sand, with a [illegible] of water in the centre of it, so it seemed as if the rain had sucked over a washing-[illegible] and then left it. This split [illegible] down among the sand, we were positively informed, was the river Avon.

There were vessels on the Avon—the American ones, inclusive of which top sail schooners high and dry, were moored, and there was much to be some business activity. But [illegible] the brook, afar off in the centre of the valley of sand, no water was to be seen. The inquirers about a steamboat from St. John quitted Windsor harbour literally in disgust, but [illegible] scarcely got "up town" again when the noise of steam blowing off was distinctly heard and hurrying back to the wharf, there was, surely enough, the Maid of the Mist rocking on the waters, which were not a little turbulent, wide and deep. The tide of the Bay of Fundy had rushed up the bed of the Avon with such velocity that had Pharoah and his Egyptians attempted to cross the little river as the tide was coming in assuredly their fate would have been precisely similar to that which overtook them when in pursuit of Moses.

A very short time elapsed until Captain Evans and his company were safely embarked on board of the Maid of the Mist, which steaming out of the Avon into the Basin of Minas and from thence into and down the long stoous Bay of Fundy angered by an easterly wind accompanied with rain and fog. The ugly looking, schooner rigged craft, after considerable tossing and pitching, and rolling during many hours, at length, night having set in, reached the harbour of St. John, Partridge Island being unnoticed in the darkness as the steamer passed, and the troops, without beat of drum, even at their destination, and comfortably housed in temporary barracks, near the Ordnance wharf at the easternost part of the city.

That St. John was a seaport of considerable importance, the numerous large ships which loomed through the fog, sufficiently testified.

A few days were enough to show that although there were forts here and block houses there, the 43rd light infantry in barracks at the Point and detachments of Artillery at the Ordnance, Fort Carleton, Indian Town Blockhouse, and Partridge Island, St. John, was less of a mere military station and more of the commercial element belonging to it than Halifax. Everywhere large vessels were in process of construction, and great ships were taking in square timber for Glasgow, or Liverpool, or Bristol, or Waterford, or Limerick. Business rather than politics occupied men's minds, the seat of Government being at Fredericton—a small town, by courtesy called a city, beautifully situated some ninety miles inland on the River St. John, a river which runs nearly the whole length of the Province, and intersects it almost from the St. Lawrence to the Bay of Fundy, being navigable for steamers to the Great Falls, which are about [illegible] above Fredericton. But politics were sometimes thought of. In the political world all was evidently not going well. The state of Canada was attracting attention. In the Ordnance Office Lieutenant and Town Major Gallagher, was in close conversation with Mr. Frith, the Ordnance storekeeper, and Mr. Tapp, Clerk in the Ordnance Department, every morning with the newspaper in hand over a cosy fire, while Mr. Booth, the storeman, was making entries in the books and preparing stores for delivery when needed, the need being hourly expected.

The demand for stores soon came. The 43rd were ordered to Canada and went, a regiment from the West Indies took the place of the 43rd and followed; the 93rd came and went off to Canada; a ship of the line, the Tolacera, arrived in the fall of the year, the tars having Highland or Kilmarnock bonnets on, and being subjected to the rough shaving of "the barber," with the 11th foot on board, under Colonel Goldie. This regiment in the fall of the following year, 1838, set off for Canada, overland and Lake Travers, in Major Armstrongs Company—the gallant Major had succeeded Captain Evans in command of this company—went with them.

CHAPTER II.

Town Major Gallagher, of St. John, who had been a lieutenant of the 99th regiment of the line, and had served in the war of 1812, was a tall, lean old man, over sixty years of age, and of peculiar habits. His undress uniform consisted of a plain blue surtout, with plain gilt buttons and the ordinary staff trousers, and out of uniform he was never seen. A scarlet coat and cocked hat, with a red and white tuft emerging from its summit, with a brass scabbarded sword girded about his waist, added to his usual trowsers, made up his full dress uniform, and so dressed he felt as proud and seemed as wise as even the greatest and wisest of kings did in all his glory. He and Mr. Alderman Vanhorn were peculiarly St. John notabilities. Both were eccentric and both particularly loyal. The Alderman seldom dressed like a gentleman, except at election times, and his manners were not particularly gentlemanly at any time. But he was rich, honest, and had public spirit as surely as Major Gallagher was both loyal and brave.

Although the people did not indulge in politics they cordially hated the Yankees, and were pre-eminently British, and as the troops were every now and then withdrawn to proceed to Canada to subdue the rebellion the native New Brunswickers unhesitatingly turned out in plain clothes, but recruited for war and took "the guards."

Matters were in this state when the Eleventh left St. John, en route for Canada, accompanied by the detachment of artillery to which I belonged.

Shortly after leaving Indian Town the troops took the ice of the St. John, above the Falls, the artillery having with them two 24 pound carronades mounted on sledges, and were not long in reaching Fredericton. Then the service troops were inspected by Major General Sir John Harvey, and, after a delay of three days, during which the men were provided with shupach mocassans, blanket leggings, and cloth ear coverings sewed to their Kilmarnock forage caps, they set off northwards by the valley of the St. John, halting at Woodstock, the Arvostook, and the Grand Falls, meeting with nothing strange or wonderful excepting some high hills near the Falls—one of which was called the Rapides des Femmes—which were somewhat difficult both of ascent and descent.

The Grand Falls of the St. John, which I did not see, although I am told they are strikingly beautiful, only a little less so than Niagara, the Montmorenci, or the Chaudiere on the Ottawa, give their name to a few houses, one of which is a post office, another a tavern, a third a BARRACK building, and the fourth a meeting-house, the private residences being somewhat scattered and chiefly built of logs with the bark on, having a hole in the corner of the roof for a chimney, and an old sail to divide the house into two apartments. Some of these dwellings, for both man and beast, occasionally had a stove by way of heating apparatus, and some had not. Neither the interior nor the exterior displayed anything like taste. The house was of logs, the fire was of logs, and all around was logs, cut or uncut, dead or growing. It was a village in the wilderness, and all was wild in keeping. Nevertheless civilization was not far off.

The morning on which this small portion of the most ubiquitous of regiments in any service left the promising rather than thriving settlement at the Grand Falls, was particularly dull and gloomy. It was snowing lazily in great flakes, and the travelling was upon the river, covered with soft snow to the depth of a foot or more. Soon the forest stood farther back from the river's edge, and an occasional dwelling house of white-washed logs, and reddish painted doors and window sashes, were to be seen with the door ajar, and ten or it might be twenty heads peering out of it, all decorated with red and blue woollen night caps, which caps or bonnets are worn by day as well as night, and are common in this section of the country to both sexes. The troops were approaching the only French settlement in New Brunswick—that at Madawaska—and the settlement, with its church and cleanly, comfortable houses and most respectable and highly conservative inhabitants, who are higher in nos institutions et notre langue, was reached at nightfall, and the soldiers provided with quarters for the night.

Leaving Madawaska behind on the following morning, we travelled through the roughest "portage" conceivable—through trees so straight and tall that it was breakneck work to see the tops of them, and through a path so narrow and rugged and hillish that had walking been possible it would have been a luxury to sleigh riding under such painful circumstances. It was somewhere in the middle of this "portage" that No 1 Company of the ubiquitous regiment encamped for the night. A commissariat officer—Mr Milliken—had been on before and had got log-huts prepared for officers and men. The mens' quarters were the length of a tolerably tall tree—open at the roof, with a blazing log fire the whole length of the hut under the roof, and having a distance of a man's length between the fire and the sides spread with green pine branches, on which the men slept, using their knapsacks for pillows. The dinner—it was Christmas day—was cooked on our arrival in camp kettles, hung on wooden triangles over a fire made in the open air gipsy-fashion, and consisted of prime mess pork, potatoes purchased at Madawaska, and a certain quantum of excellent rum, furnished by the Commissariat, to wash it down.

Liver Complaint.

The liver is the great depurating (purifying) organ of the system, and has very appropriately been termed the "housekeeper" of our health. I have observed in the dissecting room, and also in making post-mortem examinations of the bodies of those who have died of different diseases, that in a large proportion of cases the liver has given evidence of having at some time been diseased. Liver affections are equally prevalent in beasts. Every butcher knows that the livers of cattle, sheep and swine are often times as frequently diseased as any other organ. A healthy liver each day secrets about two and a half pounds of bile. When it becomes torpid, congested, or if, from any cause, it be disabled in the performance of its duties, it is evident that the elements of the bile must remain in the blood, thus irritating, poisoning, and perverting every vital process. Nature attempts to rid the system of these noxious materials by means of other organs, as the kidneys, lungs, skid, etc., which become overtaxed in performing their additional labour, and are unable to withstand the pressure.

The brain, which is the great electrical center of all vitality, becomes overstimulated with unhealthy blood, and fails to normally perform its functions. Hence there is dullness, headache, impairment of the memory, dizziness, gloomy forebodings, and irritability of temper. When the blood is in this state, the skin manifests discoloured spots, pimples, blotches, boils, carbuncles, and scrofulous tumors. The stomach and bowels, sooner or later, become affected, and constipation, piles, dropsy, dyspepsia, or diarrhœa, is the inevitable result.

SYMPTOMS OF LIVER COMPAINT.

A sallow colour of the skin, or yellowish-brown spots on the face and other parts of the body; dullness and drowsiness, with frequent headache; dizziness, bitter or bad taste in the mouth, dryness of the throat, and internal heat; palpitation of the heart, a dry, teasing cough, sore throat, unsteady appetite, sour stomach, raising of the food, and a choking sensation in the throat; sickness and vomiting distress, heaviness, and a bloated, or full feeling about the stomach and sides; aggravating pains in the sides, back or breast, and about the shoulders; colic pains and soreness through the bowels; constipation, alternating with diarrhœa; piles, flatulence, nervousness, coldness of the extremities, rush of blood to the head, with symptoms of appoplexy; numbness of the limbs (especially at night), and chills, alternating with hot flashes; kidney and other urinary difficulties, dullness, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings. Only a few of these symptoms will be likely to be present in any case at one time.

TREATMENT.—Take Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, with small doses of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets, which act as an alterative on the liver. For Liver Complaint and the various affections caused by a diseased liver, these remedies are unsurpassed. The Golden Medical Discovery does not simply palliate the disease, but it produces a lasting effect. By its use, the liver and stomach are changed to an active, healthy state, the appetite is regulated, the blood purified and enriched, and the entire system renovated and restored to health.

FALSE MODESTY.—For people to allow themselves to become seated upon them rather than consult a physician, or to suffer as many do for years with the different kinds of piles, without going at once to the druggist for Fowle's Pile and Humor Cure, which is an infallible cure. 3729

SIX DISEASES, of whatever nature, are completely eradicated by the use of Fowle's Pile and Humour Cure; its effect is marvellous for Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Ring Worm, and even Leprosy; it has proved itself an almost never failing cure. (See special notice.) 3733

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have with stood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P.Q., writes, 'I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and since then had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all,"—J. R. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally as good for horses as for man."—A. Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used;" it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throat, &c., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes: "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit." A. Mr. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes: "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee, of this place, induced me to try Electric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine.

Sold by all medicine dealers, price 25 cents.

SECRETARY:

J. W. HOLMES, Esq.,

The Montreal Proprietary School has been established to provide a liberal direction similar to that given in the Public Schools of England. The course of instruction, however, will not be exclusively classical, and boys will be specially prepared either for the University and Professions or for Commercial Life.

Most eligible premises have been purchased for the School in McTavish street, one of the most healthful localities of the city, and immediately adjoining the grounds of the McGill University.

The course of instruction will include Latin, Greek, Mathematics, French, German, Arithmetic, Writing, English Grammar, Literature and Composition, History and Geography, both Ancient and Modern, Natural Philosophy, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, Drilling and Fencing.

A limited number of boys will be received by the Principal as Resident or Weekly Boarders, and, while under his immediate care, will enjoy all the comforts of a happy home.

Further particulars can be obtained from the Secretary, J. W. Holmes, Esq., 78 Victoria street, to whom all applications for admission must be made.

The School will open on MONDAY, the 19th of April, and will be carried on for a few days at 78 Victoria street, the new premises not being quite completed.

Wall Paper.

McKAY'S

CHOICE AND BEAUTIFUL

WALL PAPER.

INCLUDING THOSE DEDICATED BY THE MANUFACTURER

TO

Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Dufferin.

These Paperhangings are imported direct from the best Manufacturing Establishments in England, France and United States. Great care has been taken in their selection with regard to colour. The ground tones are soft and pleasing to the eye, especially those toned with silver mica; but above all, they are free from the mineral poisons that many of the tawdry-coloured Paperhangings of the day are surcharged with. The Subscriber's long experience as a colourist, and being thoroughly acquainted with the chemical compound of the pigments used in Painting, enables him to reject, in his selection of Paperhangings, those coloured with poisonous pigments, so deleterious to health. The Public are respectfully invited to examine his STOCK of WALL PAPER before purchasing elsewhere.

As the undersigned is going out of the Room Paper Business as soon as his present Stock is disposed of, the Goods will be Sold at the Lowest Remunerating Prices.

BERKELEY, Sept., 1869.—Gentlemen, I feel it a duty I owe to you to express my gratitude for the great benefit I have derived by taking "Norton's Camomile Pills." I applied to your agent, Mr. Peel, Berkeley, for the above pills, for which I suffered excruciating pain for a length of time, having tried nearly every remedy prescribed, but without any benefit at all. After taking two bottles of your valuable pills, I was quite restored to my usual state of health. Please give this publicity—for the benefit of those who may think as I did. I am, Sir, yours truly, HENRY ALLBAN. To the proprietors of "Norton's Camomile Pills."
